Doctorate/terminal degree: 3 yrs

Master's degree: 1 yr

Application deadlines: 2 weeks prior to first class meeting/first meeting with student's committee

To be eligible to serve as Visiting Graduate Faculty, faculty must be academically qualified.

Faculty members are considered academically qualified for graduate teaching positions and to serve on students' committees by meeting either of the following requirements:

1. Have an earned doctorate or terminal degree from a regionally accredited institution. These faculty may also chair graduate committees.
2. Have a master's degree from a regionally accredited institution and extraordinary teaching and/or scholarly skills that qualify the faculty member to teach and advise in a specific area of expertise.

Additionally, faculty must provide support to illustrate currency in teaching and scholarship; this support is generally available in a current vita. Currency is defined by each College Dean for his/her respective college, and these definitions are reviewed and endorsed by the Graduate Council.

Faculty qualified under #1 above:

Please complete the application, attach a current vita, and secure signatures of your Graduate Program Director, Department Chairperson, and College Dean. Submit your application to the Graduate School no later than two weeks prior to the first class meeting or first meeting with the student's committee.

Faculty qualified under #2 above:

Please complete the application, attach a current vita, and secure a letter, signed by the program director, department chairperson, and college dean, identifying your specific areas of expertise as well as your extraordinary teaching and/or scholarly skills that qualify you to teach and advise in this specific area. Examples of expertise: expertise in aphasia, rather than communication disorders; expertise in early childhood, rather than special education; expertise in gifted education, rather than special education. The Graduate Program Director, Department Chairperson, and College Dean should also sign this application.
