Faces of MSC

One face in a crowd . . . the face of a lovely campus queen . . . the face of a man who goes ahead and gets things done . . . the face of a defeated athlete . . . these are the faces that constitute college. And the faces on these pages are the ones that constitute Minot State College.

Today's advances in technology may sometimes make you believe that you are merely a blur in the often out-of-focus picture of the world.

In college you may feel that you are merely a punchcard being run through a computer.

But just take a moment to look at the faces around you. Isn't that smiling girl more real than the blur you thought you saw before? . . . And why. Because you noticed her face. Look at the person who is giving you orders. He has a face and a personality and so does everyone else, if only you would notice.

Throughout the pages of this book you will be seeing faces familiar to you, or perhaps faces you have never noticed before; but they are all a part of this college. These faces are the reflections of MSC. What image do you see reflected in them?

A Face of dedication

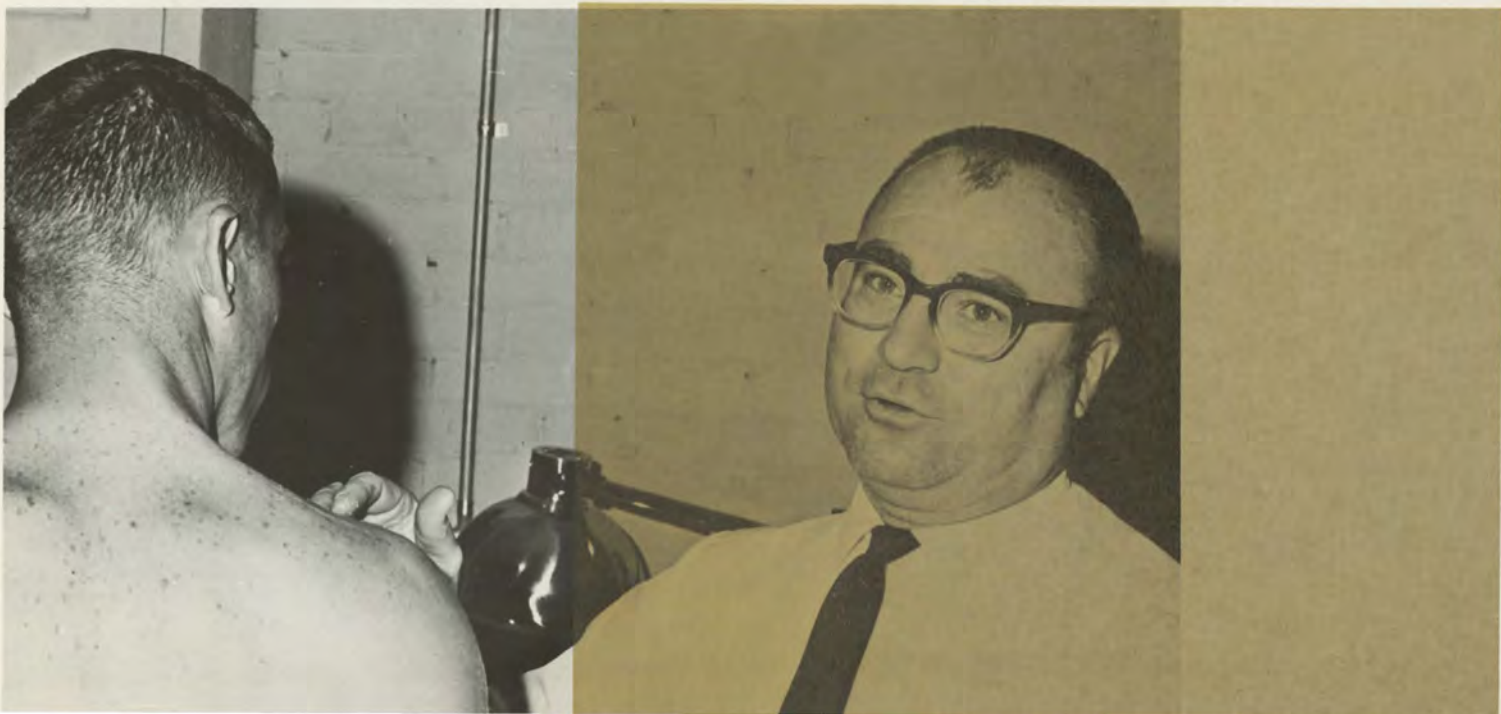

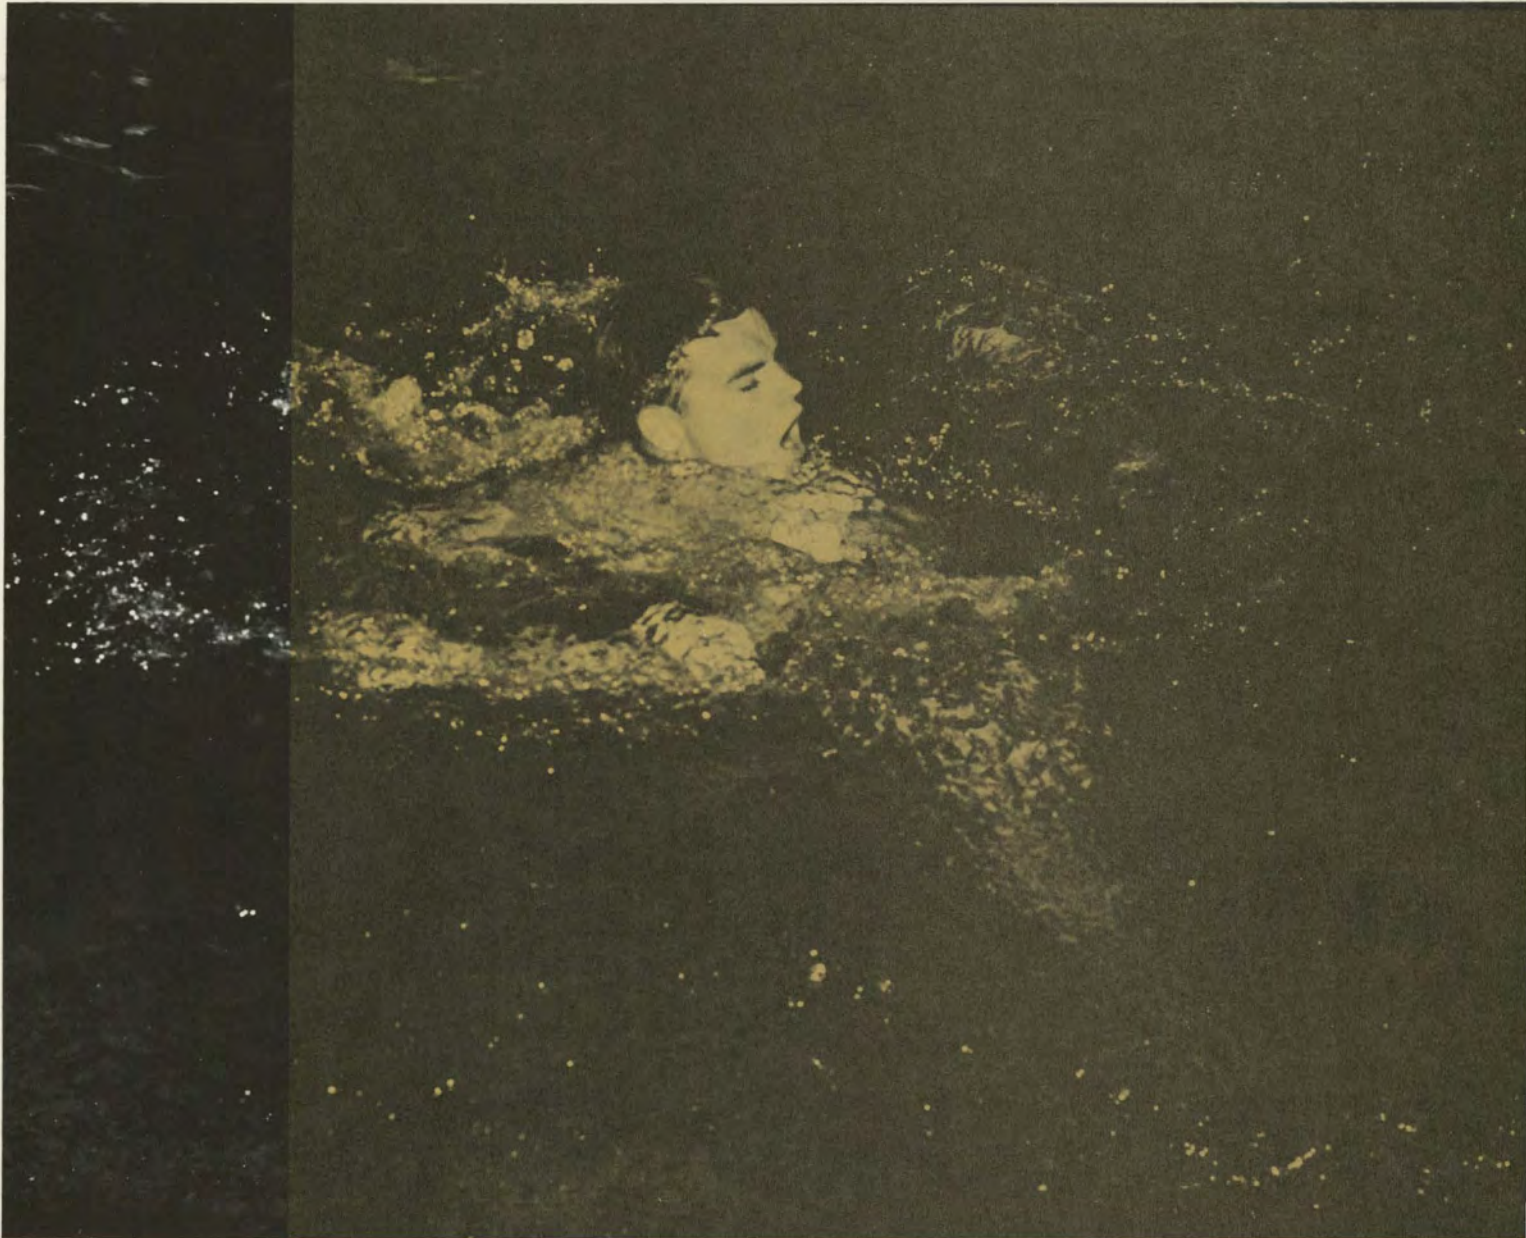

Teachers are remembered by students for their contributions in both curricular and extracurricular fields. Such is the case particularly with this man, and the 1968 Beaver staff wishes to add to his honors.

He has been an MSC faculty member since 1952 and has been described in sports writing as one of the most modest and courteous personalities in the Minot coaching field, as well as one of the most capable.

It would be impossible to measure the influence that this man has exerted, the incentive he has created, or the respect he has earned from the students and players with whom he has worked.

Congratulations, Vence Elgie, Chairman of the Department of Health and Physical Education. The Beaver staff has dedicated the 1968 Beaver to you.

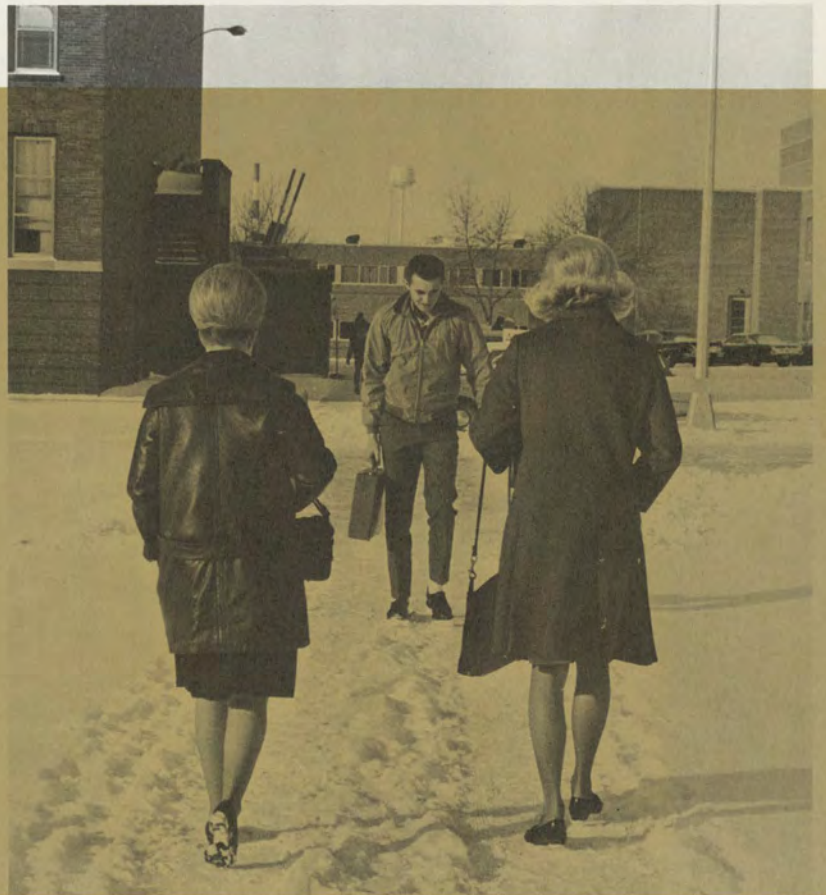

Faces of fun

A face convulsed with laughter . . . in the middle of a snowball fight . . . in a swimming pool. A face having fun is universally and immediately understood.

The element of fun is an integral part of college life. When in years to come you think back to the days you spent on this campus the memories of your good times will stand out most vividly. The hours shared with others . . . sitting in the union playing cards . . . laughing breathlessly after a snake dance . . . talking quietly to a special person . . . these are the hours that complete the education which teachers and classrooms begin.

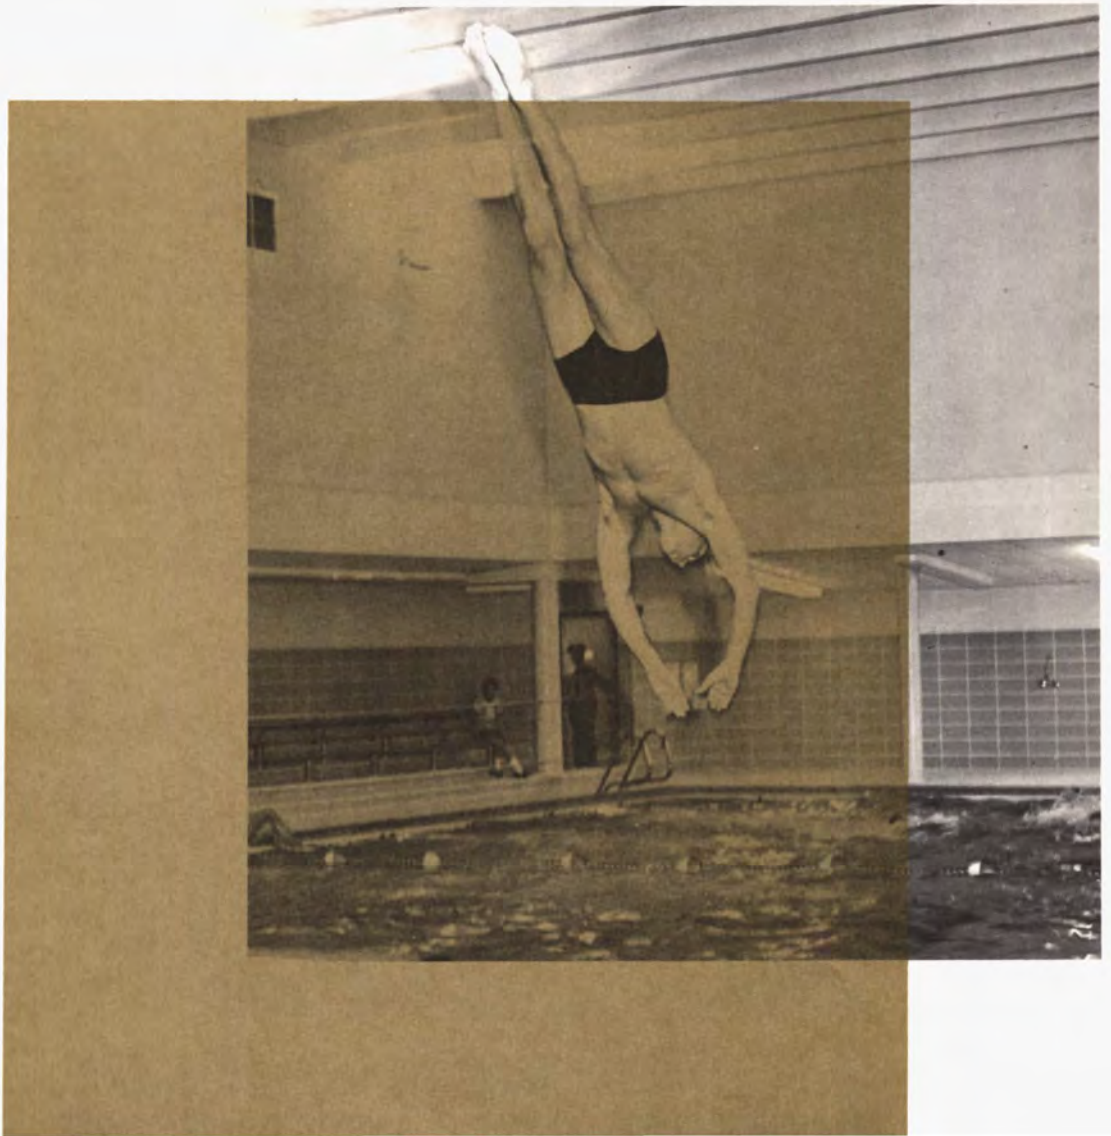

Faces of development

You say you come to college to get an education. Fine. You sit in class five hours a day; you sit in the library two hours a night; you sit through a graduation ceremony and get your diploma. You are educated.

But wait. Is that all there is to it? Sometime in those four years of sitting and listening didn't you want to stand up and shout. If and when you did, you became one of the faces of development—one of the faces that reflect an individual finding himself.

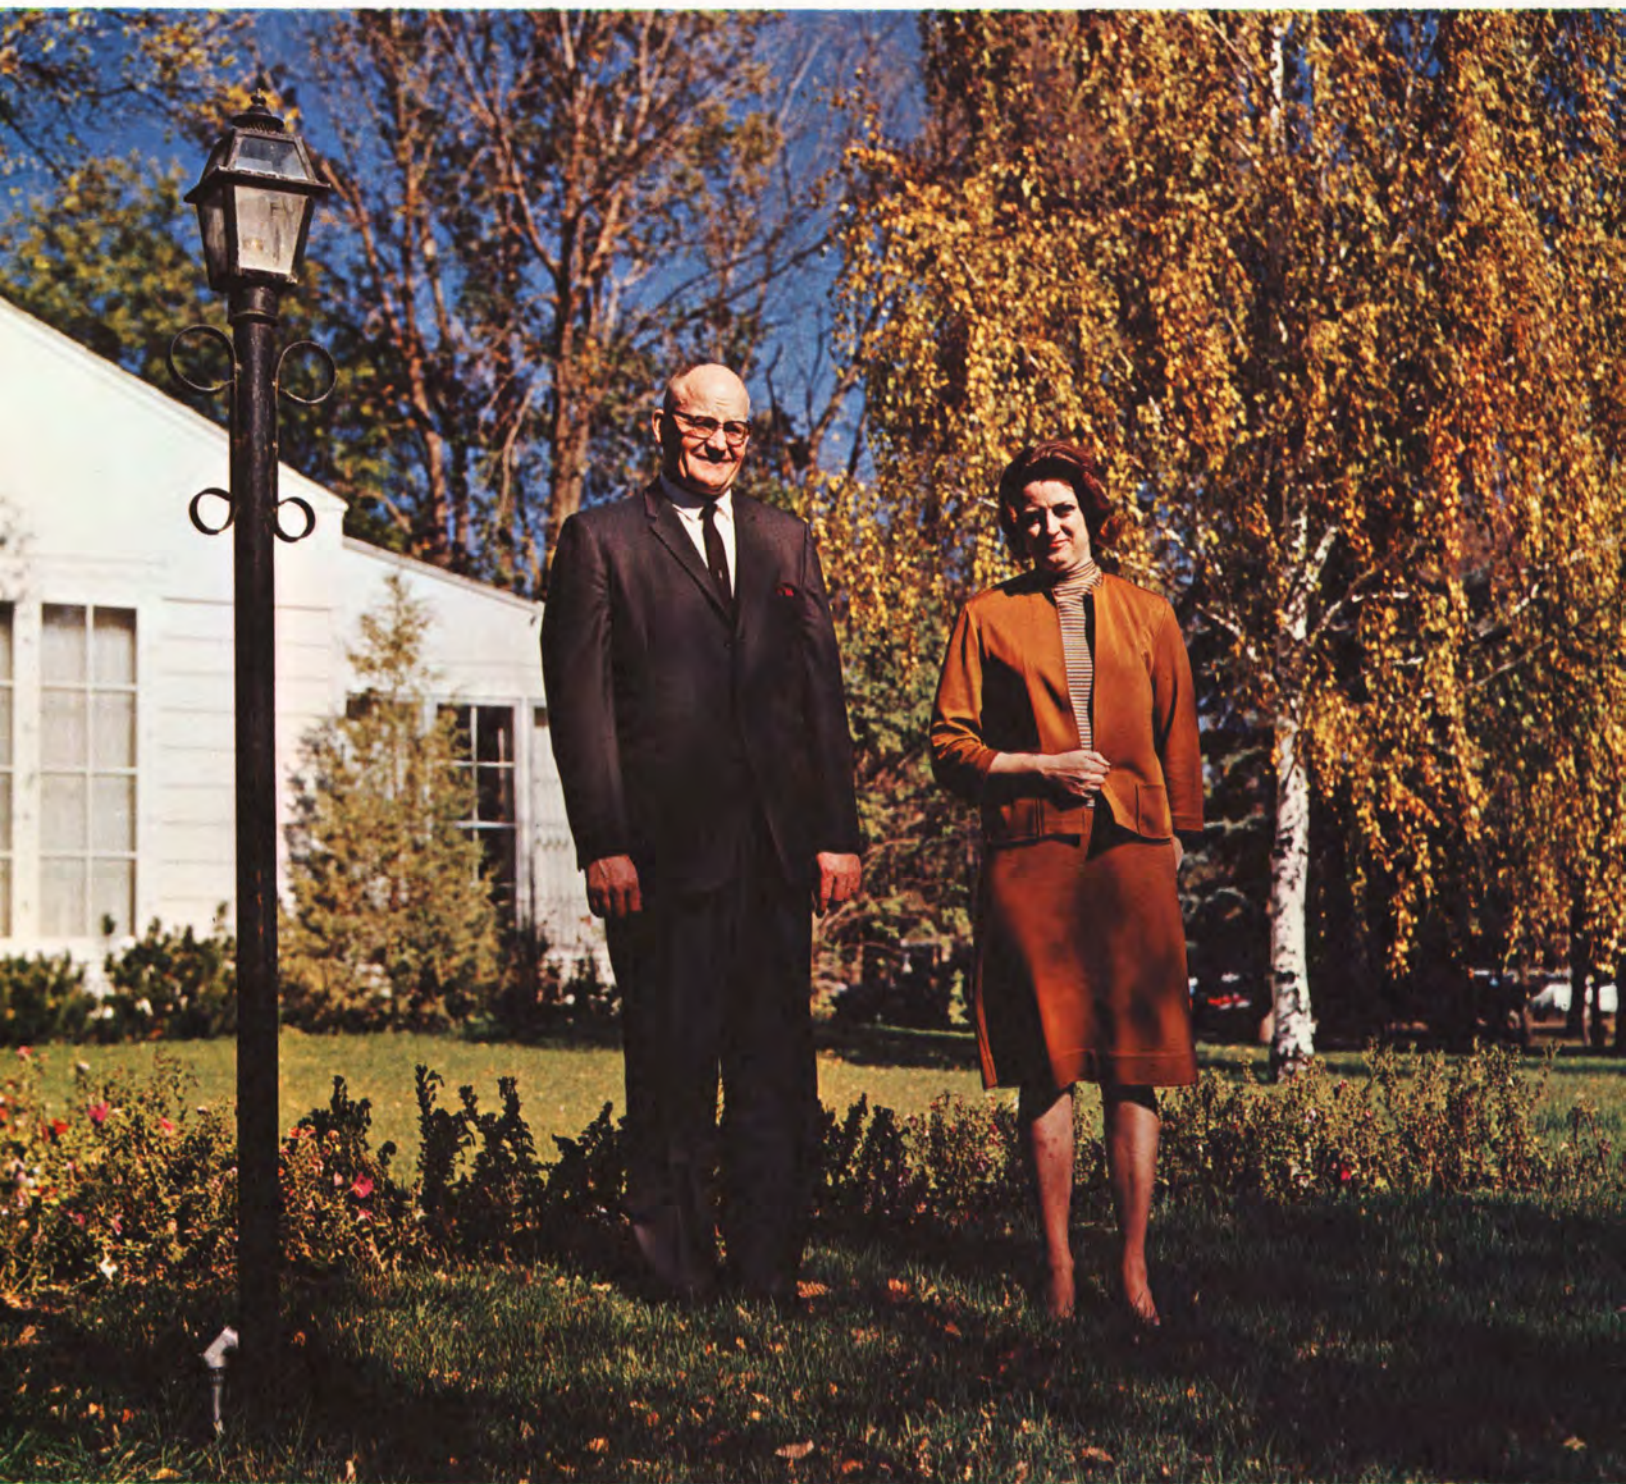

Faces of fulfillment

In the future lies a day when your last hurdle will be cleared and your final goal will be reached. Until this time you work to fulfill day by day obligations.

This process of fulfillment may be thrilling . . . it is to a newly crowned campus queen. It may be deeply gratifying . . . it is to one who is graduating. Or it may be quietly satisfying . . . it is to one who has completed a long day and relaxes with a good book.

Whatever the cause of fulfillment it is reflected unmistakably in the faces of those who achieve it.

Administration

Face the future

Greetings!

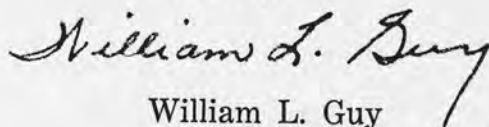

It is a great pleasure for me to once again extend my greetings and best wishes to the student body and faculty of Minot State College through the pages of the 1968 "Beaver."

The need for education will become even more important in the years ahead. Those of you who have had the privilege of a quality education in an impressive school have a heavy responsibility to the future. I know you will meet that responsibility well.

The pages that follow amply illustrate why each of you, faculty and students, can be proud of your association with one of North Dakota's outstanding institutions of higher learning.

I congratulate the editor and staff of the "Beaver" for capturing so well the flavor and excitement and the hard work that has been a part of your lives at Minot State. My best wishes to each of you in the months and years ahead.

Sincerely,

William L. Guy
Governor

Serves as liaison

The State Board of Higher Education, established in 1939, is the governing body of the nine state-supported institutions of higher learning in North Dakota.

Each member, appointed for a term of seven years, must have his membership approved by the state Senate. The board meets every month to review requests from presidents of North Dakota colleges, to approve policies and staff appointments or changes, and to make plans and improvements.

This year the State Board approved additions to courses at MSC such as the physics major and the German major. They also authorized the completion of the science building, the student union, the new maintenance building, and the remodeling of Pioneer Hall. Presently under their consideration are degrees in nursing, police science, and a master degree program.

It is through action such as this that the State Board serves as a liaison between the state and the colleges of North Dakota.

MSC'S 6th president

Dr. Gordon B. Olson assumed the position of president of Minot State College July 1, 1967.

Before this appointment he had been Dean of Dickinson State College. Also at Dickinson State he had been Chairman of the Division of Education, Placement Director, and Director of Extension.

A native of Almont, Dr. Olson received his bachelor of science degree from Dickinson State College in 1948 and his master of education and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of North Dakota.

Dr. Olson has been a member of the State College and University Extension Committee, the State Steering Committee for Titles I and III of the Higher Education Facilities Act, and the State Junior College Evaluation Team. He is past President of the Southwest District of the North Dakota Education Association.

Minot State College is fortunate to have such an outstanding man as its President. Now, near the end of his first year with us, the Beaver would like to congratulate Dr. Gordon B. Olson, and wish him continued success in his future at Minot State College.

The big ones

The duties of administering a college go far beyond those of a busy president. There are numerous and often overlapping responsibilities that extend from one end of the college to the other.

As Dean of the College, Dr. Randolph Foster oversees all academic duties and faculty appointments. He is a graduate of the University of Texas in Austin and has just completed his fifth year as dean at Minot State.

Joel A. Davy, as assistant to the president, promotes the growth of the college as well as in aiding in general administrative duties. Mr. Davy graduated from Jamestown College and the University of North Dakota.

Dean of Men Herbert Parker is also a graduate of Jamestown College. He received his master of arts degree from Colorado State College. He is in charge of on and off campus housing, married student housing, disciplinary cases and official college notices.

Garnet Cox serves in the position as Dean of Women. She received her master of education degree from the University of Virginia. As for her duties, she never seems to be short of work now with three women's dorms to keep in line.

Registrar Emil F. Sather is in charge of class schedules, student records and class statistics, as well as in charge of the college catalogues and applications for admission. He is a graduate of the University of North Dakota.

Director of Extension is J. Bernard Busse, an MA graduate of Colorado State College. In his position he is in charge of college classes at Minot Air Force Base, on campus night classes, and college classes in area towns.

A BS graduate of the University of North Dakota, Oscar Quam serves as Business Manager. Among his duties are those of assisting President Gordon Olson in preparing the college budget.

In charge as Office Manager, Larry Eide handles the financial details in connection with publications, works on keeping the college accounts accurate and up to date, and oversees all college purchases. He is a graduate of Minot State.

Publicity manager for MSC is Merritt Christensen. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. His duties are to gather information and news releases concerning students and to distribute them to area newspapers as well as to promote college growth through publicity.

Dr. Frank Bauman is Director of Student Teaching. His job is to place student teachers in area schools. He graduated from the University of North Dakota.

As director of the Placement Bureau, Dr. Olger Myhre helps MSC graduates find positions in various school systems. Dr. Myhre graduated from the University of North Dakota.

Dr. James Brandt serves as student counselor for MSC. He is in charge of special interest tests and councils students with problems. He graduated from the University of Iowa.

'New' CS plan works

Non-graded, individualized instruction carried on at the Campus School is part of the plan of adapting promising programs to educational conditions and individual differences, normally found in North Dakota.

This work is typified by terms such as (1) seeking, (2) self-direction, (3) individual pacing, (4) teaching in conferences and (5) individual record keeping.

The individualized instruction so far has been carried out in the third grade room. Feasibility of moving into the grade two room is being studied.

Administration of achievement battery and the survey of reactions of the 92 professional educators who visited the program last year seem to indicate the plan has been highly successful.

It is anticipated that as a result of action last October closing the Campus School that grades K-6 will be double sectioned and grades 7-12 discontinued. However enrollment is expected to stay the same. Focus of the laboratory school will be one of research and innovation.

ART

Kappa Pi Colony of the international art fraternity was established with 15 charter members at Minot State College last fall.

The group prepared a local constitution. Requirements for membership are a B average plus 18 quarter hours of art courses completed with a B grade. However, membership will also depend upon creative work in art.

The art major at MSC is geared primarily to the teaching degree rather than to professional development.

HOME EC

In the home economics unit, two new kitchens, including a new dishwasher, were added in July.

The home furnishings class took as its project the remodeling of the living center on the second floor of Old Main. They made new curtains and wall hangings, and recovered chairs as part of the improvement project. In order to get ideas for further home furnishing, the class took various trips to furniture and drapery stores and to private homes in Minot.

Also in the home economics division, a child care nursery was operated during winter quarter as part of a class activity.

DALE D. ATWOOD, Chairman
EdD, University of North Dakota

Business Education

The Division of Business constantly strives to keep abreast with technological advancements in the field of business. This year a new program in vocational education is being offered to qualify business education majors to serve as office education coordinators. Courses in data processing have also been added which will supplement all existing programs offered.

Former classrooms used by the Manpower Program on the fourth floor of Old Main have this year been utilized by the business division for office machine classes and thereby available facilities in their regular department have increased.

WARREN G. ALLEN, Chairman
PhD, University of North Dakota

Education and Psychology

A psychology major was added to the offerings of the Division of Education and Psychology. Student interest in the new major was evident in the increase in course enrollment.

This is a single division but both elementary and secondary candidates take their work here. Approximately 80 to 85 per cent of MSC students take classes in this division.

Admission to teacher education is now a formal process for each student. Once in teacher education each person is continually screened for retention.

Criteria on which the potential teacher is screened are health, personality, scholarship and professional aptitudes.

Part of the job of teachers here is the observing of the student teachers in the various schools to which they have been assigned.

At present there are over 200 elementary education majors.

VENCE ELGIE, Acting Chairman
MS, University of Oregon, Eugene

Health and Physical Education

Four tennis courts have been added to the facilities of the Division of Health and Physical Education. The courts located west of the practice football field were also used for intramurals this spring.

Need for more space still exists in this division. Women's intramurals are curtailed because of lack of space. An arrangement with Ramstad Junior High provided for basketball and volleyball this fall.

Ken Wiebolt, as director of men's intramurals, developed quite an extensive program both in variety of activities and in recruiting participants.

With over 200 majors in this division there is no oversupply; graduates have no difficulties getting placement. There is more demand for women physical education graduates than there is personnel to fill the positions.

MSC athletic teams participate in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference. (NDCAC). There are seven colleges in this group counting MSC.

Kathleen McCann, Martha MacIver, and Roger Bowles were new to the division this year.

CLYDE Y. KIANG, Acting Head Librarian
MA, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo

Library

Memorial Library is in the process of changing from the Dewey Decimal System to the Library of Congress system of classification. Primary reason for going to the Library of Congress classification is to reduce cost of processing books.

More room in the library has been affected by microfilming back issues of newspapers.

Current book acquisition rate of new titles is over 1,000 a year. The library has approximately 100,000 books and subscribes to over 1,000 periodicals.

Xerox charges are among the cheapest in the country—5 cents a page at the MSC Memorial Library.

HAROLD G. ALESHIRE, Acting Chairman
MS, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Literature and Language

The Spring English Conference initiated April, 1967, and conducted by Dr. Edwin Sauer, Chicago, was continued this spring. Dr. Edward Gordon, Yale University, headed this spring's conference.

Purpose of the spring conference was the helping of area high school teachers to do their best job in the teaching of English and composition.

A major in German was approved for the fall of 1967. Joyce Zimmerman was added to the German department.

The second man on theater is Gordon Bangs. For the first time MSC has a technical director in theater. Manipulation of the technical facilities which make up the stage and staging of a production are under his supervision.

Also this year Bangs and Gerilyn Tandberg planned and worked on an endeavor in children's theater.

Don A. Koenke, forensics director, emphasized variety in expanding the program and used a larger number of students in his program.

Three teachers—Helen White, Dee Sundet and Judy Winje—worked on new methods in teaching Communication 101 and 102.

Julianne Wallin replaced Floyd Fairweather on the humanities staff. Fairweather was on leave working on his doctorate at Syracuse University, New York.

New to the division were Gordon Bangs, David Gresham, Linda Gresham and Don A. Koenke.

JOHN A. STROHM, Chairman
MA, Columbia University Teachers
College, New York City

Music

Faculty of the music division gave individual and group recitals during the year. Manitoba, Bismarck and Minot State were the sites of these recitals.

Howard Reitz, violin; Walter Hartman, piano; and Dr. Jerold Sundet, oboe; make up the Music Faculty Trio. Walter Hartman and Mary Bradley appeared as a two-piano team.

The all state chorus and band was continued this year. A 125-member band and a 200-member chorus gave concerts in February. Area high school students comprised these groups.

Richard Gaarder, clinician, adjudicator and executive-secretary of the Wisconsin Music Educators National Conference, directed the chorus. Frank Pierson, director of band from the University of Iowa, Iowa City, directed the band for this all state meeting.

Dr. Paul R. Swanson took over the Male Chorus, enlarged it, and made it more active.

The MSC band under the direction of Dr. James Jurrens preformed during half time at the Vikings-Colts game in Minneapolis October 22.

PAUL D. LIEBY, Chairman
PhD, Colorado State University,
Fort Collins

Science

Not quite on time but finally in mid-November the third floor of the Science building became a reality. It contains two big classrooms, three large and many small labs. The labs are for chemistry, geology and other advanced courses. Also on the third floor are some staff offices and a big stockroom. On the roof of the science building is an unequipped astronomical observatory.

Dr. Pat Carney worked full time at research on Echino Casus, at parasite of mammals. Two students served as assistant researchers.

Closed circuit TV served auditorium classes and there was TV in five other classrooms.

Science teachers have made and used a number of video tapes in their lectures.

A 6 a.m. to 8 a.m. and a 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. lab were necessary this year because the third floor was not ready on time.

PAUL W. MORRISON, Chairman,
PhD, University of Colorado, Boulder

Social Science

Robert J. Connor was added to the Social Science Division in the law enforcement program.

Approval of the law enforcement program is subject first to approval of the state legislature. If approved it will be eligible for federal funds.

Need for more space exists in Social Science also. Classes for this division would all normally meet on the first floor of the Administration Building. As it was, 4 or 5 classes met in Main and 9 classes were in the Science Building.

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, received its charter and final approval in April.

The Peace Garden Conference had its 16th annual meeting with Brandon College of Manitoba last September.

Work was done on making federal grant requests in the study in (1) poverty, (2) Indian affairs, (3) revision of the secondary curriculum in social science, and (4) equipment in student and faculty scholarships.

RONALD E. ARCHER, Chairman
EdD, Colorado College, Greeley

Special Education

Remodeling of part of the first floor of Main was one of the big projects of the Division of Special Education. The $50,000 project provided a language development nursery.

Youngsters with communication disorders are diagnosed, evaluated and treated in the nursery. This complex contains four 6x3 one-way mirrors, closed circuit TV, observation suites and complete carpeting.

Hearing tests and evaluative services were carried on. Students in this division worked with older accident patients and stroke victims in the Americana and Lutheran Nursing Homes.

The only graduate program at MSC is in Special Education. An MS in Speech Pathology and in Education of the Deaf are offered.

MSC is the only institution in the state that offers the MS in Education of the Deaf or that offers teachers training in the education of the deaf. About 25 were enrolled in graduate school this year.

MSC's 1967 homecoming 'fantasia'

The 1967 Homecoming candidates were Melodee Monicken, Beattie Baker, Glenna Hanson and Jan Halvorson.

The highlight of the academic year is homecoming and this year's Minot State College Homecoming topped that of any other in the college's short history.

The kickoff came with the coronation of Melodee Monicken, sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority, as the Homecoming Queen. Melodee presided over the festivities with charm, poise and dignity. Beattie Baker, Delta Zeta Sorority; Jan Halvorson, Delta Epsilon Phi Sorority; and Glenna Hanson, Beta Theta Sorority were the princesses in Melodee's court. To all four girls it was the experience of a lifetime and a memory to cherish.

Following the coronation the first Minot run of the Sidney Poiter movie, "To Sir With Love," was shown a truly remarkable movie for an unforgettable occasion. It was an evening that marked the Minot State Homecoming with distinction.

The rest of the activities included a concert by the Sandpipers, a nationally known singing group; the arrival of the marathon runners from Bismarck to light the bonfire in which the freshmen burned their beanies; the annual Bar-B-Que and the parade.

The theme "Fantasia" was amply executed by the sororities and fraternities on campus with their floats and house displays. Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity won first place in the float competition with their creation "When the Rowing Gets Rough the Beavers Get Tough," and the Delta Phi Sorority won first place in the house displays division.

Saturday, October 21, the Minot State football stadium was filled with alumni, faculty and students to watch the Beavers take on the Valley City Vikings. The Beavers were victorious over the Vikings by a score of 20 to 14.

The Victory Ball was at the Minot Municipal Auditorium with the music supplied by the Kenny Rodgers Orchestra.

Co-chairmen Stuart Loken and Ron Bertsch put much time and energy into the events of homecoming to make it the great event in Minot State College's history.

The Sandpipers delighted the audience with their versatility . . . in music and antics.

Melodee was surprised . . .

5 full days
and nights . . .

The runners arrived from Bismarck, carrying the bonfire torch.

The Sig Tau's incredible float easily outdid all other competition in the Homecoming parade.

This year's bonfire was the scene of a pep rally and a freshman "beany throw."

Accented by miniskirts, the female two-fifths of the Sandpipers pleased the male three-fifths of the audience.

Capturing second place in the women's float competition, "Run 'em Raggedy" displayed the Delta Phi's originality and talent.

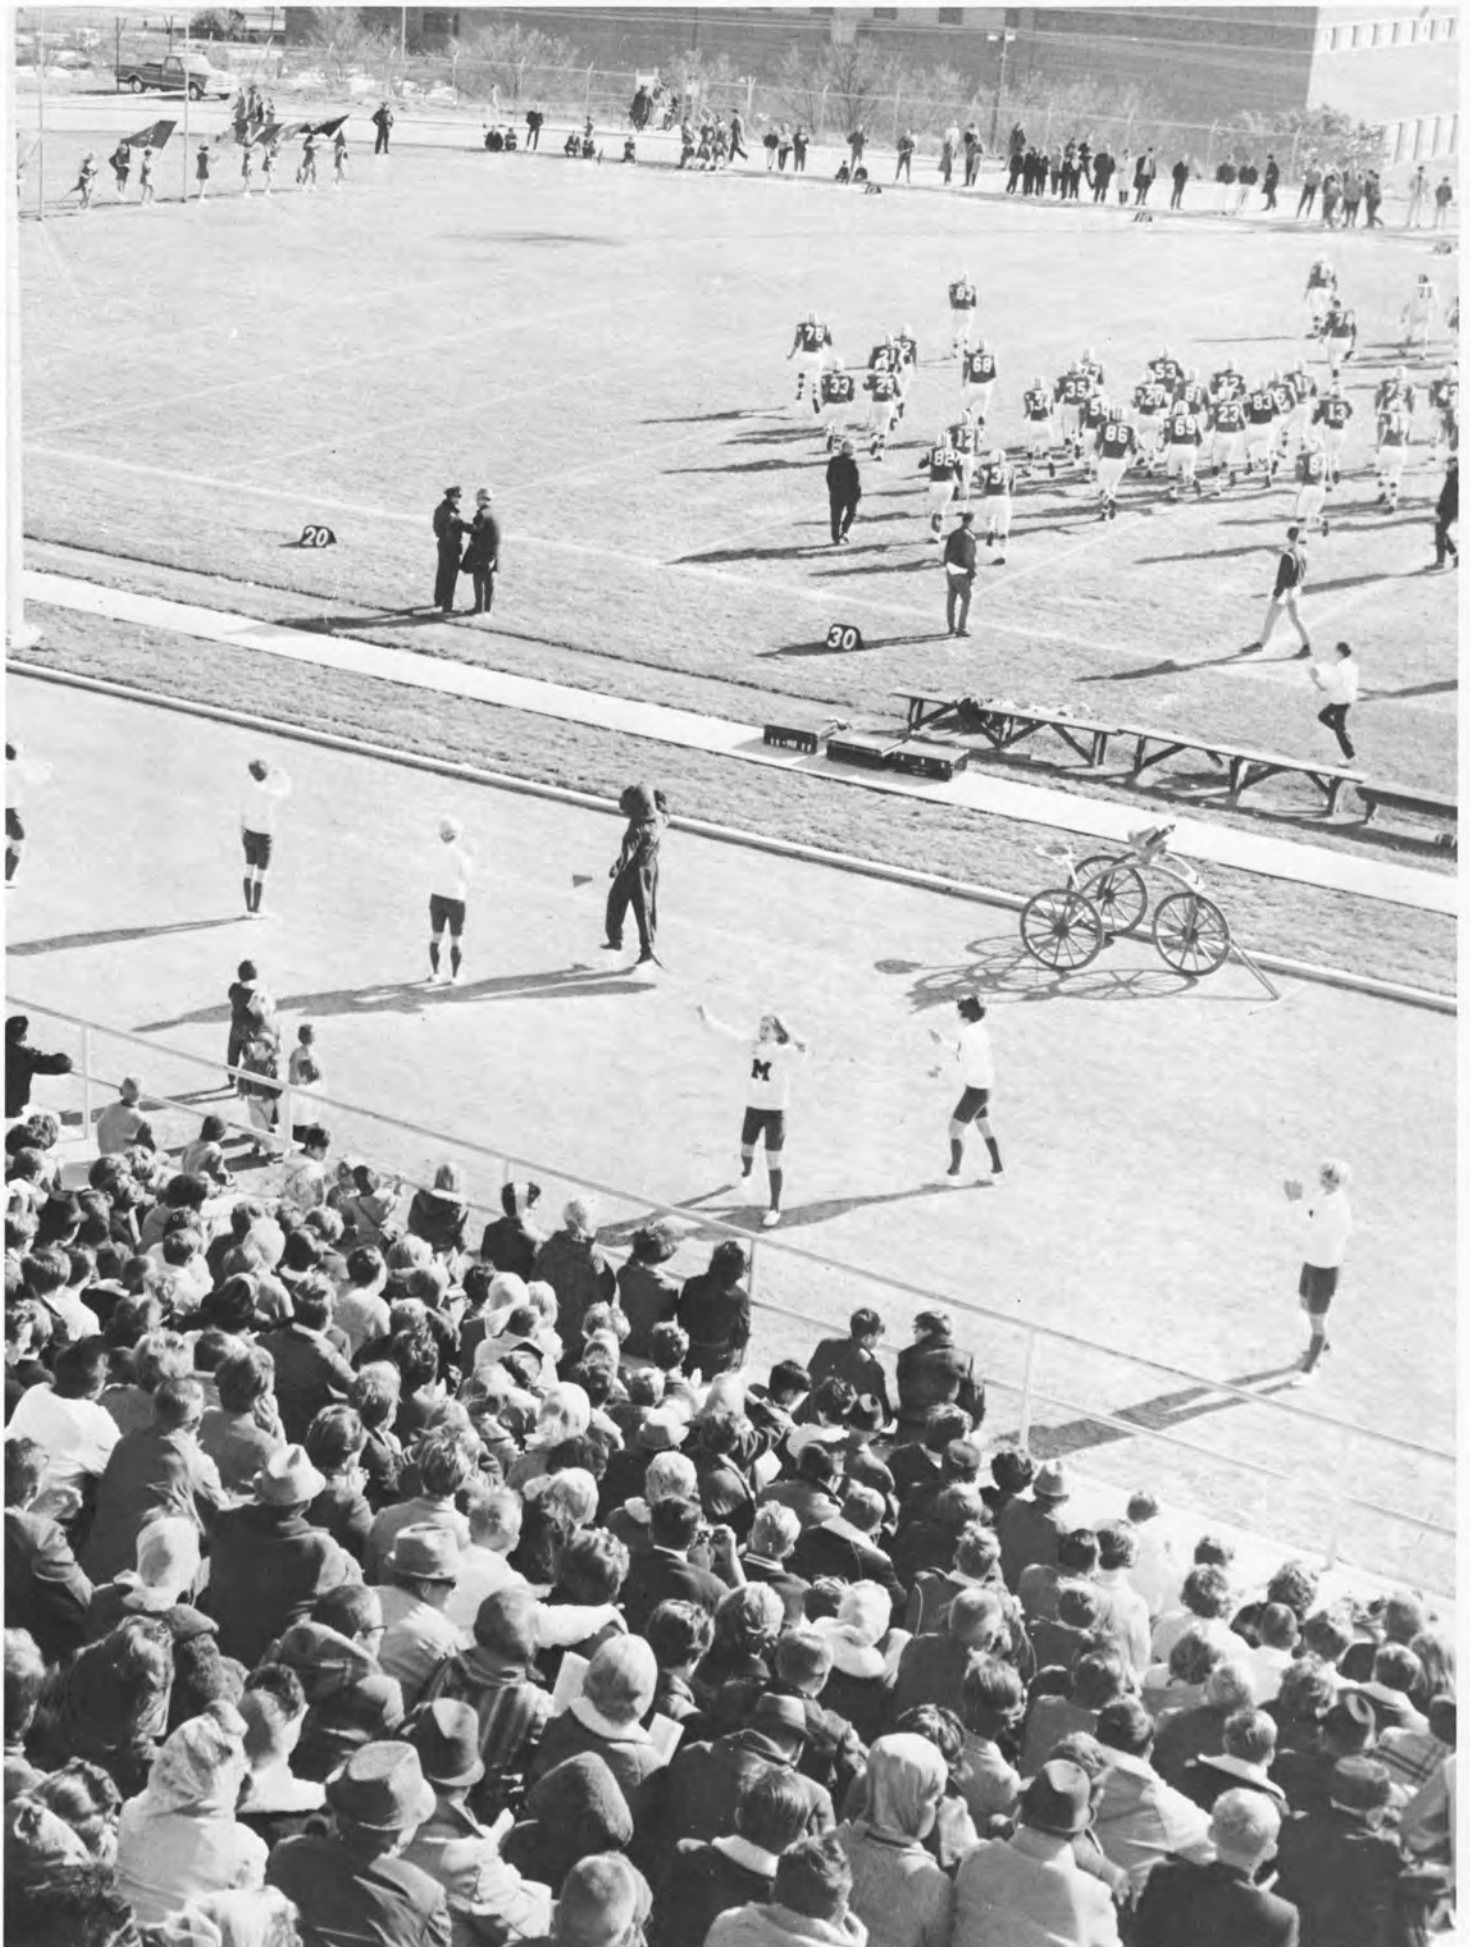

Plays such as this tackle by Ken Reinke were decisive in the Beaver victory over the Valley City Vikings.

Coeds say it with music for Miss Beaver

"My Fair Lady" Nancy Nelson sings "Wouldn't It Be Lovely?"

Linda Strege delighted the audience with a medley from "Mame."

At the December 5 pageant, 1967 Miss Beaver Judy Bradley again presented the piano selection which helped her win the title last year.

Ruby Johnson quietly but effectively charmed the audience throughout the pageant.

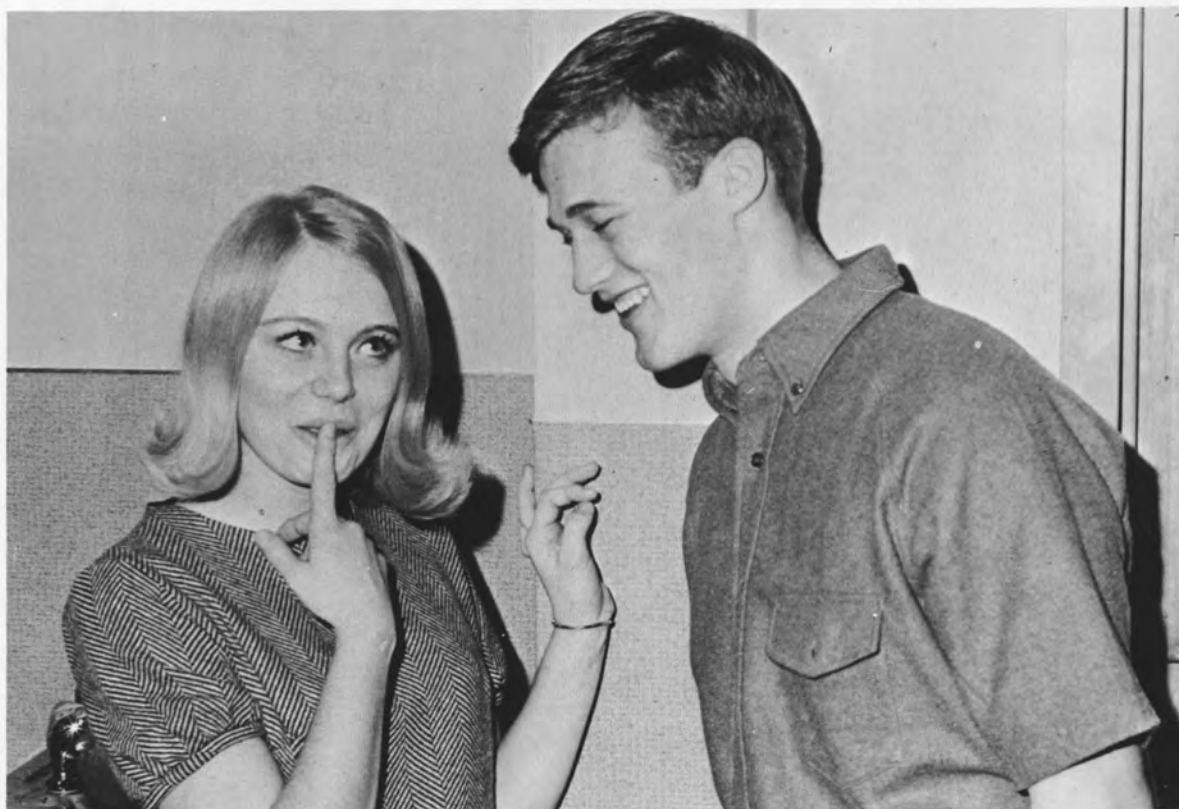

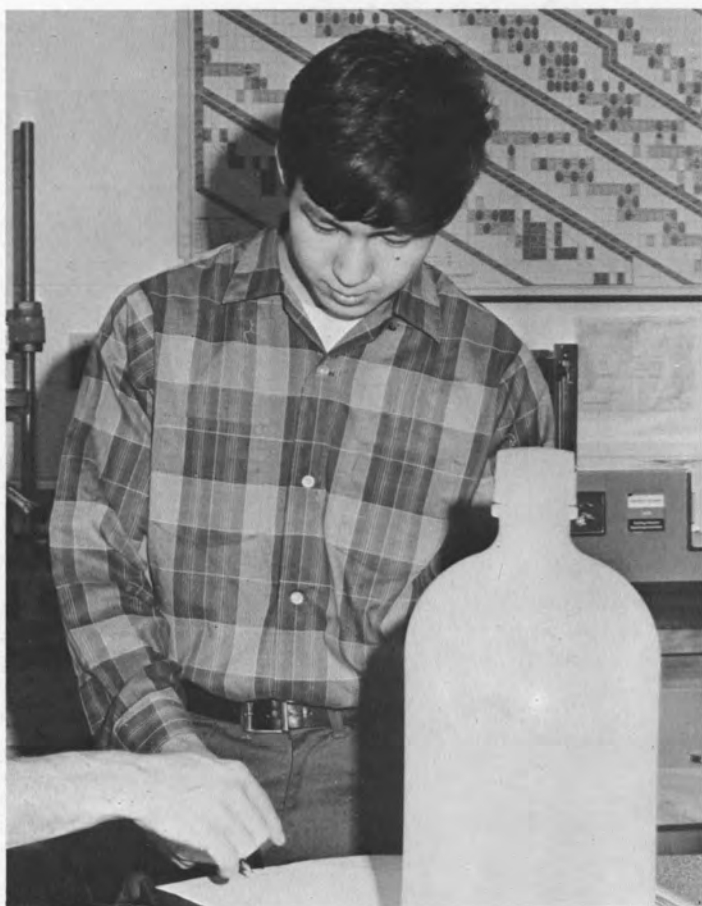

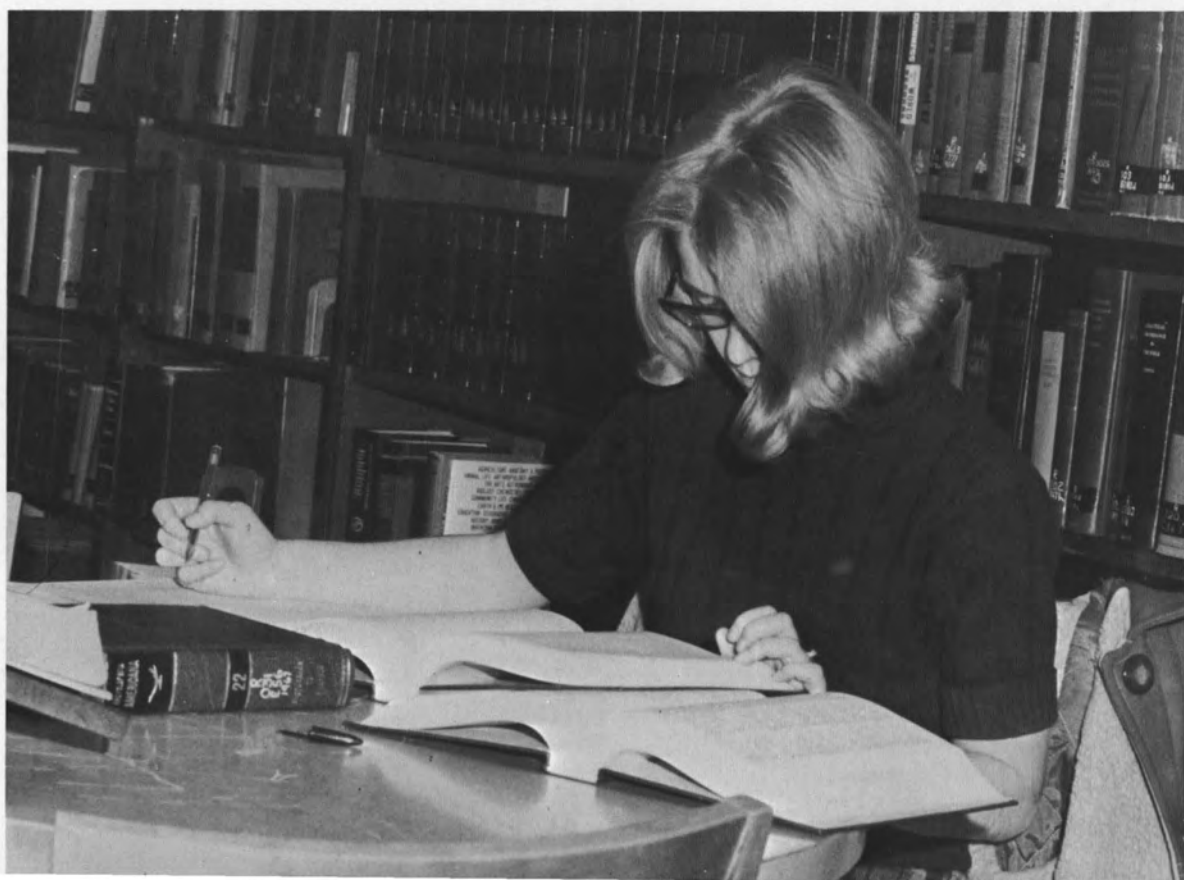

Laurel Kirkeide is convinced that "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun."

Renee Gackle practices her classical ballet and toe jazz.

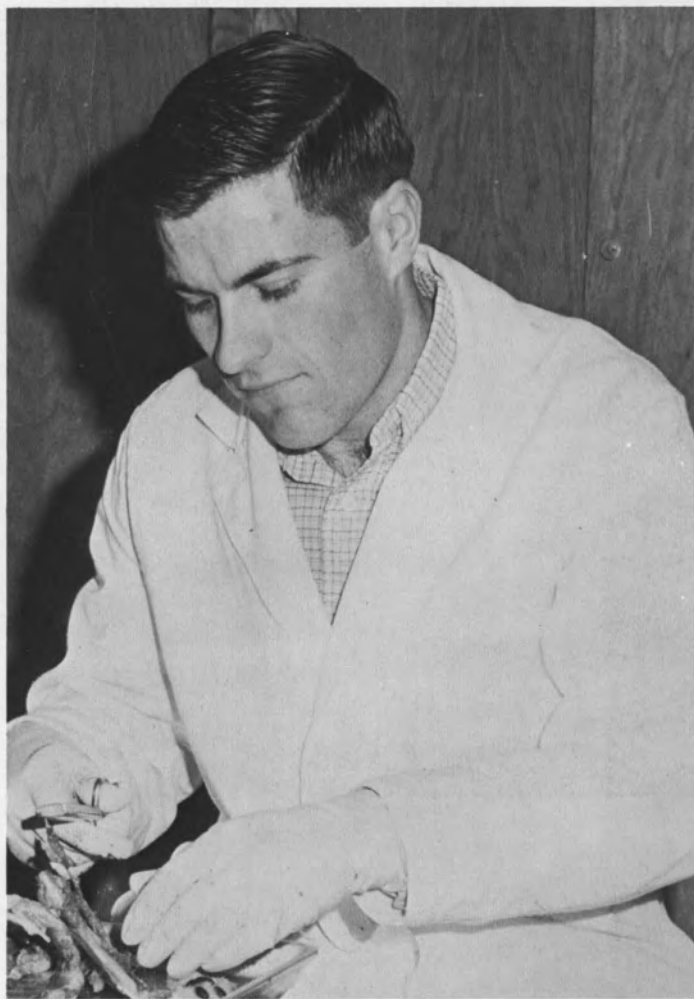

Faces of MSC . . .

with

"Well, somebody has to do the work around here," says Barb Berven.

Peggy Atkinson is caught again at a most popular spot in Dakota.

Although it comes in fourth after gossiping, listening to music and playing cards, some girls do study, as is demonstrated by Gail Larson.

Innovators attract most attention

Lois Sinn pops out of her room to see what all the commotion is about.

In Cook Hall one night several girls awoke to the shrill cry of a baby. Curiosity, consternation, and a rapid investigation disclosed that there was a talented impersonator in their midst, but some of the girls are still wondering.

Being the gregarious creatures that they are, the coeds on the third floor of Cook decided the night before Christmas vacation to give a Christmas concert . . . over the intercom at 2 a.m. Strangely enough their audience was lacking the traditional Christmas cheer.

Over in McCulloch it seems some get their exercise by roller skating at 11:30 p.m. Extremely conducive to physical fitness but not to studying!

Of course life in a girls dorm isn't always this diversified. Sometimes a whole night goes by with nothing but the usual phone calls . . . and calls and calls.

But to the girls of Dakota, McCulloch, and Elsie Cook Halls, this is the greatest life in the world and they wouldn't trade it for anything . . . except a little peace and quiet.

Patty Gefroh can't even have privacy when getting her hair done.

Jim Johnson discovers for himself that the only way to study is lock yourself in your room and make visitors unwelcome.

Eldon Brothen's "guardian angel" probably sees more horseplay than study.

Dorms a contrast in accommodations

Dwelling in its distinction with Old Main as the oldest building on campus, Pioneer Hall somehow made it through another year of cracking plaster, squeaking floors and unworkable room thermostats. But then, no one has ever said that going to college is easy.

Crane Hall, in comparison, offers its residents the luxury wanted by all. The men of both dorms, however, appear to have fared none the worse from their separate and decidedly different environments.

This year Pioneer Hall gained extra room in its basement with the relocation of the college's cafeteria to the Student Union. This "extra" space was remodeled and is now being utilized as additional rooms for the ever increasing enrollment.

The men living in the dorms brought the best they could out of their existence. They won't soon forget the water fights, the late-into-the-night poker games, or the lazy atmosphere of a Saturday morning. They put in all they had and got out of it what they could, and are more than willing to tell about it.

Beavers battle to second place in NDCAC

Minot State College Beavers football team ended its season with an 8-2 record overall and a 5-1 conference record for a second place in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference.

The only conference loss came in the first game against Jamestown when the Jimmies squeaked out a 26-21 victory over the fired up Beaver squad.

The disappointed Beavers traveled to Wahpeton the following weekend and took out their troubles on the Wildcats. Minot State crushed the Cats 61-6 in the most explosive offensive production of the year.

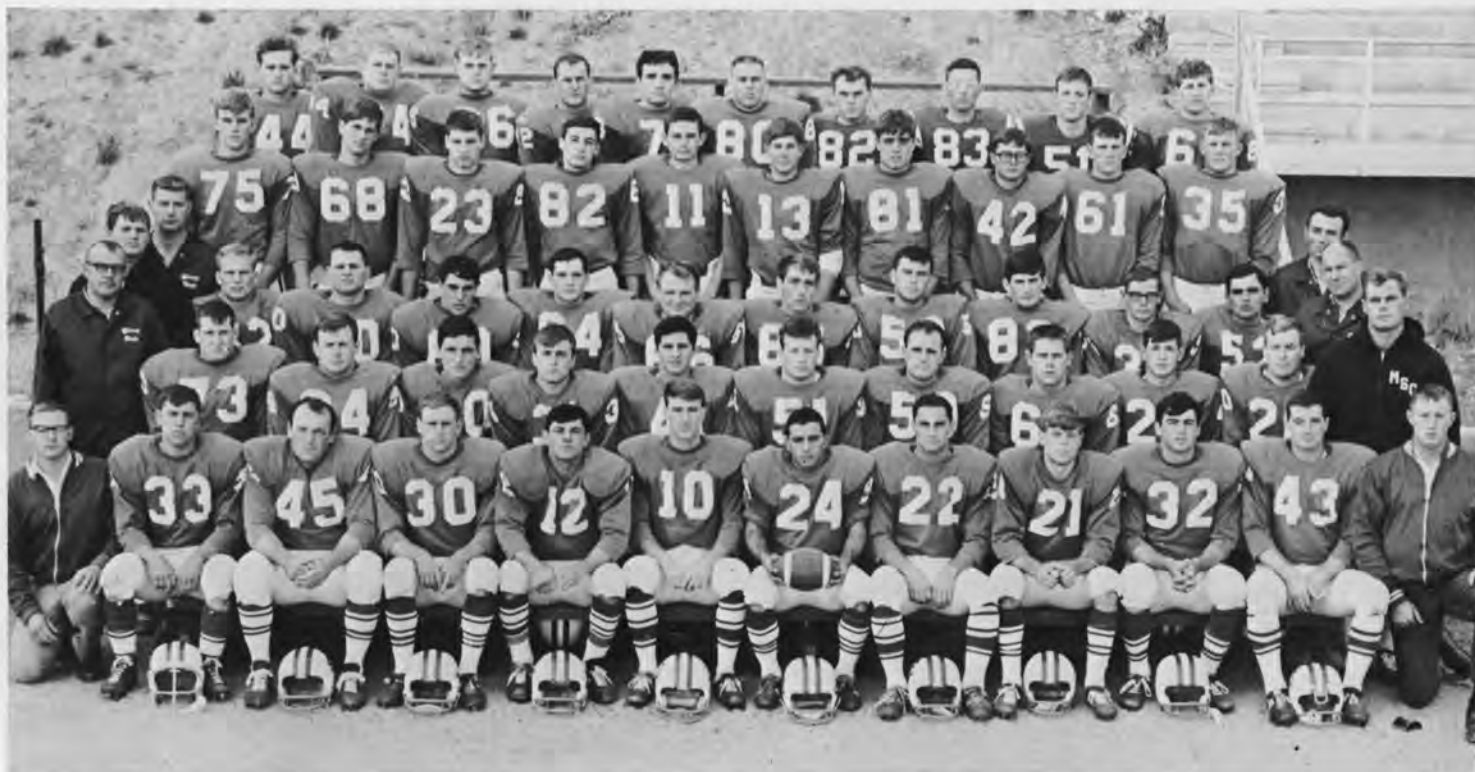

September 30 the Beavers at Minnesota, played Morris, their worst game of the season. Minot dropped the game 15-12 but they did not give up hope for the rest of the season.

The next week the Beavers got back onto the winning table again by defeating Ellendale in a hard fought battle by a score of 19-13 on the Beaver's home field.

The Beavers went to Mayville and defeated the Comets on their Homecoming by a score of 28-3 October 14.

The next week proved very satisfying to Minot State when they defeated Valley City for MSC's Homecoming. The weather was beautiful and the team gave an all out effort to defeat the Vikings 20-14.

To finish conference play, the Beavers traveled to Dickinson on a very stormy day and dealt the Savages a defeat of 19-14 to place second in the NDCAC.

Minot's offense sparked by scatback

Minot State kept the momentum going and in the final game of the season defeated Albert Lea College of Minnesota 20-6.

At the conclusion of the year five Minot State players were elected to the all-conference team and two players were given honorable mention.

Gaining berths to the all-conference team were Alex Griest, Pat McNally, Carmen Lore, John Thompson and Clyde Sissel. Vern Hirschorn and Dwight Farrell were chosen to the honorable mention team.

Thompson and Sissel the backbone of the defensive team, were also chosen to the NAIA All District 12 defensive team. Their tremendous will-power and ability brought the Beavers through many tight situations.

Thompson was also chosen to the NAIA honorable mention All-American team.

The football squad has chosen Jack Nybakken and Clyde Sissel to captain their team next year. Head coach Hank Hettwer and the whole team have great hopes for a top season next fall.

Matmen on top rungs with 15-1 record

The 1967-68 Minot State grappling squad completed another highly successful season by capturing the North Dakota College Athletic Conference title with a total of 99 points. Dickinson State College finished second with 92 points and Valley City State third with 46 points. Championships were taken by Bill McCullum 137 lbs., Charles Schwan 145 lbs., Dwight Farrell 191 lbs., and Randy Ives hwt. Seconds were taken by Tex Burckhard 115 lbs., Tim Walsh 123 lbs., Larry Holwegner 152 lbs., Jim Byron 167 lbs., and Dwight Ormiston 177 lbs. Minot placed all but one wrestler in the meet.

Minot State wrestlers won the Valley State Tournament by placing five champions. They were Al Allstad 130 lbs., Charles Schwan 145 lbs., Jim Byron 167 lbs., Dwight Farrell 191 lbs., and Randy Ives hwt.

The newly appointed wrestling coach, Ken

Wiebolt, and his matmen finished the season with 15 victories and 1 loss. The loss was to Dickinson State College (22-19).

Returning lettermen were Tim Walsh, Al Allstad, Bill McCullum, Charles Schwan, Larry Silver, Jim Byron, Dwight Ormiston, Dwight Farrell, and Steve Taggart.

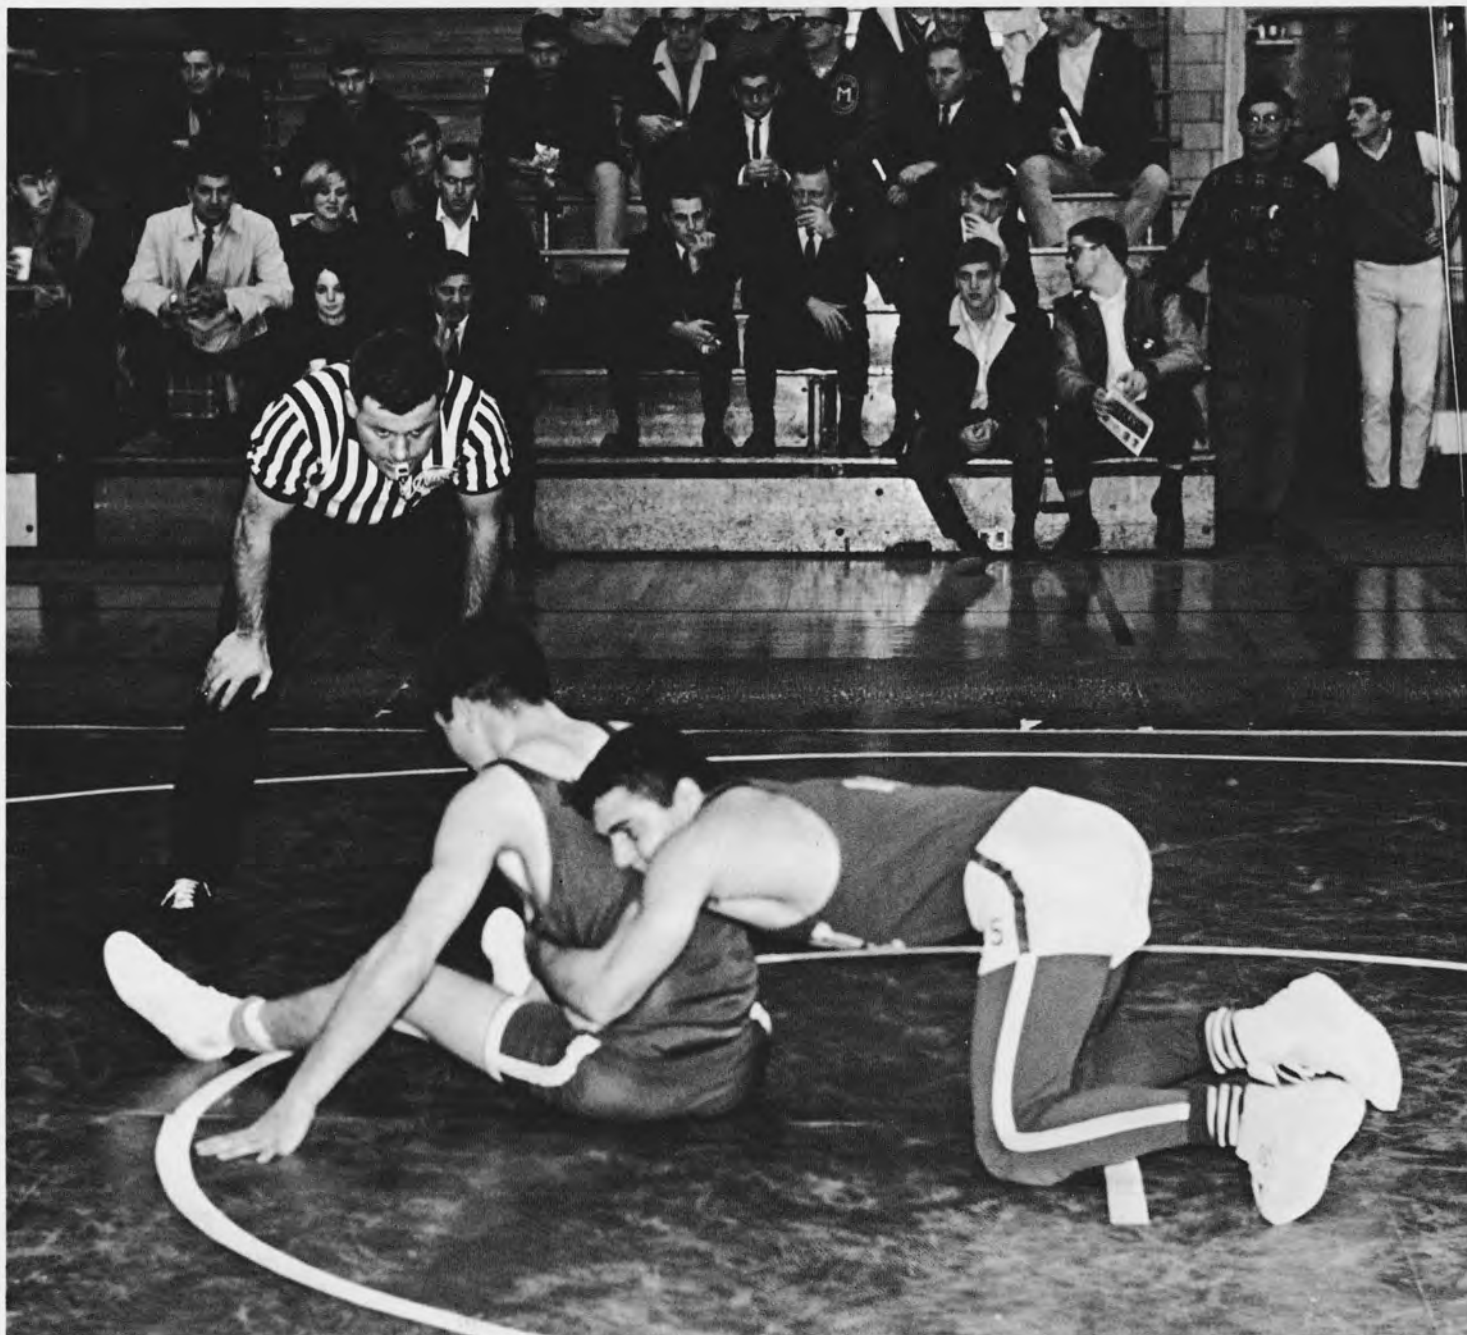

Freshman varsity wrestlers were Tex Burckhard, Larry Holwegner, and a transfer student from Bismarck Junior College, Randy Ives.

The Beavers overcame some of their toughest competition in the history of Minot State wrestling by defeating Bemidji State of Minnesota and Montana State College in a triangular held at Minot.

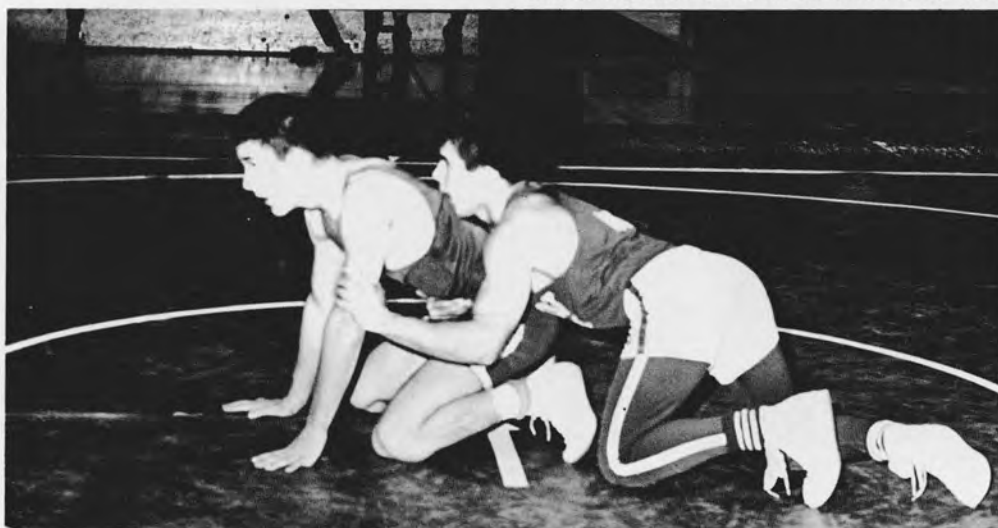

The most tremendous effort of the season was displayed at a quadrangular against Wartburg, Westmar, and Upper Iowa when the Beavers defeated these Iowan teams.

Dynamic duo sparks Beaver team

Coach Rod Caufield and the Beavers missed out on the conference championship but were able to secure a second place standing.

The Beavers were led throughout the season by seniors Ed Baker and John Thompson. This dynamic duo pulled the team through many tough games and kept the team spirit high throughout the season. The team had a large hole in both the offense and defense from the loss of Jim Limke but transfer student Rudy Murieen and last year's players Bob Baker, Jeff Faul, Tom Lium and Dennis Berryman helped even out the team.

The Beavers started the season with four big wins over Carroll College, Northern Montana twice, and Black Hills State, but Chadron State ended the winning streak by defeating the team in two contests. Minot bounced right to the winning table by defeating high ranked Dickinson. The Christmas break proved disastrous to the Beavers for after the rest they dropped five in a row to Bemidji State, Bethel, General Beadle, Northern of South Dakota and Jamestown. Then the Beavers dumped Mayville, Wahpeton, Ellendale, and Valley City. The Mayville Comets and Dickinson Savages proved too much for the Beavers in the second meeting which made the championship look grim for Coach Rod Caufield, but the quintet ended the season with four consecutive wins over Wahpeton, Valley City, Jamestown, and Ellendale to finish the season 14 and 8 overall and a second place in the conference.

The team was led in scoring by Ed Baker with 482 points and John Thompson with 274 points was second.

Ed Baker broke the point record of 36 held by Henry Milkey and Dick Limke twice. Ed scored 42 points in a game against Ellendale to set the first record. This was followed by his new record high of 47 points in a game against Dickinson.

The rebounding honors also went to Baker with Jeff Faul and Dennis Berryman close behind. Baker also led the conference in scoring and was chosen to the NAIA District 12 second squad team, an honor that was well earned by Ed.

John Thompson lets one go for two.

Ed Baker isn't about to give up the ball to anyone.

Young junior varsity looks promising

Cindermen suffer from bad weather

Wes Luther's track team did not fare too well in last year's track events. The competition in the conference proved very tough but Minot State did get three members of the team to place in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference Meet. Pat Scott placed 4th in the long jump, Jerry Sinn placed 4th in the discus, and Bill Goodfellow took 5th in the discus. The Dickinson State College Savages won the meet for their 8th straight year.

All of the track team's dual meets were cancelled due to bad weather. This cut the experience of the team for the tournaments.

Although the track team lost Jerry Sinn and Jerry McCarty through graduation, Coach Luther looks for a better 1968 season.

Beavers nab title with 11-0 record

The Minot State College baseball team ended its regular season with a 23 win and 2 loss record overall and a 11 win and 0 loss conference record which gave them a North Dakota College Athletic Conference championship.

The Beavers defeated Mayville State College in the State playoff and advanced to Billings, Montana, for the regional playoff.

In the first game Ken Becker's Beavers defeated Rocky Mountain State 13-0. The second game was lost to Western Montana 4-3 but Minot came back to defeat Black Hills 11-8. In the final game Western Montana defeated Minot 6-4.

Mike Gessner, Tom Kraft and John Thompson lead the team's batting average with .422, .388 and .384 respectively. Outstanding players and co-captains were Curt Seibel and John Thompson.

Netmen placed 4th in NDCAC tourney

The Beaver's tennis team opened its season against the Dickinson State Savages by tying them 3-3. At the Jamestown Invitational, Hank Hettwer's netmen placed second out of 6 schools. The Beavers finished ahead of all North Dakota College Athletic Conference teams there; only UND beat them.

At a tournament in Minot, the Beavers placed second behind Minot Air Force Base. In the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics District 12 tournament at Jamestown the Beavers placed fourth. Their points were scored by Charles Axness and Lowell Thomas in the doubles event. In the North Dakota College Athletic Conference Tournament at Valley City the Beavers placed fourth.

Members of the tennis team were Charles Axness, Lowell Thomas, David Leverson and John Piotrowski. Charles Axness was the outstanding player of the team. With three juniors and one sophomore, Coach Hettwer is expecting a good season.

Coach Hettwer clarifies some last minute details before the Beavers begin a match.

Charles Axness follows through after a powerful serve.

Lowell Thomas uses a simple forehand to return the ball.

Golf team led by Fundingsland

The Minot State College golf team represented the school very well last year in the various tournaments. Rod Caufield's golfers took third place in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics District 12 tournament at Jamestown. Jerry Fundingsland led the Beavers with a 79.

At the Jamestown relays the Beavers finished fourth behind Northern Aberdeen, the University of North Dakota and Concordia College.

In the North Dakota College Athletics Conference tournament Minot lost a heart-breaker by one stroke. Wahpeton squeaked out the victory which kept Minot from becoming conference champs.

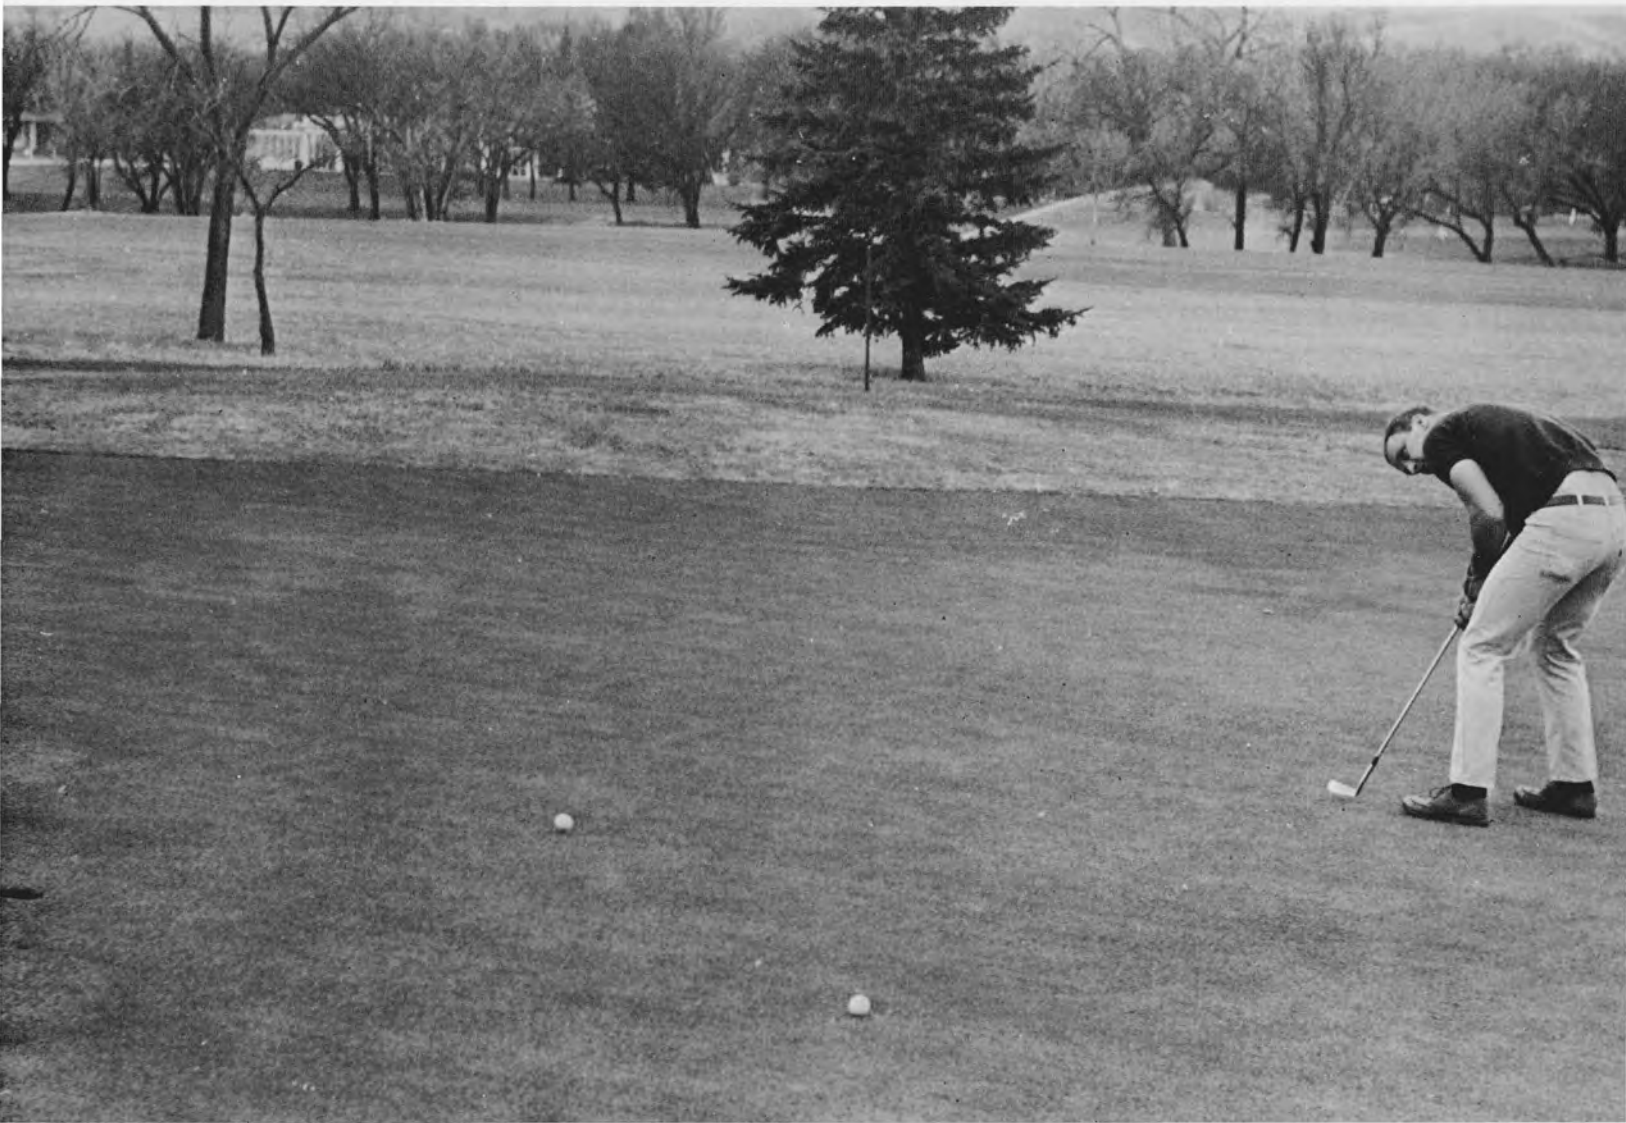

The team consisted of Tom Lium, Jerry Fundingsland, Chuck Gad, Dan Splichal and Tim Kretchmar. Jerry Fundingsland also represented the team at the national tourney.

At least rivalry keeps interest high

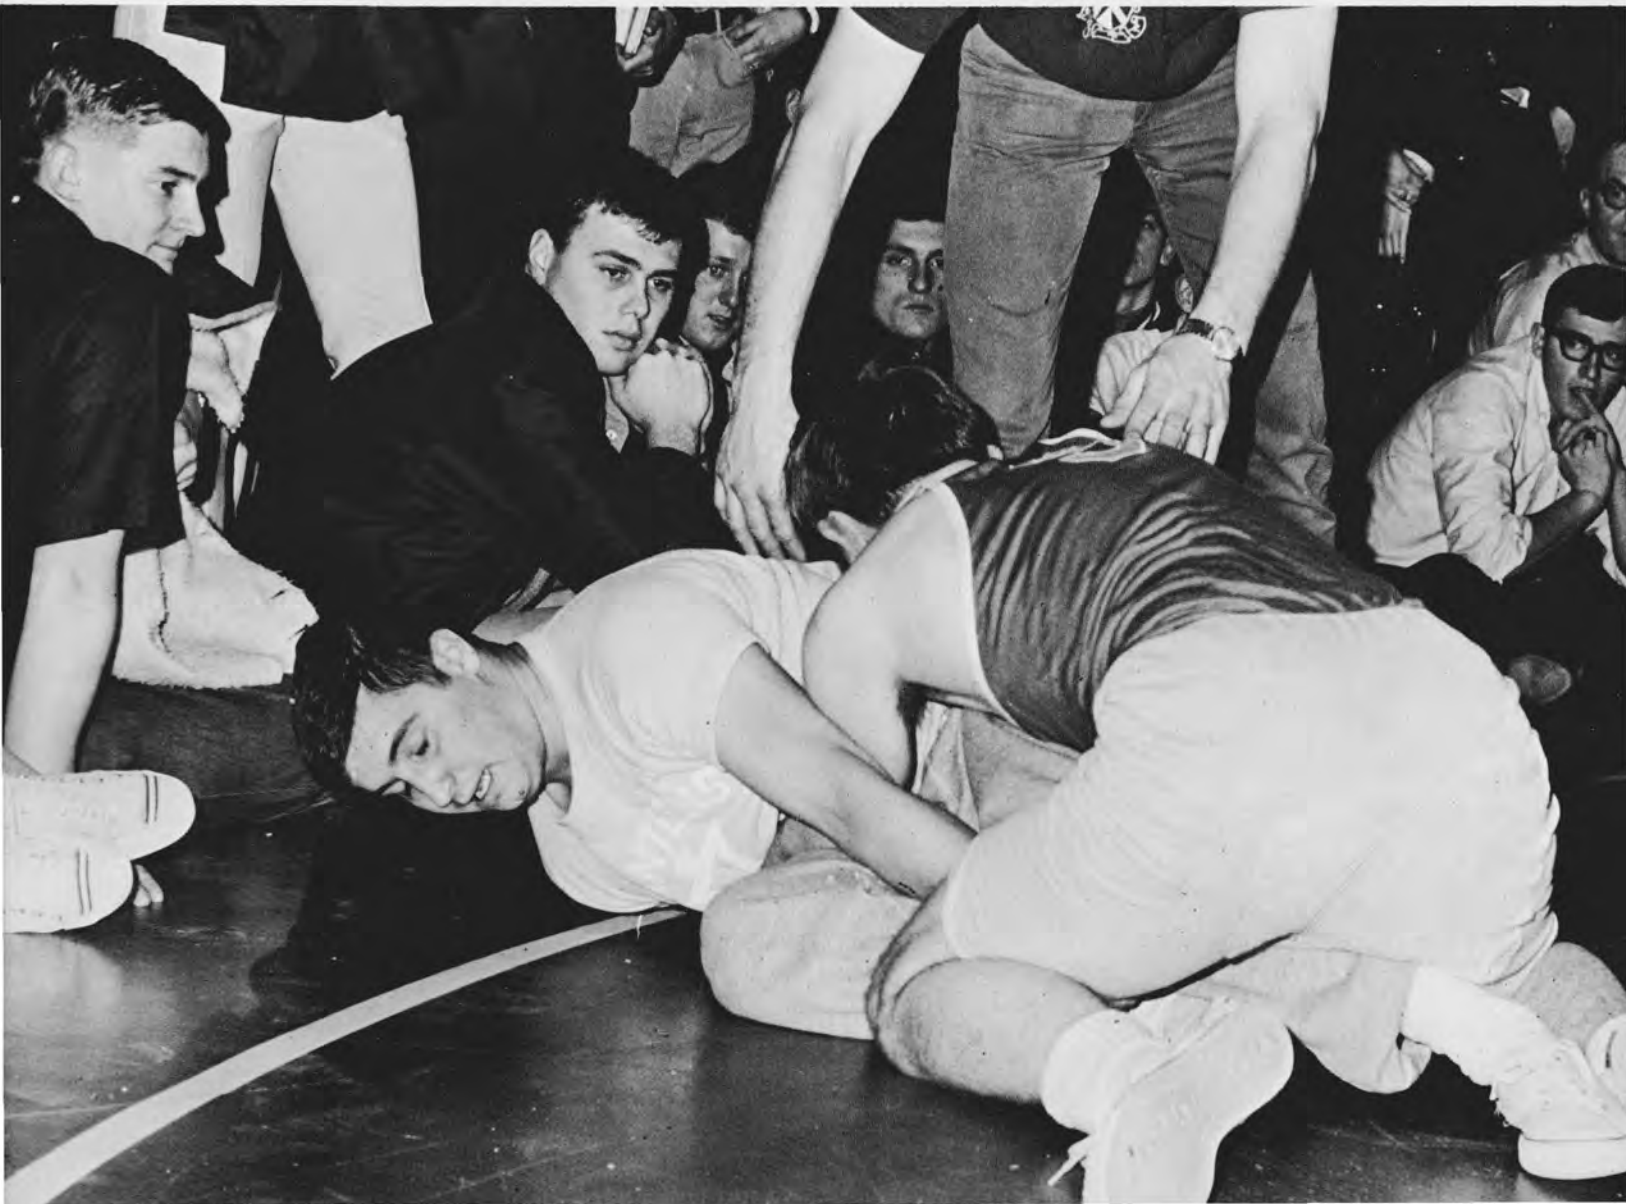

Whoever wasn't there heard about it! It is a well known fact that the fraternities are great rivals in all areas so no one was surprised to hear that one of the I-M football games erupted into a fight. And no one was surprised when the rivalry continued all through the intramural activities.

I-M is a program set up for any student not on the varsity teams, thus giving anyone interested in sports a chance to participate.

Joe Colloca appears to be no more concerned about his predicament than his sympathetic audience.

The match is over and the ref, Larry Silver, signals that Tony Kulig has won over Dave Mommens.

Sheldon Gudmunson kicks off during one of the hotly contested I-M football games.

"Torgy" catches a pass and prepares to gain yardage for the Mu Sigs.

The sports offered are football, basketball, bowling, softball and track. Throughout the year each team keeps careful track of the total point accumulation and in the spring when all sports are completed the team with the most points wins a trophy.

The rivalry, as mentioned before, is kept alive by the active student interest in the I-M games. At just about every football and basketball game there were fans lining the sidelines.

And the fraternities themselves kept on their toes. Last winter the Mu Sigs ordered T-shirts on which was written I-M Champs. At press time the Mu Sigs were leading all teams by only a few points, and the race to the finish promised to be a close one.

Betas celebrate 40th anniversary

Beta Theta Sorority celebrated its 40th year on campus with its Founder's Day banquet January 13, 1968.

Homecoming is a time for seeing old friends and graduated sisters. Beta alumni were welcomed back with an alumni breakfast during Homecoming.

In an effort to promote good relations among all Greek organizations, the Beta sponsored an exchange with the Sig Taus. Games, and lots of food were combined with a skit by the Beta pledges to complete a distinctive evening.

At Thanksgiving, the Betas felt the need to help someone else, and thus delivered food baskets to needy Minot families.

As a last social event of 1967, the Betas staged their annual Christmas formal just before vacation.

The Beta's annual all-school Play Day provided games and fun for the entire student body. The Beta's Snow King, presently Stuart Loken of the Mu Sigma Tau Fraternity, was announced at this party.

The Betas held their term party in April. Following graduation, everyone packed into available cars and headed for Clear Lake for the climactic weekend of the year. This outing was full of memories, laughter, and good times, accented by true feelings of sisterhood.

Last fall, Glenna Hanson represented the Betas as Homecoming Princess. Beta leadership is shown by Carol Johnson as Toestmistress president, Glenna Hanson as SA treasurer, and Kathy Holle as SA senator.

Mu Sigs publish campus calendar

Mu Sigma Tau Fraternity started the year by handling the arrangements for MSC's successful Homecoming. Ron Bertsch and Stu Loken were in charge of all activities and their various committees did the difficult but rewarding job of running the five day event.

For their annual fall project the Mu Sigs compiled and published student directories for everyone on campus. In December they completed another project; this one was the printing and sale of Campus Calendars of Coeds.

Active in social events the Mu Sigs sponsored their sweetheart dance in February, their spring formal, and had a "funeral and resurrection party" for Paddy Murphy. At Christmas time the Mu Sigs sold holiday place mats and napkins for a money raising project.

Amidst house remodeling and the turn over of officers, the Mu Sigs had rather unique rush smokers. It was rumored that a go-go dancer showed up at one of them.

The Mu Sigs had numerous officers and honors outside of their fraternity. Besides heading Homecoming, the year found a Mu Sig, Alan Eidsness, editing the Red and Green and another brother, Stu Loken, holding the position of Beta Snow King. Duane Forde and Gary Aljets were both named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Deltas win scholastic award

This past year has been one of unequaled accomplishment for the Delta Phis. After capturing first place in the sorority division of Kampus Kapers, they went on to claim the scholarship trophy last spring.

At the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance in November, Linda Miller was named Daisy Mae and Dave Thompson Li'l Abner.

In a fervor of school spirit, the Delta Phis sponsored the "spirit jug" at home basketball games. All of the Greeks joined the competition for this "spirit jug" and provided excellent school spirit.

Delta alumni were welcomed back to Homecoming by the alumni breakfast. Homecoming also brought three trophies—for house display, bonfire display, and float.

Feeling the holiday spirit, the Delta Phis had a sorority Christmas dinner party.

St. Patrick's Day brought the Dream Man Dance. Last year's Dream Man was Rick Ryyth of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

A pledge presentation is held every spring with the pledges from all year presented to the school.

Service was important to the Delta Phis as a visit was made to the USO and they sang at the American Nursing Home.

Diane Axelson brought further honor to the sorority by being named to Who's Who.

The Sig Tau's float awed Homecoming parade spectators.

Enthusiasm and 'go' Sig Tau hallmark

As the youngest fraternity on campus, Sigma Tau Gamma has achieved phenomenal success. A beauty pageant for Kampus Kapers brought top honors to the Sig Taus. They captured the scholarship trophy in the spring and were named outstanding frat during Greek Week.

Denise Huddleson, Gamma Delta sweetheart, was named sweetheart of Province 19 and a finalist for National Rose of Sigma Tau.

Money-raising projects included car washes in sub-zero weather, lawn raking expeditions, and selling candy.

The new fraternity house was first occupied during the summer of 1967, and has since become a busy center for all fraternity activities.

The Sig Taus, under the direction of Al Allstadt, built a fantastic float and captured first place fraternity float trophy and the overall float trophy last fall.

The Sig Taus organized a canned food drive among all the Greeks and the Salvation Army received many boxes of food to be distributed during Christmas.

Personal honor went to Daryl Riersgard as Sigma Dream Man, Railton Anderson as Delta Zeta Flame Man, and John Thompson as one of ten students named to Who's Who.

The Sig Taus placed four men on the student senate. Don Johnston served as president of Greek Council and Jon Madsen as secretary of IFC.

Believing that pledge trips strengthen brotherhood and profit the entire chapter, each pledge class takes a trip to nearby chapters, picking up ideas and ways to better Gamma Delta.

Theta Pi installed as chapter of DZ

Amid congratulations from fellow Greeks on campus and from sisters around the country, Theta Pi Colony was installed as a Delta Zeta chapter April 22, 1967, becoming part of the largest national sorority.

The DZs immediately began expanding and improving their sorority. Of course one of their first concerns was building membership so the Delta Zetas worked hard during fall and winter rush to get the girls they wanted and needed for future leadership of their sorority.

In the fall Beattie Baker represented them as a Homecoming princess. Sheryl Bergstrom honored her sorority in December when she was chosen as one of the Miss Beaver semifinalists.

At Christmas time the Delta Zetas sold Christmas candles and this, along with other money raising projects such as bake sales and pop bottle drives, has paid off well for the girls.

The sorority gained a social affiliate, Ann Kirchoff, in the fall. Throughout the busy year Railton Anderson of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity has had the honor of being Delta Zeta Flame Man, and Mrs. Leigh MacIver has been their faculty adviser.

At the present the girls are busily discussing plans for several of them to attend the biannual Delta Zeta National Convention in St. Louis, Missouri, June 16-24, 1968.

Tau Kappa Epsilon has completed another noteworthy year. A Leadership Conference in Minot was attended by TKE representatives from nearby chapters.

The fraternity received a national award for their work with the mentally handicapped children in a project carried out last spring.

In campus leadership, Jim Ballard served as SA president, Rollie Ahmann as SA vice president, and Marlan Wahl is serving the Greek system as Interfraternity Council president.

New additions to the fraternity house include a brick sign with the TKE emblem and a color TV. Another accumulation was the second place trophy for their Homecoming float.

The TKEs again sponsored at their house their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. Names of those who would want to attend this party were secured from county offices. Instead of exchanging gifts among the fraternity, the Tekes bought presents for the children and Santa Claus gave out individual gifts.

An alphabetized alumni-name-address list of all members of Epsilon Omega chapter was compiled last winter and mailed to alumni. This list contained all Tekes since the chapter was installed May 18, 1957.

Working with and advising the fraternity is a board of control whose members are Dale Backen, Orlin Backes, Ken Johnson, Gary Kramlich, Hugh McCutcheon, and L. Donald Thorson, all of Minot. Fraternity advisers are James Froeber, Larry Eide, and Curtis Medalen.

Sigmas claim all 3 sweethearts

In another year of outstanding achievement, the Sigmas put forth their best effort, and received the trophy for top sorority during Greek Week. Sigma's candidates Jerry Helgeson and Denise Huddleson were named Greek God and Goddess.

A hot pink musical theme was carried throughout the Sigma's Homecoming campaign, and tears of joy were shed as Melodee Monicken was crowned queen. They also received the first place sorority float trophy.

At the close of the football season, the Sigmas showed their school spirit by hosting a chicken dinner for the football team.

Service was a keyword as the Sigmas delivered Thanksgiving food baskets, and staged a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Honor came to many Sigmas with Kathy Burns, Denise Huddleson, and Melodee Monicken selected as sweethearts of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Mu Sigma Tau, respectively. Helen Hukkanen served as president of WRA, Tanya Skakoon was named a Miss Beaver finalist, and President Marsha Richard was named to Who's Who.

"Mel-o-dee as Queen—that's what happiness is!"

Sigma's pumpkin coach claimed first place honors.

Setting up the groundwork for other Student Associations to follow was the main goal of the 1967-68 SA at Minot State College. And under the direction of Jim Ballard they did just that. They approached the point where it could be said that they actually represented the student body as its main governing body.

There were some firsts in the SA this year. In the fall they handled freshman orientation completely alone for the first time. And throughout the year they completely cleared all the debts accumulated through other years by past SAs.

The SA is made up of 20 senators—one from each of the 13 divisions and one from each sorority and fraternity—and four elected officers.

The Red and Green provided another year of complete coverage, especially in a division that many times never received due recognition for its accomplishments and projects—science. Among the more notable features on this division was an article on a biological textbook written by Dr. Paul Leiby and Dr. William Dyer.

Feature stories on interesting persons gave the Red and Green a sophisticated tone. One such article was written by Pam Newmark, a graduate school African studies major at UCLA, who visited MSC in October as part of her work for the Peace Corps office. She had spent two years in Tanzania, East Africa, and wrote on her views of emerging African nations.

On the local scene some features included an ecological find of a well-preserved elk antler discovered by Terry Haugen and Jay Shearer; an interview with MSC student Roger Carlson, a folk guitarist who has sung at the "Backdoor" in Greenwich Village.

An open forum column entitled "As I See It" provided an outlet for persons who had "something to say." One of these was by Gary Nesdahl, who attacked the hypocrisy of the American public; another was by R. Craig Goff, who felt that students should have a voice in planning high-level MSC operations.

Teachers also contributed viewpoints on various topics. Judy Winje, communication instructor, said that teachers were just as bored as students, and part of the solution was to try and discover why a course is important and then actively study it. Carl Kalvelage, political science instructor, stated that he doubted the validity of North Dakota Congressmen's voting records.

Fall trip sets pace for year

Minot State's Concert Band received an invitation to perform during halftime of the Minnesota Vikings-Baltimore Colts football game in Minneapolis October 22. What did this mean to band members? It was the same weekend as Minot State's Homecoming so immediately after playing for MSC's halftime members had to board the train for the Minneapolis game the next day. But the reception awarded the band from the large crowd in attendance in Minneapolis left an impression on the students that will be hard to forget.

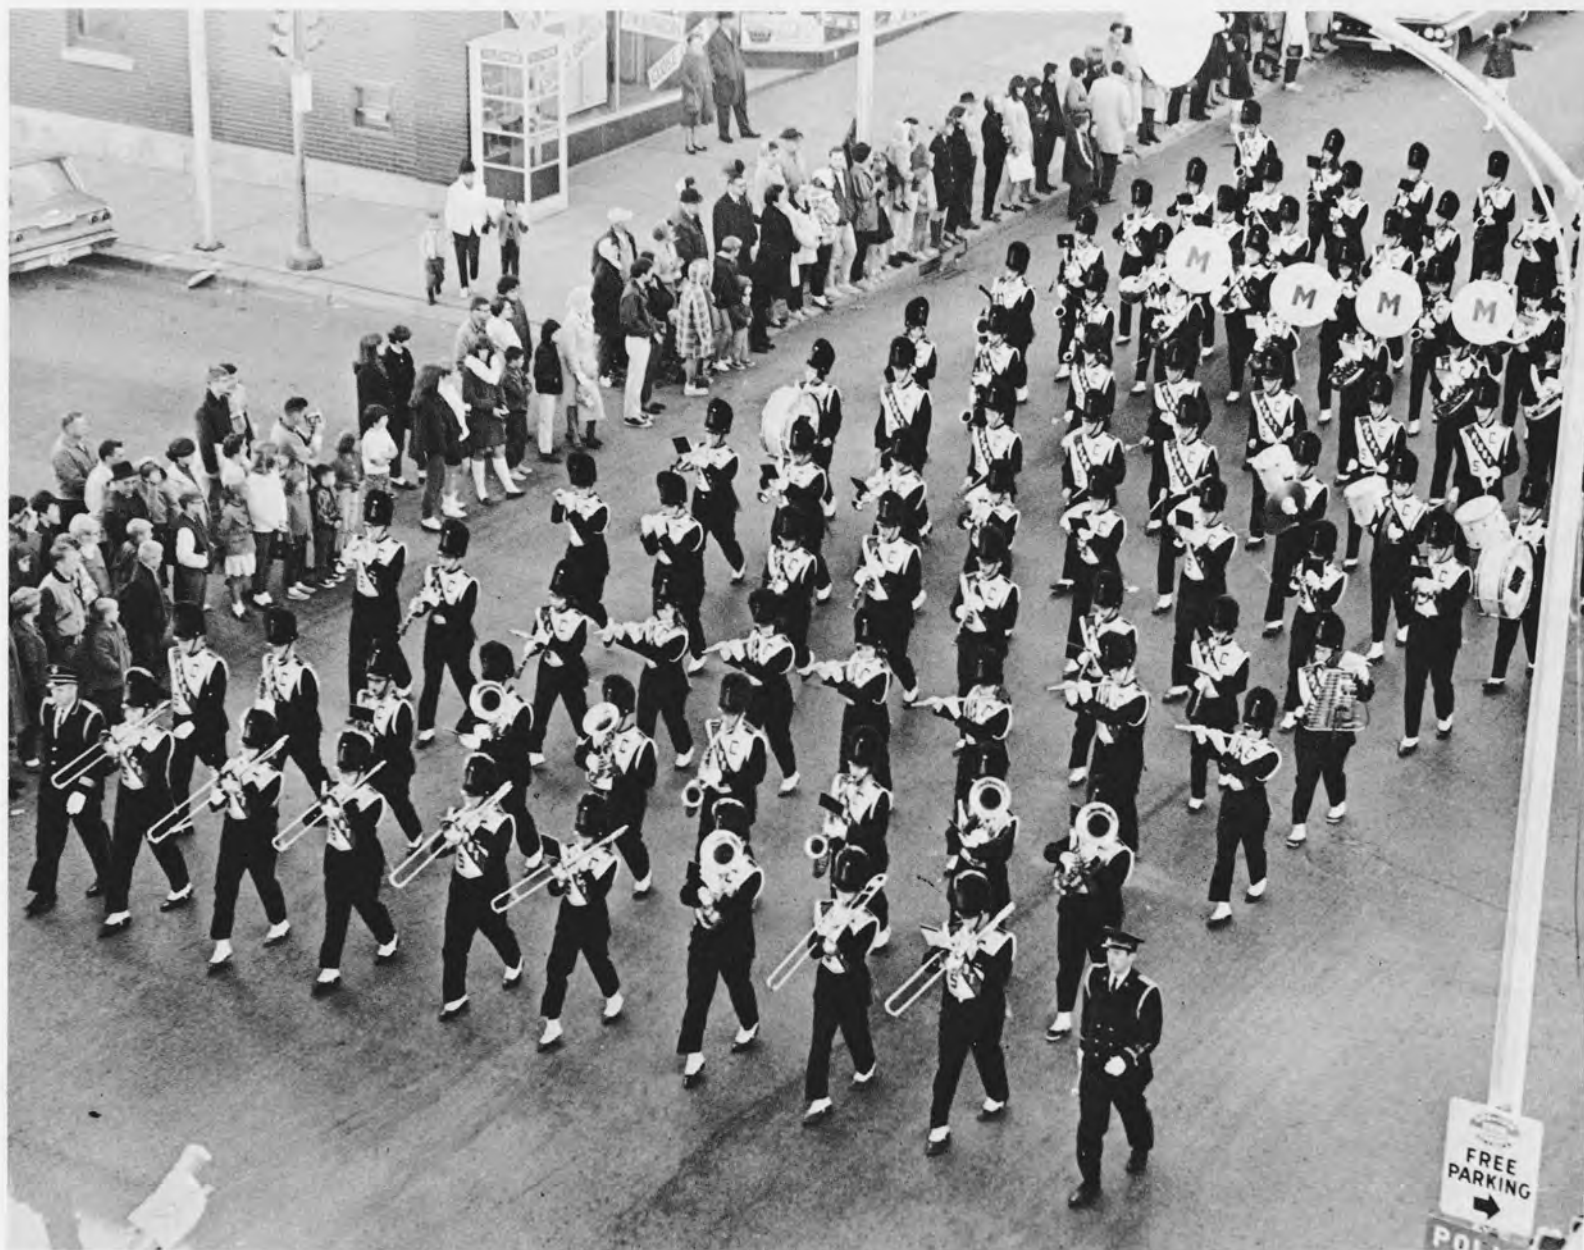

The three main activities of Concert Band divided evenly into the three quarters. In the fall the band sponsored the All-State Band Concert with high school bands from the entire state having been invited to attend. During winter quarter the band presented modern and jazz renditions of many of the popular Christmas songs at the pop Christmas concert. In the spring it participated in the Minot Band Day Parade in May. This marked the last official appearance of the band for the year. Plans for the future include another trip to Minneapolis and one to Winnipeg, Manitoba, to perform during a Blue Bomber's football game.

This year the band made a tour of western North Dakota and eastern Montana. The purpose of this tour, other than the enjoyment shared by band members, is to "advertise" Minot State College and the music department. Many high school seniors who have seen the band in their hometown and who eventually have come to Minot State to major in music recall with enthusiasm when they first heard the band of which they are now a part.

Chorus sees music in many facets

At MSC any woman who enjoys singing, whether or not she is a music major or minor, can join Women's Chorus. She has the advantage of singing with others who want to appreciate music more fully by sharing it with a group. The selection of various types of vocal music gives each member her favorite mode of expressing herself and gives all the members the chance to become familiar with many kinds of music.

Each year the Women's Chorus keeps busy performing for the annual Christmas Convocation, for the All-State Band and Chorus, and for the various music festivals at Minot State College.

Each spring, culminating a year of practice, they give their spring concert and then leave on tour. This year the chorus had their home concert in McFarland Auditorium April 7, then left to travel through northwestern North Dakota on April 8 and 9.

Attire matches singing demeanor

The newly named men's chorus, known as the "Vagabonds," is notable for their distinctive costumes as well as their singing ability. Named after the traveling minstrels of old days this group wears tuxedos and bright red turtle-neck sweaters to create a visual impression which matches their audial impression.

This 30 voice chorus is open to all interested male college students. Within the group are various ensembles and soloists. The soloists are Bradley Botz, Charles McCauley, Tim Matthews, Charles Notbohm, Bernie Fiedler, John Frankhauser and Richard Hahn. There is also a quartet consisting of Donald Hoffart, Ron Swart, Bradley Botz and Duane Bakken.

Some of the Vagabond's appearances this year were at the fall Music Clinic at MSC, a Christmas program, and a tour throughout southeastern North Dakota.

Front row: Roger Olson, Marilyn Ulrich, Robert Pfau, Karen Christianson, Charlie Axness, Mary Solomonson, Ray Dockter, Sandy Halvorson, Rachel Lorentzen, Carol Hjelmstad, Gwen Lawlar, Reed Malm, Lana Maxfield, Joe Alme. Association endeavors to match grant

The very name, Minot Symphony Orchestra, implies that it is not strictly a college organization but a college-community cooperation to bring the "beaux-arts" of music to Minot. At its four regularly scheduled concerts it provided the finest in symphonic literature, both for its members to perform and its audience to enjoy, as well as to enhance the interest and training of young musicians throughout the northwest.

Minot Symphony Orchestra is one of only three orchestras in the state—and the beneficiary, through the symphony association, of the largest ($5,000) single federal grant in North Dakota, as approved by the National Endowment for the Arts for the North Dakota Council of Arts and Humanities. This grant must be matched by locally raised funds for membership in the symphony association. Care to Join? They're available, starting at $2.50.

Popajons push cause of popular music

Under the direction of John Strohm the 58-voice Concert Choir has completed another year of hard work and superb performances in and around the Minot area. Some of their performances were for the Music Clinic at Minot State College last fall, in The Messiah at Christmas-time, on a tour of north central North Dakota and numerous other appearances during the spring.

Within the group this year there was a 25-voice chorus known as the "Popajons." Accompanied by percussion, base violin and piano they sang popular music for the sole purpose of entertainment.

During the second week in May most of the Concert Choir members performed in the production of "Brigadoon," a collaboration of the drama and music departments.

For SAI it's the beauty of music

Karen Christianson,
president

The purpose of Sigma Alpha Iota is to be professional, not only in name but in behavior, in thinking, and most of all in music so they can, as women of music, express and share with others the beauty that music has to offer.

They meet monthly to discuss money raising projects such as bake sales, sandwich sales, and their annual bourbon ball sale on Valentine's Day. This money is then used to rehabilitate music both here and abroad, such as helping foreign groups purchase music or phonographs. Part of this money also is given to music therapy.

Sinfonia advances music as profession

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia music fraternity for men is a group of professional nature. It advances the cause of music in America as well as promoting music on an international level. Loyalty to the Alma Mater is also highly stressed among members.

Phi Mus printed a newsletter tri-annually. Dinner meetings were monthly and the year was ended with a spring formal. Three recitals were presented during the year, one was jointly with Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority.

Members ushered at various recitals and concerts throughout the year. At Christmas, programs were presented at the hospitals and local homes for the aged. They also participated in the annual music clinic.

Initiation into Phi Mu Alpha means that pledges wear a little sign with the Phi Mu crest on it and obtain the signatures of the active members. There are over 250 active chapters of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia in the United States. That means a lot of signs.

Arnola Lohse and Santa share a bit of Christmas cheer.

Santa warns Vern Notbohm that he must be a good boy and not cry.

MENC explores field of music in depth

Music Educators National Conference is an organization established with a three-fold purpose. First of all it shows to its members the basic truths and principles which underlie the role of music in human life. It also develops in the student a practical concept as to the function of the music education profession.

And finally it extends the professional interests of members in areas beyond the limits of the curriculum requirements of the sponsoring institution. MENC is open to all students who are majoring in music but is directed mainly to those who will be future music teachers.

This year MENC had a full schedule of events. In September they had a "get acquainted" party, in December a Christmas party, and in the spring their annual picnic. At each meeting they had a speaker as part of the program. Some of the topics and speakers were Dr. James Jurens on the Concert Band, Dr. Paul Swanson on vocal music, Leon Bradley on jazz, and Hardy Lieberg on staging choirs. Because MENC met only once a month each of these speakers presented something "musically" different each month.

Robert Pfau waits for his turn to receive the orange from Corrine Brown.

Alpha Psi Omega develops drama library

To delve into advanced theater study is the main objective of Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary fraternity for experienced persons in dramatics. A student who has earned 80 points by taking part in all aspects of numerous plays is eligible to join this group.

Alpha Psi Omega's president Linda Spain transferred this year so not until spring quarter when Roger Kalinowski took over did the group undertake any projects. One of their specific plans was to develop a drama library in the Campus Player's room.

As in other years they promoted dramatic activities on campus, supported plays with publicity, encouraged work in avant-garde theater, and specifically this year, they stepped up production of children's plays.

In this scene from The Visit Tim Davis, as the pastor, questions the actions taken by Phil Therou, the burgomaster.

The Imaginary Invalid was a play spoofing the intentions of doctors when treating a hypochondriac. Here Roger Kalinowski in the lead character receives an "examination" from "Doctor" Lynn Clayson.

Neil Johnson and Marilyn Haas played the lead roles in Oklahoma, presented by the summer Tent Theater.

CP does 2 plays for children

The Campus Players, organized to support and assist in all phases of play production, handle costuming, lighting, publicity and make up. They also help design the sets for each play which they present at Minot State College.

The Imaginary Invalid by Moliere, The Visit by Duerrenmatt, and Brigadoon, a musical done by the drama department in collaboration with the music division, were presented this season. Besides their regular productions, CP also sponsored two children's plays, Jack and the Beanstalk and The Snow Queen.

The officers of the Campus Players this year were Jim Fisher, president; Tim Davis, vice president; Margo Ode, secretary-treasurer.

Last summer a wind storm blew down the tent used for the Tent Theater and forced the productions to move into McFarland Auditorium.

The Visit, presented in February, was exceptionally well received by the college and community.

Koeneke encourages interest in forensics.

Donald Koeneke, the new debate and forensics coach, has completed a year in which he emphasized participation by any student who was interested in any area of public speaking.

Through this policy he was not concerned with having a so-called "team" that would travel consistently, at least for his first year, because he wished to impress on interested persons that they needed not have been a speech and drama major but could have come from any division. This training period gave many students a chance to go on trips and at least gave them a taste of forensics.

Gary Nesdahl and Orville Schultz take time off from their debate preparations to brush up on their chess.

Members of 1967-1968 forensics were Michael Mosier, Debra Downs, Orville Schultz, Gary Nesdahl, Corine Hansen, Melodee Monicken, Bruce Carlson.

Among the members and guests at the Christmas banquet were Mrs. Linda Gresham, Pat Kimmes, Linda Fuller, Charles Fuller, Dale Chilson, Dan Garland, Jerry Lee, Dr. John D. Scheffer, Miss Helen Hoar.

Faculty members include Dr. John D. Scheffer, Miss Helen Hoar, Miss Margaret Dixon and Mr. David Gresham.

Literary range depicts interest of group

Why did Meursaults shoot the Arab in Albert Camus' The Stranger? Was it frustration or was there a higher motive?

Members of Sigma Tau Delta discussed what they felt was Camus' inner meaning to this work. It was one of the larger meetings of the year because prospective members were invited. Nearly everyone had something to contribute and all contributions were related by each member to what he felt about Meursaults.

During the course of the year Sigma Tau Delta members attempt to read several different works of varying literary form and style ranging from poetry to novels and from symbolism to realism. Some of the other works that have been discussed this year include the poetry of Evtushenko, The Legend of the Wandering Jew by Joseph Gaer, John Updike's The Centaur and Far From The Madding Crowd by Thomas Hardy.

Membership to Sigma Tau Delta primarily relies on an English major and an overall average of 2.75. Each new member must also contribute an original work to the club.

Effective public speaking their goal

One usually thinks that whenever several girls get together an unannounced and unscheduled "ladies aid" is taking place. Whereas this may be true much of the time the distinction loses all meaning when the Minot State Toastmistresses gather for one of their four meetings per quarter. These dinner meetings feature main speakers, etiquette and parliamentary lectures, impromptu speaking, round table discussions and criticisms and evaluations, hardly the type of things one would find at a gathering of the "girls."

MSC Toastmistresses was founded with the purpose of fostering effective public speaking to enable its members to speak professionally before the public when the need arises. Attainment of this goal is only achieved through sincere constructive criticism by participating members, who, incidentally, must retain an overall scholastic average of 2.50.

Gavel Club designed for mature mind

"Would you give us your definition of love?" "How can we as Americans help support the war in Vietnam?" "Do you think Minot State College is falling behind the times?" These, and many other questions, become the subjects of impromptu speeches when the Minot State Gavel Club meets twice a month.

Primarily designed for the mature mind, the objective of Gavel Club is the increased self-confidence through improvement of speaking abilities, which is brought about by subjection to several areas of vocal communication. In addition to impromptus these include prepared speeches, constructive criticism and experience in parliamentary procedure. Gavel Club also helps its members make a poised, self-assured appearance before any audience and increases qualifications for business and civic recognition.

Off campus members complement club

German Club is a unique organization in that its membership is open to people who are not students or faculty members. The off campus members receive all of the benefits offered by the organization with the exception of voting privileges.

As the name implies German Club members are concerned primarily with the language, customs, and landscape of Germany. The means of acquiring this information is through speakers who have visited the country or people who had lived there.

John Curtis presented an enlightening talk accompanied by slides taken during his recent visit to Germany at one meeting. Miss Joyce Zimmerman, the new German instructor at MSC, was also instrumental in German Club's success this year.

Standing: Arvy Gilbertson, Kathy Moe, Carol Hjelmstad, Miss Margaret Dixon. Seated: Miss Helen Hoar, adviser; Lucretia Foss, Georgia Janavara, Peg Schwandt.

Language cuts barrier; enhances culture

The country of Chad in Africa is a little known one to many Americans, especially in this region of the country. But last December, French Club members went on their own personal tour of Chad through the medium of slides. Kathy Moe, a native Minotor and a French major in an eastern college, went to Chad last summer on the "Crossroads Africa" Program. Chad is a French speaking area of Africa. French Club members became acquainted briefly with its customs through Miss Moe's talk.

Another interesting meeting was the French Club Dinner in March. It was at the home of Mrs. Sharon Johnson, a French minor, and the members prepared their own French dinner a la France. One French club member, Mrs. Margaret Favier, has lived in Paris and she was always more than willing to tell about the "city of lights."

French Club was organized to promote more interest in French and in French people. Meetings were monthly throughout the year and, for the May meeting, the annual Fete Finale was again attended by high school and college French students from the Minot area. C'est la vie!

Officers of French club are Georgia Janavara, vice president; Lucretia Foss, president; Peg Schwandt, secretary.

Personal, group goals important

Named after the Greek goddess of heart and home, Hestia Home Economics Club furthers the art of home economics at MSC and provides social activities for its members. Membership is open to anyone interested, not just home ec majors and minors.

Monthly meetings this year were planned around the theme of personal improvement and enjoyment. The activities and speakers included a Newberry's representative demonstrating and applying cosmetics, Ann from Ann's Fashions showing a new wardrobe, a Christmas Tupperware party to get more Tupperware for the department, a talk on hair care by Mr. George Malaktaris from Gilmore's House of Beauty, and a cake decorating demonstration.

Each spring Hestia closes the year with a style show open to all majors and minors in home ec. This year the fashion show was held in May and climaxed a well-filled year.

Hestia is affiliated with the North Dakota Home Economics Association which consists of clubs at the University of North Dakota and North Dakota State University.

Hestia officers are Elaine Larson, president; Connie Hagen, treasurer; Myrna Seibel, publicity chairman, and Freda Franson, vice president.

Sociology Club officers are Gracia Schall, secretary-treasurer; Charles Cunningham, president; Sidney Bingaman, typist, and Charles Fuller, vice president.

Club tackles rather weighty projects

One of the most concerned supporters of the Minot Senior Citizen's League would have to be the MSC Sociology Club. Its members are provided opportunities to participate in such community affairs through the area Social Service Center and urban renewal projects. This spring quarter the club participated in the Senior Citizen's League survey for urban renewal. Survey and interview techniques will be taught to the survey workers with the results being used to explain the need for aid for the city as well as provide information about the renewal project.

The main objective of the club is to provide students interested in the field of sociology with additional opportunities to gain knowledge and understanding in sociology and to put this knowledge to a functional use. The club provides students planning on careers in social work valuable experience which cannot be obtained in the classroom.

Members of Beta Gamma Phi examine a cat which they have dissected.

Insect world follows complicated 'plan'

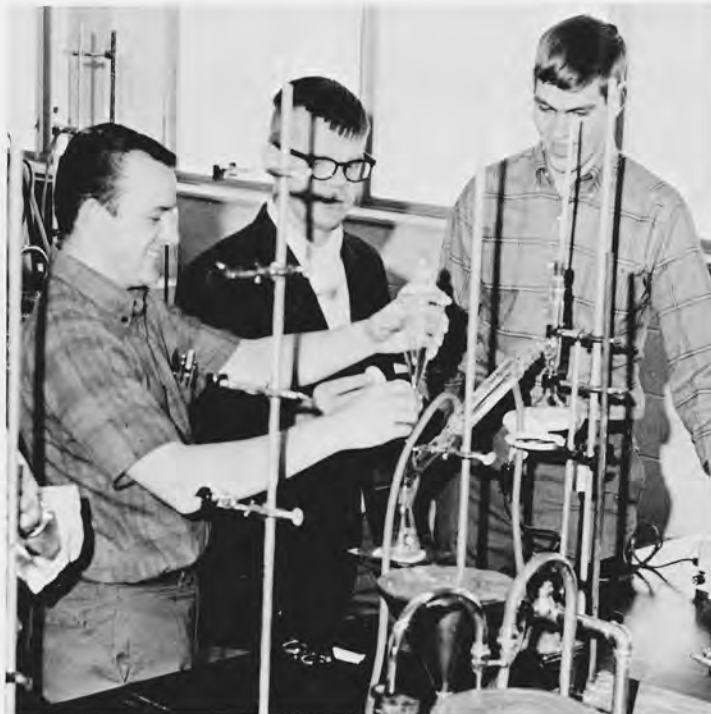

Dr. Paul B. Kannowski, associate professor and chairman of the Department of Biology at the University of North Dakota, was a guest speaker at a December meeting of Beta Gamma Phi, MSC's science club. He spoke on "Pheromones and the Nuptial Flights of Ants," in which he told of the interrelationships of ants and aphids and the distribution and abundance of prairie insects. He also spoke on the behavior and ecology of social insects, especially the ants, the influence of microclimate on insects, and insect sex attractants. He illustrated his talk with a 15 minute colored film.

This spring, during quarter break, Beta Gamma Phi members, in conjunction with Med Tech members, took a trip to Minneapolis. Included on their itinerary was a tour of Honeywell, Inc. and the Mayo Clinic. Plans for the future comprise several trips to the Minot Air Force Base to view command installations for missile silos as well as to observe flight lines and computers.

Speaker foresees big med tech future

Dr. Michael M. Stump, a pathologist from Trinity Hospital in Minot, spoke at a special program of the Med Tech Club on the future of medical technology. He stated that even though medical technology has developed greatly in recent years its future holds innumerable and unexplored developments which will constantly be applied at hospitals and laboratories as aids to both specialists and general practitioners. He supplemented his talk with an interesting movie on the same topic.

The purposes of Med Tech Club are three-fold: to acquaint students with the opportunities in the field of medical technology; to educate students by supplementing their college courses with interesting topics through movies, tours, speakers, and trips; and to unite students who have common interests in medicine for the future. This year money making activities included selling candy and holding bake sales, and money spending activities included a spring break trip to Minneapolis.

The chemistry laboratory is a familiar place to the science club members.

SNEA explores future in dynamic manner

In order to bring the realities of actual classroom situations to the members of Student National Education Association, one and two year teachers who had received their degrees from Minot State College told in a panel discussion at a SNEA meeting of the problems they encountered during their first days of teaching. The undergraduate students being trained at Minot State for their teaching responsibilities were then able to hear first hand about the experiences they would encounter after graduation. This was only one of the discussions which SNEA had this year to interest students in teaching careers.

Other panels were of Foreign Exchange students at Minot High, and area superintendents discussing what to look for in hiring a beginning teacher. One of their most interesting films was "Children Without" followed by a talk by a minister from the area who specializes in counseling of children. SNEA sponsored a Student-Faculty Tea at Christmas-time to which all faculty members and enrolled SNEA members were invited. In the spring they finished their year with a banquet.

This year Karan Evanger has served on the State Student Education Association Executive Board, a group which has made attempts to unite the SNEA with the local NEA organizations of the community.

Club sets national award as goal

This year the members of Delta Omega chapter set a goal for themselves—to win the National Chapter Award which is awarded to the most outstanding Pi Omega Pi chapter in the United States. For this purpose they sponsored a Christmas Faculty Tea where they initiated honorary business faculty, Miss Adelaide Johnson, Miss Pearl Stusrud, and Miss Doris Slaaten.

Throughout the year they also sponsored a Secretary's Tea for all one and two year secretary students, a state typing contest in the larger schools of North Dakota, a national survey comparing a MSC graduate's qualifications to other state's qualifications and a published newsletter for the North Dakota Business Education Association. In the spring all the members attended the regional convention at Aberdeen, South Dakota.

Society incorporates nationally this year

Two members of Minot's Phi chapter went to Washington, D.C., to attend the national convention of Phi Sigma Pi National Honorary Fraternity in October. Joe Davis went as the local representative and Randy Busche attended as student representative, a national office. There at Dodge House Hotel the delegates discussed plans for enlarging membership. Between meetings they found time to tour the city.

This fraternity was nationally incorporated only last year in Pennsylvania. There are thirteen chapters, Minot State and Dickinson State being the only ones in the western half of the nation.

Beginning a year of weekly meetings last fall, advised by Dr. Olger Myhre and Dr. John Scheffer, Phi Sigma Pi initiated 10 new members. In March they had a joint meeting with the Dickinson chapter and their annual Founders Day banquet was May 8.

Society requires 3.06 average of members

A coeducational honor society in education, Kappa Delta Pi's membership is made up of juniors and seniors with a 3.06 average or better, and enrolled in teacher education. The purpose of the society is to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education.

In order to maintain the ideals of Pi Kappa Delta and extend its influence the members meet monthly in the Student Union Lounge. This year there were several guest speakers and discussions on such topics as September Experiences, Student Teaching, and Graduate School. During the year Mrs. Agnes Ladendorf showed slides of her trip to Europe and for the Christmas meeting they visited the Americana Nursing Home.

This summer Kappa Delta Pi is having their national biennial convention at Denver, Colorado. Sharon Stalnecker was selected to accompany the adviser, Mrs. Ladendorf, to this convention.

A new organization on campus this year, the Student Council for Exceptional Children, is open to anyone in the field of special education. It provides for professional preparation of future leaders in the education of exceptional children and youth.

As stated in their constitution, the Council also promotes programs designed to attract students into the profession of special education and disseminates information telling the public of the educational needs at local, state, regional, and national levels.

At Christmas time the Council sponsored a party for Mrs. Marilyn Olson's trainable class at St. John the Apostle Church. February 2-3 members attended the 10th annual conference of North Dakota chapter number 341 at Bismarck and plans were made for their 46th annual international convention in New York City April 14-20.

Members concentrate on Bible discussion

This interdenominational group has experienced a year of growth due to the extensive use of Bible discussion groups to acquaint students with the Bible and Christ's life. Each week besides their regular Wednesday night meeting Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship had a Monday night prayer meeting and Thursday night Bible discussion groups made up of small numbers in the various dorms.

These sessions attracted many students who weren't members of I-V for the simple reason that Christianity is based on the scripture and the students wanted to become acquainted with what the scriptures say. In doing these things the members of I-V carried out their two most important goals: strengthening their own spiritual lives through Bible study and prayer, and leading others to a personal faith in Jesus Christ.

Five members of I-V went to the University of Illinois at Urbana to attend the Inter-Varsity Missionary Convention. The five who attended—Marie Modin, Doris Rau, John Frankhauser, Jim Slagg, and David McCormack—found that even though there were 9,000 people there, they became close to many through small discussion groups.

Inter-Varsity officers are Marie Modin, treasurer; Ruth Turner, secretary; Jim Slagg, vice president, and David McCormick, president.

I-V had their weekend retreat April 26-28 at Cooperstown. That weekend found members from all of North Dakota and half of Minnesota leaving behind their studies and concentrating on spiritual enrichment.

Unity brings understanding, hope

Interest and concern were the incentives of Gamma Delta members when they visited the Dakota Boys Ranch last fall. As a religious organization, Gamma Delta has a need to extend an understanding hand toward the troubled and misguided young men at the Boys Ranch. The main objectives of this trip were to learn about the lives of the boys and to take a tour of the Ranch.

On campus Gamma Delta strives to unify its members in Christian fellowship. As a Lutheran organization of the Missouri Synod, it has sponsored Bible study speakers to discuss and interpret the basic concepts of the Bible that unite Christians everywhere and then to discern the parts that separate Christians in their beliefs. The result is the hope that members know and understand themselves and others in a new light.

Gamma Delta officers were Carol Kaeding, president; Julie Nielson, secretary; Frieda Schlichting, treasurer; Tom Klude, vice president.

De Young challenges accepted beliefs

The Lutheran Student Association sponsored a unique program in January when they brought Garry De Young to the campus. De Young, an avowed atheist, was brought to the campus to present a talk on atheism and then answer questions. The talk, which was heard by several hundred students, was in the Augustana Lutheran Church. Although sponsored by LSA, the meeting was open to all individuals interested in attending. De Young challenged not only the religious beliefs of those in attendance and the Christian community in general, but took time to criticize several national political figures including Eugene McCarthy, Everett Dirksen and Robert F. Kennedy.

On the quiet side, LSA resumed the usual activities of a regular year. Although some controversy rose at one meeting as to the "benefits" of bringing De Young to speak to "as yet impressionable minds," LSA took participation in Lenten services during March and April, worshipped with the local congregation on Sundays and partook in social gatherings on Friday nights to reach its goal of relating faith to academic life.

Officers were Marie Muller, secretary; Diana Rogers, vice president; Jeanette Holien, treasurer; Bob Dignan, president.

Center of religion goal of future

Father Blaine Cook, administrator of Ryan High School in Minot, spoke to Newman Club members on the subject of existentialism—a philosophy most unlike Christianity but one about which Christians should be especially concerned. He stated that whereas Christianity places man's essence before his existence, existentialism puts existence first, thus the origins of its name.

He also told members the effect it has on the individual's thinking—that a person who accepts existentialism cannot hold a belief in a supreme being. A question and answer period afterwards was meant to absolve any doubt that members may have had.

This year a new policy of forming smaller discussion groups was instigated at Newman Club meetings wherein each member had a better chance to express himself and also to find out what his fellow students thought on any of a number of subjects.

Also this year, Newman Club secured the main floor of a house near the campus. This action was a start toward the hope that other Christian organizations will collaborate in the building of a "Center of Religion" for the campus. One of the main goals of Newman Club is evident in this expectation—that of seeking more cooperation among the church groups of Minot State College.

UCCF now includes Methodist students

Expanded this year to include the members of Methodist Student Movement, the United Campus Christian Fellowship throughout the year strove to enrich the spiritual life of its members by giving them the opportunity to develop closer relations with fellow Christians.

Each week they had a regular supper meeting at the Evangelical United Brethren Church. The theme of this year's meetings was "Involvement" and each week they hosted a different speaker to carry out this theme.

The topic for their annual spring retreat was one which certainly was of vital interest to those involved, actually to everyone. It was "Citizen's Responsibility in South Vietnam."

Inviting seniors stimulates interest

Many high school seniors in the Minot area received an invitation to attend the spring banquet of Roger Williams Fellowship. Any student, whether a Baptist or not, who expressed an interest or who was considered a prospective member was invited to attend. At this banquet these high school seniors were given information about both Minot State and RWF. Another feature of this banquet was the installation of next year's officers.

In the community, as part of its mission, RWF traveled to area churches as a gospel team. Members participated in the regular church services of these churches and also lead singspirations during the social hours. On the campus RWF sponsored speakers, held Bible studies, presented discussion periods, showed films and encouraged jam sessions.

Kappa Pi capsules art work, interest

A new organization made the scene this year. Kappa Pi, informally known as Art Club, really displayed unprecedented enthusiasm as it recorded activities of its first year. The most significant aspect of this agenda was the sponsoring of art shows.

Paintings by local and out-of-town artists were on continual, but varying, display at the Student Union. Another show of the same type was on display from fall to spring at the Social Services Center. Members also took field trips to Grand Forks and Fargo to view shows at the universities.

The purposes of this international fraternity are to give students with artistic interests an opportunity to meet for informal study, to raise the standards of productive artistic work among MSC students, and to furnish a reward for conscientious effort in furthering the best interest of art. Membership in this fraternity is based upon scholarship and meritorious works.

Members were John Wilson, chaplain; Tom Fitzpatrick, treasurer; Larry Louser, president; Margaret Rouse, secretary; Herbert Jensen, Robbie Belk, vice president; James Hauck, John Hartsoch, sergeant-at-arms; Donald Fennwald, Dennis Nygaard, Richard Chadinha, Patrick Finnessey, Wesley Franklin, Edgar Kurzweg, Jerry Hegdahl, Jerry Nelson, Dennis Follman.

Vets raise funds in unique ways

Teaching a girl self-defense is not a class one usually finds listed on a college curriculum. However such a class is offered by the newly initiated Vet's Club. This Women's Self-Defense Course teaches "worried" young women the arts of karate and judo, with the proceeds going into a veteran's scholarship fund. Other monies are raised through the selling of gold social security cards with engraved names and numbers.

Any student who has served in the armed forces for a period of not less than two years is eligible for membership in the Vet's Club. This organization was established with the purpose of upholding and defending the Constitution of the United States. Fellowship is also important for it gives MSC members a chance to associate with fellow veterans and their organizations for the betterment of our country, community, and college. Remember, Uncle Sam wants you!

Party-leaders speak to MSC Young GOPers

The highlight of the year for Minot State's Young Republicans was the State Convention at Grand Forks February 16 and 17 with young Republicans from the entire state in attendance. Keynot speaker for the event was East District Congressman Mark Andrews. He spoke primarily on domestic issues—ranging from farm prices to civil rights. He also told the Young Republicans to work hard and study hard for they were the “party of the future.” Roger Nelson, president of MSC's Young Republicans, was elected second vice chairman for the state during the convention.

Other activities that kept Young Republicans busy this year were the visit of Shirley Temple Black to Minot to address a Lincoln Day Dinner and an appearance by West District Congressman Thomas Kleppe, also in February, who submitted himself to a question and answer period for those who had questions.

Young Republicans also helped initiate in North Dakota an Action Course in Practical Politics at several of the colleges. Not yet an offered course at Minot State, this program was started by national political and education leaders to teach young people about the American political scene.

Cosmopolitan tone shows up in FU program

Farmers Union Young Adults isn't an organization solely concerned with rural problems. An exceptional example of this unrelated interest became the subject of a seminar co-sponsored by the MSC Young Adults at the State Young Adults Seminar at Lake Tobiason. A Reverend Cleason and a Negro youth, both from the Ghettos of Chicago, spoke on the ever rising problems in urban America. They discussed the antagonisms of the poor and the Negro, especially in the large cities, and reemphasized that something is going to have to be done someday because a serious outcome is inevitable.

Two other programs of the year, these being in Minot, were a student panel on the Vietnam war issue during which the responsibility of rural America was discussed; and a film entitled "Revolution and Religion" at which Reverend Dean Lewis, from the First Lutheran Church, explained the problems that religion was meeting in today's world.

FU Young Adults is an organization that complements the North Dakota Farmers Union. Membership is open for young people who are interested in farm families and who are concerned with the problems of rural America. MSC's chapter provides a chance for its young people to keep in touch with friends from other campus chapters. On the individual level it provides opportunities for leadership, fellowship, and critical thinking.

Groups such as this one discussing the Bolshevik Revolution were a vital part of the all-day conference.

Colleges debate effects 50 years after

Last year marked the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia, and so with this half-century mark in mind the International Relations Peace Garden Conference met last September to discuss the topic, "Communism Fifty Years After," and how it has affected both domestic and foreign affairs of Russia and the world situation.

A paper on the "Russian Revolution Fifty Years After" was presented by Brian Gusdal of Brandon Manitoba College. Also on the forum was a debate on the topic of "Coexistence with Communism is Impossible." Bruce Carlson, Charles Cunningham and Alan Eidsness, representing MSC, spoke for the affirmative in this debate.

Robert J. Martens, Chief of the Bloc International Political Activities Division of the United States Department of State, was the featured speaker for the final banquet. He spoke on "The Bolshevik Revolution Fifty Years After."

Others in attendance from Minot State included President Gordon B. Olson, Professor Gaylen Brown, and Rauleigh Robinson, who served as student chairman.

The International Peace Gardens was the scene of the conference.

Keeping up with WRA takes verve, drive

From the high school play day in the fall until the spring camping trip the Women's Recreation Association was in a continual round of activities. This organization is open to all college women with the object of stimulating interest in sports and recreation, promoting ideals of health and sportsmanship, and cultivating the social well-being of all involved.

Beginning a year full of projects, last fall the State Sportsday at Spiritwood Lake near Jamestown was attended by girls from all the colleges and universities in North Dakota. There they exchanged ideas and learned new activities as they camped out for a weekend. At the annual High School Playday 177 girls from ten high schools spent the entire day learning new activities and getting acquainted with the campus.

WRA also sponsored a Powder Puff Basketball game in which the WRA girls themselves participated coached by Jim Rovito and Marv Aardahl. Dr. James Brandt and Dr. James Jurrens served as officials and the "M" club pledges were cheerleaders. At the Sweatshirt Dance this winter Bonnie Bachmeier and Jim Rovito were chosen Miss WRA and Mr. Letterman.

At a Christmas dinner party the volleyball champs and the seniors were awarded pins. The outstanding senior and WRA member were selected at the banquet in the spring. This ended a year filled with bowling, tobogganing and any other sports which the girls of WRA could get into their busy schedules.

Pledges fill coffers at concession stand

At every home basketball game or wrestling meet this winter, anyone who bought popcorn or pop at the concession stand was contributing to the lettermen's main fund-raising project. Every year the pledges of "M" club run the concession stand, and the club also maintains pop machines in Swain Hall at all times, in order to help buy pins, letters and awards which are presented at the spring banquet.

During the winter "M" Club co-sponsored with WRA the Sweatshirt Dance during which an "M" Club member and a WRA member were chosen Mr. Letterman and Miss WRA. In the spring, Kampus Kapers was sponsored by the lettermen also. This all-campus talent show brought out the "ham" in some very unexpected people around campus and provided delightful entertainment. The winning women's group and men's group each received a trophy and the best overall act received a cash prize.

Program serves large area

The North Dakota State Board of Higher Education authorized the graduate program at Minot State College June 25, 1963.

Graduate study at Minot State College leads to a master of science degree with a major in speech correction or in education of the deaf.

Minot State College pioneered in this area when there were no other programs between Minneapolis and Seattle. MSC is a recognized leader in special education in this geographic area.

Because of shortages in personnel in these fields the U.S. Congress passed Public Law 85-926 which provides first year master's level fellowships of $20,000 plus $600 per dependent and remission of fees, and a second year fellowship of $2,400 plus $600 per dependent and remission of fees.

Since the inception of the graduate program in speech correction and education of the deaf the division of special education has received fellowships each year. There are eight fulltime staff members in the division of special education.

SEEN ANY "SIGNS OF THE BUFFALO" LATELY?

'Billy' Bison, here, comes thru in contemporary style, bearing a sign which clearly states his personal feelings.

Just as the buffalo is native to this great plains area—so is the Westland Oil Company. Therefore, it is not so strange that Westland—over 40 years ago—selected the buffalo as the trade name for its gasolines.

The animal world is called upon extensively in modern day merchandising to signify—or dignify—a product. Why did Westland choose the Buffalo? It's a native animal to be sure. But even more so is this behemoth of the prairies noted for its power, endurance, and speed—typical attributes of a GOOD gasoline. Rapid conversion of energy to force, sustained combustion thru the power stroke, smooth performance at all speeds. These and many other features, antioxidant, de-icer, detergent, metal de-activator, to cite a few, are built into every gallon of Buffalo Gasoline made and sold by the

What is a yearbook?

It's a hard-working staff, a brilliant adviser and the cooperation of so many people I can't even think of them all much less thank them personally. It's the hope that a few years from now someone will look at this book and say "Hey, that's just like I remember college!"

The 1968 Beaver is a combination of all these things plus a little card-playing, a little fun-raising and a lot of last minute rushing. If the years prove that this book stands the test of memory, then all the work will be worth all the time.

And now I leave my effort to the future of MSC. It looks like it's in good hands!
