THE 1963 BEAVER ACKNOWLEDGES
THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF MINOT STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

DEDICATION

Over the years students and faculty have come and gone, leaving their contributions, large or small, for the betterment of Minot State Teachers College. Of these benefactors, some have been exceptional; and such is the person to whom the 1963 Beaver is dedicated.

A member of the first graduating class of Model High School, this individual followed through with his undergraduate work at MSTC. Since his return to MSTC in 1942 as a faculty member, his work has become the exemplified ideal of a teacher's dedicated interest in his students. A member of the Student Affairs Committee and a fraternity adviser, he has built a reputation for handling individual problems with a deep personal concern.

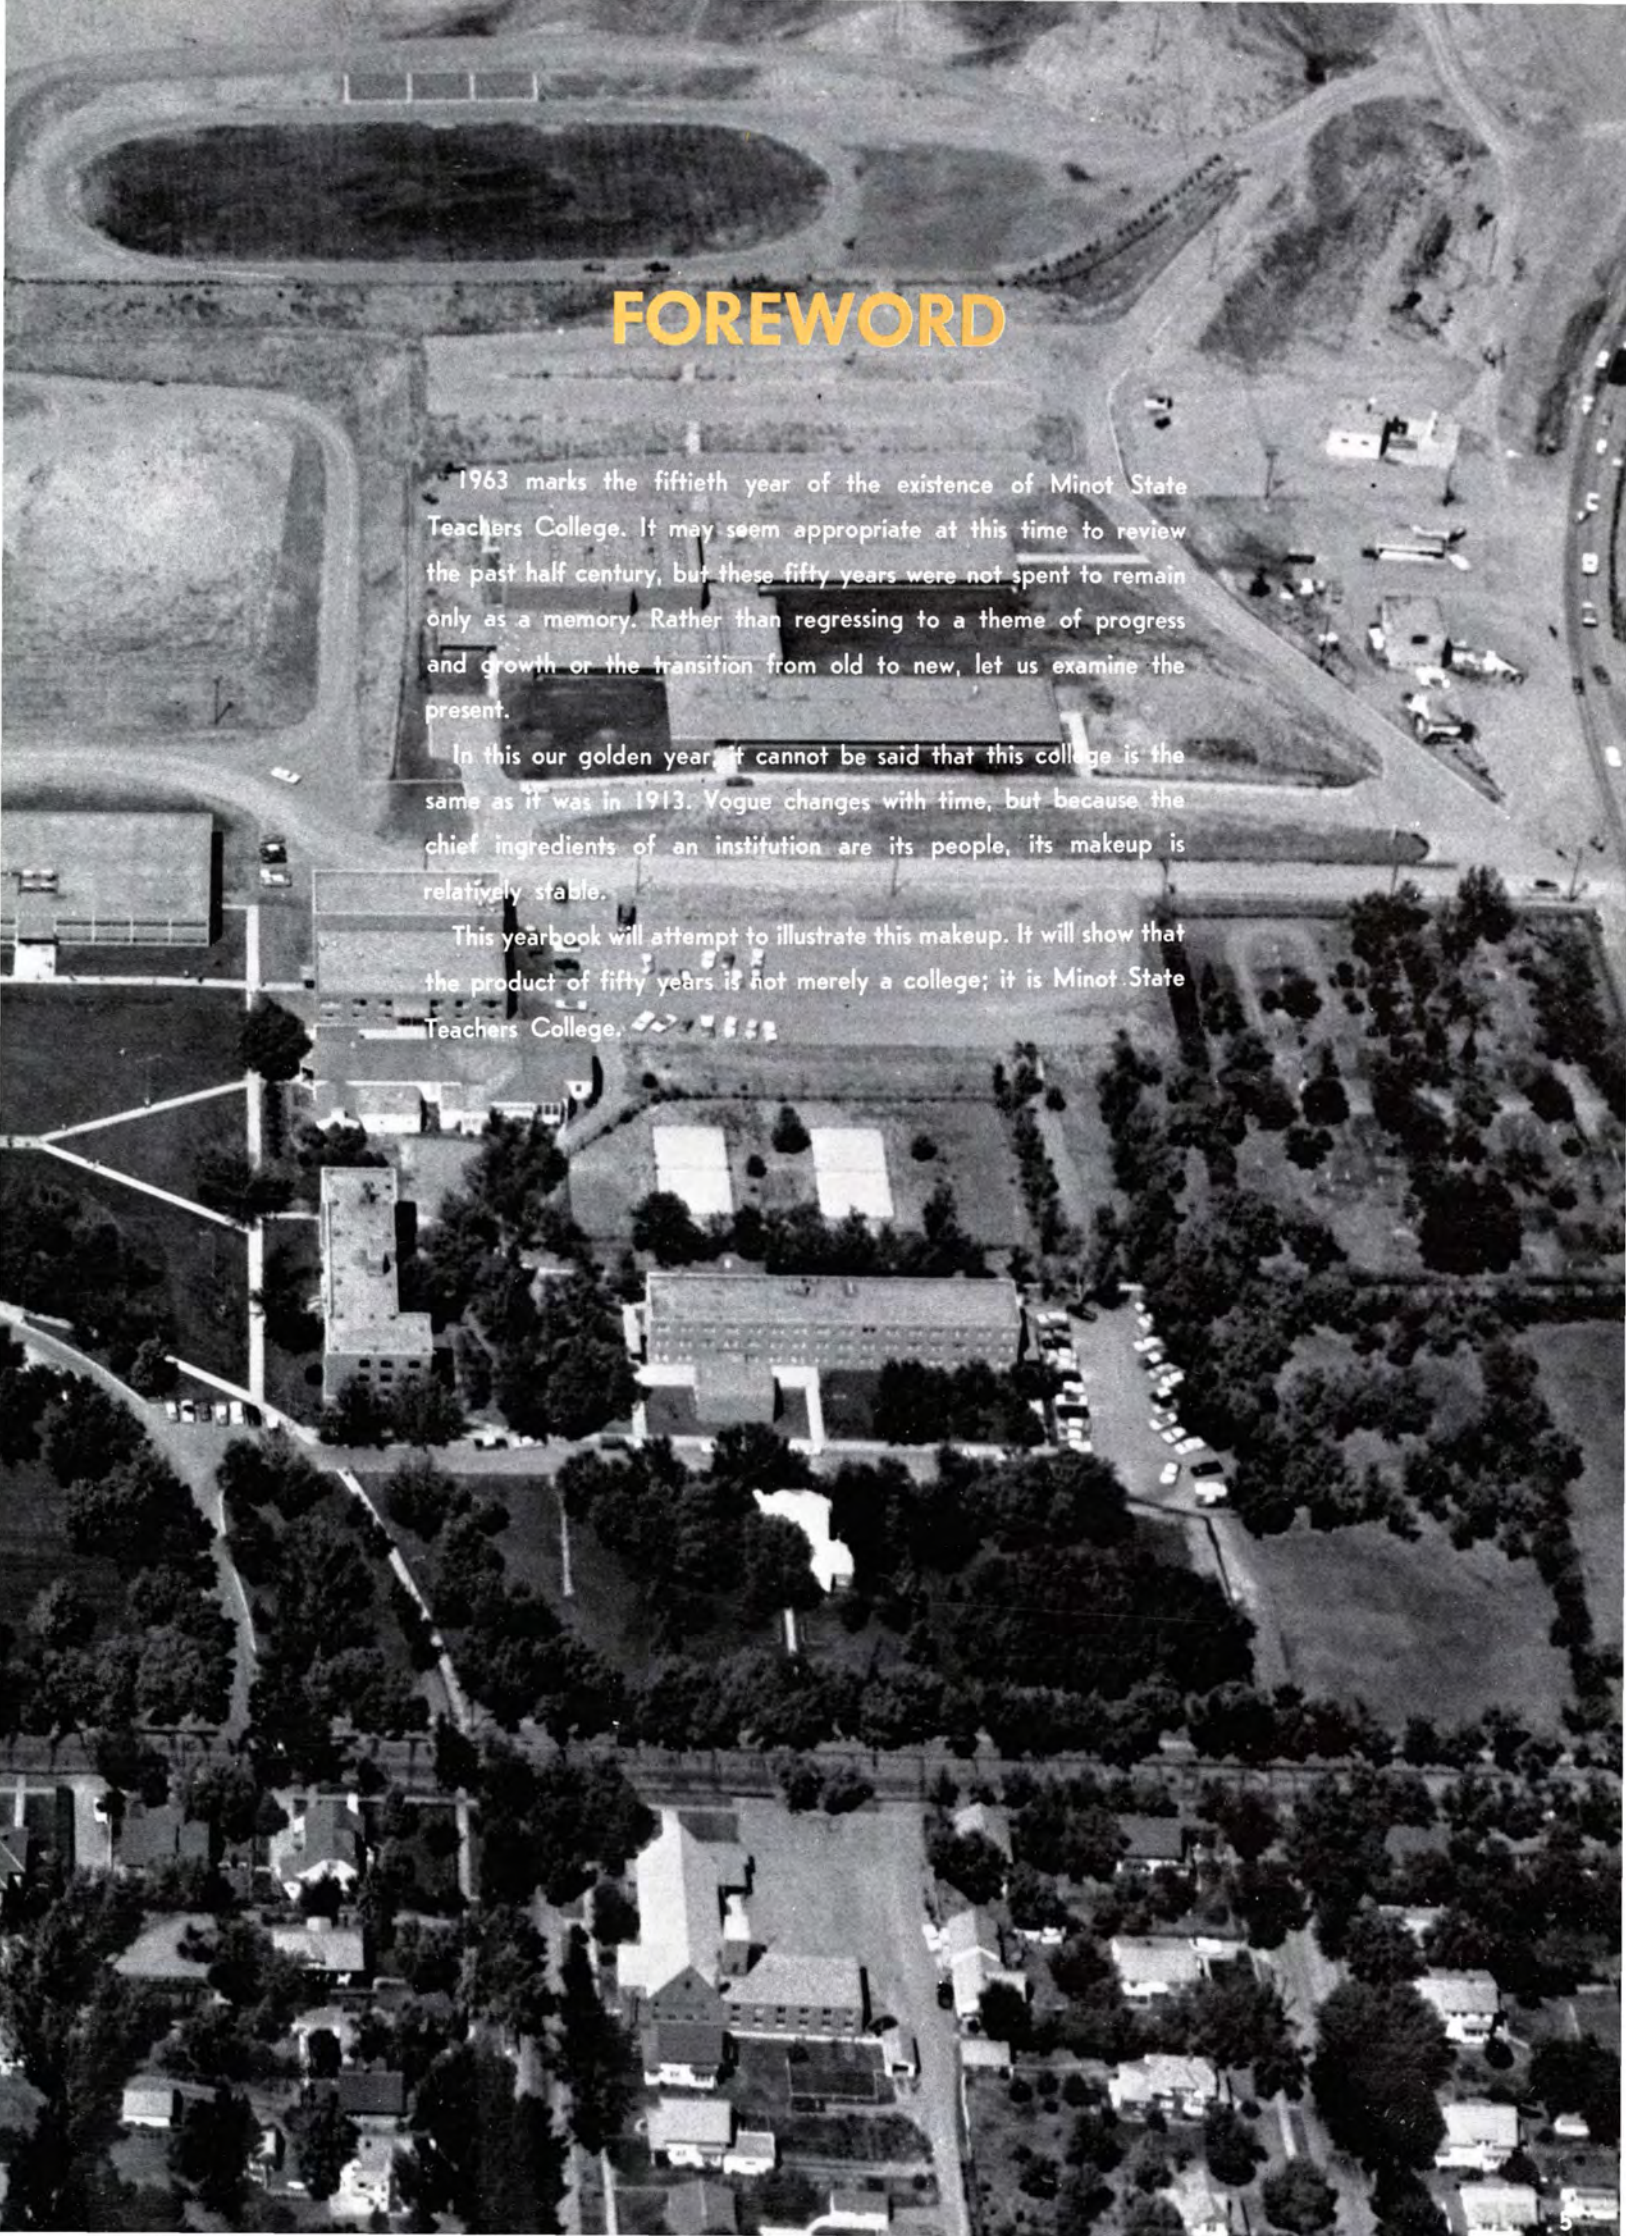

Formerly the head of the division of business education, he was recently named to the higher position of director of extension and field services. These are the qualities and accomplishments of the person to whom the editor, staff and adviser dedicate the 1963 Beaver, J. Bernard Busse.

To the left of the main building is a smaller, multi-story building. In the foreground, there are several smaller buildings and a large, open area that appears to be a sports field or track. The background shows a road with some vehicles and more trees. The overall scene is a mix of urban and natural elements.

FOREWORD

1963 marks the fiftieth year of the existence of Minot State Teachers College. It may seem appropriate at this time to review the past half century, but these fifty years were not spent to remain only as a memory. Rather than regressing to a theme of progress and growth or the transition from old to new, let us examine the present.

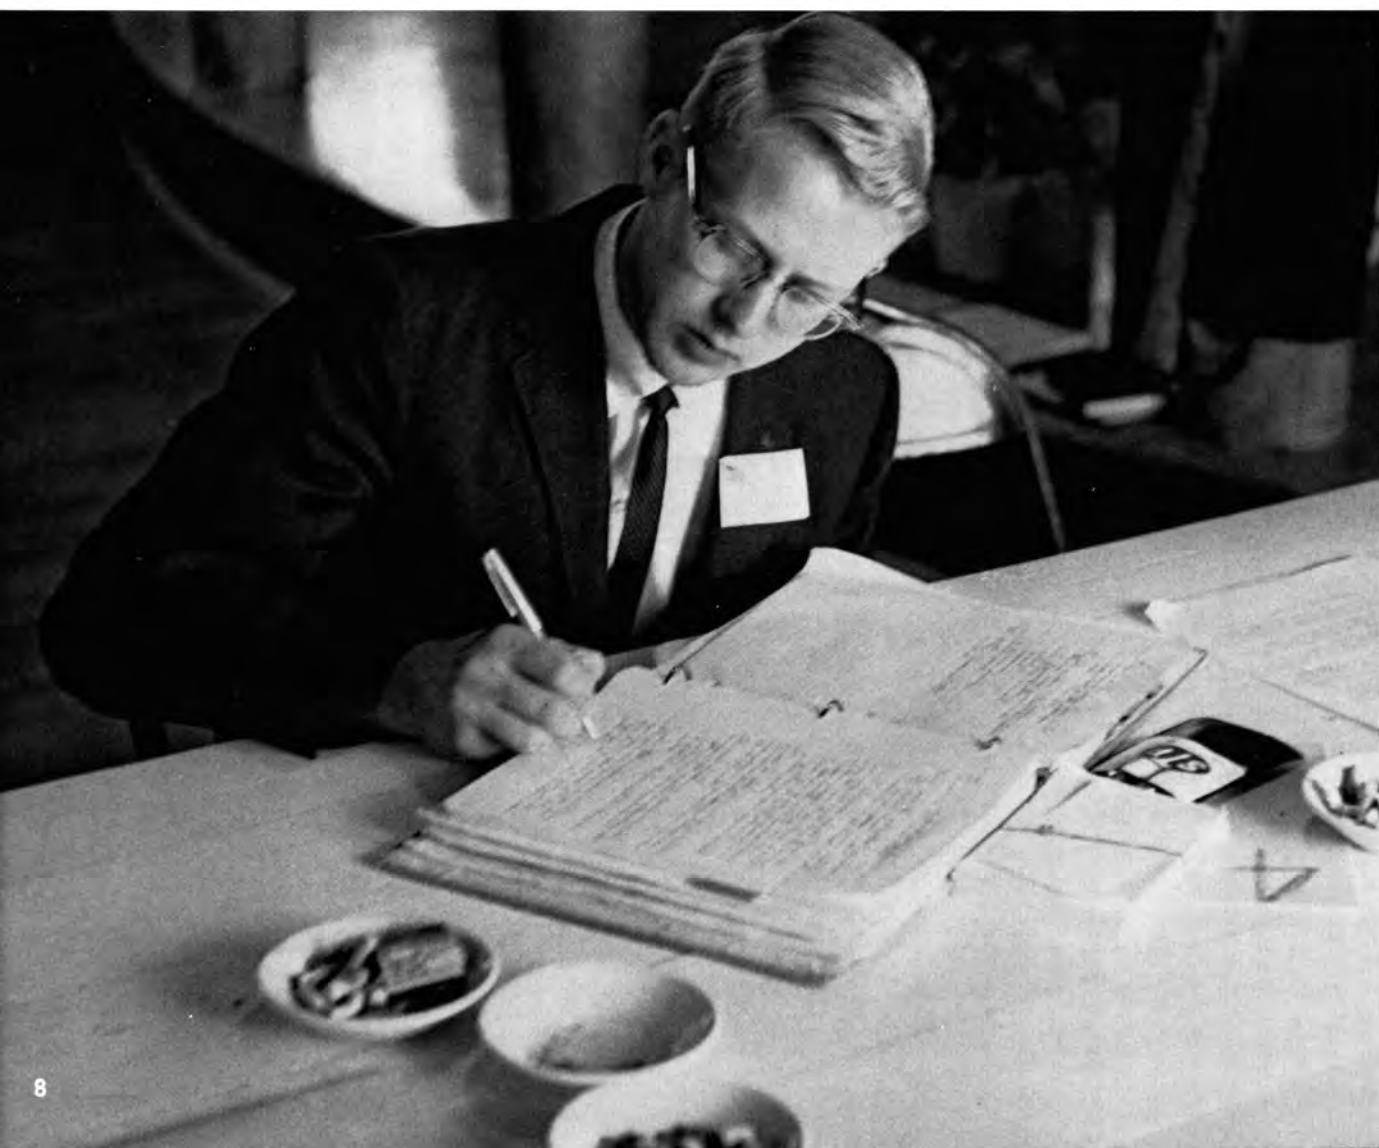

In this our golden year, it cannot be said that this college is the same as it was in 1913. Vogue changes with time, but because the chief ingredients of an institution are its people, its makeup is relatively stable.

This yearbook will attempt to illustrate this makeup. It will show that the product of fifty years is not merely a college; it is Minot State Teachers College.

Many Contribute to 50 Years of Progress at MSTC

Greetings:

"Great oaks from little acorns grow"—so goes the saying.

We in the active college, both staff and students, the thirteen thousand alumni and the host of friends of our college, take mutual satisfaction and pride in the growth and expansion of our college but most pointedly in its record of service throughout the first half-century of its existence. Suitable facilities are highly important but the contributions of the total college operation to individual, area, state and national welfare are and should be the prime bases for our pride.

At the fiftieth milestone we all take a particular view of the past and then turn again to the future knowing and greatly appreciating the dedicated labors of all who have gone before us having added their vital help in the continuous building of a fine college.

This excellent book depicts our overall college life. I congratulate the "Beaver" staff on its sensitive and excellent presentation of this life.

Sincerely,

C. Lura
President

We in North Dakota are very much concerned, and rightly so, that our resources be utilized to the fullest extent in order that our state continue to expand its opportunities to provide for the well-being of our citizens.

To me, you who are students at one of our finest educational institutions represent not only the most valuable, but the one indispensable resource that North Dakota must count on in the years ahead.

As we move through the challenging and exciting period of the 1960s, you who have received advanced and specialized training and education will be in ever-increasing demand.

I sincerely hope that most, if not all, of you will find your opportunities here in North Dakota.

The challenges facing us are great, but the rewards for meeting those challenges are even greater.

With your help, North Dakota will have a limitless future.

Work of Governor, State Board Aid MSTC

Responsible to the North Dakota state legislature and the citizens of the state, the State Board of Higher Education is in charge of the management of all state-supported colleges and universities in North Dakota.

Made up of members from all sections of the state and working in conjunction with the state and federal agencies, the Board exercises jurisdiction over the colleges' educational, financial and other policies. Through this work, the members of the Board have greatly improved the educational standards and facilities in the state of North Dakota.

A. E. Mead, Commisioner; Albert Haas; Mrs. Elvira Jestrab; Fred Orth; Martin Kruse; Henry Sullivan; John Conrad.

J. Bernard Busse, director of the extension service at MSTC, received his M.A. from Colorado State College.

Dr. Olger Myhre, who is the director of the college placement bureau, received his Ph.D. degree from the University of North Dakota.

E. R. Manning, dean of public relations, also serves as director of audio-visual education. Manning has an M.S. from UND.

Important Personnel Handle, Supervise Work at MSTC

Dean of Men, Herbert Parker, got his M.A. from Colorado State College. He is also assistant professor of physical education.

Louise Reishus, the dean of women who is always ready to give a helping hand to any coed, has an M.A. from Columbia University.

Oscar Quam, business manager at MSTC, received his B.S. degree from the University of North Dakota and has done graduate work at Stanford University in California.

Holding an M.S. from the University of North Dakota, E. F. Sather, registrar, is in charge of class schedules, registration, procedures and student statistics.

Dr. Grant M. Norem, director of student personnel and a professor of psychology and education, received his Ph.D. from the University of North Dakota.

Norem, Professor of Psychology and Education and Chairman of Guidance and Testing Service; Richard J. Schultz, Psychology; Olger Myhre, Professor of Education.

Education Division Prepares Future Teachers

While attempting to orientate the non-teacher to our society and correlate his work with that of the other major divisions, the major task of the Division of Education and Psychology is to prepare teachers in both methods and approach. They assign, work with and supervise all student teachers—both on the elementary and secondary levels. Dr. Warren Allen, chairman of the division, has been listed in consecutive editions of Who's Who in American Education since 1956. He includes in his list of interests and activities reading, politics and religion—in which he has served as a supply pastor for Deering and Granville Congregational Churches.

Giving a lesson in algebra at Model School is Harvey Holm, one of the many student teachers who receive guidance from the Division of Education and Psychology.

Dr. Scheffer examines an advisee's transcript during the registration procedure.

Scheffer Heads One of Largest Divisions Here

As one of the largest divisions at MSTC, the major objective of the Division of Literature and Language is to help students improve their communication with other people by teaching them to write, read, listen and speak clearly and effectively. Understanding of the human element in knowledge is also prompted through studies of literature, foreign languages and dramatics. The chairman of the division, Dr. John D. Scheffer, enjoys reading, golf, gardening and traveling. His travels have led him through many countries in central Europe, Japan and China.

ROW ONE: Mrs. Emma Milija Aboltins, Assistant Professor in German and Russian; Helen I. Stockdell, Assistant Professor of Audiology.

MSTC Adds Special Education as 9th Division

Those who are interested in working with exceptional children, both in elementary and secondary schools, will find that the newly organized Division of Special Education at MSTC is one of the best qualified in the state. Dr. Edna Gilbert, the chairman of the division, lists as her interests everything that has to do with speech, especially oral interpretation of literature, speech recording and the theatre. Countries in which she has traveled include Great Britain, France, Mexico and Canada.

Clinicians Mary Humphreys and Willa Ehr work with children in the speech nursery.

ROW ONE: John J. Spoelstra, Associate Professor of Music; Barbara J. Taylert, Assistant Professor of Music; John A. Strohm, Associate Professor of Music and Chairman of the Division of Music; James Avery, Instructor in Music. ROW TWO: Richard B. Bancroft, Instrumental Music; Ralph C. Wallin, Associate Professor of Music; Ira P. Schwarz, Associate Professor of Music; Harold C. Slagle, Assistant Professor of Music and Supervisor of Teaching of Vocal Music; Lawrence M. Hahn, Assistant Professor of Music; Norman J. Selness, Associate Professor of Music.

Music, Home Ec Aid Students in Chosen Fields

While the Division of Music prepares music teachers for elementary and secondary schools, it also provides a cultural background for those students who wish to develop their own private appreciation of music. The department, in order to develop appreciation and understanding of music, teaches both background material and technical skills. Students are also able to take private lessons and participate in various musical presentations throughout the year. John A. Strohm, the head of the division, is interested in the various aspects of music and art and also enjoys taking part in outdoor activities. He has traveled widely in Central Europe, Great Britain, and Canada.

Included in the curriculum of the Division of Fine and Applied Arts are courses in home economics, industrial arts and art. These subjects may be taken by majors or minors in the field or they may be used as electives to enrich the experience of any college student regardless of the subject field he is about to enter. Listed in the 1962 edition of Who's Who in American Education is Clarence R. Wells, chairman of the division. One of his hobbies is wood carving—for which he has won two first prizes in the 1962 South Dakota State Fair.

Clarence R. Wells, Assistant Professor of Industrial Arts and Chairman of the Division of Fine and Applied Arts; Mrs. Beatrice B. Zimmerman, Assistant Professor of Home Economics; Bessie W. Spratt, Assistant Professor of Home Economics; Elwood D. Averill, Assistant Professor of Fine Arts.

ROW ONE: Lucille I. Whitt, Assistant Professor in Physical Education; Mrs. Anna Marie Hornbacher, Physical Education; Mrs. Carolyn Varriano, Instructor of Physical Education. ROW TWO: Maurice Johnson, Instructor of Physical Education; Ted F. Keck, Professor of Physical Education and Chairman of the Division of Health and Physical Education; Leo W. Haberlack, Physical Education; Rodney Caufield, Assistant Professor of Physical Education; Vencile C. Elgie, Assistant Professor of Physical Education.

Physical Education Offers Classes, Activities

The Division of Health and Physical Education not only prepares teachers in the field of physical education in both the elementary and secondary levels, but it also gives the student body as a whole an opportunity to enjoy a wide variety of games, sports and recreational activities. This program encourages competition in order to foster a spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship. The head of the division, Dr. Ted Keck, has traveled extensively in Canada, Central Europe and England. His hobbies include YMCA work and a participation in all types of sports.

Field hockey is only one of many activities for the physical education enthusiast.

ROW ONE: Manvel N. Lillehaugen, Associate Professor of History; Paul W. Morrison, Professor of History and Social Science and Chairman of the Division of Social Science. ROW TWO: Paul H. Crockett, Assistant Professor of Economics; Alan James Downes, Social Science; Earl N. Shearer, Assistant Professor of Geography; Gaylen Brown, Associate Professor of Social Science.

Social Science, Business Promote Understandings

From the overall objective of fostering an enlargement of the understanding of mankind, the objectives of the Social Science Division focus on more specialized areas such as improving the conception of our government, promoting the understanding of democracy and providing an intelligent basis for our economic development. Dr. Paul Morrison, besides belonging to numerous state and national committees concerned with social science, is interested in religious education, amateur photography and golf. Also a writer, he is now in the process of writing two books.

The Division of Business Education, which is in charge of preparing teachers of business subjects in junior and senior high schools, also strives to develop a knowledge of how to perform correctly the necessary duties that present day business demands. Dale D. Atwood, who has spent much time in Japan, is the chairman of the division.

ROW ONE: Gayle Sobolik, Instructor in Business Education; Doris A. Slaaten, Assistant Professor of Business Education; Pearl Stusrud, Assistant Professor of Business Education. ROW TWO: Thomas W. Atkinson, Assistant Professor of Business Education; Dale D. Atwood, Chairman of the Division of Business Education; Harold J. Schneider, Assistant Professor of Business Education.

ROW ONE: Mrs. Georgia M. Cunningham, Assistant Professor of Mathematics; Mrs. Catharine Clyde, Associate Professor of Mathematics; Myrna I. Anderson, Physical Science; Mrs. Carol Rolfe Belinsky, Assistant Professor of Chemistry; Mrs. Agnes J. Ladendorf, Associate Professor of Mathematics. ROW TWO: Melvin S. Lang, Instructor in Mathematics; John Oberpriller, Instructor in Biological Science; Cyril C. Moore, Associate Professor of Chemistry and Chairman of the Division of Science; George H. Madany, Associate Professor of Chemistry; Charles A. Hoffman, Professor of Biological Science; Frederick H. C. Schultz, Associate Professor of Physics; DeWayne Martin, Assistant Professor of Science; Gordon O. Brown, Assistant Professor of Chemistry.

Science Division Grows With National Pace

The Division of Science and Mathematics strives to give the student sufficient background to prepare him for and give him a greater awareness of our world today. The division is continually growing and expanding to keep pace with the ever-increasing demand for people trained in this field. The divisional chairman, Cyril C. Moore, directed a National Science Foundation Institute at MSTC last summer which 38 teachers from 22 states attended.

As are all the advisers, these members of the Division of Science and Mathematics are kept busy during registration aiding students prepare a program.

Supervising Teachers Play Important Role at Model

Some of the most essential people connected with a teachers college are the supervising teachers—the people after whom the students model themselves. Usually not seen around the campus proper, they are nevertheless nearby at the Model School. These people aid and guide young teachers and help them formulate a clearer conception of the profession that they will soon enter. Consequently, they are influential in forming basic teaching methods.

Supervising teachers in Model School are ROW ONE: Claire Davis, assistant professor of elementary education and third grade; Mrs. Lola Dokken, first grade; Mary Ann Schuette, fourth grade; Adelaide Johnson, mathematics and Campus School library; Mrs. Ruth Norem, assistant professor of elementary education and fifth grade. ROW TWO: Norman Selness, associate professor of music; Richard Bancroft, instrumental music; Harold Slagle, assistant professor of music and vocal music; Mrs. Veronica Grimes, sixth grade; C. S. Bjorlie, assistant professor of secondary education and Campus School director; Mrs. Dorothy Stice, assistant professor of elementary education and second grade; Everett Stromme, assistant professor of secondary education and social science; Dewayne Domer, assistant professor of secondary education and business education; and Aird Smith, assistant professor of secondary education and science and social science.

Office Workers

Making up the efficient Business Office staff are Peggy Edwardson; Mrs. Irene Lillegard; Jim Froeber, assistant Business Office manager; Mrs. Olga Froemming; Mrs. Mary Jo Jensen and Pearl Walker.

Main office forces that keep everything running smoothly at MSTC are the Registrar's Office and the Business Office. Especially busy at the beginning of each quarter during registration week, they work hard at keeping all the records straight, as well as directing confused students through the process of registration. Their yearly duties range from the processing of petitions for graduation to collecting dormitory room rent.

As counsellor to the extension service, Mrs. Gwen Swenson has an office at the Minot Air Force Base and works with J. B. Busse, director of the extension service at MSTC.

Members of the registrar's staff are Mrs. Muriel Baldrige, assistant registrar; Judith Medalen; Peggy Myers; Dawn Tofteland; and Mrs. Patricia Goedecke.

Helping the busy administrators are their personal secretaries who are Marlene Frounfelter, to Dr. Grant Norem; Mrs. Geraldine Robinson, to Bernard Busse; Mrs. Irene Hanson, to the Speech and Hearing Clinic; Kae Erickson, to Dr. Olger Myhre; Nyla Tietz, to the Science Department and seated is Betty Ellingson, the president's private secretary.

Silhouetted against the numerous utensils with which they work are Mrs. Vera Weed, Clara Lochthowe, Mrs. Lilly Miller, Mable Green and Mrs. T. J. McIlhargey, canteen manager.

Personnel Keep

Work of the various employees helps make this college a very pleasant place to spend one's time. They all work as a team to make everything more convenient for the students. The duties of these employees cover the jobs of seeing that the student body is well fed, giving them mail from home and keeping the campus spotless.

Buildings and Grounds staff includes Rose Boschert, Matilde Janevics, Faye Carney, Eugene Anfinson, Ole Salsæg, Clarence Huus, Aldo Mierow, Knute Haugen, Gene Wiltse, John Caldwell, Joseph Bertsch, Edwin Auck, Janis Gatarts, Wendelin Keller, Gerald Schlag and Superintendent Floyd Wilson.

In their office, welcoming all students who come to see them, are Betsy Nokleby, the campus nurse, and Dr. Brian Briggs.

Seated in his office, resting for a moment from his hectic job, is Nate Owen, director of the new Student Union.

MSTC Coordinated

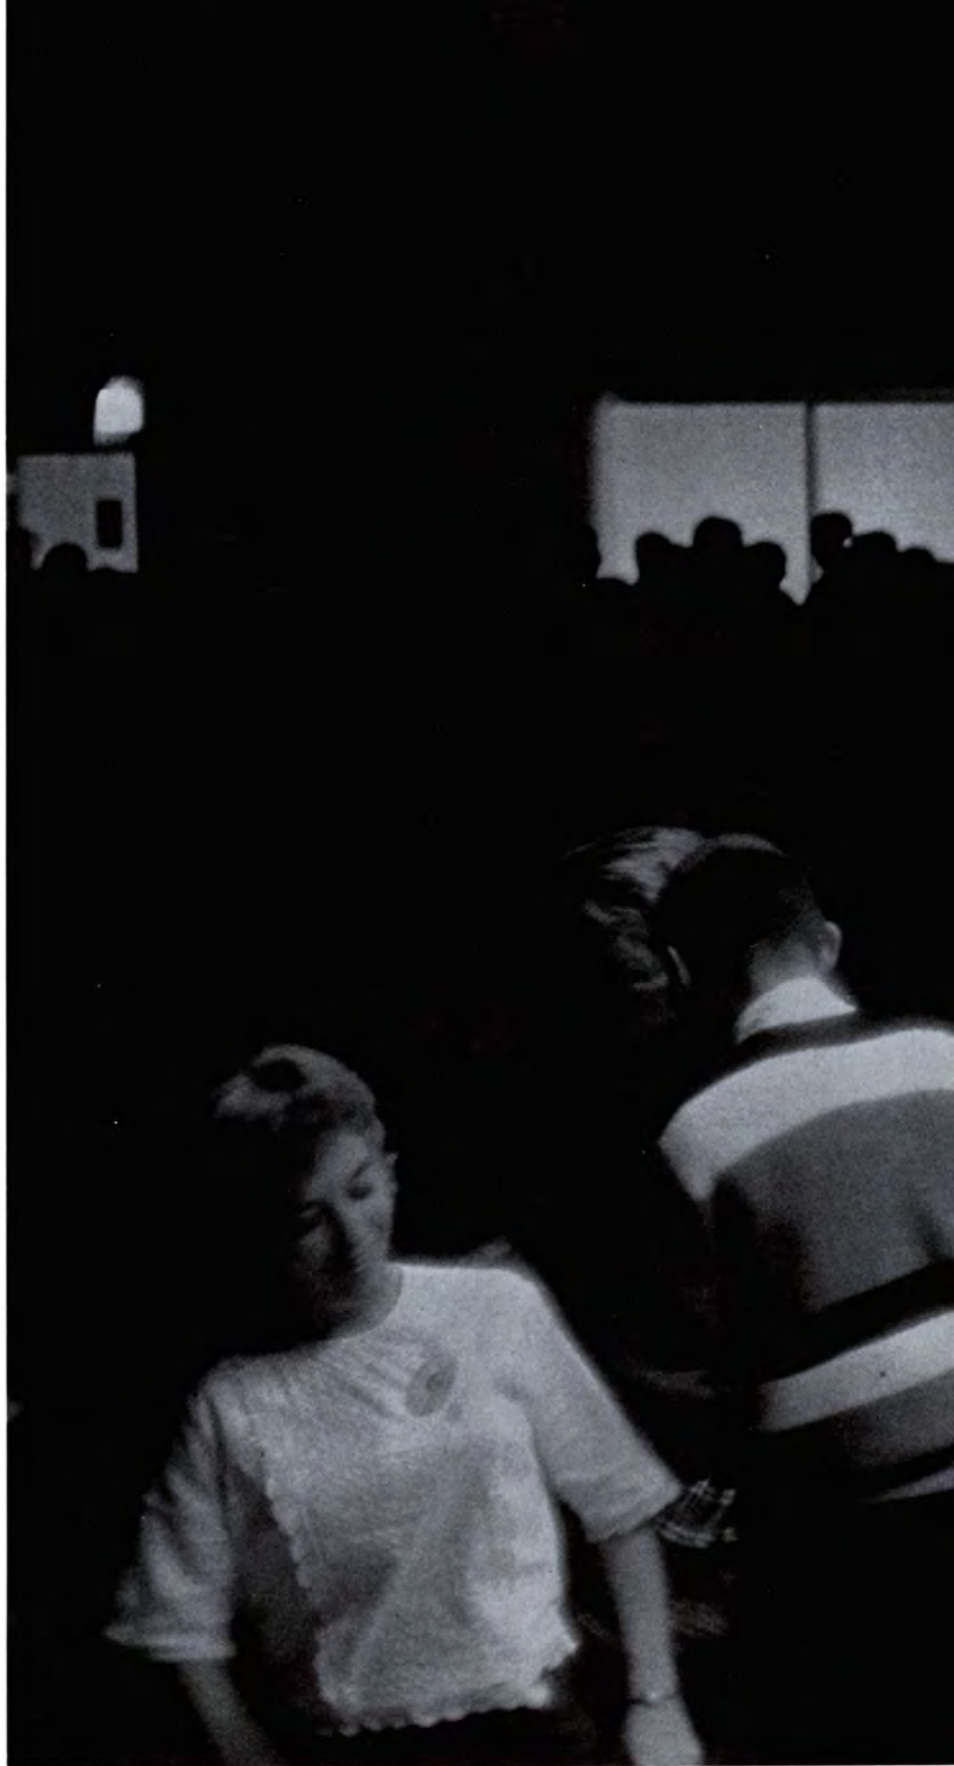

Holding top positions on campus are the people who are managers in their particular areas. They coordinate the work of the various employees so that all operations can be performed smoothly. These very responsible people must be commended for the great services they render this college.

Kept constantly busy by his many duties is Raimunds Aboltins, head of the Business Office staff.

With their convenient position on campus, Olga Johnson, manager of the Student Union Bookstore, and her assistant, Alma Boe, manage to keep the students well stocked with supplies.

STUDENT LIFE

Silhouetted against the bonfire, band members join forces with cheerleaders to provide the necessary gusto for lively cheering.

Homecoming queen contestants Gayle Norland, Joan Bondly and Esther Brousseau compare notes on a hairy subject; namely, beards.

Gayle Norland Reigns Over

President Kennedy's announcement of the Cuban crisis threatened but failed to put a damper on MSTC Homecoming festivities October 25, 26 and 27. Students made up for the somber early part of the week by making the weekend activities more gala and memorable than ever.

Taking time out from the seemingly impossible task of completing floats, students thronged to the kick-off barbecue at the Student Union. This hardy chow-down was barely ended when the word was received that the marathon runners from Mayville had arrived and were preparing to light the traditional bonfire. To insure the best possible appearance for the beard contest which followed, the guys had to keep a safe distance from the flames. The evening's activities concluded with collegians swinging to a campus favorite, the music of Gene D'Loughy.

Demonstrating their skill, finalists in the beard contest prove that beards aren't necessarily a handicap when it comes to eating pie.

The grandeur of the coronation is reflected in the faces of the royal court.

MSTC's Traditional Homecoming

On Friday evening the subjects in the kingdom of MSTC waited for the coronation of their new queen. She was to be chosen from three princesses reigning from the provinces of Beta Theta, Delta Epsilon Phi and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Silence fell over the kingdom as Sandra Sexhus, 1961 Homecoming Queen, was escorted to the throne by Gary Thune. The three lovely princesses and court attendants followed.

Before crowning the new queen, Ray Staiger, 1962 Homecoming Chairman, was knighted by Gary Thune. Sandra Sexhus then announced to all the anxious subjects that Princess Gayle Norland would reign as the new queen to rule over all Homecoming activities.

Entertainment for her highness and her court was provided by the court tumblers, the court choir and Lady Wendy Busse.

During coronation ceremony practice, princesses presented a different but attractive appearance.

Judy Saunders provided enjoyable halftime entertainment.

The Homecoming parade draws many bands from the surrounding area.

Students, Alumni Attend Musical Homecoming

After the game, alumni find the opportunity to discuss the Beaver victory as they attend the Alumni banquet.

"Battle Hymns Around the World" brought the TKEs the best fraternity float prize.

Momentarily abandoning her royal dignity, a princess is assisted to her position on the float.

Prophetically portraying the Beaver win on Saturday, were many floats built around the Homecoming theme of "Around the World With Music." Competition among the Greek organizations and independent students ran high for the honor of capturing a trophy for their group.

Receiving the trophy for the best overall float was the Delta Epsilon Phi sorority. Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity took the best fraternity float prize with their float of "Battle Hymns Heard Around the World." The trophy for the best sorority float went to the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. "Three Coins in a Fountain," which depicted the idea of coining the Comets, brought the sophomore class the trophy for the best independent float.

After enjoying the parade, students, faculty and alumni proceeded to Allen Field, and as predicted, the Beavers came out on top.

Their music lesson proved to be a winner for the Tri Sigmas.

The sophomore class made use of live water on their winning float.

Continued practice guarantees a polished performance, but the contestants soon discover it does get tiresome.

Contestants Face Practice, Local Judges

Climaxing the 1963 Miss Beaver contest was the announcement of the five semifinalists at the pageant in McFarland Auditorium on December 4. Many weeks of planning, preparation and rehearsing were spent before the night when, from 11 contestants, five would be selected to compete for the final title of Miss Beaver of 1963.

Judging actually began the night preceding the pageant when the judges met with the candidates as a group and conducted individual interviews following a banquet at Gordon's Holiday Spot.

After four days of seemingly endless rehearsals, the contestants forgot their fears and paraded and performed before a capacity crowd while they were judged on poise, talent and overall beauty.

Beaver adviser Mrs. Muriel Turner and editor Kathy Mastel offer constructive criticism to candidates at preliminary rehearsals.

Dr. James F. Hartl, Mrs. Thomas W. Leach, Tom Fisher, Mrs. J. B. McPherson, and K. M. Knutson, this year's judges, question one of the contestants on the basis of personality.

Voting for the right candidate takes a lot of thinking and proves to be a hard decision to make.

After the checking of a name on the student list, an eligible voter receives his ballot.

No Snow — but Carnival Proceeds as Planned

Although the weatherman didn't come across with snow, MSTC students enjoyed the annual Snow Carnival. Due to the lack of the white stuff, the snow sculpture and the husky race had to be cancelled. The Snow Carnival began with a convocation on February 6 where the nine Snow Queen candidates were presented with flowers. That evening, a dance was held in the Student Union after the Beaver-Viking game.

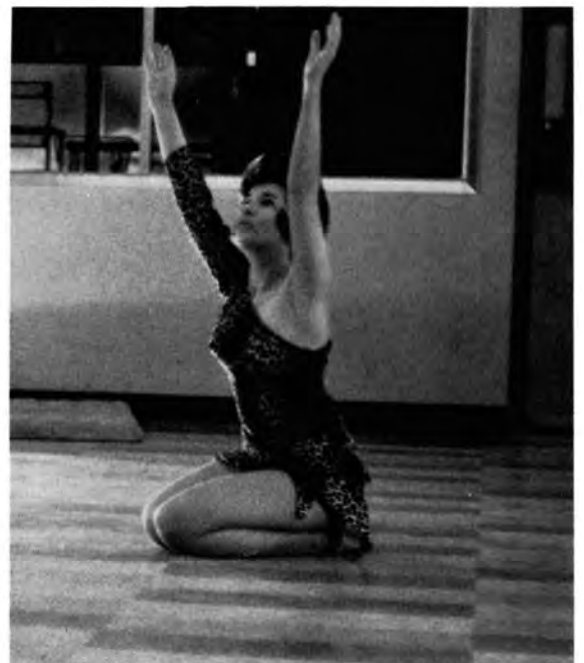

Thursday students cast their vote for their favorite queen candidate and then waited anxiously for the coronation on Friday. Sherry O'Day was crowned as Snow Queen to preside over the coming festivities. Kay Oberholtzer and Judy Sneva were announced to reign as Snow Princesses. Few students were not surprised when the "Mystery Snowman" was announced to be Mo Johnson. The fun-filled week was brought to a close with the Snow Ball held in the Student Union. "Winter Wonderland" was the main theme, with "Wonderland by Night" serving as the theme song.

Dakota Hall Sponsors Coeds in Beauty Contests

Dakota Hall is home to 128 women of MSTC. Here they sleep, study, wash, iron and form lasting friendships. Mrs. Nina Argersinger, housemother of Dakota Hall, is ready to help whenever the girls have a problem.

Dakota Hall is represented in nearly every organization on campus. Showing their enthusiasm, the girls' Homecoming display, "Around the World with Music," caught the eye of several students on campus. Before going home for Christmas vacation, the girls had a Christmas party at the Student Union. Entertainment was provided by several of the residents.

Dakota Hall beauty sponsored the Miss Beaver contestants Lolita Youn and Joan Syverson. The Hall's Brenda Beauchamp won the title of Miss Christmas City, 1962.

McCulloch Hall Keeps Busy All Year

Beginning with Homecoming festivities in the fall, the 148 residents of McCulloch Hall joined in the swing of campus life. In connection with the Homecoming theme, the girls worked diligently on their display of "Mash the Comets." They had their Christmas party at the Student Union where everyone enjoyed themselves with lunch and games. Dean Louise Reishus, Mrs. Nina Argersinger, from Dakota Hall, and Santa Claus were the guests for the evening. Mrs. Mabel Rodgers is house-mother at McCulloch Hall and assists the girls in several ways.

McCulloch Hall is well represented in beauty by their Miss Beaver candidate, Georgia Schmaltz, and their Snow Queen candidate Karen Whipple.

Within These Walls AND . . . Down These Halls

Offering a friendly atmosphere with comfortable surroundings, Pioneer Hall is "home" for many college men. From these orderly rooms they go to the many varied organizations they represent. Participation in campus activities is stressed so that a feeling of unity and friendship will be created among the residents.

Under the direction of John Strohm the fellows sleep, form friendships and occasionally crack the books. When Pioneer Hall men run out of things to do they have the television set in the lounge to take up time. Of course, this is no asset to the brain busting and lamp burning students who survive on coffee and cigarettes. In the basement of the dorm, for those who need more sustenance, is the college cafeteria. Pioneer Hall is unique in the fact that it has women visitors three times a day because the women students eat here also.

Crane Hall Follows Diversified Activity Pattern

Residents of Crane Hall find the facilities of the Hall excellent for their home away from home. The spirit of friendliness is especially noticable in the rooms where they discuss women, politics and their private lives, past, present and future. If there is no bull session going on at the moment, they can enjoy watching television.

Their first group project was their Homecoming display which brought them the trophy for the competition between the men's dorms. Next they put their heads together and chose Gladys Martin as their candidate for Miss Beaver. Crane Hall men are active in several organizations on campus. They lend their efforts and talent not only to their studies but to campus activities as well. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. And Who Says There's Nothing to Do Here???

For some 1963 was the initial year of their college life, while for others it was the last year. We can never forget the parties, Greek or organizational, attended with our favorite date-mate. Enthusiasm was aroused the year around with winning teams in football, basketball, baseball and wrestling. After the game was over and our throats were raw we looked forward to a dance at the Student Union. Unionology, a snap course, called for drinking coffee between (or during) classes for at least one hour a day. Special events also bring back pleasant memories. There was Homecoming, election day, sorority rush teas, fraternity smokers and Snow Carnival. Yet, between all these weekends and hours of fun, we managed to get back to the books.

Environment Varies When It Comes to Study

Studies—those long hours of relentless, exasperating search for knowledge. At the beginning of each quarter we pledge ourselves to many more hours of study and far fewer hours of play. And just like New Year's resolutions, these promises are broken and we end up cramming until the wee hours of the morning. With final exams lights burn late and dust is brushed from neglected books. Students with bloodshot eyes sip coffee constantly and wonder if they will survive. Somehow they do, or most of them anyway, and we start a new quarter with new plans and new dreams of getting straight A's.

Studying is done everywhere from the quiet library to the noisy, filled Student Union. We study by ourselves, with our friends and with our roommates. We study hard, study long and study late.

Musically talented Homecoming Princess Esther Brousseau was the candidate of the Sigma Sigma sorority. Esther, a senior from Steele, has a major in music which enables her to participate in Concert Choir, chorus and the Music Educators National Conference.

Outstanding Seniors Get Who's Who Honors

Each year a designated number of outstanding seniors are chosen by the Student Welfare and Affairs Committee of the Student Association to rank among the Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. To qualify for this honor, the candidates must possess high standards of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, personality and character. This year 10 Minot State Teachers College students were named to Who's Who.

A business administration major, Gary Hovdestad has served as secretary of Mu Sigma Tau fraternity, president and treasurer of Toast-Masters Club and senior class senator.

Anna Marie Schneider, majoring in music, is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, band and Concert Choir. She served as treasurer of Music Educators National Conference, president of UCCF and treasurer of Young Republicans.

An English and history major, Howard Abbott serves as the Red and Green photographer, president of the Student Association and secretary of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He is president of North Dakota Federation of College Young Republicans and is a member of the International Affairs Society.

Who's Who

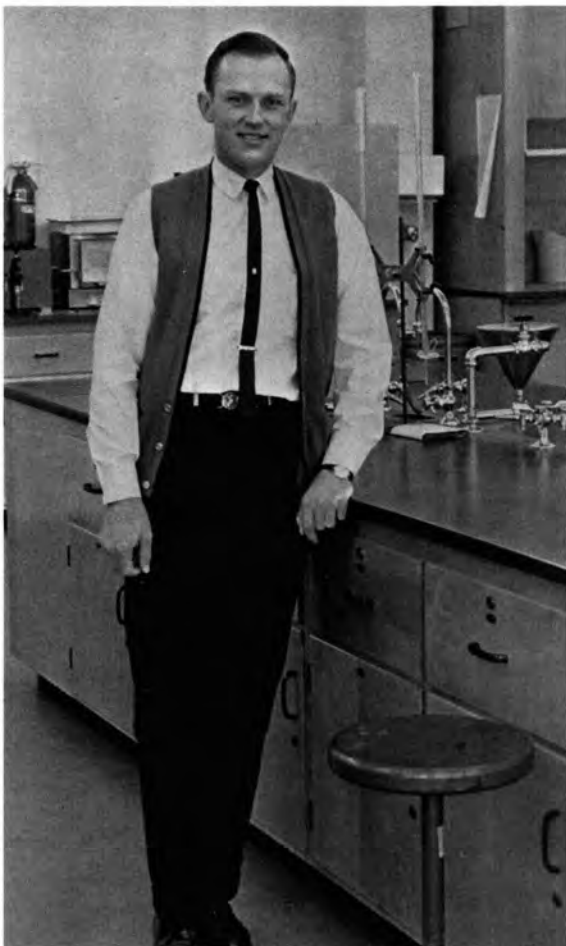

Majoring in speech correction and education of the deaf, Caroline Olson is a member of Toast-Mistresses Club and Delta Epsilon Phi sorority, of which she was vice president. She has held the offices of secretary and president of the Greek Council and Student Association secretary for two years in succession.

Marlys Limke, a mathematics and home economics major, has held the office of treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi and is a member of Delta Epsilon Phi sorority, Toest-Mistresses Club and Student Affairs Committee.

Patricia Brickner, a speech correction and education of the deaf major, is secretary of Kappa Delta Pi, a member of Newman Club and Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. She also serves as secretary-treasurer of the Toest-Mistresses Club.

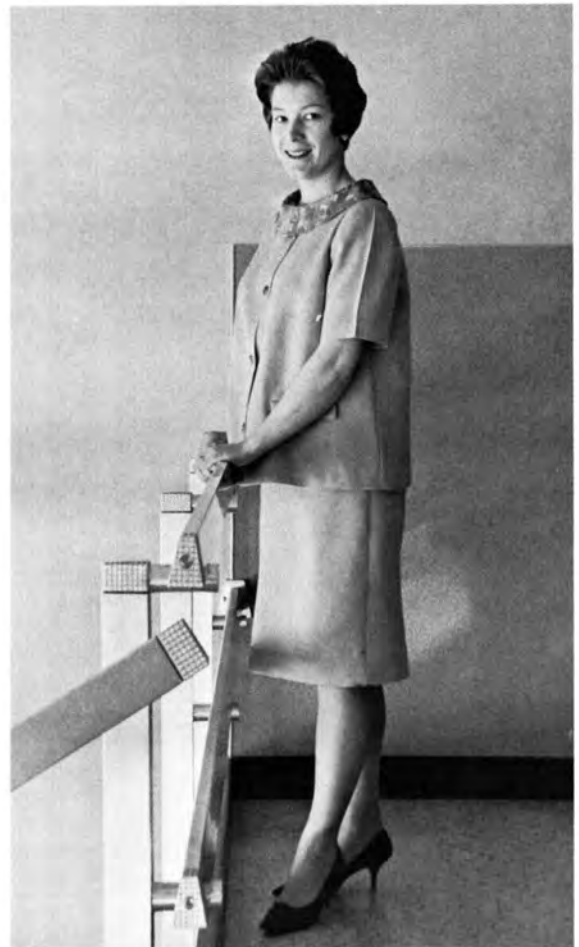

A chemistry major and mathematics minor, Ivan Kessler is president of Beta Gamma Phi and a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Sigma Pi. Kessler is treasurer of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

Majoring in business education and physical education, Phyllis Slotsve is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and Women's Recreation Association. She has served as president of the Panhellenic Council, junior and senior class senator and a member of LSA Council.

James Francis, an English major, was the 1961-62 editor of the Red and Green and presently serves as president of Kappa Delta Pi. He is also a member of SNEA and the Newman Club.

Majoring in music, Marcia Schaefer is a member of the Delta Epsilon Phi sorority, Kappa Delta Pi and was vice president of Newman Club. She is also active in Concert Choir, band and the college orchestra.

Fraternities Pick Betas for 'Sweethearts'

Joining into campus activities individually and as a group, the Beta Thetas scattered their talents to clubs, honorary societies, singing groups and publications.

Special activities enjoyed by everyone were the sponsoring of a candidate for Homecoming Queen, Joan Bondly; sponsoring a candidate for Miss Beaver, Judy Thorson; the annual Play Day; a Christmas semiformal; and a term party. The Betas also had the privilege of having Kathy Rath reign as the Mu Sigma Tau Sweetheart and Marcia Olson as the Tau Kappa Epsilon Sweetheart.

A new adviser came to the Betas this year in the person of Mrs. Carolyn Varriano, a physical education instructor on campus. Their other adviser is Mrs. Carol Belinsky.

Deltas Get 3 Who's Who Honor Spots

Delta Epsilon Phi sorority can boast both honors and awards this year. Three of its members—Marlys Limke, Caroline Olson and Marcia Schaefer—were elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Gayle Norland was chosen to reign as 1962 Homecoming Queen. The Delta candidate for Miss Beaver, Elaine Lunde, was selected as a semifinalist and Miss Congeniality. At their annual Sadie Hawkins Party Pat Thomas was chosen as Daisy Mae. Picked to reign as Li'l Abner was Carroll Sax.

The hard work of the Deltas on their Homecoming float was rewarded when they won the trophy for the best overall float for the second straight year.

Never forgetting the meaning of sisterhood, the Deltas established a scholarship for elementary teachers in memory of one of their members, Lois Leonard, who died in December.

Mu Sigma Tau Purchases New Residence

North Dakota's largest local fraternity, Mu Sigma Tau, took the occasion of its annual Founders Day Banquet to celebrate its 37th year on the MSTC campus. At this time the active members were proud to announce the attainment of a long-sought goal, the purchase of a new house at 705 3rd St. N.W.

The men of Mu Sigma Tau scored scholastically as they gained permanent possession of the Interfraternity scholarship trophy after having the highest fraternity average for the third consecutive quarter.

Mu Sigs collectively contributed to the betterment of MSTC by publishing the Student Directory.

Outstanding individual contributions can be noted by the services of SA vice president Gary Thune and by many of the group who hold class offices and positions in the student senate.

Mu Sig functions are often enhanced by the presence of their sweetheart, Kathy Rath. Other female representatives were Susan Happel and LaDonne Steen, the fraternity's candidates for Miss Beaver.

Major social engagements for the year were the Sweetheart party and spring formal.

Assisting the Mu Sigs in all activities are their advisers, J. Bernard Busse and Gaylen Brown.

Officers are Gary Lund, alumni secretary; Dick Zorn, publicity manager; Gary Hovdestad, parliamentarian; Blaine Erie, treasurer; Joe Linnertz, president; Gordon Hill, chaplain; Orlin Enget, recording secretary; Ronald Jan, historian; and Ken Burgett, house manager.

Mu Sigma Tau fall pledges are Darvin Derheim, Gary Spielvogel, Mike Marion, Mike Hanson, Terry Broadway, John Keller, Charles Soiseth, Dennis Moors and Gerald Horning.

A Province Leadership Conference last fall was attended by chapters from Winnipeg, Canada, Mankato, Minnesota, Grand Forks and Fargo. George Kolintzos, grand officer, represented the international office at this conference. Kolintzos is a dean at Loyola University in Chicago.

Included among representative Tekes are Howard Abbott, Student Association president and Who's Who selection; and Ray Staiger, Homecoming Chairman.

Probably the year's social highlights for TKE were the Winter Party and the Red Carnation Ball. Winning first prize for their float entry in the Homecoming parade must not be overlooked.

Guiding and helping the Tekes were E. R. Manning and N. M. Lillehaugen, faculty advisers; Dr. Ira P. Schwarz and Thomas Atkinson, faculty members. Sweetheart for the year was Marcia Olson.

Kappa Delta Pi Recognizes Education Values

Recognizing outstanding contributions to education, Kappa Delta Pi endeavors to maintain a high degree of professional fellowship among its members; to bring about professional growth by honoring achievements in educational work; and to create a closer bond among students in the field of education.

Qualifications for this national honor society for men and women are the maintenance of a 2.06 academic average, senior college standing, and the completion of a minimum number of hours in the field of education. New members are accepted into the Zeta Xi chapter twice a year at banquets given in their honor.

The basic features of the monthly meetings are guest speakers who share ideas on various topics with the members. Kappa Delta Pi annually sponsors an Honors Day Convocation at which awards are presented for outstanding contributions to the college. Faculty adviser for the society is Mrs. Agnes Ladendorf.

National Fraternity Promotes Higher Academic Standards

Phi Sigma Pi, an honorary national educational fraternity for men, has as its purpose and goal the creation of a broader knowledge in the field of education and the promotion of higher academic standards. It is founded upon the basis of high scholarship. Through guest speakers the members become acquainted with educational policies and problems in this and other countries. Prominent people in the fields of education and public service have given the organization this information through discussions of their travels and experiences.

Having similar goals, Phi Sigma Pi and Kappa Delta Pi convene once a year for the purpose of sharing ideas of mutual interest. Gaylen Brown was the speaker at this annual meeting. Dr. John Scheffer is the fraternity adviser.

Coach Vence Elgie's Beaver Eleven Completes 1962

Completing the 1962 season, Vence Elgie's Beavers came out in a tie with the Comets from Mayville as conference champions, both teams having won five and lost one.

In the first game of the season Minot edged out Valley City 19-13. The Beavers' offense was dominated by Doug Sanford, who caught two touchdown passes and smashed over from the five yard line where he had been stopped after another reception in the previous play. Marv Loper's toe gave the Beavers their additional counter. The Vikings' two TDs both came on 85 yard kickoff returns by Don Kropp.

In the second outing for the Beavers they downed the Savages from Dickinson 13-2. Minot's scoring plays were two Johnson-Sanford passes with Loper converting on one occasion. Dickinson's only score came on a safety.

Season by Tying Mayville for Conference Championship

For their third consecutive win of the season the Beavers smashed the Jamestown eleven 26-9. Minot's scoring was well spread out with four Beavers getting TDs and Marv Loper converting on two of the attempts after touchdown.

The roof fell in on the Beavers during the fourth game as Wahpeton's Wildcats ruined the Beavers' perfect season with a defeat of 27-14. Minot's first score came after Keith Flygare recovered a Wahpeton fumble to set up a Johnson-Sanford pass. Johnson, who later suffered an attack of amnesia and taken out of the game, booted the extra point. In the third quarter Doug Sanford scampered through the Wahpeton defense to give the Beavers another TD. Loper put the ball between the uprights for the extra point. The Wildcats' Sturdevant brothers raised havoc with the Beaver defense, each scoring two TDs with Billy converting after touchdown on three occasions.

Optimism rose in the following game as the Beavers completely flabbergasted the Ellendale Duties 57-0.

Going into the final game of the season the Beavers of Minot were in a four way tie with Wahpeton, Valley City and Mayville. The night before the Minot team's finale the Wahpeton Wildcats dumped the Valley City team to cinch at least a tie for the conference crown. This victory for the Wildcats put the pressure on the local gridiron men. If they wanted any share in the conference honors they would have to riddle the Mayville defense for at least one score, and hold the Comets to nothing.

Beavers and Comets prepare to clash as Minot center waits for signal to snap the ball on a point after touchdown kicking attempt by Marv Loper.

Although the Beaver defense did not hold the Comets to no score, their offense came through with 25 counters to beat the Mayville team by a TD. Big Marv Loper and Dennis Johnson were perhaps the outstanding spectacle of the game, with Loper grinding out systematic yardage, and Johnson moving the ball on practically every occasion that he used the notorious shot-gun offense.

The Beavers had six of their roster appointed to the all-conference team. The six were Pat Dunn, tackle; Dennis Johnson, quarterback; Marv Loper, fullback; Dan McCarthy, end; Doug Sanford, halfback and Bob Sundberg, center.

Want to Keep Fit? Try MSTC's Intramural Sports

Male students on campus receive a great benefit from the activities afforded them by the well-organized intramural program. Activities presented to the male students include sports and physical exercise that can be obtained almost any season of the school year.

This program is designed to include any person interested in keeping physically fit during his college years regardless of participation in varsity sports.

Touch football, basketball, volleyball, wrestling, and softball constitute the schedule presented to insure this physical fitness and instill good sportsmanship.

Beavers Win NDIC Opener Over Bottineau 101-68

Opening the 1962-63 North Dakota Intercollegiate Conference, Coach Rod Caufield's cagers tallied an astounding 101-68 win over Bottineau State School of Forestry's Lumberjacks. Shooting a torrid .453 percentage from the field in comparison to the Lumberjack's .387, the Minot team gained an early lead and were never headed.

Following their smashing victory over the Lumberjacks the Beavers rolled up four more wins before being dropped from the conference lead by a 58-54 conquest handed them by the second place Mayville club. In this game the Beavers seemed to have trouble with their shooting, hitting only .297, while the Comets fired for .404.

Following Christmas the Beavers were defeated by the Dickinson Savages in a squeaker, 74-73. The Minot squad pumped for .293 while the Savages hit .431.

After two consecutive defeats, the Beavers came alive again and racked up five more conference wins, including a 13 point stomping of the Valley City Vikings 67-54. This win gave the Beavers back the conference lead.

Following this the Beavers were expected literally to coast through except for the last Valley City game. Although it was not coasting, the Beavers were not defeated for the remainder of the 1962-63 season.

Next the Beavers traveled to Valley City with a strong congregation of followers accompanying them. The representation from Minot saw their team go down to a drastic defeat 55-53. The game saw the Beavers drill for .397, but this could not keep up to the .500 pace set by the Vikings.

Beaver 5 Fall to Valley City in Playoff Game

Perhaps the biggest game in NDIC history came about as a playoff between the Valley City team and the Beavers to conclude a season that had so many lead changes that only the most avid sports enthusiast could keep pace.

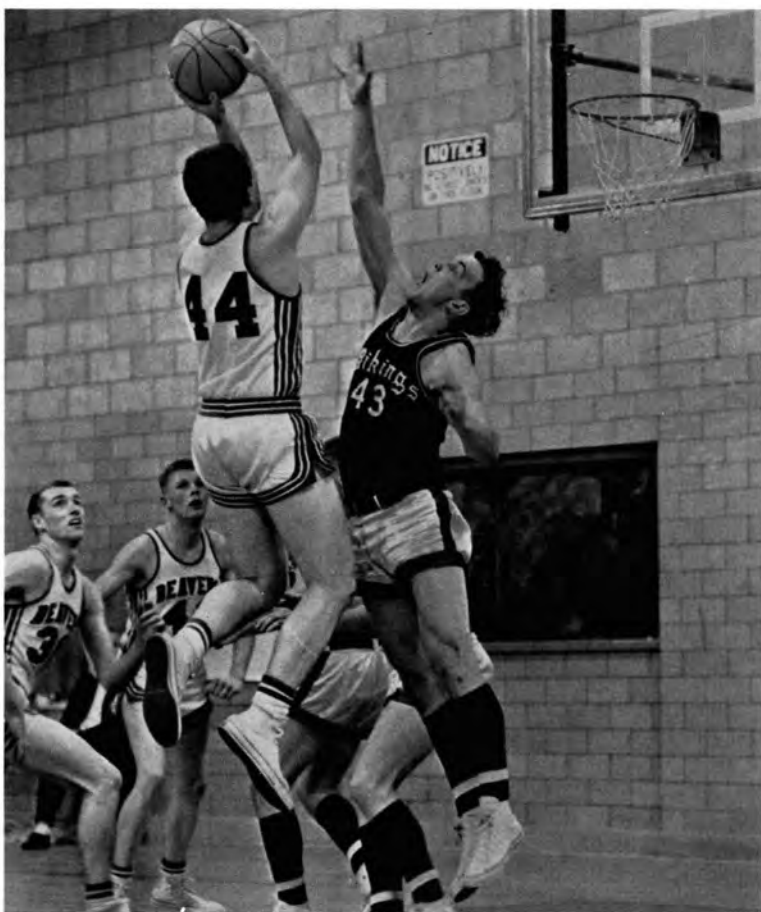

The Beavers controlled most of the first half being ahead by five points at three different times during the first period. The half ended with the Beavers still in control with a one-point margin, 37-36.

In the second half the tables turned with the Vikings stalling the ball for the first eight minutes and leading by eight points with less than ten minutes remaining. Although the Beavers cut the lead to 3 points, their .464 was no match for the Vikings' .517. The final score of this NDIC game was Valley City 70, Minot 55.

And the Players . . .

In coach Caufield's opinion the most improved player on the Beaver basketball club was sophomore Paul Soderberg. Paul is originally from Kenmare and a 2-year man.

Second in Caufield's opinion was Jim Talley. Talley, known as a clutch man, always came through with the big play. Jim is a junior and has served MSTC for 3 years.

Closing out four successful seasons for the Beavers are the Limke twins, Dick and Denis, from Lansford.

Roger Bowles helped the Minot team for his second year. Roger played his high school ball at Minot High and played freshman basketball at UND.

Transfer student Don Christianson from Bottineau also aided the Beavers a great deal this year.

Jerry Wilson, a two year man for the Beavers, was a transfer from Eastern Montana College in Billings. Jerry is presently a junior at MSTC.

Gary Knutson, also a junior and a transfer from UND, hails originally from Watford City, North Dakota.

Big Dan Hilligoss, a freshman from Mandan, also helped the Beavers a great deal with his rebounding and defense.

Sophomore Monte Rutten added to the back court strength. Monte's home high school is Devils Lake.

Mike Hepper, a sophomore from Ray, North Dakota, played his second year for Minot State Teachers College.

Hailing from Fessenden, Lynn Schmidt also added a great deal to the Beavers, playing forward and guard.

Gary Knutson maneuvers against Baumgartner's press as referee looks on.

Wrestler Needs Vital Attributes for Success

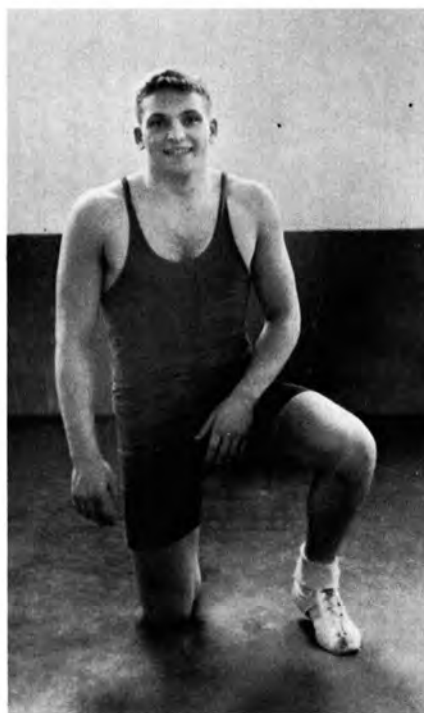

Gasping, grunting, faces centered with strain. These are some of the familiar sounds and sights that one can witness during a college wrestling match. Although wrestling has not been known as a major sport on our campus in the past, the last two years have seen a great increase in attendance to support the local grapplers.

Although most people are under the impression that the only required attribute for wrestling is a vast amount of strength this is not true. Wrestling is a skill, just as any other sport, and requires a good knowledge of the holds, a fair amount of speed, the ability to think on one's feet plus being in top physical condition at all times.

Upon completion of the regular season, the Beaver matmen participated in the North Dakota Intercollegiate Conference wrestling tournament.

Dave Stewart, 123 pound grappler from Minot, was chosen as outstanding wrestler in the tourney. Dave pinned the three men he faced in the first period of each of his matches.

Minot placed third in the tourney, led by Valley City who had 100 team points and Dickinson with 87. Minot amassed a total of 54 team points.

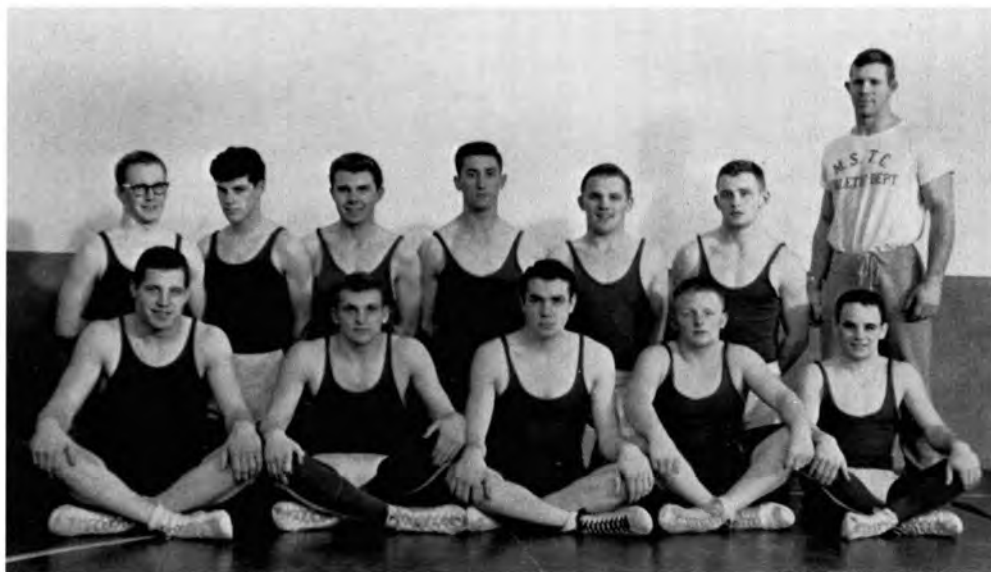

Other Minot wrestlers who placed in the tournament were Keith Flygare, 191, state champion; Dan Crockett, 157, second; Gordon Opstad, 167, third; Larry McDaniel, Hwt., Bob Koebernick, 177, Fred Morrison, 130, Harlan Volk, 137, all received fourth place awards.

Coach Moe Johnson is looking forward to the next season as being a very successful one for the Beavers. The Beavers will have all their grapplers back from this year plus many new men.

Netmen, Golfers Place Third in Conference

Veteran G. Thune and first year man O. Olson bolster Beaver tennis team.

"In the spring a young man's fancy turns to what the young ladies have been thinking of all year." So the saying goes but a certain group of young men find their fancies turning to the cinders, the racket and court, or the club and green.

Minot State Teachers College placed third in the conference in tennis. The netmen consisted of Bill Blore, John Kraljic, George Lee, Owen Olson and Gary Thune.

In the Jamestown relays, Thune came out as singles champ, and Lee finished second against Dickinson State Teachers College.

The 'green' men from Beaverville placed third in the conference, being squeezed out of second place by Dickinson, who had a one stroke total over the local golfers.

MSTC golfers during the 1962 campaign were Bob Creed, Larry Schley, Larry Suther, Charles Wagner and Gerald Walsh.

Horner, Sanford Qualify for National Meet in '220'

Track lettermen for the 1962 season were Gerald Bodine, Bruce Ellingson, Michael Hepper, Gary Horner, Ted Livesay, Carl Morris, Doug Sanford, Paul Soderberg, Robert Sundberg.

Coach Rod Caufield reported a fair season, placing third in the conference, but perhaps the outstanding thing about the cinder season was the fact that the Beavers had two of their squad qualify for the national intercollegiate track meet. The two, Doug Sanford and Gary Horner, both qualified for the 220 yard dash.

Coach Ted Keck Terms Baseball Season 'Successful'

Sustaining only one conference loss during the 1962 season, the Beaver nine was termed extremely successful by Coach Ted Keck. In the North Dakota Intercollegiate Conference East-West playoff, the Beaver circuitmen clobbered the Vikings of Valley City by the tally of 8-3, giving the Beavers the honor of representing the state intercollegiate conference in the NAIA Area 3 playoff.

This series, having seen Minot rack up Black Hills Teachers 8-4 and squeezed out by Concordia of Nebraska 6-5, saw optimism rising the following day as the Beavers took the field to outscore the Black Hills Teachers and send them back to Spearfish to hang up their spikes for another season, being demoralized by the Beavers 5-3.

where they furthered their attempt to become the National Small College champions. The Beavers, lacking the services of ace left-hander, Roger Bowles, and veteran catcher, Dennis Johnson, found their defensive dam breaking with Georgia Southern defeating them by the score of 8-3. Lettermen Sponsor Many Campus Projects

Besides the fine representation they give our school on the gridiron, the courts, the diamond, the green and the cinders, the Lettermen still find time to sponsor social events for the benefit and enjoyment of each and every student on the Minot State Teachers College campus.

Some of these Lettermen-sponsored affairs consist of Kampus Kapers, a spring campus talent show; the annual fall Sweatshirt Party co-sponsored by the WRA.

Other campus affairs in which the Lettermen participate indirectly are the contest for Homecoming Queen and Miss Beaver. In these contests one of the contestants in each pageant has Lettermen backing and sponsorship. Sponsored for the 1963 Miss Beaver Pageant was Miss Joan Severson, one of the five semifinalists.

Concessions are sold by members of the Lettermen at varsity athletic events. The money received from the sale of these concessions is used for the purchase of Lettermen jackets and trophies awarded to members of the organization for accomplishments made by the members.

Officers of the Lettermen organization are Denis Limke, secretary; Dave Armstrong, treasurer; Dick Limke, president.

WRA Engages in Variety of Undertakings

Many MSTC coeds keep physically fit through the activities offered them by the Women's Recreation Association. The purpose of this organization is to provide the girls with the opportunity for recreation, to establish friendships and to create good sportsmanship.

Aided by their adviser, Miss Whitt, members of WRA are active throughout the year in many campus affairs. They participate in the annual state playday for college women, usher during the basketball games and sponsor a playday for high school girls in the surrounding area. The main social engagement for the group is the annual Sweat-shirt party which is sponsored jointly by the WRA and the Lettermen. Recognizing the fact that physical activity is not the only goal of an MSTC coed, the WRA sponsors a student loan fund which is available to any college woman who is a physical education major or minor and an upperclassman who is active in this organization.

Officers of WRA are Mary Andrews, president; Mavis Rosencrans, vice president; Bonnie Njos, secretary; Carol Haman, point chairman; Lynne Engstrom, treasurer; Marge McCann, point chairman.

Members of WRA exhibit various activities in which they participate following their weekly meetings.

Debate at MSTC

For the first time in 13 years MSTC is being represented by a forensics team. Under the leadership of a new faculty member, Dennis Winters, this team has brought esteem to its school by placing in every tournament it has entered this year. The team has represented MSTC in such fields as debate, oral interpretation, oratory, extemporaneous and impromptu speaking. This new program promotes excellence in the area of public speaking both for the students involved and the general welfare of the community through competition and public performance.

Placing high in these tournaments, Eastern Montana at Pocatella, Idaho; Bradley Speech Tournament at Peoria, Ill.; Treasure State Tournament at Montana State at Montana State College, Bozeman, Mont.; Red River Valley Tournament at Moorhead, Minn.; Linfield Tournament at Portland, Ore.; Tau Kappa Alpha Tournament at Missoula, Mont.; and University of North Dakota the group has proved the effectiveness of hard work and diligent practice.

Ready to leave for a tournament are Bob Schoenwald, Doug Sutter, Mary Pat Tallman, Peggy Snyder, LaDonne Steen, Sandra Bryn and adviser Dennis Winters.

Club Fosters Interest in Art

Many beautiful paintings that students observed in MSTC halls are part of the activities of the Minot State Teachers College Art Club, a new group on campus, organized by Elwood Averill. Members of the club are devoting considerable time to planning and securing paintings for exhibits on the campus. Works of Mary Sloan and Betty Strand have been exhibited.

Although most of the club's members are majors or minors, anyone who is interested in art and wants a chance to express himself may join the club.

Miss Gayle Sobolik, patroness and Mr. Elwood Averill, adviser, attend the regular meetings to encourage, advise, and instruct the group. Miss Sobolik showed her collection of German peasant art and Elwood Averill showed his collection of rare guns and gun engravings for the benefit of the members.

Players Open Season With Moliere's 'Tartuffe'

Richard Hesler, new director of the theater program at MSTC, is undertaking to present the great plays of previous eras and by so doing, bring play production into the literary scope of what is being taught in the class.

Moliere's Tartuffe successfully hit the boards November 8, 9 and 10 and started the drama program for the season. This production marked the first performance of a Moliere play by the Campus Players. Taking major roles in Tartuffe were Lee Snyder, Dale Christenson and Kathy Kandt.

In the character of Tartuffe, Moliere presents a religious hypocrite and impostor who commits treacherous acts in the name of Heaven, a thief and seducer who masks his true intentions beneath zealous avowals of faith. In the course of the action, Tartuffe's mock piety very nearly enables him to dupe a family out of its wealth and it is only by a highly improbable solution that Tartuffe is overturned.

Turning from French drama of the seventeenth century, the Campus Players proceeded to English drama of the 18th century, produced Oliver Goldsmith's She Stoops to Conquer or The Mistakes of a Night, February, 14, 15 and 16. Rod Middelsteadt, Astonished, Orgon (Lee Snyder) listens in amazement to the saintly Tartuffe (Dale Christenson) make overtures to his wife, Elmire (Gerilyn Tandberg).

Campus Players adviser Richard Hessler finds a coffee break welcome after hours of tedious rehearsals.

Outraged Orgon (Lee Snyder) listens to the spitfire maid, Dorine, (Kathy Kandt) berate him for his foolishness.

Bumbling Tony Lumkin (Lee Snyder) withers under the tirade of Mrs. Hardcastle (Peg Stadum) while the bashful betrothed Miss Neville (Sharon Schmelling) waits nervously.

Margaret Stadum, Lee Snyder, Sunny Marricle, Sharon Schmelling, Dale Christenson, and Carlton Elker headed the list of players in She Stoops to Conquer. Eileen Westereng, Beverly Coons, and Mrs. Beatrice Zimmerman turned out authentic, beautifully made costumes that added a realistic touch to the play.

This play tells the story of a young girl who passes herself off as a barmaid to win the attention of a young gentleman. Charles Marlow, modest and shy before women of his own station, is quite forward with barmaids and the like. He has been persuaded, as a joke, that the home he is visiting is a country inn and that the members of the family there are the innkeepers. Miss Hardcastle, as the barmaid, so wins his favor that he eventually is willing to abandon a more ambitious marriage for the young lady.

Because of the excellence of the production of these two fine plays, attendance has been steadily rising. Students have come from high schools in the surrounding communities thereby creating wider interest.

Cast members Lee Snyder, Jerry Martz, Carlton Elker, Sharon Schmelling, Dale Christenson, Rodney Middelsteadt, Sunny Marricle and Peg Stadum as they appeared in the final scene of She Stoops to Conquer.

Science Club Offers Varied Programs, Projects

An excellent and varied program of activities is available for participants of the Beta Gamma Phi. Student reports, scientific demonstrations, field trips and tours of various community installations provide the members of the Science Club with information, interesting and stimulating first-hand experience of the practical applications of science.

Because of the success of the club's six-day trip to Denver in 1961, another trip, either to Minneapolis or Chicago, is being planned for this year. These trips give the students an opportunity to view some of our country's outstanding scientific institutions, research centers and observatories.

In order to stimulate interest in science, the club is planning to present a magic show for the annual Senior Day Convocation.

Under the competent leadership of Ivan Kessler, Harvey Holm, Orlyn Knutson and David Smette, the club seeks to broaden and develop their interest in science.

Toest-Masters Club Helps in Public Speaking

For those men who are interested in improving their speaking ability, poise, and self-confidence before a group, the MSTC Toest-Masters is the organization to join. Each member gives a prepared talk of seven minutes' duration and for the purpose of improving the ability to think on one's feet, impromptu speeches are also given.

Speaking is done at semimonthly dinner meetings. Each spring the Toest-Masters enjoy a date night and a parent or employer's night. Guests are invited to round out the criticism and discussion of the speeches.

One other prime objective of the group is to master Roberts' Rules of Order and this is accomplished by employing these rules at their business meetings until each member gains facility in running the meeting.

Officers of Toest-Masters are Chris Marshall, secretary; Raymond Staiger, vice president; Ray-Haas, president; and Robert Anderson, treasurer.

Carroll Burtness, with hand in air, wants recognition to express his opinion.

Abbott Captains Student Association for 1962-63

At MSTC, the Student Association provides the student body with an avenue of opportunity of expression of opinion. To accomplish this, the Student Senate, which is composed of representatives from each class, meets weekly to coordinate the activities of various committees of S.A. In so doing, the Senate becomes a sounding board for student opinion with regard to school politics. The Association works closely with faculty and administration officials for a more complete college life.

Under the competent leadership of President Howard Abbott, the Student Association inaugurated a new Foreign Affairs Committee consisting of each class president. The objective of this committee is to make campus life more enjoyable for our foreign students.

SNEA Encourages, Promotes Professionalism

Because Student National Education Association is an organization for future teachers, it has many worthy objectives and purposes. Basically the organization strives to instill a professional attitude in its members. SNEA also attempts to give the future teacher some understanding of his role in the teaching profession especially his classroom procedures and ethics.

Many of the organization's activities are geared to accomplish such objectives. The promotion of interest in the teaching profession in high schools through support of all local Future

Members of SNEA contemplate ideas presented to them by a speaker.

Teacher organization is one example of such an activity.

Through the efforts of SNEA prominent men in education are induced to speak to the group. This year, Peter Scott, exchange teacher from England, presently teaching at Moorhead Junior High School, spoke on England's system of education at the NDEA State Convention in Fargo.

Student teachers gain welcome help from SNEA in the form of the NEA Journal and the North Dakota Teacher magazine which they receive through membership in SNEA.

Irving I. Iverson, Executive Secretary of the North Dakota Education Association, speaks to members of SNEA.

MSTC, Brandon College Meet at Peace Gardens

Each year students of Minot State Teachers College and Brandon College in Manitoba meet at the Peace Gardens, an historic site symbolic of unity and friendship with our neighbor Canada. This year, as always, the delegates were seeking a better understanding of international relations through discussion and interpretation.

The topic for the 1962 conference was "The Organization of American States and Its Role in Foreign Affairs." The past development of this organization was considered by Philip Johnson in the delivery of his morning paper.

Gary Throlson, chairman of the Minot group, was master of ceremonies for the evening banquet. Gaylen Brown was adviser and Marlys Limke secretary of the Minot delegation.

Young Democrats Work on Local, State Projects

The Minot State Teachers College Young Democrats attended their State Convention in Bismarck, March 29 and 30. Presiding over the state convention was Gary Williamson, 1961 degree graduate of MSTC. Williamson is currently a speech therapist for Ward county.

One of the major projects of the Young Democrats was working in connection with primaries last June and the election last November. A door-to-door campaign was conducted in behalf of state legislative candidate, N. Manvel Lillehaugen, of the MSTC faculty. Helping at the Democrat campaign headquarters in Minot was a job for the college Young Democrats last fall. Mel Hertel, MSTC student, manned the party headquarters daily.

Among the objectives of this college group was to educate members for intelligent participation in local, state and national government, to encourage a more active interest in political activities.

Young Democrats members are Don Yunker, Sharon Spielman, Mavis Webster, Gaylen Brown, Merle Pederson, Lloyd Anderson, Lee Snyder, Mancy Holbrook, Mary Ellen Rothmann, Irene Romfo, Patricia Huettl and Arlene Malnaa.

Faculty advisers to the Young Republicans are Doctor Warren Allen and Doctor Roland Reich.

Young Republican officers are James Bedard, publicity manager; Ray Staiger, vice president; Elaine Grosz, secretary; Anna Marie Schneider, and Truman Nordhougen, president.

MSTC Young Republicans Get State Offices

With the election of three Republican state representatives from the Minot area district, members of the Young Republicans saw their campaign efforts rewarded. Besides taking an active part in the 1962 campaign, the group planned and provided the entertainment portion of the Republican Party's pre-election rally at the Minot City Auditorium November 1.

Young GOP members went to Bismarck in February to attend a Lincoln's Birthday Rally and to hear former Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota speak.

Elaine Grosz, secretary of the MSTC chapter, holds this office at the state level also. Howard Abbott, of Minot State, is president of the State College Federation of the Young Republicans.

Promoting the ideology of the Republican party is the primary purpose and interest of this campus group and with this purpose foremost in mind, Young GOPs take an enthusiastic interest in state and local politics.

Young Republicans are T. Nordhougen, R. Gross, B. Peterson, H. Abbott, D. Mortenson, T. Knutson, G. Bracken, K. Breding, C. Kester, L. Norstedt, C. Medalen, J. Bedard, R. Miller, E. Grosz.

1963 Beaver Staff Meets Pressures, Crises Placidly

Smiling faces testify to the fact that Amelia Hoffman, Joellen Foss and Eileen Westering can competently handle the social activities sections on the MSTC campus.

Although trying to produce good work in a sometimes rather short period of time was probably the greatest problem for the 1963 Beaver staff, it was by no means the only difficulty. Editor Kathy Mastel attempted to keep up the morale of the staff and to eliminate those exclamations of despair, "I can't do anything right!" The staff aptly demonstrated their ability to do things well—if not right—by tossing the editor in the wastebasket, which was not appreciated by said editor.

At times the staff was discouraged, but when the advertising salesmen came through with a record total of sales, "vigah" was once again renewed.

Beaver adviser Mrs. Muriel Turner received much outside help in urging the staff to putting out a good 50th Anniversary edition. Everyone from John the janitor to the staff members of the Red and Green benevolently contributed all sorts of friendly advice.

Deadlines usually seemed to coincide with midquarters or final exams and the pressure of long hours often caused raw nerves and short tempers. The cooperation of students was encouraging; outside help always came when it was needed most.

Although social activities had to be skipped and we couldn't make use of the music which drifted down from the ballroom, we enjoyed working to our own music—the blare of the radio combined with the unique rhythm of the typewriters.

Handling the financial aspects of the 1963 Beaver are business managers Ray Staiger and Harlan Kulland.

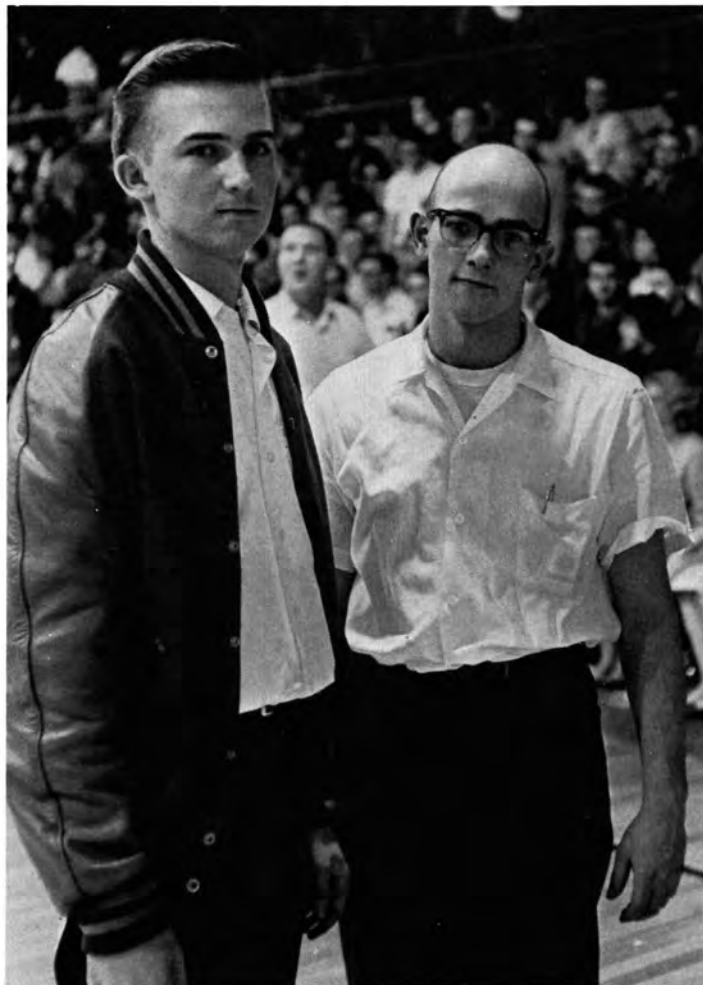

Need an inspiration? Maybe a glance at last year's Beaver will furnish some ideas for these section editors—Phyllis Johnson, Gerilyn Tandberg and Deanna Burtress.

Organization editors Delores Clott and Lynne Engstrom, after having written numerous cutlines, couldn't think of one for themselves.

Red and Green Adds Features, Columnists

Hunting up stories, barely meeting deadlines, writing headlines and last minute changes were some of the many of the "crises" faced by the 1962-63 Red and Green staff.

With the major goal of "more readers for the Red and Green," the editorial staff and columnists wrote on many controversial subjects and judging from the steady stream of protest and opinions of agreement, the goal was accomplished.

By departments, the news reporting was considering the many organizations vying for publicity.

The sports page became bigger and better than ever this year, covering every sports event from basketball to tiddely winks.

Besides the two already established features such as the exchange column, the poll and letters to the editor, this year saw the instituting of many others. Comments from the Campi and Mumblings from Mausoleum had more than their share of readers and controversy. The "Top Teacher" was established as a regular and the Record Rack was seen in several issues. "Gort" along with the "Little Man," who occasionally stuck his satirical head into the Red and Green, provided the college-type humor.

Staff members Karl Burkhardt, Sharon Spielman, Karen Kiesz, Gary Engebretson and Rodney Mittelsteadt carry on a multitude of jobs.

Photographer Howard Abbott provides pictures that often give life to the Red and Green.

Typist Adell Guidinger chats with features writer Sunny Marricle.

Although there was much worrying and waiting around deadline time, the staff was proud as well as relieved when it finally "hit the stand."

This year the Red and Green published a combined 50th Anniversary Senior Day edition May 1. Although the first issue of the Red and Green was not published until 1923, the college newspaper worked toward commemorating the 1913 founding of the college by issuing a "special" edition.

Aided in their editorial and financial operations by the Student Board of Publications—Glenn Smith, chairman; Phyllis Mueller, secretary; Gayle Norland, Scott Engmann and Gary Engebretson, the Red and Green continued working each time toward an improved publication.

Ratings each semester from Associated Collegiate Press plus continuous service analyses were invaluable to the Red and Green.

In spite of the menial tasks of proofreading seemingly endless yellow galley sheets, pasting ads in the wrong place on dummy sheets, being let down at crucial times by seemingly interested staff members, the Red and Green continued to serve the college. Staff members felt a sense of achievement, a type of vicarious satisfaction, as the teachers tried to take role and decide whether they had a class to teach at 8 a.m. or a camouflage of Red and Greens.

Performances, Concerts, Clinic, Keep Band 'Busy'

MSTC's band, not wanting to rest on their past laurels at the Seattle World's Fair, have a vigorous program for this school year. Giving concerts, providing clinics in vocal, instrumental and percussion areas, performing for convocations and pep rallies, and marching for parades are among the many activities that have been planned.

Dr. Ira P. Schwarz, director of the band, lists the establishment of a varsity band as the primary goal of the instrumental department. From this varsity band the concert band, stage band, brass choir, pep band and brass, woodwind or percussion ensembles are formed. The objectives of these groups are to provide large and small group experience for all instrumentalists and provide entertainment for the college and also for community functions.

Selness Inaugurates College Chamber Orchestra

Director Norman J. Selness pauses for a moment's reflection.

With every passing year, the Community Symphony Orchestra is gaining more recognition as one of the finest musical groups in the area.

In addition to the performance of The Messiah, the orchestra is inaugurating a College Chamber Orchestra under the direction of Norman J. Selness.

The purpose of the Community Symphony Orchestra is to provide experience in orchestral playing for MSTC students, adult musicians from the community and some advanced secondary students. The orchestra performs standard symphonic literature and has as a principal objective to bring the best in orchestral literature to the campus, community and through tours to other communities of North Dakota.

Jerry Spitzer, student director, leads the band in rehearsal for the Homecoming pageant.

Officers are Ruth Griffin, Wayne Naas, Terry Thomas and Dennis Schaefer.

MENC Fosters Professional Music Attitude

Because of the importance of a proper professional attitude toward the teaching profession, Music Educators National Conference has as its purpose to promote, install and further this attitude as much and in as many ways as possible.

Meetings are monthly with a speaker being featured at each meeting. This year their annual banquet was January 19 at the Clarence Parker.

A highlight of the year's activities is the variety show which is in February.

Dennis Schaefer, president; Wayne Naas, vice president; Terry Thomas, secretary; and Ruth Griffin, treasurer, head the organization.

Women's Chorus Performs On, Off Campus at MSTC

Since the inception of the Women's Chorus, all MSTC women who like to sing may use this group as an outlet for their talents. Each Christmas this group of mellifluous voices entertains the student body at a Christmas convocation and brightens the spirit of patients at John Moses Air Force hospital with a Christmas program. They also add to the Christmas shopping spirit of the community by rendering vocal selections at a downtown bank during the shopping season. In the spring, the Chorus presents its spring concert precluded by a short tour. This year, the chorus plans to travel to Winnipeg, Manitoba, and perform several concerts there during a two or three day stay. Under the direction of John Spoelstra, the MSTC Women's Chorus adds sparkle and vitality to campus and off-campus functions.

Kathy Ward, accompanist for the MSTC Women's Chorus, poses with John Spoelstra, the director.

Officers of the Women's Chorus are Gracia Schall, secretary-treasurer; Kay Buri, president; Ruth Griffin, vice president.

John A. Strohm, chairman of the Division of Music, directs Concert Choir and the annual MESSIAH.

Concert Choir officers are Dennis Schaefer, secretary; Myron Dybing, president; Einar Einarson, vice president; Wayne Naas, treasurer.

Concert Choir Participates in College, Community Areas

Under the direction of John Strohm, the Concert Choir has participated in various activities that enrich and develop the group's ability as a whole.

Included in these activities were their performance as guest choir of Brahms' Liebeslieder for the state convention of the Music Teachers Association, their participation in the presentation of The Messiah, their presentation of their annual spring tour and concert and their performance for the Farmers Union State Convention.

This year the Choir has limited the membership to upper-classmen and has organized a Freshman Chorus.

Alumni Association Shows Concern for MSTC

Always concerned with improving, advancing, and publicizing MSTC, the Alumni Association contributed $100.00 to the band for their trip to Seattle, erected a sign of welcome to Minot and MSTC on highway 2 and presented two alumni scholarships of $150.00 each to Gerilyn Tandberg and Lela Atwood. Another area of interest of the Alumni Association is the development of physical education outdoor facilities at MSTC. Attention to this need was brought to the North Dakota legislators through the publication of a pamphlet sponsored by the Alumni Association.

Officers of the Alumni Association are Lloyd McNae, president; Kenneth Johnson, vice president; Doris Slaaten, secretary; Pearl Stusrud, treasurer; E. R. Manning, director. A. G. Alberts, Brynhild Haugland, Mrs. Harris Kenner, George Fairbanks, Lowell Latimer, Don Peterson, Aird Smith, Lucille Whitt and Marvin Sorum are members of the Alumni Association Board of Directors.

I-V Group Stresses Fellowship, Service Work

International in scope, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship provides opportunities for fellowship and service among Christian students of many denominations on college campuses around the world. Its chief purpose is to present a Christian witness on the college campus and to help members deepen their faith in Christ.

This year's program of the MSTC Chapter was centered around the theme "Living the Christ Life." Highlighting the regular meetings were the film, "Time and Eternity," and Dr. Warren Allen's talk on "Christ, the Teacher." Pastors of all the churches represented in I-V were asked to speak on a topic dealing with the year's theme.

Other starred activities made this year memorable for Inter-Varsity. The Halloween party at the YMCA lodge was followed by a singspirational camp fire in Oak Park. At one meeting, alumni members presented a skit, showed slides, and sang a song about their visit to Costa Rica. Deputation trips to churches in Minot and surrounding towns used the talents of the whole group, especially the future ministers, and provided time for close fellowship.

Officers of Inter-Varsity are Ronald Kouba, treasurer; Joanne Jacobs, secretary; Phyllis Johnson, vice president, and Glenn Larsen, president.

Gamma Delta

James Medchill, Sandra Hertel, Linda Schultz, Lela Atwood and Larry Gessner are officers.

A hayride provides an evening of entertainment for Gamma Delta members.

Gamma Delta is the international association of Missouri Synod Lutheran college and university students. Gamma Delta lists as its purpose the centering of their activities around Christ in worship, business and recreation. A highlight of this year's program was a Halloween party at which the group saw a Martin Luther film.

Christian service is the meaning signified by Gamma Delta. Gamma "gnosis" signifies knowledge and Delta "diakonia" signifies service. These two words clearly explain the objective of this group, that of service to their church.

Officers are James Medchill, president; Lela Atwood, vice president; Linda Schultz, secretary; Sandra Hertel, treasurer; Larry Gessner, Christian growth chairman; Pastor J. Chambers, pastoral adviser; and Dale Atwood, assistant adviser.

UCCF Promotes Interest in Christian Ideals

A spring retreat at Rice Lake, a highlight of the year in the United Campus Christian Fellowship's activities, is appreciatively enjoyed by each member as are the suppers at which they get a chance to sample foreign food.

Aim of the UCCF is to further the mission of the church within the campus community, to deepen the Christian faith of students and faculty and to strengthen campus units and to broaden ecumenical understanding through common experiences in intercollegiate campus Christian movements.

Heading the UCCF group are Anna Marie Schneider, president; Matthew Coad, vice president; Eve Schafer, secretary; and Peter Hammer, treasurer.

Dr. Rosamond Webster, guest speaker, converses with Frank Jehle as David Waldron ruminates something he has heard earlier in the evening.

Dr. Paul Morrison, adviser, Eve Shafer, Anna Marie Schneider, Pete Hammer and Matthew Coad, officers, pose before a Christmas nativity scene.

Wendell Lillestrand, Ruby Johnson, Morris Erickson, Ray Haas are officers.

Gamma Delta members relax as they spend an evening bowling.

Baptist Group Carry on Meaningful Discussions

Meaningful discussions are an integral part of the activities of Roger Williams Fellowship, that provide the Baptist youth group with food for thought and reflection. Appropriately, these discussions are quite often related to problems that the members encounter on campus and in their home life.

In addition, the group goes Christmas caroling and enjoys several skating parties during the winter season. Bowling parties are also included in their list of recreational activities.

Another important activity is the Bible study which adds to the spiritual enrichment of the members. Their fellowship also includes special speakers, discussion group, films and Gospel teams.

Leading the group are Morris Erickson, president; Raymond Haas, vice president; Ruby Johnson, secretary; and Monty Benson, treasurer. Wendell Lillestrand is adviser to the Roger Williams Fellowship.

MSM Enriches Christian Faith of Its Members

Methodist Student Movement attempts to provide a varied and interesting program for MSTC students through discussion groups and social activities. Some discussion topics have been the symbolism of churches, intermarriage, both religious and racial, and the articles of Religion of the Methodist faith. Such conversation gives each person a chance to express his views.

For recreation, the group has enjoyed a Halloween pizza party, a skating party and a bowling party.

Purpose of the Methodist Student Movement is to deepen, enrich and mature the Christian faith of college men and women through a commitment to Jesus Christ and His church and to prepare them for active lives of service and leadership in and through the Church.

Officers of MSM are Mary Ann Wolfe, president; Carole Anderson, secretary; Peggy Clark, treasurer; and Art Scanson, vice president.

Vocal point of attention, Jim Bedard, smirks as others laugh openly.

LSA Headquarters at Augustana Church Center

With Augustana Lutheran Church as their headquarters, LSAers have formulated an active program for Lutheran students on campus. To provide some home-like recreation for the members, the Lutheran Students Association plans skating, softball, pizza and popcorn informal get togethers Friday nights.

Among the other activities is the presentation of a Christmas pageant, acted and produced entirely by students. Another project of considerable importance is the publication of the LSA Newsletter.

Lutheran Students Association centers much of its activity around weekly core meetings with worship at vespers following each of these meetings. Authoritative controversial speakers give broad foundations of which to base ideas, opinions and ideals. LSA attempts to confront its members with Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior, and to bear such witness in the academic community, to deepen faith and carry the witness of faith into the ecumenical ventures of the student world.

During the summer Pastor Jurgensen, Orlyn Knutson, LaDonna Green and Mary Lee Knudsvig went to Stevens College, Columbia, Missouri, for a week of National Ashram. National Ashram is an organization of the Lutheran and Episcopal students.

Heading the Lutheran Students are Ron Haugeberg, president; Orlyn Knutson, vice president; LaVerne Kallberg, financial secretary; LaDonna Green, publicity; Susan Thingvold, worship; Jerome Langseth, deputations; Sharon Anderson, team captain; Carmin Johnson, study; Mary Lee Knudsvig, service chairman; Judy Kemp, LSAction; Gordon Braaten, recreation director; Curtis Medalen, student adviser; Pastor Richard Jurgensen and Miss Ellen Johnson and Miss Myrna Anderson, faculty advisers.

An original Christmas pageant was presented by LSA members Paulette Haugen, Roland Toth, Darrel Haugeberg, Eugene Orson and Rod Mittelsteadt.

Jerry Langseth directs the LSA choir in the presentation of "O Night Divine," an original Christmas pageant written by Pastor Jurgensen.

Newman Club Concentrates on Spiritual

Diane Straight and Fred Kraft eagerly accept coffee from Newman Adviser Miss Taylert.

Following the Newman Club meeting, Janet Backes and Marily Gorde enjoy a cup of coffee while they energetically discuss a controversial issue.

Newman Club has three aims on campus. The primary aim is the spiritual guidance of each member in his religious education. In addition Newman Club seeks to provide the student with an intellectual stimulus outside of their classes. Along with such spiritual and intellectual guidance, Newman Club has a social function on campus too. This is reflected in the spon-

A grid of 20 black and white student portraits arranged in 4 rows and 5 columns. The students are of various ethnicities and are dressed in formal or semi-formal attire typical of the mid-20th century. Some students are wearing glasses. The portraits are set against a light, textured background. The grid is as follows:
Row 1: Five female students with short, styled hair. The second and fourth students are wearing glasses.
Row 2: Five students, three male and two female. The first, second, and fourth students are wearing glasses.
Row 3: Five students, three male and two female. The second and fifth students are wearing glasses.
Row 4: Five students, three male and two female. The fourth student is wearing glasses.
The students are posed in a formal manner, looking directly at the camera or slightly to the side. The overall aesthetic is that of a mid-century yearbook.

ADVERTISING

MAJORING IN

In the marketing of petroleum products Salesology is a major course because only through reasonable and sound sales effort can a local independent oil company such as Westland compete against integrated behemoths in the oil business.

Yes, there is a place for small as well as large organizations in the free enterprise system. The present explosion of population, transportation, water requirements, technology and construction makes the picture even brighter for all concerned.

Westland looks to a bright future through continued endeavor in providing new and better petroleum products marketed throughout this area by responsible and capable people whose honest desire to serve the community well reaps a successful and rewarding life.

On the Occasion of Its 50th Anniversary

What main course would you serve 79,000 dinner guests? That's the huge number of people who own Northern States Power Company . . . folks who own shares of NSP. And better than half of them live right here in the 4 states served by NSP . . . not to mention the many upper-mid-westerners who are indirect owners through their insurance, savings accounts, investment trust and other firms that have invested in NSP. That's why we say it's your company . . . NSP, owned by 79,000 people like you and your neighbors.

We would like to express our thanks to our advertisers for their willingness to promote the 1963 Beaver.

We wish also to thank the following: Sharon Spielman, Arland Britsch, James Grubb and Dick Burtness for their salesmanship. Without their combined efforts the goal we set for advertising would never have been met.

We congratulate Kathy Mastel on her fine job as editor of our yearbook.

We, too, thank Mrs. Turner and the business office for their cooperation.

Members of the Beaver staff formed a new honorary society within their ranks this year. Anyone on the staff who spent more than eight hours a day in the Beaver Office during deadline time was eligible to join the society, called the Beaver-Made Bachelors and Spinsters Club. Fourteen of fourteen staff members met the requirements and were initiated into the club by having 10 rough draft sheets shoved down their throats.

On schedule as the society's main activities for the year were plans to shave Gary Engebretson's head, burn Merle Dalen in effigy and lock Jim Bedard in the Red and Green Office—permanently.

Unfortunately, Gary Engebretson shaved his own head and Merle Dalen came through with pictures, so the staff could hardly make Jim Bedard the sole target of their frustrations. In fact, by the time our readers see this in print, we will have forgotten the worries and remember only the brighter moments. The memory of the hectic rush to get copy shipments to the airport to catch the Dallas-bound flight will be overshadowed by the thrill we experienced in knowing that we did make it.

The efforts of many people were combined to produce this book and although any attempt to express appreciation may seem feeble, we would like to extend thanks to a few of these people. Our sincerest gratitude goes to the many ad salesmen who assisted our business managers, to Merle Dalen who "came through with pictures," to Mr. Raimunds Aboltins who assisted us in a dozen ways, and to Mrs. Muriel Turner who remained patient with us throughout the deadlines.

Kathy Mastel, Editor
 1963 Beaver
