All the world's a stage . . .

William Shakespeare

Yes, it is a stage and you are the actors upon that stage. Life is the drama being enacted.

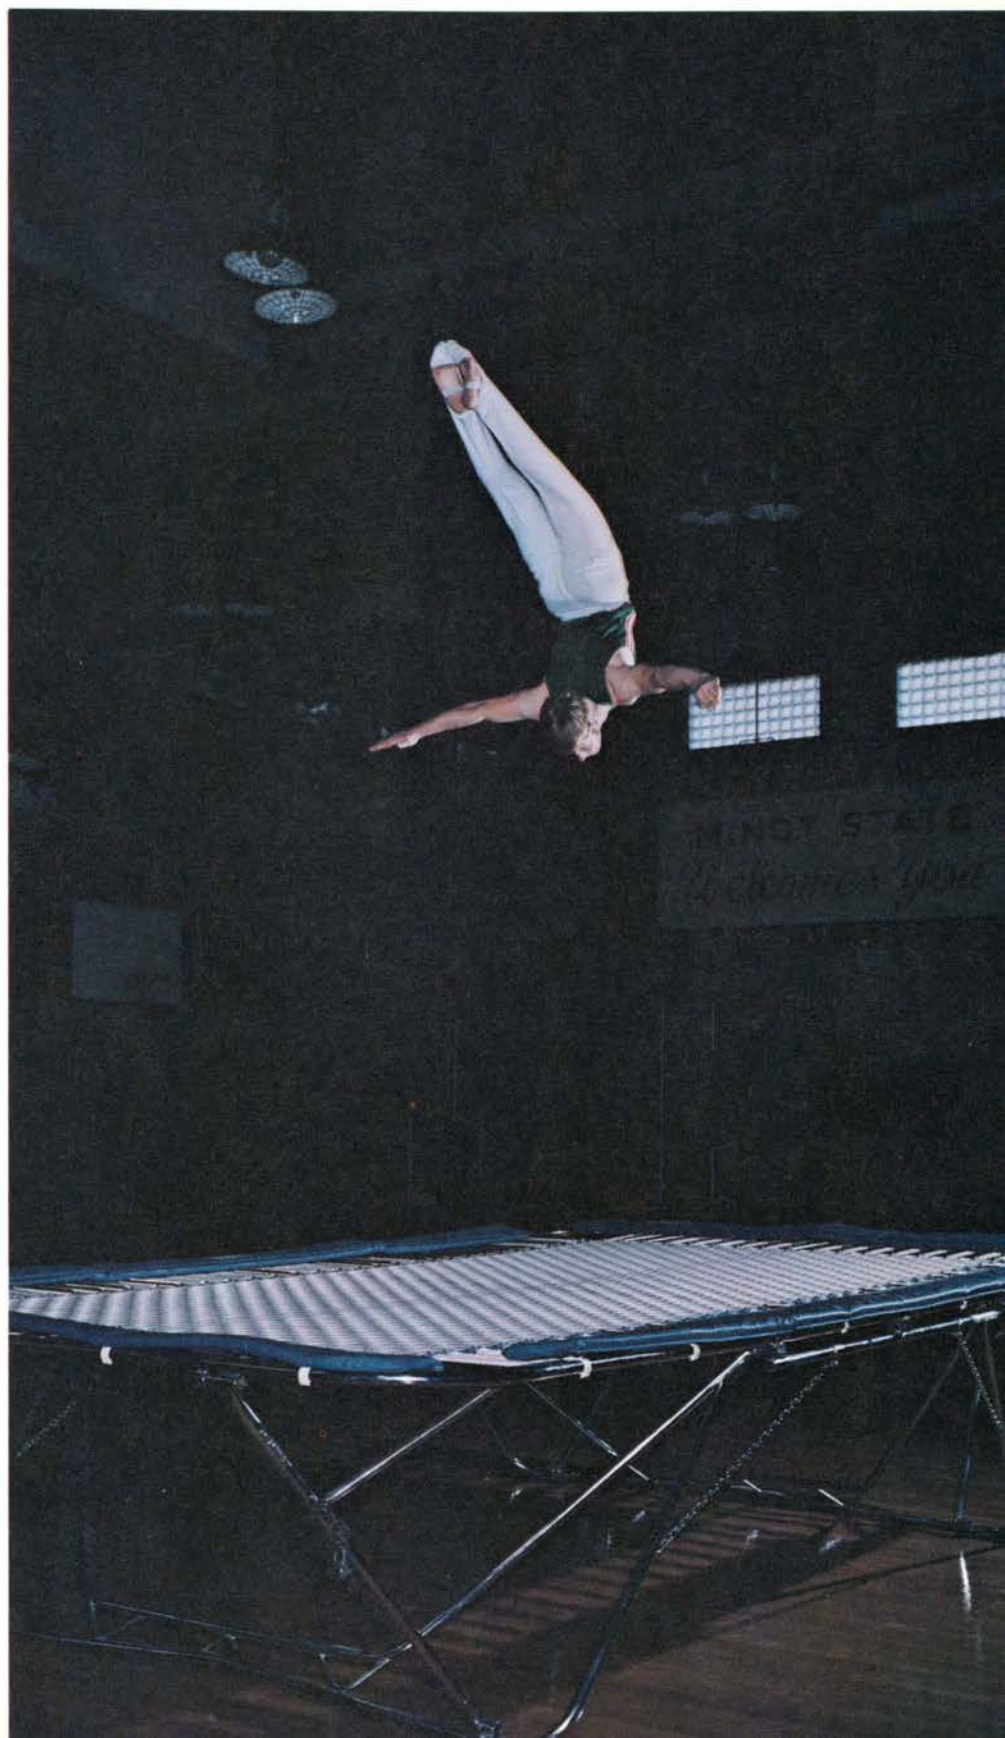

But what is your role in all of this? Who are you? What are you doing? Where are you going?

You are a student at Minot State College ... an actor with your own unique personality. You stand out not merely as a number, but you have your own lead. Then your lines come naturally. Other times your cues are not recognized so easily. You find that you need prompting as you turn to your fellow actors. Together with them the plot is complete.

The drama continues and you realize your goals, you find yourself, you discover your part in the general scheme. Now you have become aware of your situation. Go ahead! The stage is set and you're ready to go on. Go out and bring down the house!

College life . . .

What is it?

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way—in short, the period was so far like the present period ...

Charles Dickens

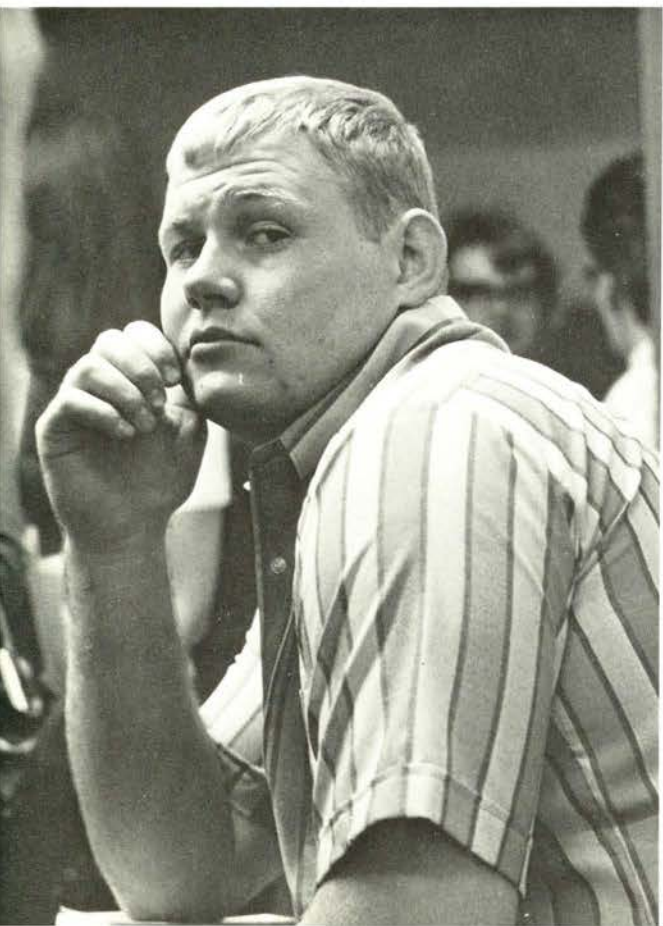

Honored 1969

A sense of humor is indeed necessary in the worst or best of times. Personality is an indefinite word but the individual with various and diverse interests usually best fills any position—especially an important post.

He can work with other staff and students because he understands through and by his own experiences.

Pictures and writeups often do not capture the “true” man. They should answer the reader’s question—what is this person like?

We think in the case of this dedication your questions will be favorably answered. We did capture the true man via camera lens.

His 22 years have paralleled MSC’s expansion. Here he has served as a physical education teacher, athletic director and coach. For the last 10 years he has been a functional and key administrator.

The 1969 Beaver wishes to honor the Dean of Men Herbert Parker.

Administration Faculty

President outlines various plans for MSC

President Gordon B. Olson, in his second year at Minot State, is coordinating many programs for expansion, changes and advancement.

Plans and projects being worked on include a liberalization of the B.A. degree curriculum so that foreign language can be selective rather than required as it is at present. Expansion of the fifth year program is also in the planning stage.

In the immediate plans for building is the amphitheater. Legislative authority to build the amphitheater was sought after the students approved the levy by vote.

Also in the stage of prearrangement is an addition to the Administration building. A $600,000-$800,000 addition is sought.

In the long range building program, a humanities center has number one priority. Number two on the list is a physical education classroom building. Non-state funded building is marked for married student housing. Builders are also looking towards a new women's dormitory and a new men's dormitory.

Campus beautification plans were expanded this year with the planting of numerous trees and shrubs and the decoration of the campus grounds with flower beds.

The substantial enrollment gain of this year will most likely continue. The 1968 fall quarter enrollment was 2,459, while the 1967 fall quarter enrollment figure was 2,143.

A study has been undertaken to reorganize the administration and staff of the college.

Serving as the governing body for the state-supported institutions of higher learning in North Dakota, the State Board of Higher Education meets monthly on the various college and university campuses. The Board decides on such operating matters as buildings, finances, budgets, and curricula. Providing for facilities and staff, made necessary by the increasing enrollments, is one of their many tasks. Members of the Board are seated: Henry Sullivan; Fred Orth; George Sinner, vice president; Peter Hinrichs. Standing: Allen Hausauer, president; Kenneth E. Raschke, commissioner; Lloyd H. Nygaard, assistant commissioner; Albert Haas; Mrs. Elvira Jestrab.

Leaders

As the first North Dakota governor to serve for four terms, William L. Guy has established a progressive record as an administrator.

The Governor is a native North Dakotan. During his undergraduate years at North Dakota State University, Mr. Guy served as editor of the college yearbook, as president of Blue Key, as a member of the Athletic Board of Control, and as president of his fraternity.

After World War II he continued his studies at the University of Minnesota where he received his Master's Degree in Agricultural Economics and Business Administration.

Mr. Guy was elected governor in 1961. During that year he helped to establish the Midwestern Governors' Conference and served as chairman for two years. In 1967 he was elected chairman of the National Governors' Conference. This group worked closely with President Johnson to create a new system of state-federal communication and relations.

Characteristically Governor Guy advised, "I have found that good politics and good government are one and the same. They offer challenging and interesting careers for those who are motivated by a desire to help mankind. There is no best time to become involved. The sooner a citizen becomes active in politics and government, the longer will be that citizen's career in this field. I invite college students to consider politics and government as a life's work or as a life's hobby."

A new emphasis . . .

With the closing of grades 7-12 in the Campus School a year ago emphasis was placed on an individual curriculum.

Grades 1-4 have this individualized and small group instruction. This system is the present trend in education and will probably become prevalent within a decade.

Also introduced this past year was a two-year pre-school program under the direction of Mrs. Lola Dokken. Mrs. Dokken formerly taught the first grade at the Campus School.

The objectives of this pre-school program are 1) to develop the student's attitude and skills which will aid them in their formal education; 2) provide the student with an edge in maturity to enable him to make important decisions in later years of school; and 3) to prepare the student for individualized curriculums.

Other innovations at the Campus School were the introduction of conversational German in the fourth grade taught by Miss Joyce Zimmerman of the college division of literature and language, the addition of a special education classroom, and the reorganization of a string instrumental program directed by Miss Sandra Schjeldahl with the cooperation of the division of music.

There is a vocal music program in all the grades. Length of daily instruction varies with the class level. A special choral group was instituted in Grades 4, 5 and 6.

Tapes get wide use

A year of innovation characterized the division of special education.

The Speech and Communications center was added and has taken responsibility for testing the speech and hearing of all new students and referring those with problems to the speech or hearing clinic.

Another facet of the special education development is the addition of the video tape studio. This studio provides tapes for the aid of those working with the handicapped child. It is also used for the taping of lectures by visiting professors.

Eventually this studio may be able to exchange tapes with other institutions making it possible to bring to classes lectures and demonstrations of experts in their fields.

New divisional offices and the language developmental center are on the first floor of Old Main. The language center has the latest electronic equipment to help the new child who is hard of hearing or has language impairments.

Mrs. Kenneth Fletcher carries out secretarial duties for Dr. Ronald Archer, division chairman.

For office education

A teacher training program for office education coordinators has been added to the business education curriculum. To become a certified coordinator a student must have a major in business education and an additional 16 quarter hours of vocational office education courses.

The purpose of education for office occupations is to provide the trained man-power needed to staff the offices of the nation. Office procedures, which are constantly becoming more complicated, require skilled workers.

Technological advancements have aroused automation of the past decade. Potential business managers and educators are faced with a new and constantly changing field.

To increase the occupational effectiveness of business students, several courses in data processing and office technology are now being offered.

Additional offerings in this area will need to be made as the need increases.

Dr. Dale D. Atwood, division chairman, goes over some correspondence changes with his secretary, Mrs. Janice Haugen.

Mrs. Ruth Amos, Frank O. Taylor, Mrs. Alene Bjerklie, and C. R. Schwieger are members of the division of fine and applied arts.

Kappa Pi grows

The division of fine and applied arts added a new drawing studio and work area which helped overcome the spatial problem they had in previous years.

Kappa Pi, the national honorary art fraternity, has almost doubled its membership since last year. Kappa Pi received its charter December, 1967. It has become an active organization on and off campus.

During the city of Minot's Western Week last October Kappa Pi members did pictures reminiscent of the old and present West on the windows of downtown business places.

This art club sponsored a Homecoming queen candidate last October.

The living and dining centers in the home economics department are now separate units, greatly increasing their practicability and usefulness for teachers and students.

The number of students enrolled in home economics courses indicates the need for a major in that field. There are probably enough courses for the major, but as yet Minot State cannot offer this.

Showing one of the results of an oil painting class is C. R. Schwieger, head of the art department.

Miss Adeline Erickson is the secretary for Dr. Warren G. Allen, division chairman.

To prepare teachers

One of the largest divisions on campus, the division of education and psychology, has 80-85 per cent of the MSC students enrolled in its curriculum. The division has continued its work in preparing adequate teachers for the state and nation by constantly revising the curriculum to keep abreast of new techniques and approaches to teaching.

Students in the teacher education program are continually screened on the basis of health, personality, scholarship and professional aptitudes. This screening keeps the students alert, for admission to the division does not guarantee continuation in the program.

Before a student can do his student teaching, he must complete approximately 20 quarter hours of professional sequence courses in the backgrounds and methodology of education.

A Reading Clinic conducted by Miss Bertha Okland is one of the far reaching services offered by the division. This clinic is for the training of elementary teachers who will help children with reading problems.

The psychology major which was added last year is developing rapidly, with growing student interest in the field.

Librarians at Memorial Library are Raymond Chu, C. B. Russell, Mrs. Karen Martin, Mrs. Anne Pate and Clyde Kiang.

Lead librarian, Clyde Kiang, finishes up another order of books for the library.

Changeover goes on

Memorial Library is continuing the process of changing from the Dewey Decimal to the Library of Congress system of book classification. About 26,000 books have been classified so far. The main purpose for the change in systems is to reduce the cost and time involved in processing books.

In order to increase both upstairs studying space and bookshelf capacity, the books are being moved downstairs and the periodicals upstairs. This is expected to be completed by the end of this summer.

Current book acquisition rate of new titles is over 6,000 a year. The library has approximately 102,000 books, subscribes to over 1,000 periodicals, and has nearly 1,800 microfilm reels of past newspapers.

The library added some new equipment this spring. Included are a coin-operated photo copying machine and electric typewriter. They are self-supporting and for the overall convenience of the students.

Wide world of sports

The division of health and physical education at Minot State led the sporting world in northwest North Dakota with sportsmanship as its keynote.

Women's Recreation Association sponsored a playday for high school girls from the area last October. WRA presented the physical education program to the girls attending the playday. Another activity and meeting session took place in Dickinson last fall with the college WRA participating.

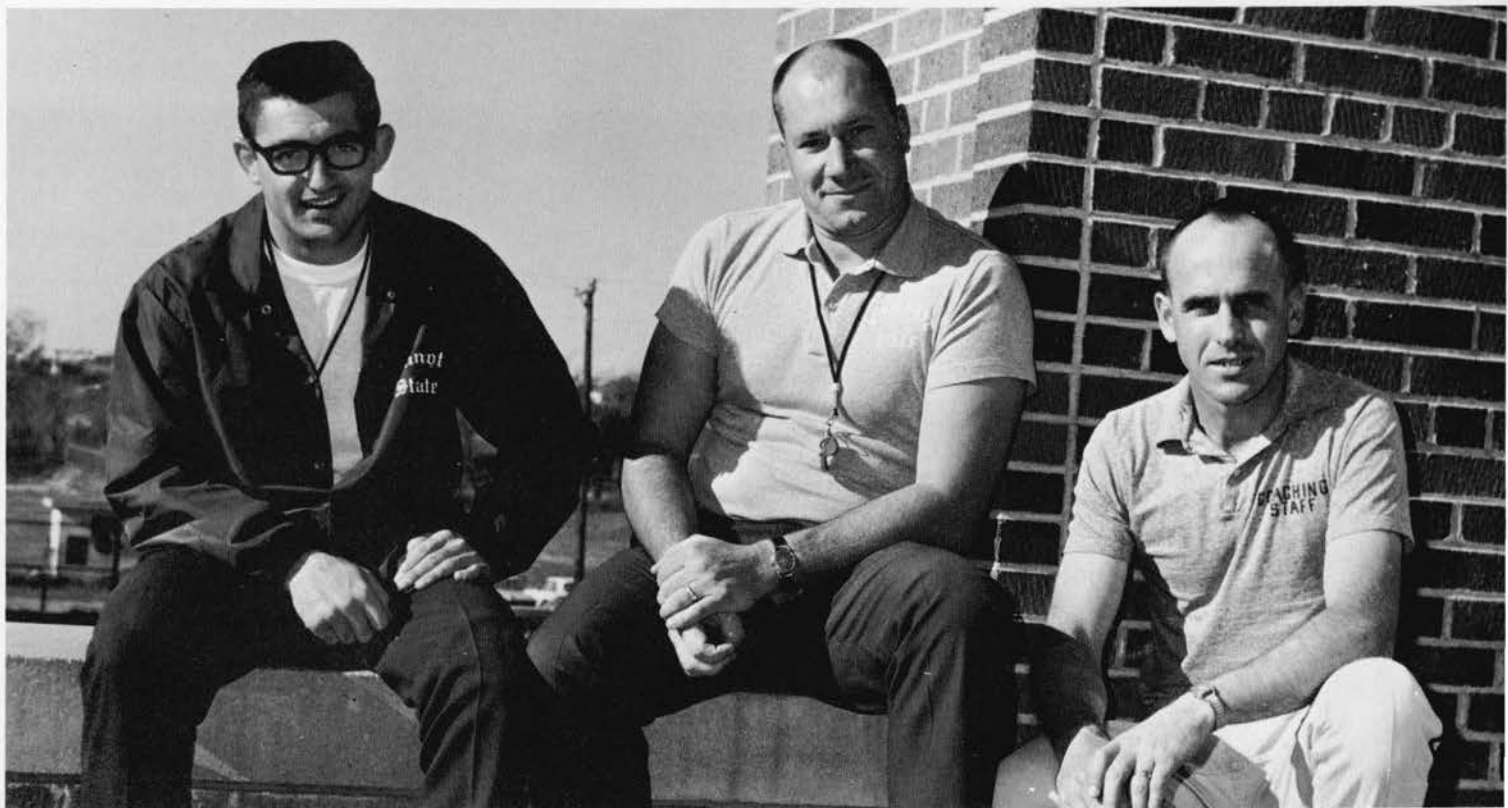

Sports rules clinics along with athletic conference meetings were part of the year's work.

The annual high school girls track meet was a feature of this spring's work. This track meet, under the supervision of physical education majors and minors in the track and field class, promotes feelings and competitiveness among the participants.

Along with the four seasons of varsity sports program, the division maintained a strong intramural program. Participation in these events remained high. Hampered by problems of space for I-M activities, students still participated in I-M curling, football, basketball, track and volleyball.

Staunchly overlooking his domain is Vence Elgie, head of the division of health and physical education.

Taking a moment to relax are Dean Bachmeier, Hank Hettwer and Wiley Wilson.

Stepping out into the sunshine are Vence Elgie, Rodney Caufield, Michael J. Ryan, Wesley M. Luther and Kenneth O. Becker. The girls in the phy-ed department are Kathleen McCann, Lucille Whitt and Martha MacIver.

Acting head of the literature and language department, Harold G. Aleshire tells his secretary Gladyce Romine, "Go hither and typeth this proclamation."

Communication and journalism faculty members are seated: Mrs. Muriel Turner, Mrs. Marjorie Allen, Mrs. Delores Sundet. Standing: Merritt Christensen, Miss Helen White, Harold Nelson, Clarence Bina.

Foreign language teachers are Mrs. Emma Kahvush, German; Miss Joyce Zimmerman, German; Miss Helen Hoar, French.

An amphitheater too

Anticipation in the form of a new theater prevailed in the division of literature and language this year. Last fall in a special election students approved a fee assessment for this amphitheater, to be constructed in a natural location north of the college.

If completed in time, the amphitheater will be used for part of the summer theater, formerly the tent theater, productions.

Drama presentations will not be the only use made of the amphitheater. Choral, instrumental, forensics, high school speech meets, student rallies and others will also utilize these facilities.

Faculty committees worked during the year on curriculum revision for all courses in the division. Course work needed to be revised and altered to fit into the change from quarter to semester plan proposed for the fall of 1970. New syllabi were also written for all courses.

In this division the B.S. degree prepares one to teach on the secondary or junior high level. The B.S. degree enables one to do further work in English and has numerous applications in fields such as advertising, communications and journalism. The English minor can be used well as a supplement for work in another area.

Teachers of speech are seated: Mrs. Violette Ehart, Miss Gerilyn Tandberg. Standing: Tom Turner, Donald Koenke, Gordon Bangs.

Teaching humanities and literature courses are seated: Mrs. Julianne Wallin, Miss Margaret Dixon. Standing: John Curtis, David Gresham, Floyd Fairweather.

Botanists are Dr. Richard Timken, Dr. Dennis T. Disrud, W. Patrick Carney, Dr. Paul D. Leiby, Dr. Om. P. Madhok, Dr. Charles A. Hoffman, Dr. Robert S. Lipe, Dr. William G. Dyer.

Dr. Paul D. Leiby, chairman of the science and mathematics division, checks a letter before giving it to his secretary, Dona Lawlar, for mailing.

Computer courses in

The division of science and mathematics has requested numerous course additions in its efforts to supply updated teachers. Two courses were requested in computer science and plans call for a minor in this field in the near future.

There are also course additions pending in the mathematics department. New advanced calculus and statistics classes are necessary to update the curriculum.

A degree in radiological technology is also pending. This degree is similar to the medical technology program except more physics is required. Students in this curriculum would attend three years here and intern a year at an approved hospital.

Building facilities have also been expanding in the science division. The addition of a third floor, acquisition of a new telescope, and construction of a greenhouse all expand the utility of the science programs. The greenhouse will be used for growing plants for botany classes and for botanical research. Remodeling of the microbiology laboratory was also completed this year.

Chemistry teachers are Bruce W. Farnum, Dr. Arnold R. Johnson, Mrs. Carol Belinskey, Dr. Richard Perry and Dr. David R. Gano.

Teaching physics and drafting are Joseph Streeper, George F. Billey, Robert Walsh, Harry C. Smith, Dr. Eric Clausen and DeWayne C. Martin.

Mathematics faculty members are Kirby Seibel, E. W. Jack Hancock, Mrs. Georgia Cunningham, Robert Holmen and Richard Jensen.

Political science and geography faculty members are E. A. Ballmann, Earl Shearer, Glen Wells and Carl Kalvelage.

Discussing curriculum changes are Gaylen Brown, N. Manvel Lillehaugen, John Wilson and Henry Du-Garm.

Dr. Paul Morrison, chairman of the social science division, takes a moment to read the latest economics magazine.

Honor frat installed

The zenith in the social science division was the installation of the Minot State College chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary social science fraternity during winter quarter. Requirements for admission are a minimum of 24 hours of social science courses plus a 3.00 average.

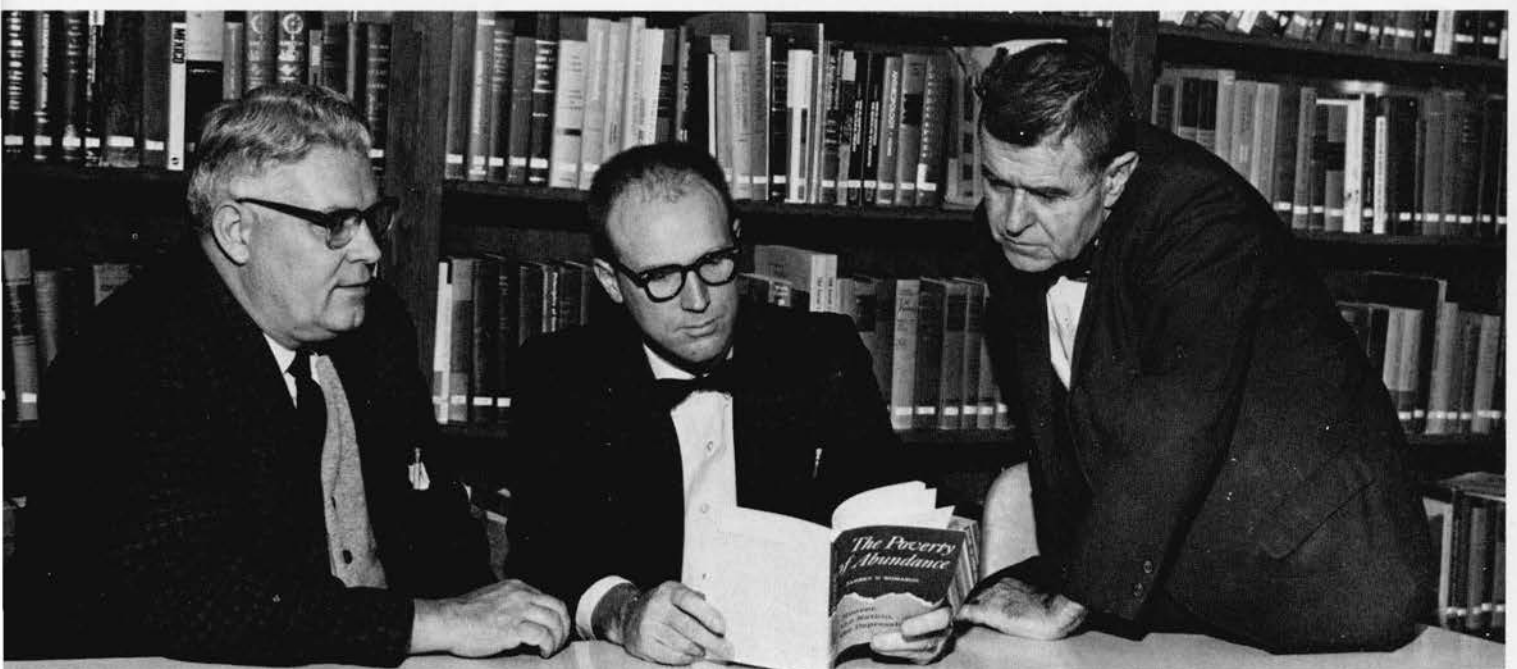

The division is literally bulging at the seams. With over 2,000 students enrolled in the division, many classes must be held in buildings other than the Administration building, and other classes have over sixty students enrolled.

Seniors taking the senior problems class are writing histories of local communities. Other classes are taking a survey of the aged to discover the problems of senior citizens.

Experimentation with team-teaching in History 125 is conducted by five teachers. Under this arrangement, students are lectured by all five teachers interchangeably. Plans also include the introduction of video tapes in some classes.

Thirty students attended the International Relations Peace Gardens Conference in September. They met with students from Brandon College to discuss topics concerning the general unrest of students as portrayed by their involvements in riots and other displays of student dissension.

Wallace Stockman, N. Manvel Lillehaugen and Henry K. DuGarm are currently working on their doctor degrees. Carl Kalvelage is writing two books.

Examining a new textbook are Robert J. Connor, Lyle Fogel and H. Paul Crockett.

Division chairman John Strohm refiles a selection from the music department's record library.

Band goes to Rose Bowl

The trips of the Beaver Marching Band to Winnipeg, Canada, to perform during the Blue Bombers' football game last September, and then to Pasadena to participate in the Rose Bowl Parade, were major events in the division of music.

This band accepted an invitation and played for the opening session of the North Dakota Education Association (NDEA) state convention at Grand Forks last October.

Along with various music workshops and recitals, the vocal and organ sections worked together to bring to MSC for the first time annual Christmas Vespers. The Vespers program is not a substitute for the annual President's Christmas Convocation.

The music division here has the largest enrollment of any music department of a North Dakota college or university.

The Music Educators National Conference a national honorary fraternity has 106 members, the largest group of any MENC chapters in the state.

The third annual All-State band and chorus was at MSC again this February. In May the division of music presented with the drama department a musical.

Keyboard instructors are Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bradley, Ralph Wallin, Walter Hartman and Dr. Roy Stillwell.

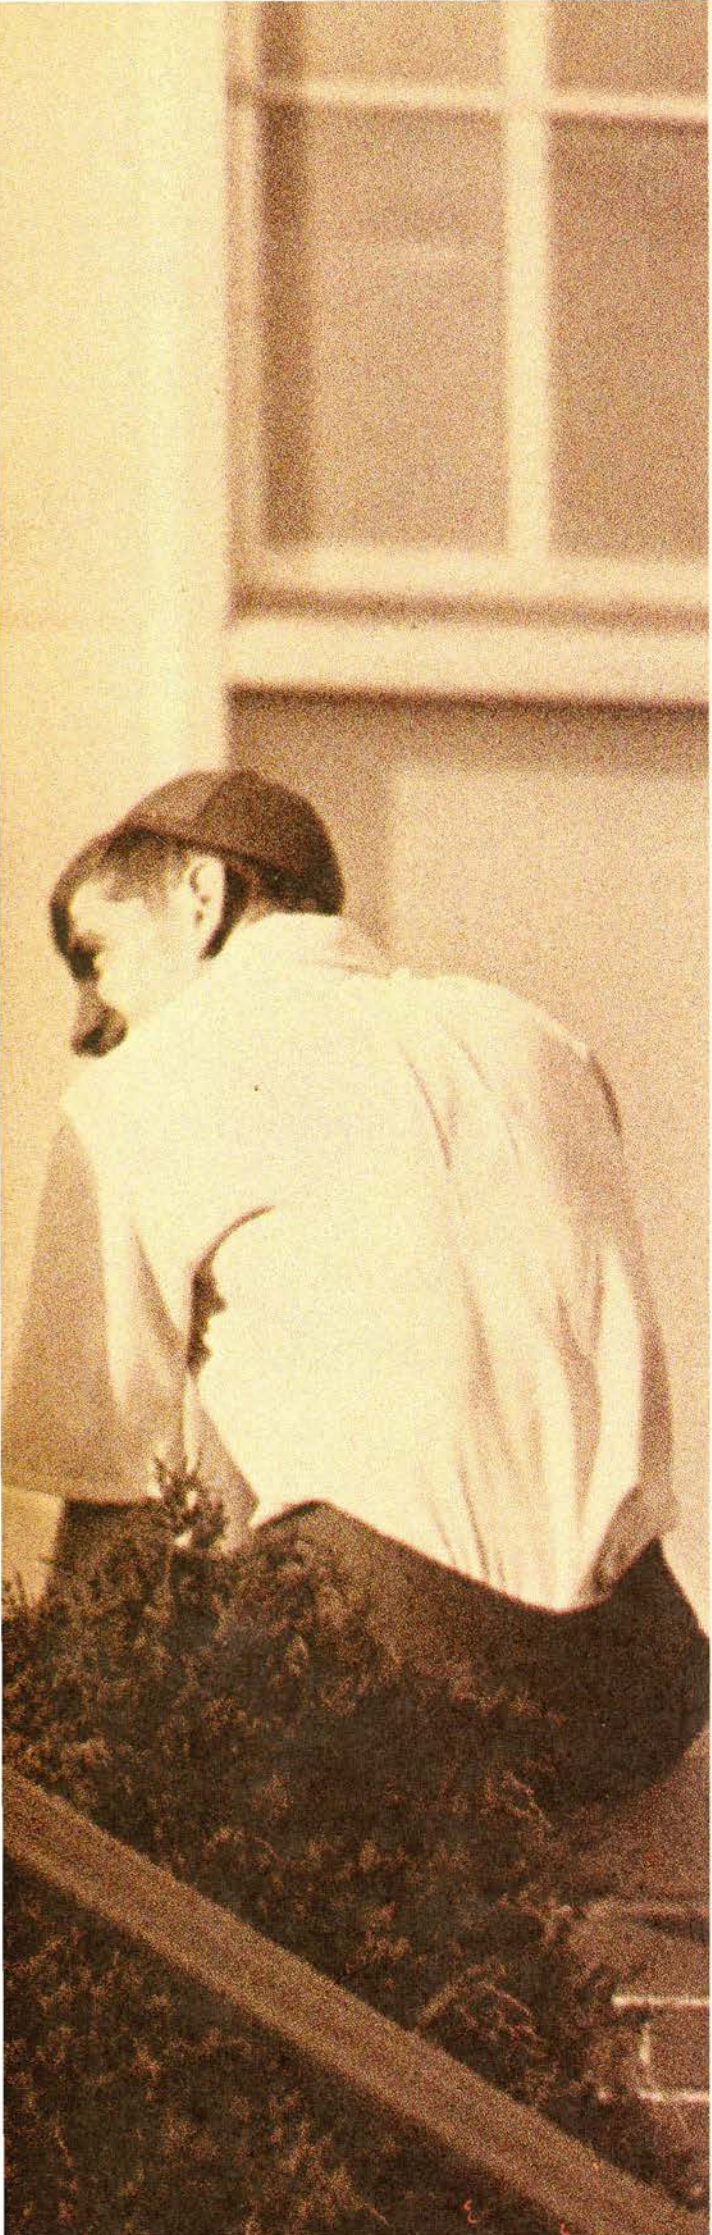

Teaching courses in voice are seated: Miss Sandra Schjeldahl. Standing: John Strohm, Dr. Paul Swanson, John J. Spoelstra.

Department instrumental teachers are Dr. Jerold Sundet, Leon Bradley, Edward London and Dr. James Jurrens.

Student Life

Enthusiasm plus

Coronation ... the Brothers Four ... parade ... football at its best ... victory ball ... a record breaking Homecoming. Maybe it was the tantalizing spirit trophy, an innovation by the Mu Sig Homecoming chairmen, awarded to the group with enthusiasm plus. Maybe it was the beautiful autumn weather or maybe a break from classes. But students and alumni turned out in impressive numbers to show their enthusiasm for "Beavers: Pride of the Prairies."

Thursday night Judy Muttonen, sponsored by her sorority Beta Theta, was crowned Homecoming Queen at a beautiful ceremony dedicated to Mrs. Eva Benest. Judy's court included Karen Ness, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Bonnie Bachmeier, Delta Zeta; Trudy Grimes, Delta Epsilon Phi; and Corliss Olson, Art Club. "Half a Sixpence," a new musical, was shown after the coronation.

The Brothers Four with their harmony and antics entertained a full house at the city auditorium Friday evening. The rest of that night was dedicated to the hurried completion of floats for the parade the next morning.

Saturday afternoon the Beavers thrilled the spirited crowd with a 27-20 victory over Dickinson. That evening Homecoming came to a beautiful close at the Harvest Moon Victory Ball.

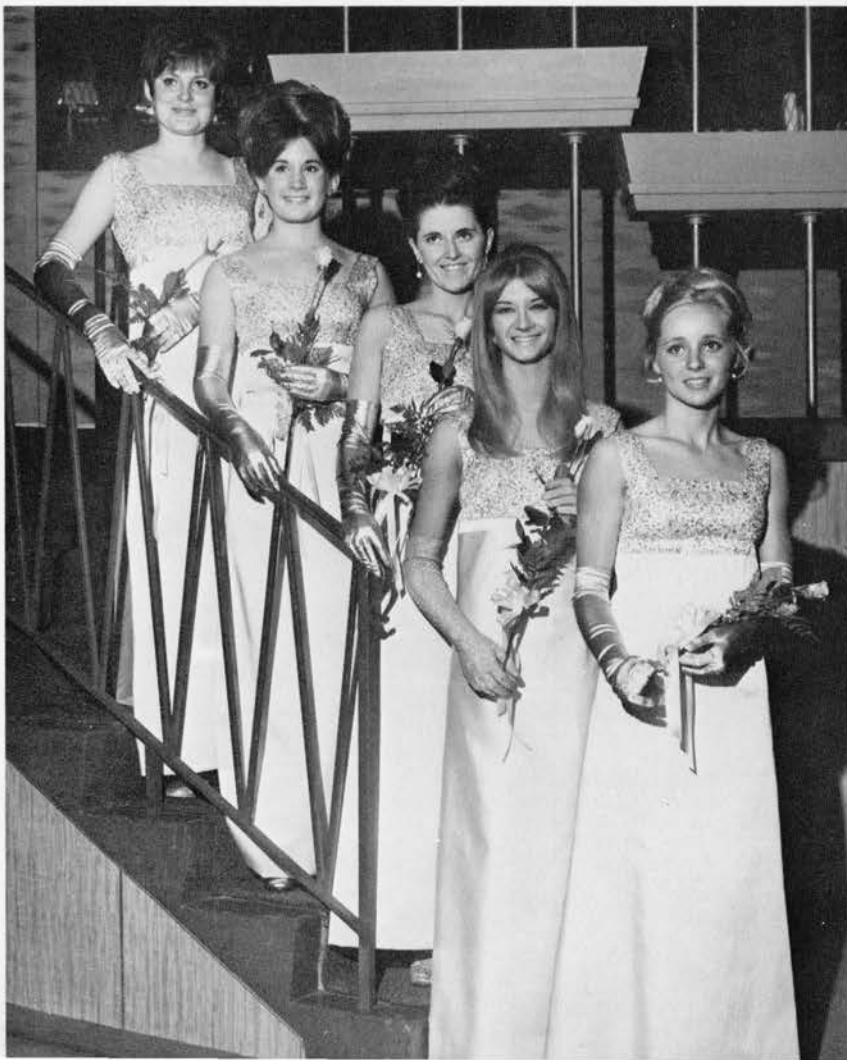

Queen contenders were Corliss Olson, Judy Muttonen, Trudy Grimes, Bonnie Bachmeier and Karen Ness.

Melodee Monicken crowns Queen Judy Muttonen.

A radiant Judy is escorted by Bruce Wyman.

Carmen LoRe seats away from Dickinson's pursuer for a TD.

Beaver linemen swamp the Savage ball carrier.

Butch Jorgensen receives a few instructions from Coach Hettwer.

Coronation was dedicated to Mrs. Eva "Mom" Benest who is escorted by Dennis Dupre.

Minot State College Marching Band performed a formation they exhibited at the Rose Bowl.

The nationally-known Brothers Four tune up on their guitars for their upcoming performance. They played innumerable instruments and sang harmoniously.

The Mu Sigs employed a car full of impending happenings to spread spirit and merriment during the Homecoming football game. Their efforts were rewarded with the spirit trophy.

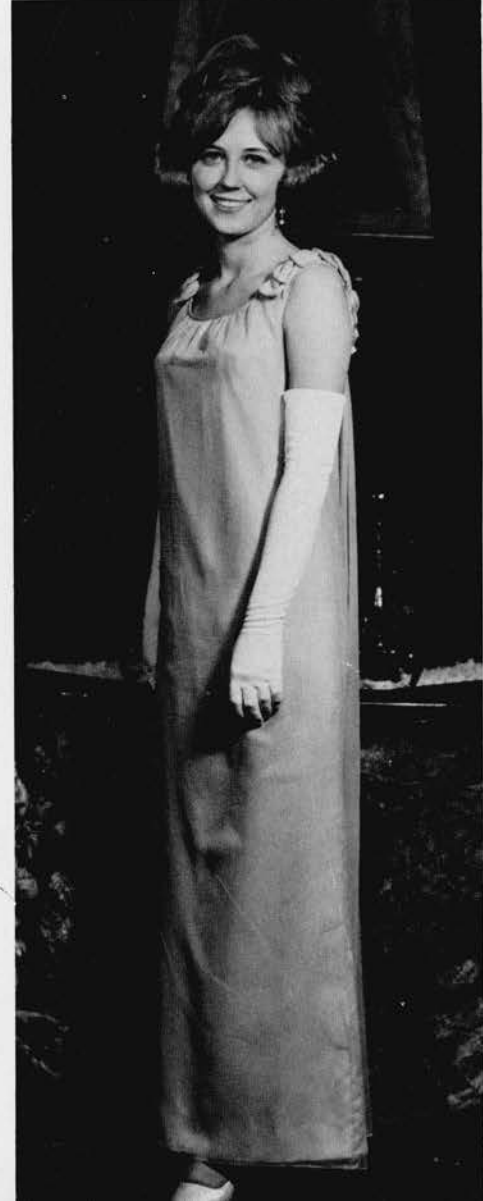

The winning float, built by the Sig Taus, was aptly titled "Beavers Chews Another Victory." They won on construction not grammar.

The exuberant fans have abandoned the stadium leaving behind a maze of litter and memories.

Habitat or home?

Girls wearing shower curtains, cats in the halls, and second warnings are all familiar occurrences in dorm life, and Dakota Hall, with all freshmen, probably knows best. With 134 girls there is bound to be a certain amount of chaos. Fire drills prove this as well as engagement showers—meaning real showers—and losing mattresses on a restless night.

Cook Hall, with its sophisticated upperclassmen, isn't always so serene. Everyone in the dorm can surely recall the night one adventurous girl pulled the fire alarm at 2 a.m. Every girl was out in the freezing night doing little dances to keep warm and awake while the firemen thoroughly investigated for the missing fire.

McCulloch Hall, with girls from all classes, has its share of experiences also, such as Halloween night with its "trick" stunt played. Girls do study though and entertain guests in the lounge and even catch naps at all times of the day. Dorm life is never dull, not with so many girls scheming to keep it alive.

Margaret Talbot spends a comfortable evening in the lounge.

Charlie Sanderson's activities do not leave time for cleaning his room, but he occasionally makes a path to the bed.

And we lived here

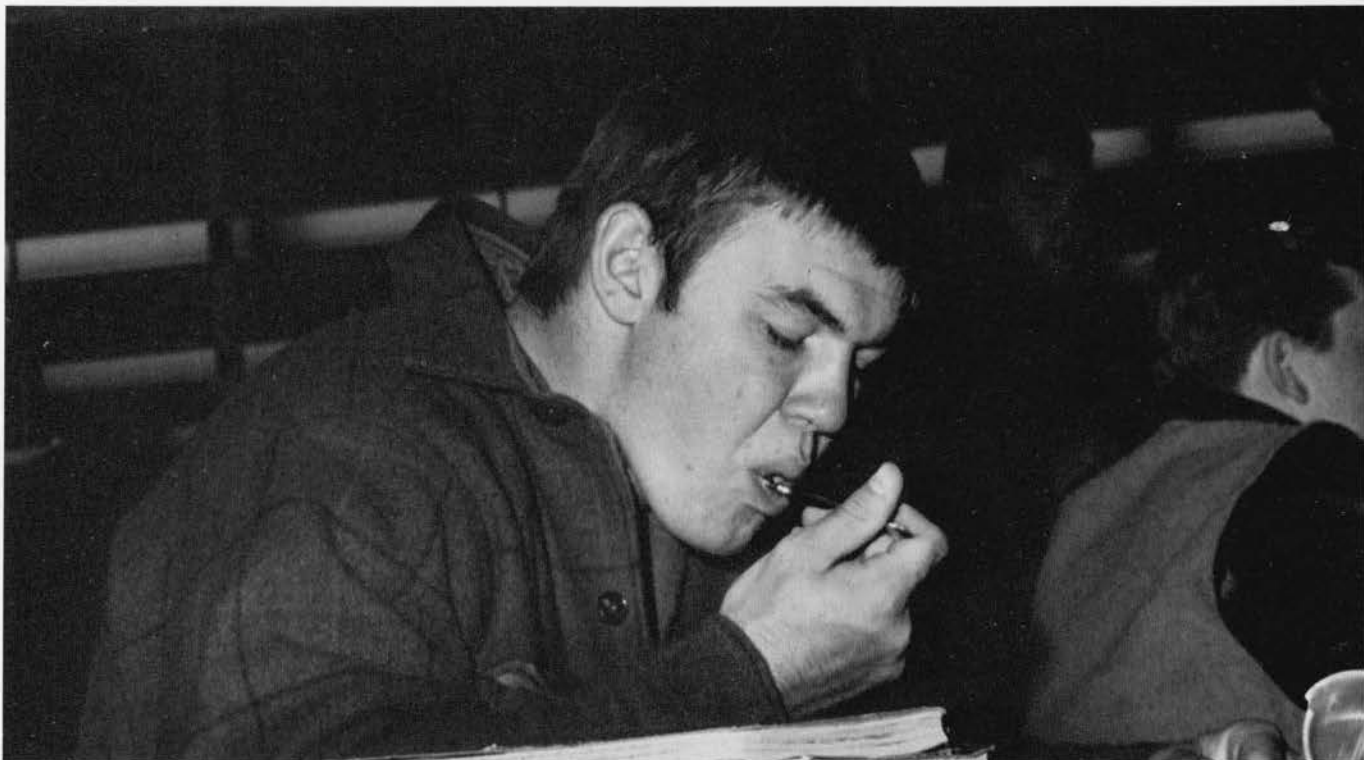

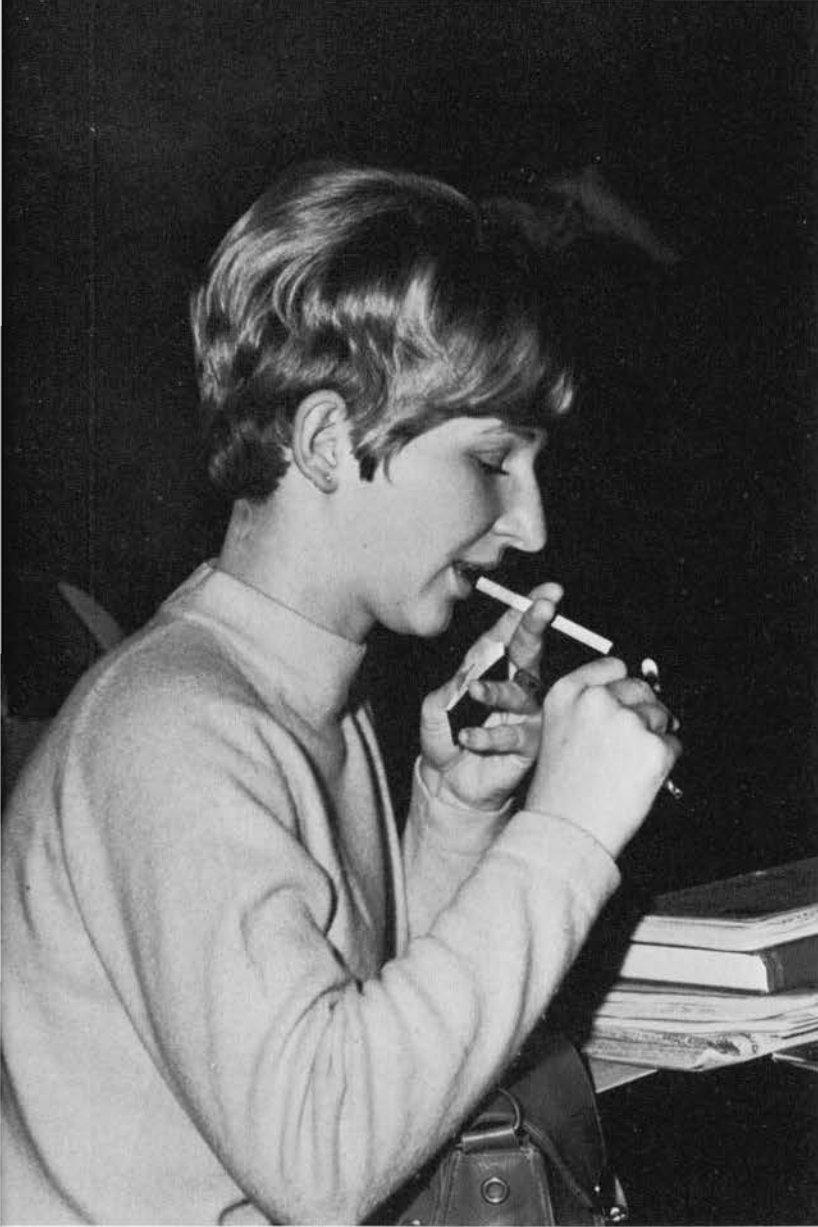

Your clothes were thrown in the closets and stuffed in the drawers. You kept the dust off the desk with your books. You lavished your walls with pinups. Occasionally you slept there. This was the dorm and it served its purpose.

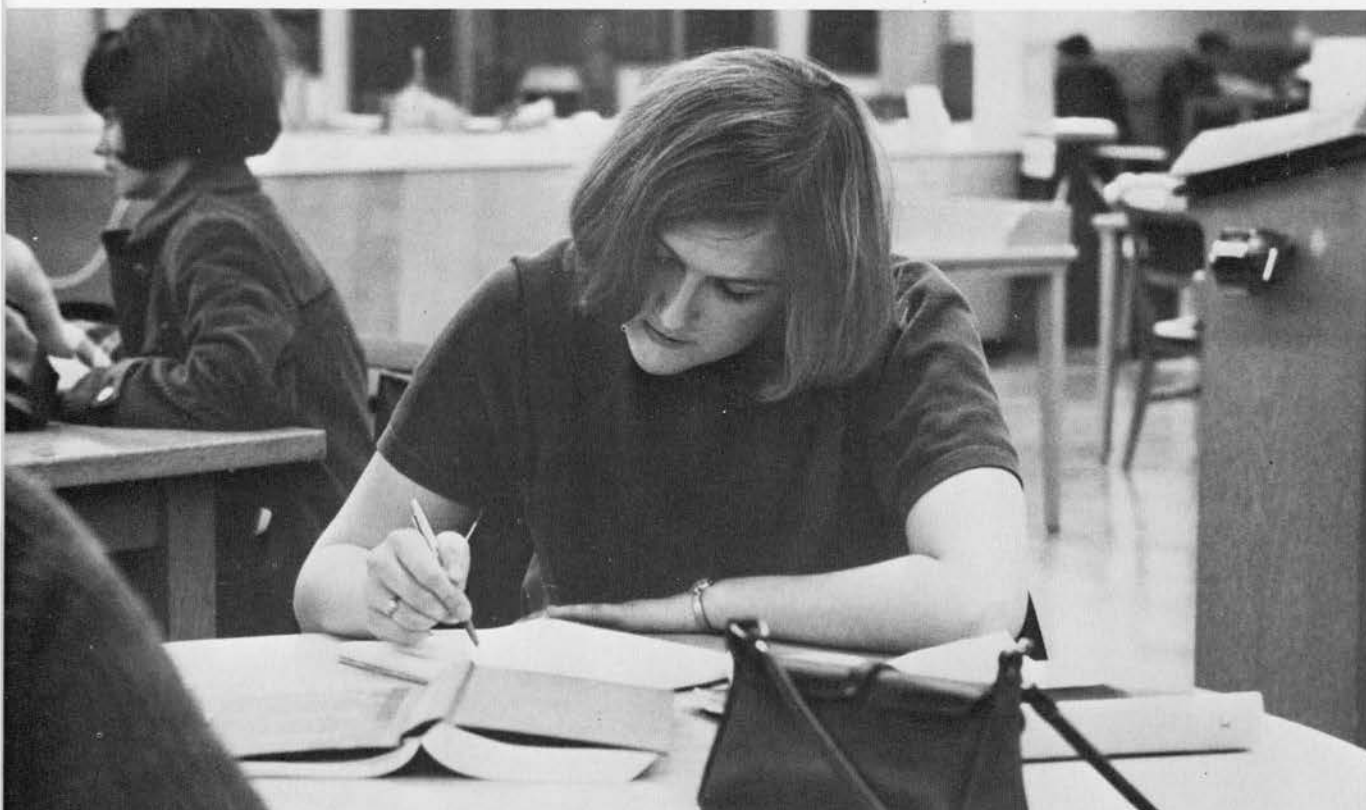

You had exciting moments here: finding your roommate had flushed your socks down the toilet, waking at 2 a.m. to the 1812 Overture with cannons, getting the new Playboy, wrestling with the boys on Crane's second floor.

Of course, all was not excitement. You suffered hopeless doldrums when your grades were low, your funds were lower, and your love life was at an all time ebb. In calmer moments you relaxed at a game of whist with your roommate and a bowl of popcorn. When you had time for sleep, you found it a great change of pace.

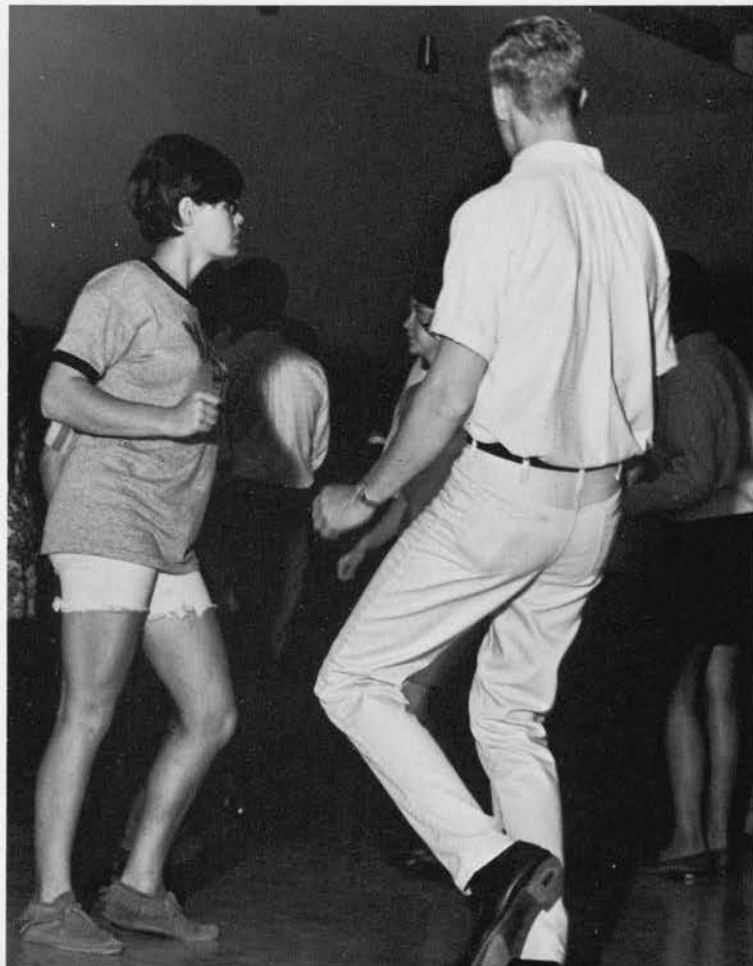

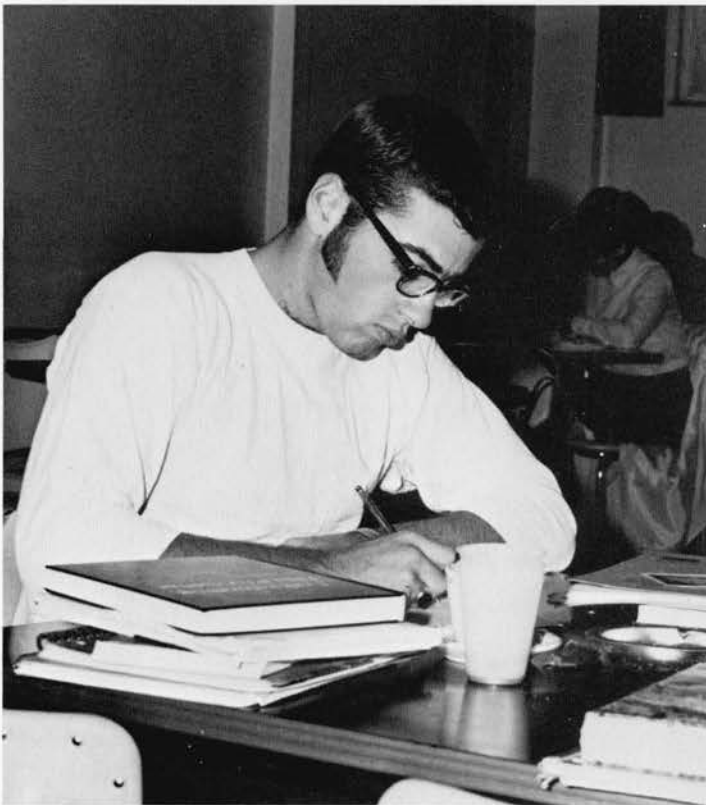

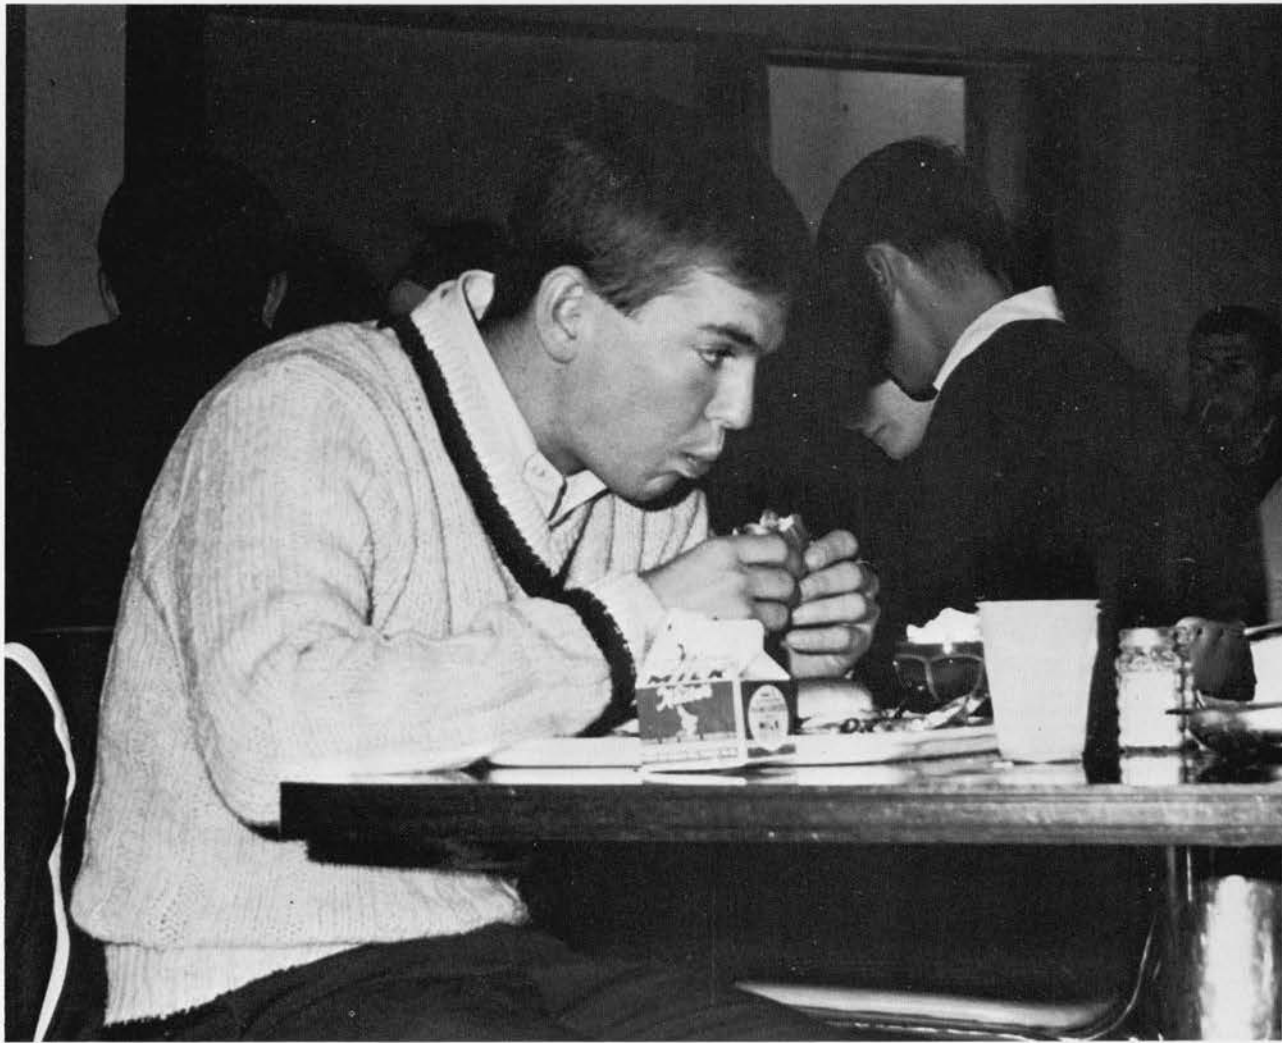

This was the dorm. You may have loved it or resented it, but like all good things, you will disregard the bad and preserve the good that became a part of you.

too COLD for snow sculpture

Snow Carnival King Scott McDaniel helps Queen Beckee Bentz adjust her crown.

The Delta Phi Dart Throwing Booth gave Ike Carlson an opportunity to take out his hostilities

The MSC Student Association conducted the annual Winter Snow Carnival January 30-31 and February 1. The festival was sponsored by the seven fraternities and sororities on campus, "M" Club, and the Women's Recreation Association. The 10 sponsoring organizations nominated a list of candidates for Snow Carnival King and Queen.

Due to a severe cold wave, making construction of the traditional snow sculptures impractical if not entirely impossible, the annual contest and judging were suspended.

An evening dance in the Student Union with "The Fifth" of Winnipeg, Manitoba, was the event for January 30. With the warm reception of this group, the weekend was off on a hot start.

A home basketball game with UND-Ellendale branch kicked off Friday night's activities. The carnival began at 9 p.m. with 16 booths representing most of the organizations on campus.

At 10 p.m. that evening, activities were diverted to the Student Union ballroom for the coronation of the Snow Carnival King and Queen. Named King was Scott McDaniel, sponsored by Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity. Beckee Bentz, sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association, reigned as Queen for the remainder of the Snow festivities. The gala returned to the carnival until its conclusion near midnight.

Activities ended Saturday evening with a dance spotlighting "The Amusement Park" of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Minot Beavers lose crown to Jamestown

The Minot State College Beavers football team placed second in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference with a 4-1-1 conference record and a 5-2-1 overall record.

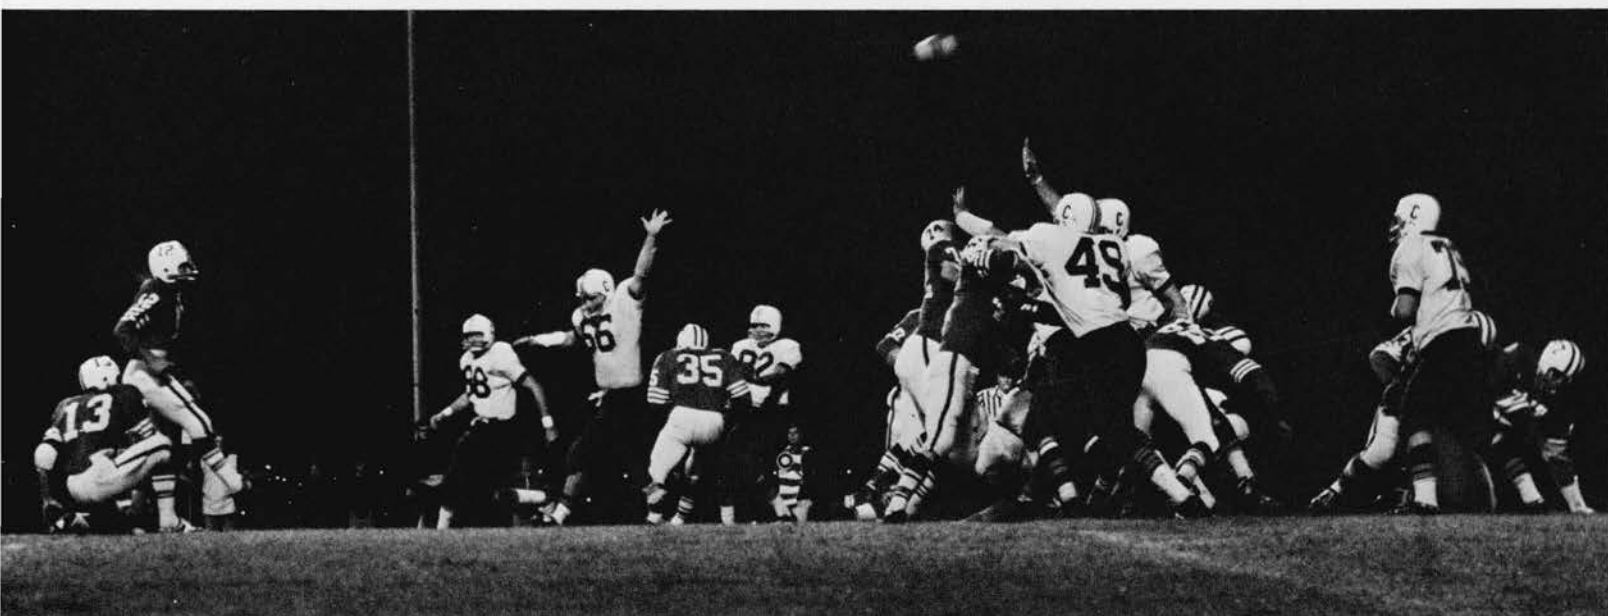

The Beavers made it to the conference championship game against Jamestown as they had expected but the Jimmies downed Minot 32-14 by capitalizing on a few key plays.

Hank Hettwer's Beavers started the season by defeating Wahpeton on their home grid. The Wildcats stayed with the Beavers the first half but Minot exploded in the second half to down the Cats 27-7.

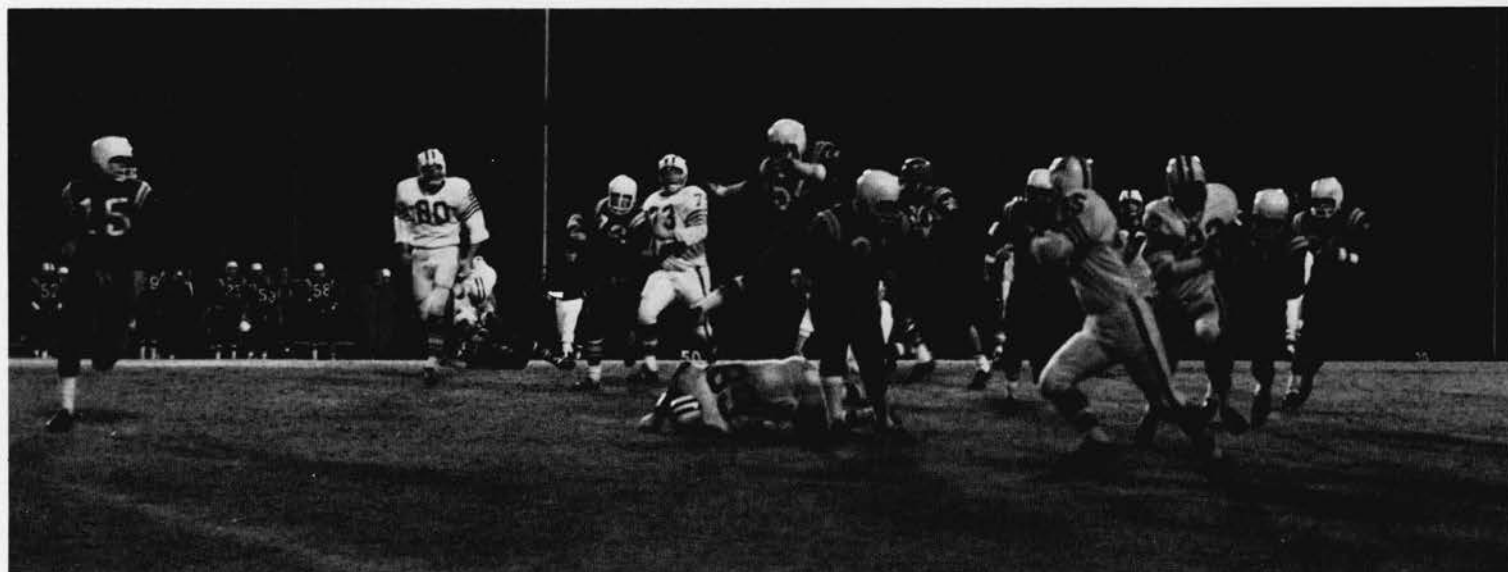

The following week the team traveled to Albert Lea, Minnesota, to take on Lea College. The offense and defense did not click and Minot dropped the game 35-7.

After Lea College the Beavers traveled to Ellendale to take on the Dusties. The gridders got back on the winning wagon by defeating the Dusties 27-2.

Minot returned to their home field and took on Mayville State. The Beaver defense held tough all night while the offense were kept busy scoring. Minot State came out on top 33-0.

Over-confidence proved near fatal to the Beavers after they traveled to Valley City to conquer the Vikings on their Homecoming. The Vikings and Beavers were deadlocked at 13-13 when the game ended.

The Homecoming weekend was a complete success with good weather and an exciting game, however with the first half 20-0 score in favor of Dickinson the game looked pretty hopeless. After the halftime break the Beavers came back strong and trounced the Savages by scoring 27 points the second half and ended the game with a 27-20 victory.

Following the Mayville victory the team traveled to Jamestown to play the Jimmies for the conference title. It was a hard fought game but Jamestown came up on top 32-14.

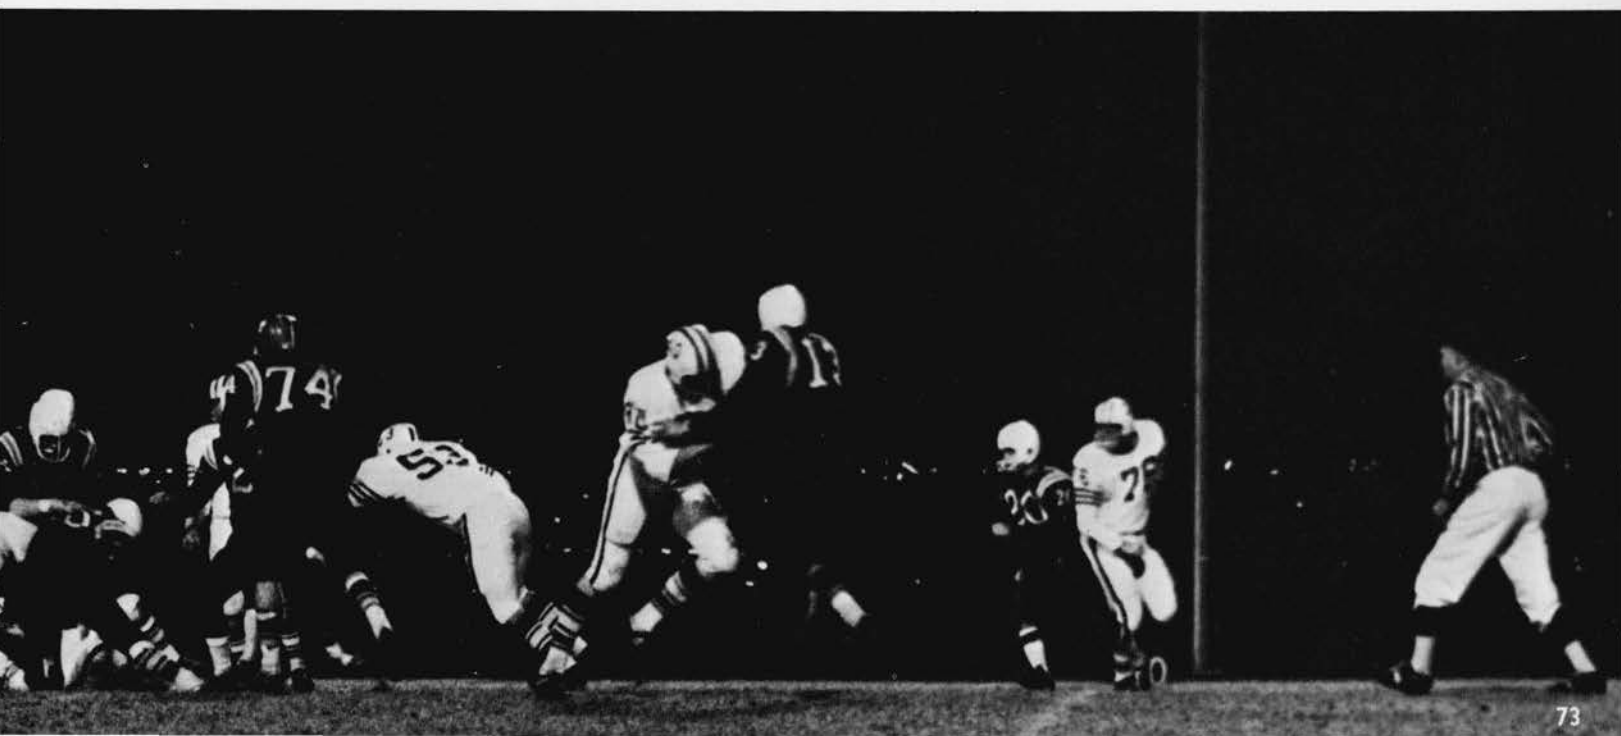

Minot State finished the season in top style by defeating St. Vital of Canada by a score of 61-6. The Beavers completely dominated the game on both offense and defense.

Although the Beavers did not win the conference title they had many individual honors. Five Beavers won all-conference honors and two others were honorable mention. The all conference choices were seniors Jack Nybakken, linebacker; Rich Wigness, offensive center; junior Dwight Farrell, defensive end and sophomores Bob Just and Rocky Cofer, honorable mention choices.

Injuries plagued the Beavers all through the season. Former all-district, all-conference quarterback Clyde Sissel was injured throughout the season which seriously hurt the Beaver defensive secondary. Senior Carmen LoRe, also a former all-conference choice, was out half the season with a knee injury.

The season's second place Beavers elected defensive ends Wendell Mongeon and Dwight Farrell as next season's co-captains. The Beavers, led by these two and 40 returning lettermen, are hoping for a better season in the upcoming year.

Season ends grapplers' championship reign

Minot State's 1968-69 wrestling squad under Coach Dean Bachmeier experienced its toughest competition in the school's wrestling history. The Beaver grapplers completed the season with an 11 and 4 win-loss record and a disappointing third place in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference.

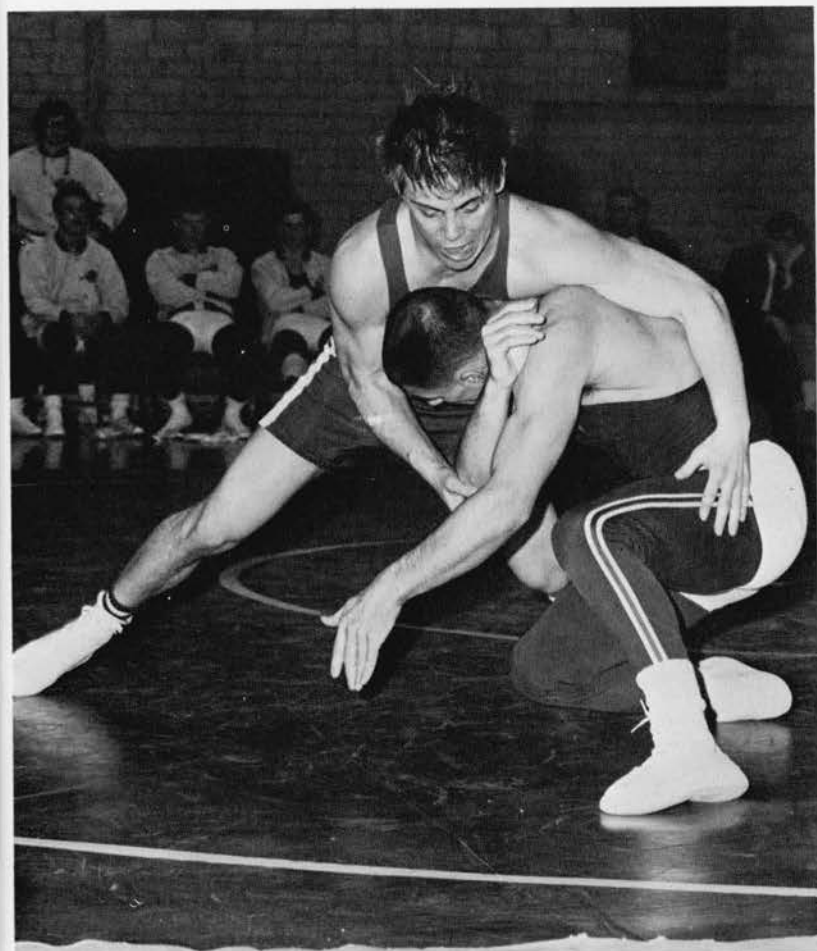

The Beavers opened the wrestling season December 5 winning a triangular meet from Wahpeton and Ellendale by scores of 29-13 and 32-12 respectively. December 14 the Beavers traveled to Bozeman, Montana, to take on Montana State and Washington State. Minot won the dual with Montana 17-12 but dropped the match with Washington State 23-11. The team returned to conference action December 18 and downed Mayville 22-19. Following the Christmas holiday the Beavers went to Jamestown and dumped the Jimmies 30-8.

Washington State gave the Beavers a good match but January 24 when the squad traveled to Bemidji, they discovered that the University of Northern Iowa and Bemidji State of Minnesota were pretty stiff competition also. Northern Iowa defeated the Beavers 22-9 and Bemidji defeated them 16-15.

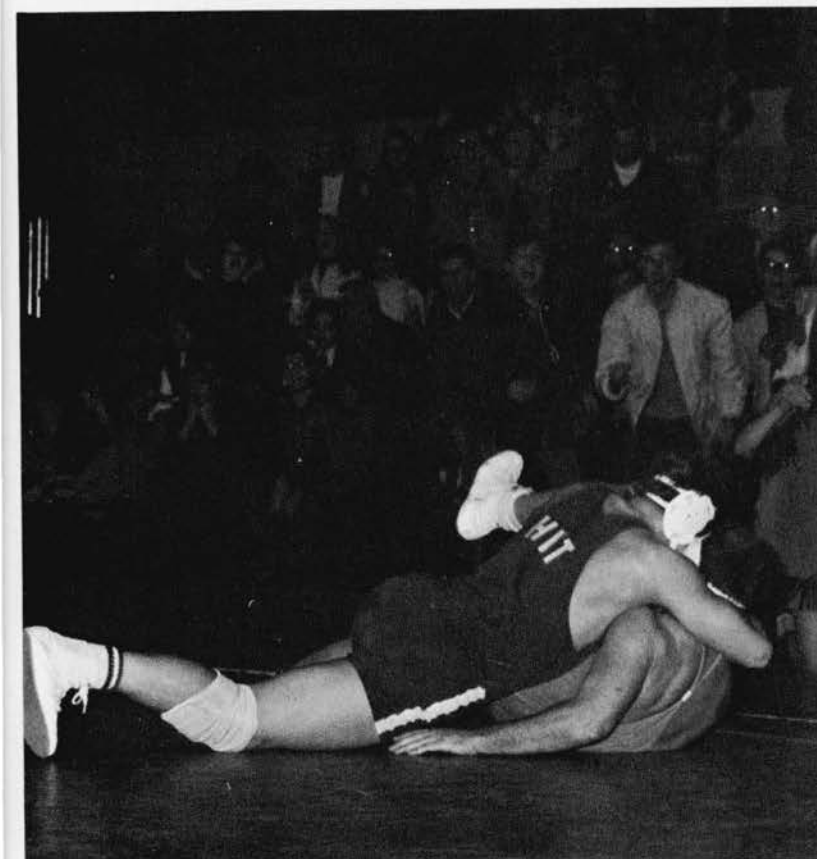

January 31 the grappling squad traveled to Spearfish, South Dakota, and downed Black Hills State College 26-17. The Beaver fans did not see a home wrestling match until February 6 but the match with Valley City State which was not decided until the final match proved to be worth the waiting. Minot won the match 18-15. In the final dual match of the season February 13 the Beavers lost their only conference match to Dickinson 23-13 and ended the season with an 11 and 4 dual record.

The Beavers placed third in the NDCAC Tournament held in Wahpeton with 65 points. Valley City had 66 points and Dickinson won the tournament with 95 points. The tournament defeat ended Minot's four year reign as conference champs.

The Beavers had three conference champs and one second place winner. The champs were Willie McCollum at 137 lbs., Willie is a three time conference champ; at 167 lbs. Jim Byron; and at hwt. Dwight Farrell. Farrell was the 191 lb. champ last year. Tim Walsh placed second in the tourney at 145 lbs. These four wrestlers represented Minot State at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic Tournament March 6-7-8 at Omaha, Nebraska.

Basketball squad stands 6-6 in conference

MSC's Beaver basketball squad had its ups and downs this year but ended the season in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference with a 6-6 conference record. The team had a 2-6 nonconference record but the competition was very keen.

Under the new head coach, Wes Luther, the Beavers opened their season against Aberdeen, South Dakota, and squeaked out a one point victory. Minot lost their next two outings to Black Hills and South Dakota Tech but bounded back to beat General Beadle of Madison, South Dakota.

In their next five outings the Beavers fell short of their opponents and lost games to Wahpeton, Chadron, Nebraska, and Northern Montana.

Downing Ellendale in their first outing after the new year, the Beavers then lost three conference games to Valley City, Jamestown and Mayville. The games with the Vikings and the Jimmies were lost by two points each.

The quintet came back to stop Dickinson and trounced Ellendale by cracking the 100 point mark for the first time this year. In the second outing with Valley City the team lost by five but they did not give up and beat Wahpeton in their next meeting. The conference championship team, Mayville, turned out to be too much for the Beavers as they downed Minot by 18 points.

By defeating Dickinson for the second time and then trouncing Jamestown, the Beavers closed the season on a winning note.

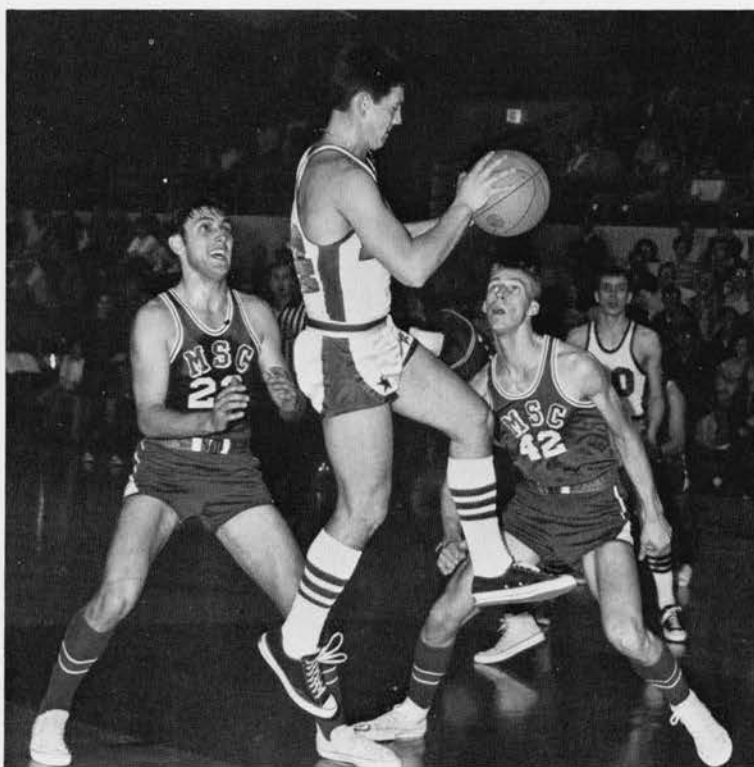

Third in the NDCAC, the Beavers finished behind second place Wahpeton and first place Mayville. In statistics Minot was second in team offense and second in team defense behind Mayville in both categories.

Weightmen lead team

Minot State thinclads had a mediocre season in track last year. Under the helm of Coach Wes Luther, Minot State finished fifth in the conference with the Dickinson State Savages taking the number one position. The Beavers placed a number of men in the North Dakota College Athletic Conference with Dwight Farrell as the top point gainer for them. Dwight took first place in the discus with Wally Kalmbach in close pursuit with second place. Pat Scott won another first place for the Beavers in the long jump.

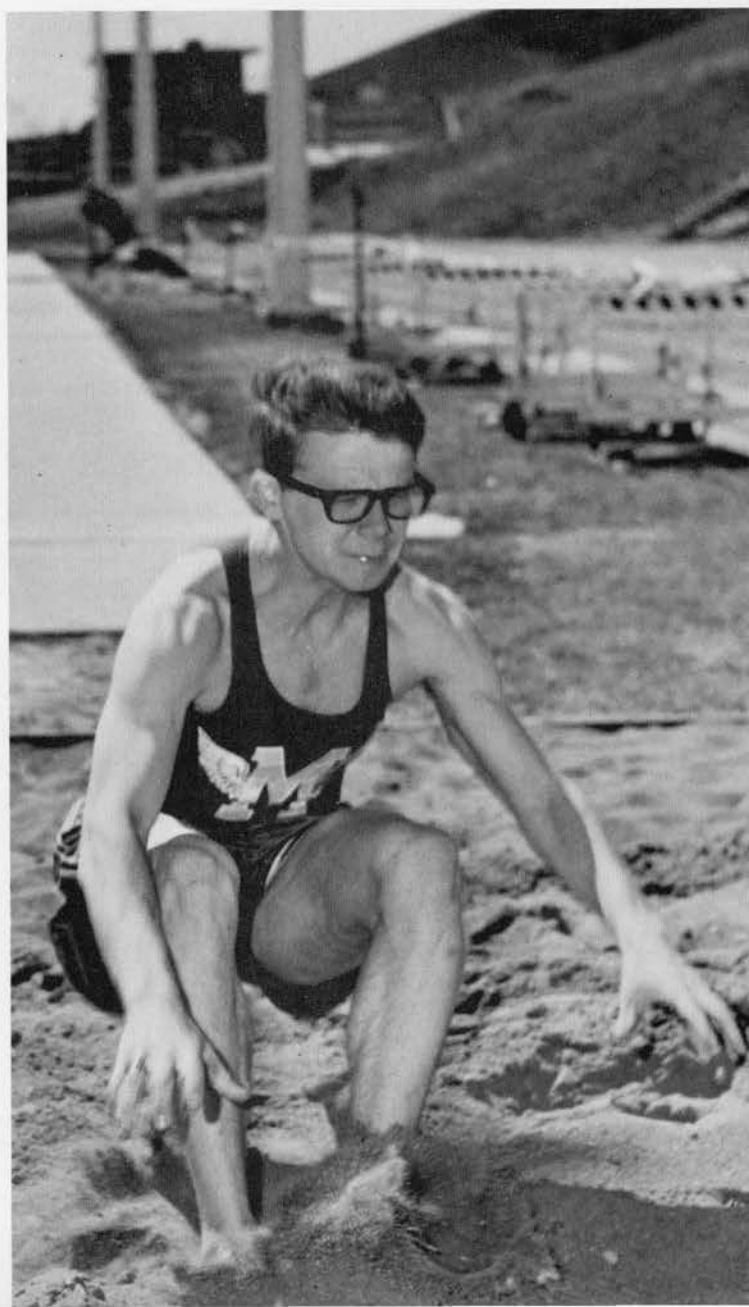

Other Minot men placing in the meet were Pat Marion with a third in the 220 yard dash; Sheldon Gudmunson earned a fourth in the javelin; Ken Reinke received a fifth in the long jump; Wally Kalmbach made fifth in the shot to add to the second he earned in the discus; the Beavers' 440 yard relay team placed fourth. Members of the relay were Pat Marion, Ken Reinke, Mike Grandall and Charlie Anderson.

With many returning lettermen and some promising freshmen, the Beavers were sure of a good season this year under the direction of Wiley Wilson, the former coach from Minot Model.

Snow finishes season

Some bad weather and some bad breaks stymied the Beavers' hopes for a conference playoff championship last season. Coach Ken Becker's team played in only one playoff game and were defeated by Yankton College 6-4. Because of the snowy conditions the Beavers were forced out.

The Beavers played without an exceptionally large pitching staff, but with good fielding and hitting they managed a 22-6 overall record. They finished second in the conference play with a 7-3 record.

Minot State had the services of four seniors Curt Seibel, John Thompson, Joe Colloca and Jim Everson. These veterans played an important role in Minot victories.

The team was led in hitting by Tom Kraft who hit .418. Joe Colloca, an excellent fielder also had a good hitting season with a .370 average. In all the Beavers had seven hitters over the .300 mark.

Donn Feldner was the pitching ace, winning six and losing one. Art Grochou also did a good job with a 3-0 record as did Jim Everson with a 4-2 record.

Although the loss of four good seniors will hurt the Beavers, they look forward to a good season this year. Coach Becker has many good sophomores and juniors who can do the job for the Beavers in an attempt for a winning campaign.

3 points keep netmen from NDCAC title

The Minot State tennis team opened its season with a victory in a dual meet with Dickinson State by a score of 5-1. The second match the netters traveled to Jamestown for a triangular. Minot State defeated the Jimmies 4-2 but dropped the second match to Minot Air Force Base 4-2.

The Beavers placed second at the Dickinson State Invitational behind Jamestown by one point. At the Jamestown Invitational Minot dropped down to 4th place.

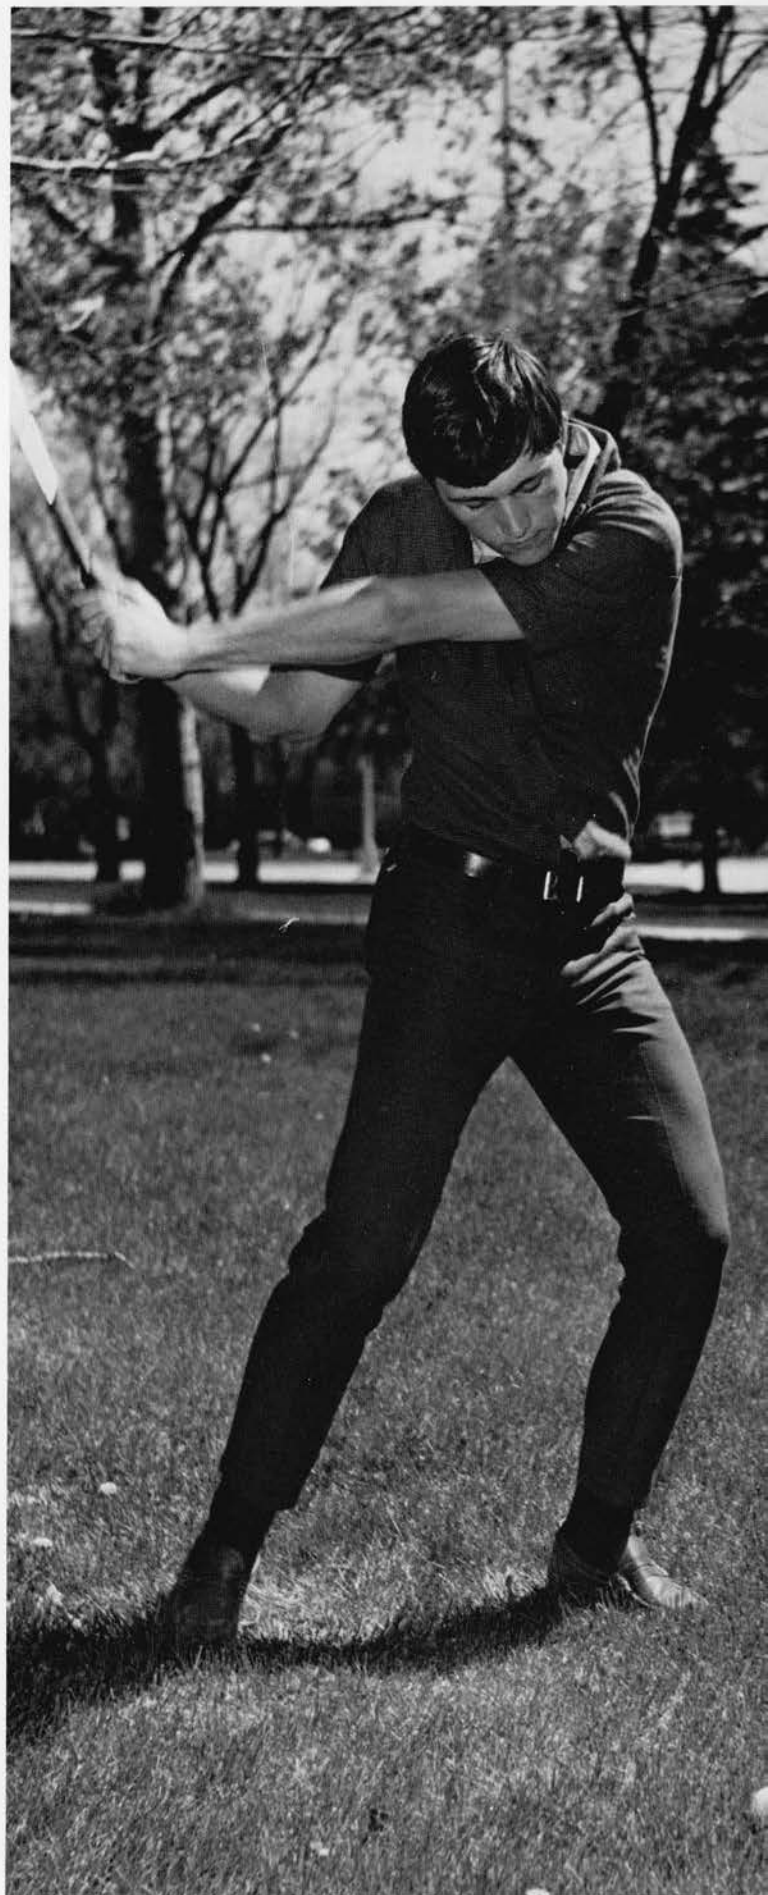

At the North Dakota College Athletic Conference tournament Hank Hettwer's netmen placed 4th, but only three points separated them from the championship taken by Jamestown.

The team will be looking forward to a good season this year with two regulars back in Bob Bartz and Dave Levenson. Two of the starters, Lowell Thomas and Charlie Axness, graduated.

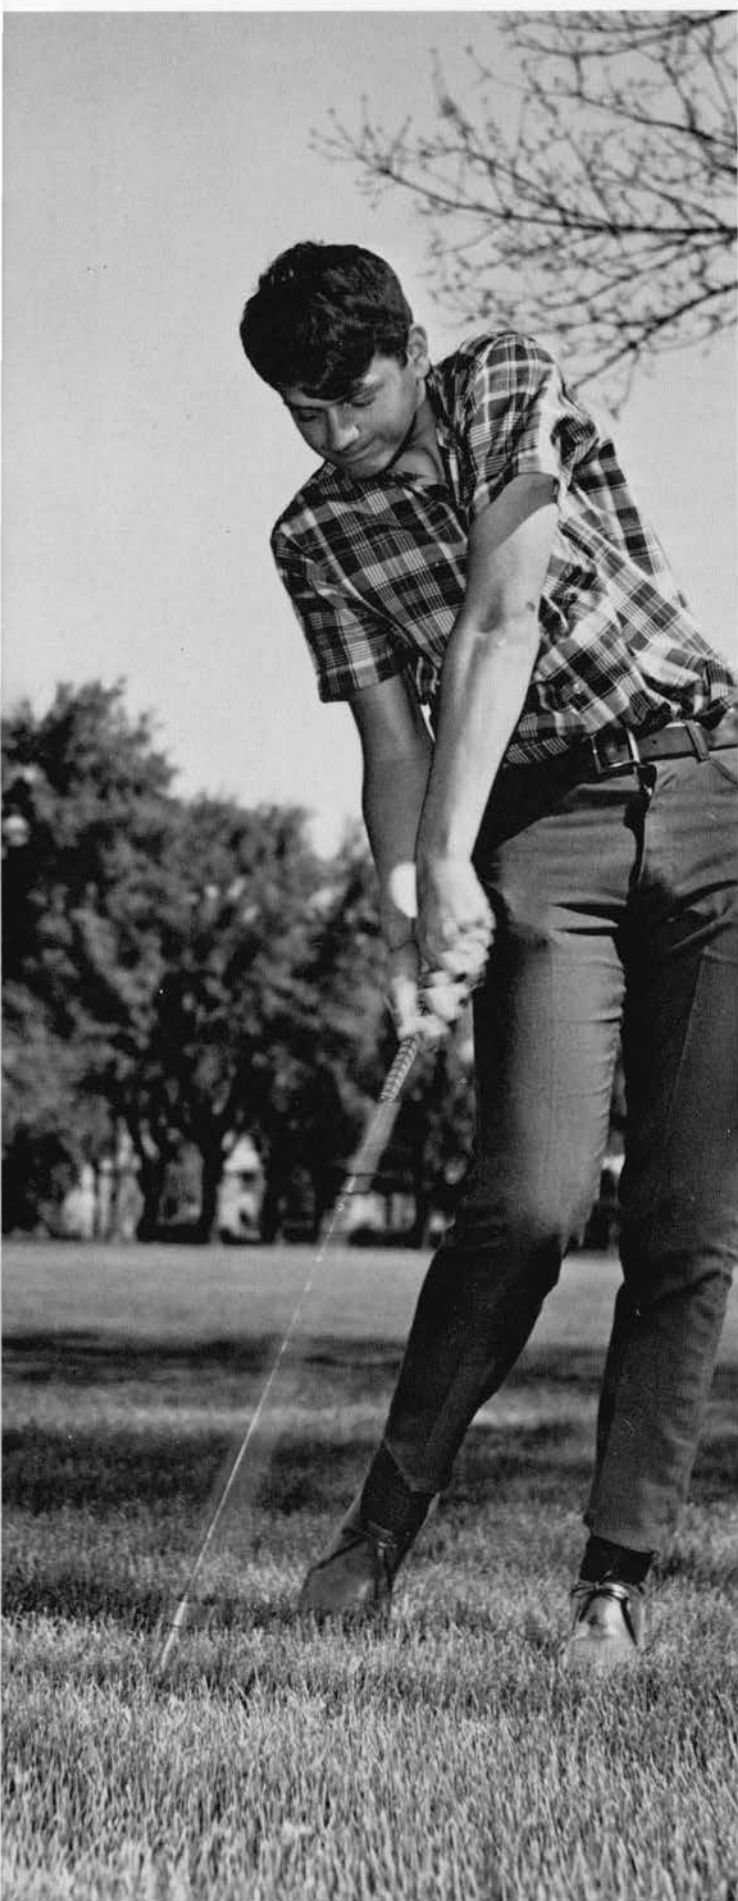

Golfers build team to better records

The Minot State College Beaver's golf team under the supervision of Coach Rod Caufield, did not fare too well this year on the links. After losing the previous year's conference championship by a mere one point, the Beavers this year ended at the bottom of the standings. Wahpeton State School of Science golf squad was the victor in the struggle for first place contenders in this year's conference.

Three of the team's members were hold-overs from last season's squads. Tim Kretchmar, Steve Parkman and Randy Knutson had all been on the 1967 team. The newcomer to the field was Jim Herigstad. All were fresh and relatively inexperienced in collegiate competition. However, these golfer's scores showed marked improvement toward the end of the season. This was primarily due to the daily practices instigated and supervised by Coach Caufield. The lower scores witnessed at the end indicated a more promising team.

Men's team competes

This year for the first time, MSC fielded full men's and women's gymnastic teams which participated in active collegiate competition. Gymnastics, a relatively new sport in North Dakota, appeared on campus in the last few years. Although both of Coach Mike Ryan's teams are young, with three freshmen on the men's squad, a fine first year of gymnastic competition was completed.

The divisions in a gymnastic meet include variations of the parallel bars, free exercise, the rings, the balance beam, the horse and the high bar. In two triangular meets the women's team turned in two second place finishes over generally older and more experienced teams.

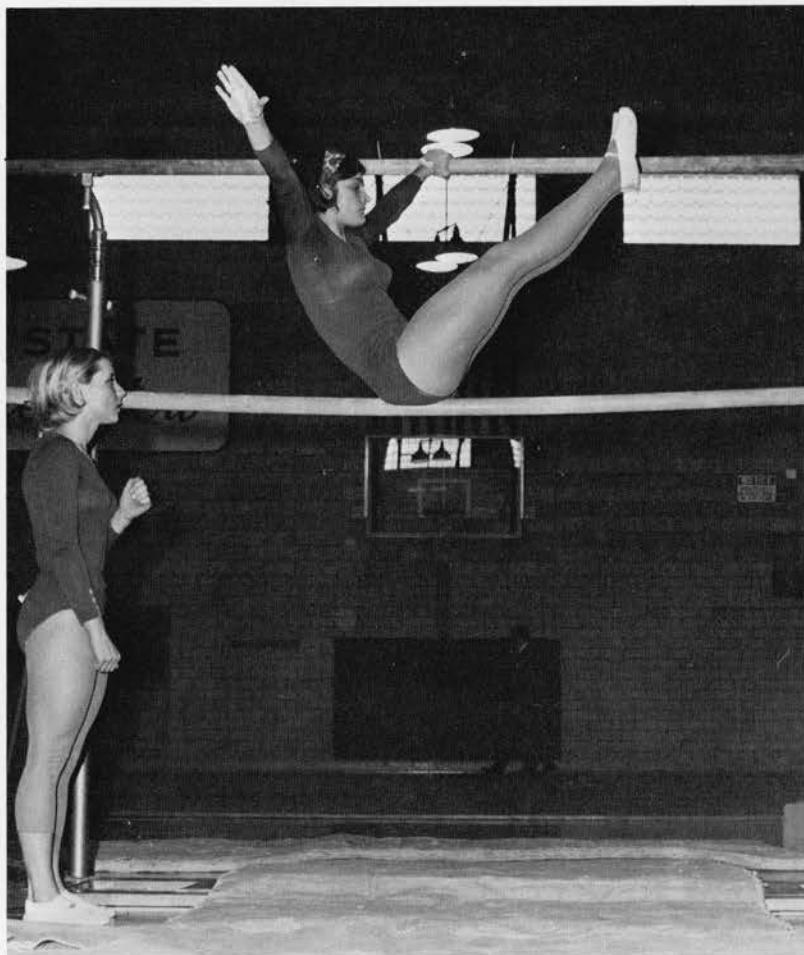

The men's team, though not faring as well, managed one second place finish and three third place finishes against such teams as Dickinson, UND, NDSU and Eastern Montana State.

Time is an equalizing factor and with the experience that time will bring out in our young team, MSC can look forward to a productive future in gymnastics.

Fine spring weather and I-M softball bring out the competitive spirit and the fierce nature in MSC men.

Full bill for I-M

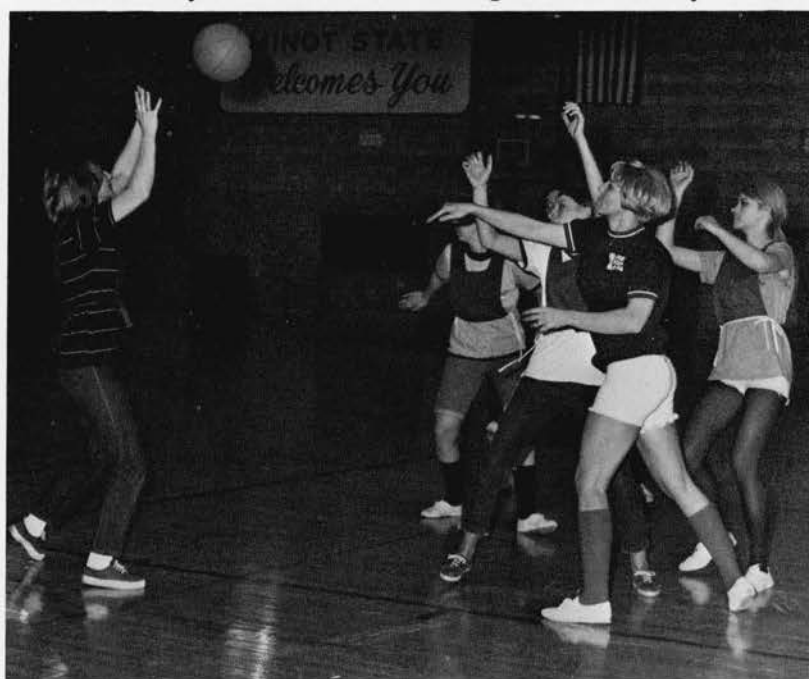

Extracurricular activities are often beneficial to students and to the college. The I-M program is set up with this in mind thus giving those not on the varsity teams the opportunity to participate in sports.

Included in the I-M list of sports were football, softball, basketball, bowling, track and wrestling. The male of the species did not dominate the scene this year. Girls' teams were also actively engaged in the program, fielding basketball and bowling teams.

Student interest in the program boosted the spirit of rivalry among the groups participating. Each event brought out a gamut of spectators to cheer on the teams and encourage a higher point accumulation.

At press time the schedule was still in full swing and the competition was still high.

A Greek year

Without the cooperation of the weather Greek Week could have been chaotic; without the enthusiasm of the Greeks, it was. As hard as they tried, Greek Council just couldn't fit a week of outdoor activity into two complete weeks of rain. And as the postponements and cancellation were announced day after day, the Greek spirit dropped to a discouraging low.

One thing the rain couldn't wash out was the coronation of a Greek Goddess, Janet Sand, Beta Theta, and a Greek God, Rich Wigness, Sigma Tau Gamma.

Once again special Greeks were singled out as favorites. Three new sorority sweethearts—Mu Sig's Zella Berg, Sig Tau's Bobbi Rieder, and Teke's Judy Muttonen—proudly wore their fraternity badges.

Each sorority also chose their favorite man. Roger Carlson, Delta Zeta Flame Man; Ken Reinke, Sigma Dream Man; Van Cooper, Delta Phi Dream Man; and Rich Wigness, Beta Snow King, were the lucky guys with temporary membership in the other half of the Greek world.

Summer was a general time of inactivity for the Greeks, except the energetic few who started work on Homecoming. Some of the chapters sent delegates to national conventions and the Sig Taus came home with first runnerup awards to the national chapter of the year.

The opening of classes in September began what looked like another Greek dominated orientation program. But the freshman didn't appreciate the humor in the judgments handed down by the Kangaroo Court. With their battle cry "Kill a Greek for God" they managed to disturb a little of the Greek complacency.

Then came Homecoming. Weeks of planning and campaigning, last minute nail pounding and tense nerves ended in a weekend of hilarity. Judy Muttonen, a Beta, was crowned Homecoming Queen. The Sig Taus took home a well-deserved first place float trophy and the Sigma's house display won them a first place trophy.

The Greek world isn't all play. In October the Greeks at MSC canvassed the city for the Community Chest Drive. Working in teams they covered the city and collected over $2,000 to give to the Chest.

The sororities, feeling their rush system could use a little polishing, looked over the situation and decided to make a big change. They began open rush and, the first week after Christmas, held formal rush. The problems and hard feelings were plentiful but after the changes became familiar, the new system promised to run smoothly.

SA tackles big issues

Coordinating faculty, administration and student representation, the MSC Student Association serves as the students' vocal organ in all college related affairs, be they academic or social.

SA has promoted an increased social program by sponsoring numerous dances, movies and coffee houses, in addition to at least two big name acts per quarter. It has also supported a movement to extend dorm hours for women.

To boost student representation in school affairs, SA has obtained student memberships with full voting rights on faculty committees as well as an increased Student Senate role in academic matters.

SA has purchased a printing press for college and student publicity which has been instrumental in promoting its various functions. Last fall, the student body approved a referendum to finance the construction budget for an amphitheater with the aid of Alumni Association funds. Said cost of this theater was approximately $85,000. This, with the subsequent endorsement of the state legislature, was largely the result of the active support of the Student Association.

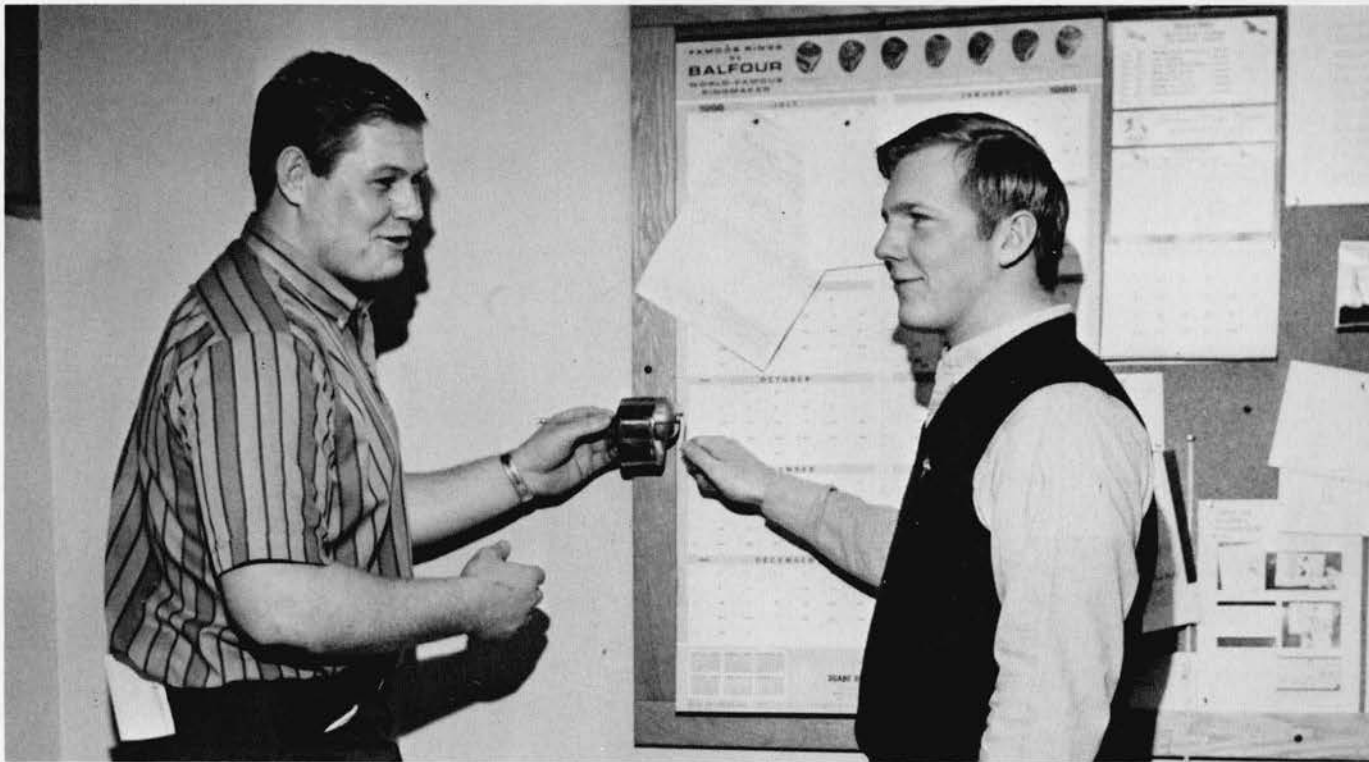

MSC and its Student Association hosted a tri-state student association conference this spring.

Minot State College Band, which constitutes one of the largest organizations on campus has a two-fold function. It provides an opportunity for musical growth through the preparation and performance of the finest literature and to develop socially through group fellowship and individual responsibility. One of the objectives of this group is to educate the members of the organizations in the field of instrumental music.

The band is made up of three different units, namely Concert, Symphonic and Marching bands. The Concert and Symphonic bands are select groups, 100 and 68 members respectively. Both gave tour concerts in North Dakota this spring. Together they sponsored the annual Fall Music Clinic, played at the Christmas concert and performed at the annual spring home concert.

The MSC bands were hosts to the students who participated in the yearly All-State Band and Chorus Days February 21 and 22. They also sponsored a performance for these outstanding musicians from North Dakota high schools. These two consolidated units are always on the scene for commencement exercises and all home basketball games.

The third and probably the most spotlighted unit is the MSC Marching Band. All the members from Concert and Symphonic bands make up the Marching Band.

Last fall the college band performed a half-time show at a Winnipeg Blue Bombers football game and on New Year's Day marched in the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena.

In addition to the many hours of practice required for such an engagement and the demands of college work, the members took on the financing for the trip to California. This was done by compiling and selling a cookbook, donating blood, assessing members a part of the trip's cost, seeking individual monetary contributions from outside the band and other special projects.

A further recognition of the band's reputation came when Governor Guy named the MSC Marching Band the Official Governor's Band for 1969.

Men's group grows

Any college man who is interested in singing is eligible to join Vagabonds. The Vagabonds is the men's chorus at Minot State and like the Women's Chorus, meets for rehearsals daily at noon. The group has grown rapidly in the past two years. Fifty voices comprise the choir now, compared to thirty last year.

North Dakota, Montana and South Dakota high schools were visited during their second winter tour which was taken in February. At the conclusion of this tour, the Vagabonds returned to Minot to present their home concert February 18.

Along with the other vocal organizations on campus, the Vagabonds performed for the fall music clinics, at the Christmas Choral Vespers, and for the All-State chorus.

This spring the Vagabonds performed two extended choral works: Alto Rhapsody by Brahms, and Flor Peeters' Te Deum.

A variety of literature is studied by the Vagabonds. This music, ranging from Hello, Dolly! to Requiem Aeternam gives the men opportunity to become familiar with the full gamut of musical literature.

so does women's

Women's Chorus, a group of women who enjoy singing, has concluded a busy year. This year the group is larger than it has been previously and now boasts approximately 90 members. These 90 women convene during the noon hour each day Monday through Friday for rehearsals.

Concerts presented by the Women's Chorus have included performances for the band and vocal clinics last fall, the Christmas Convocation concert and the Christmas Choral Vespers. The Christmas Choral Vespers was presented in collaboration with the Concert Choir and the Vagabonds near Christmas time, and consisted of only sacred music. The Chorus also presented a performance for the All-State high school chorus this winter.

Their annual spring tour was taken April 21 and 22, concluding with their home concert on the evening of April 22 in McFarland Auditorium.

Symphony Association

now in its 5th year

In June, 1965, the Minot area saw the incorporation of the Minot Symphony Association. Prior to this time, the only existing symphonic orchestras of any significance in North Dakota were in Grand Forks and Fargo, both on the eastern border of the state. With the formation of this group, persons living in the western part of the state had opportunity to be exposed to the performance of live symphony music.

The objectives of the Minot Symphony Association are many. The association is striving to improve the musical excellence of the Minot College-Community Symphony Orchestra. They are providing an opportunity for an increased number of musicians in northwest Dakota to perform with a symphony orchestra. They are making live quality symphony music available to a greater number of children and adults in the region. And ultimately they are creating a much needed interest in the training of young string players in our part of the state.

Interest in symphonic music has shown considerable increase since the group's formation. Participants in the orchestra have come from as far away as Grand Forks to perform with the group. And although a large percentage of the audience was from the Minot area, a substantial number of persons traveled many miles to take in the concerts.

The group plans to continue the existing program while also improving and expanding it.

. . . many performances

MSC's Concert Choir has completed another successful year. The members of the group were selected last spring after auditions and have practiced fifty minutes a day, five days a week, since classes began in the fall.

Performances of the choir have given the group, as well as our college, renown. They sang as part of the mass choir in the community production of Handel's Messiah at the Municipal Auditorium, and participated in the Christmas Choral Vespers held here on campus.

Highlighting the traditional spring concert tour were the performances of the group in Regina, Saskatchewan. After being in Regina two years ago, the concert choir was invited back to be a part of the Regina Junior Concert Series. These concerts, as the name implies, are a series of concerts held in Regina for young people. Invitations to participate are few and they go only to outstanding groups. After performing in this concert the choir also presented an evening concert for the city of Regina.

Upon returning from this tour, the choir presented their home concert, and in the spring presented a major oratorio to conclude their major performances for the year.

Sigma Alpha Iota is a fraternity of musicians who are endeavoring to uphold the highest ideals of musical education. These women, all music majors or minors, advance the cause of music by cultivating professional attitudes towards music.

SAI aids the music department in the promotion and organization of band and choir clinics, concerts and all college musical events.

During their monthly meetings the members usually present musicals concerned with the music of foreign lands.

This spring the SAI collaborated with Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia to hold a spring formal. They also sponsored a benefit concert with participants entered by various local musical groups. Proceeds were used for music materials for the mentally retarded.

Sinfonia furthers professional goals

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia at Minot State College, a national professional music fraternity for men, has as its main purpose the making of music. These men promote music for themselves by singing for themselves and for others by presenting recitals. Also serving as a service organization, Phi Mus usher at concerts and recitals and assist with Minot Community Concerts.

Sinfonia members gather monthly for dinner and a meeting. Concluding their activities year is a spring formal.

Any male with an active interest in music is eligible for membership. Some members are majors and some are minors although major or minor status is not an entrance requirement.

Recitals are presented by Sinfonia in the fall and in the spring. The fall recital is given in conjunction with the annual music clinic while the spring concert is the major concert. Each quarter the pledges of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia present a recital as a part of their pledge training.

Officers of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia are Raphael Dockter, president; Wayne Schempp, vice president; Robert Pfau, secretary.

an avant-garde night . . .

Music Educators National Conference, which meets monthly, interests many students with its wide variety of program offerings. Faculty speakers and student panels filled the year's schedule with a gamut of topics: Leon Bradley spoke on jazz, Dr. Roy Stillwell lectured on church organs and Dr. James Jurrens discussed marching bands.

A small chamber opera was performed, discussions on the organization of performing groups were held and other facets of music were delved into.

A new area was explored during an "avant-garde" night when members presented instruments of their own creation and original music written for them. This spring the group took a sizeable delegation to the North Central District Convention of MENC in Fargo.

These programs along with various other activities were planned with the intention of supporting and expanding the goals of MENC which are to further interest in music in areas beyond the limits of the curriculum requirements of the sponsoring institution. Although the group consists mainly of music majors and minors, any interested person is eligible for membership.

Richard Hahn, vice president, Mary Solomonson, treasurer, and Brooks Grantier, president, oversee the activities of MENC.

Alpha Psi to do own production

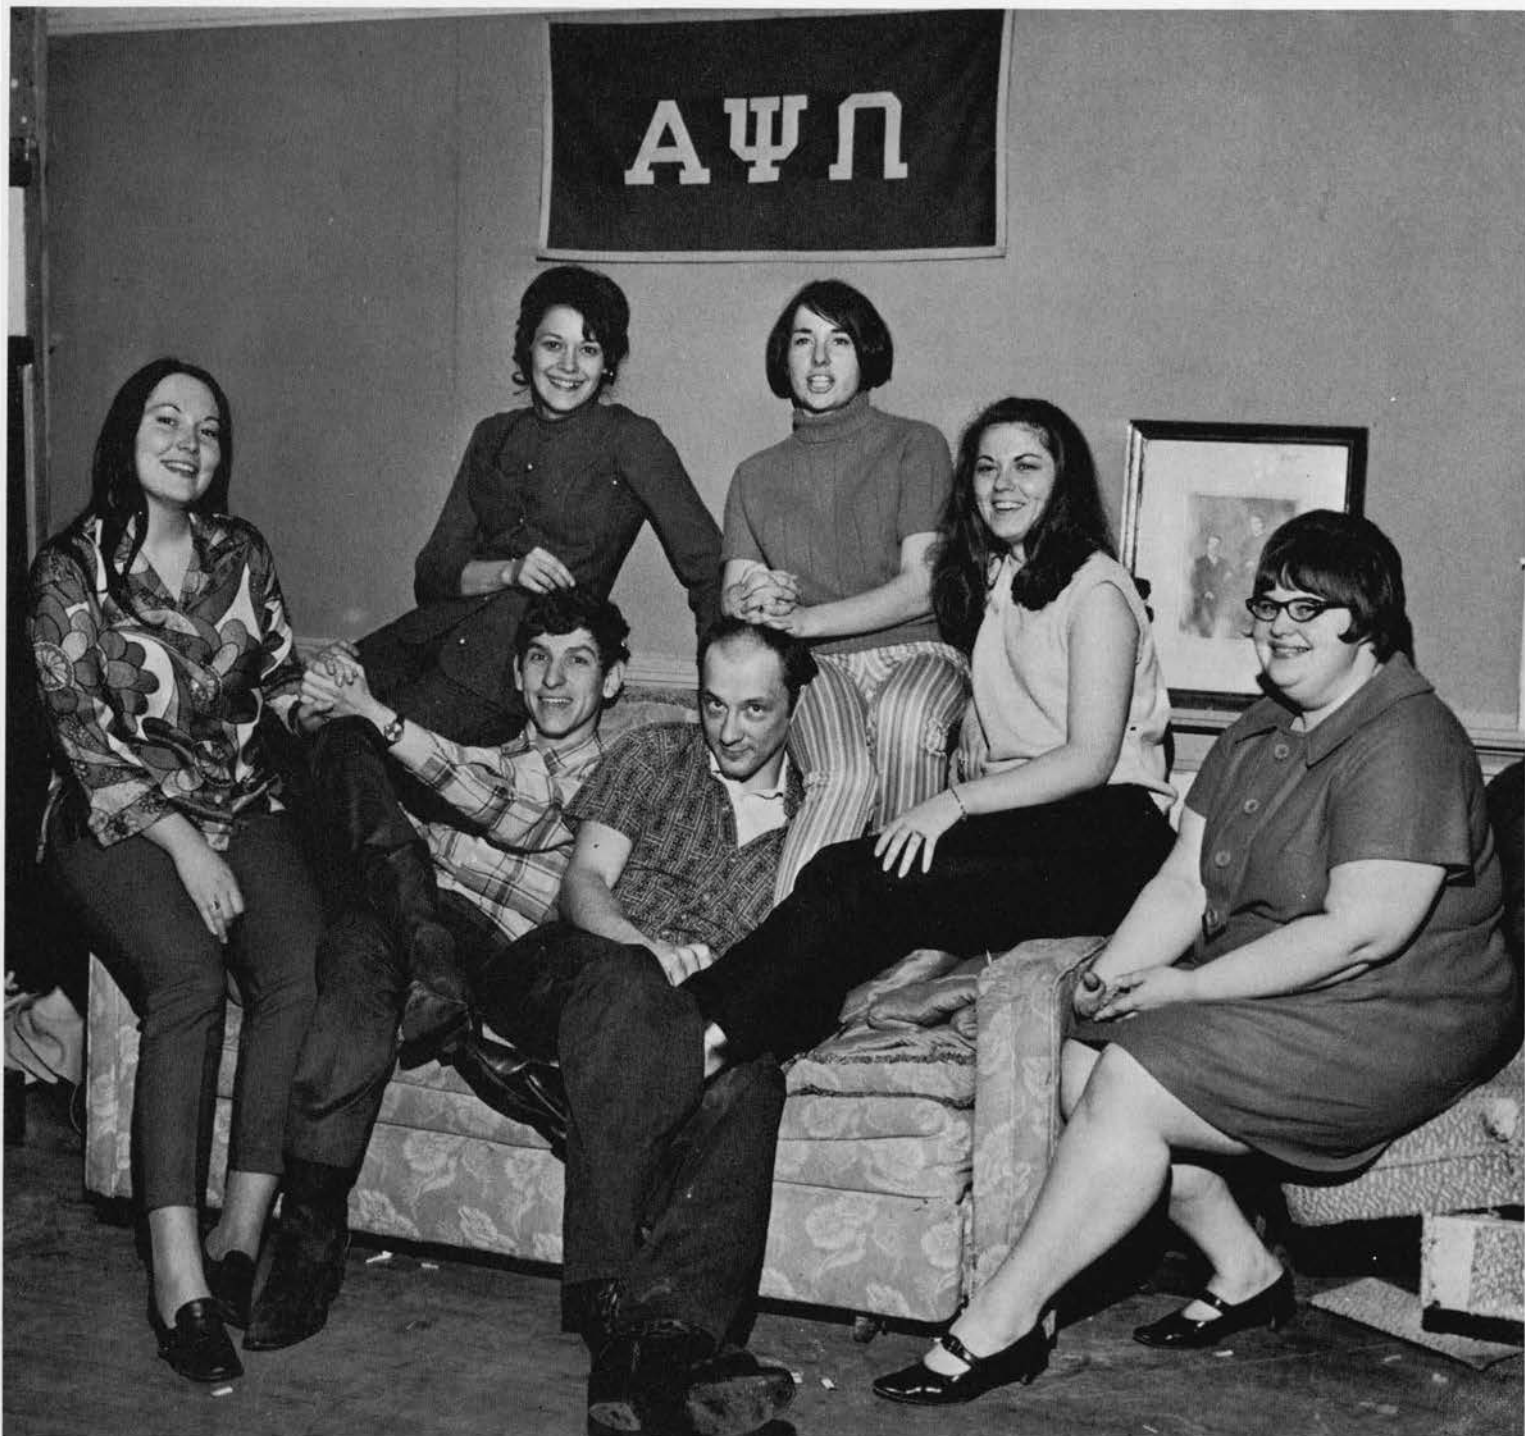

In conjunction with the drama department on campus is Alpha Psi Omega, a fraternity honoring those thespians who have done outstanding work in dramatics. Initiation into this organization stresses originality and knowledge of dramatics as well as the technological aspects of stagecraft.

To be considered for admission into Alpha Psi a prospective member must have a desire to engage in theatrical activities. He must have earned 80 Campus Player points by active participation in drama productions.

Until now the members of Alpha Psi participated only in drama department productions. This year, for the first time, the organization will sponsor its own production, The Bat. The cast for this play will consist exclusively of the members of Alpha Psi.

Further spring plans included cooperating with the Class "B" regional high school speech festival. At this event held at Minot State, Alpha Psi Omega will sponsor lectures, displays and will aid in the completion of competition.

Alpha Psi members are Coring Hansen, president; Holly Triplett; Jerry Tuchscherer, vice president; Gary Nesdahl; Mary Marquart, secretary-treasurer; Vicky Effertz; Margo Ode.

M-405 now a theater

The tradition of the theater as a great art form is perpetuated on the Minot State campus by the MSC Campus Players. All major drama productions throughout the year are sponsored by the Campus Players.

Among the various plays produced during the year were William Shakespeare's Macbeth, Thomas Heggen's Mr. Roberts and in collaboration with the music division, Rodgers and Hammerstein's South Pacific. Any one of these plays was an individual study in the assorted techniques of costuming, lighting, set design and publicity for the members.

To facilitate the advancement of the theater through experimentation, the Campus Players have converted Main 405 into a small theater where innovations and adaptations can be conveniently mastered without interference.

To limit membership to interested and qualified individuals, the group requires participation in at least one play performance. In addition all members must keep themselves available to work in all aspects of the productions.

Forensics honorary

Pi Kappa Delta, Minot State College's honorary speech fraternity, undertakes competitive and community speech events as a major part of its contribution to the campus. Members travel on various debate trips throughout the country.

Students qualifying for Pi Kappa Delta must do outstanding work in public speaking, oral interpretation, oratory, extemporaneous speaking or debate. All this must be done while on speech tournaments prior to admission to the organization.

Advancement in superior public speaking and critical thinking are the main themes of the fraternity. The members worked industriously to reach that point where logic and truth coincide within speaking.

Beta is the name given to the MSC chapter. It was founded as the number two chapter in North Dakota. Other than forensic intercollegiate tournaments, members take an active part in judging and evaluating high school speech contests and practice debates of college students.

Pi Kappa Delta members are Phil Therou, Corine Hansen, Holly Triplett, Gary Nesdahl, Gordon Greger-son.

Forensics members are Gordon Gregerson, D. A. Koenke, adviser, Phil Therou, Holly Triplett, Gary Nesdahl, Corine Hansen.

Gordon Gregerson and Phil Therou plot their strategy on the resolution.

They train to debate

Fundamentally an extension of literature and language, the area of forensics deals chiefly with public discussion, argumentation and oral interpretation. The practical application of the forensic art is typified by the Minot State debating team.

Those who participate in forensics believe that they are doing more than just taking part in another collegiate event. Debaters are trained to discern between the real facts and the trappings of an issue, to prepare a sound case and to present that case with clarity and with documented evidence.

Whereas the general public can believe in an issue, a person trained in this field can defend his position and attack that of the opposition. Because a debater prepares his case so well, he is able to defend either the pro or the con, a major feature in competition. A debater uses all the facilities available to him, giving invaluable knowledge of various sources that will aid him later in life.

This year forensics fielded a team which competed in two major meets in Billings and in Dickinson. They faced competition from Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and Idaho. March 31-April 4 found four members of Pi Kappa Delta, the honorary speech fraternity, representing Minot State in Phoenix, Arizona, attending the national convention and debate tournament.

topic is current works

Sigma Tau Delta is an honorary English fraternity for students of Minot State College majoring or minoring in English and having an overall average of 2.75. The purpose is to provide a medium for these people to discuss literary works of all kinds which are not included in the regular classroom. The subjects can be discussed in more depth and with genuine interest.

This year the main topic of interest has been contemporary works. One meeting in particular was spent discussing Yakov Bok, a modern day Job, in Bernard Malamud's The Fixer. The discussion was primarily whether The Fixer is or is not relevant to the contemporary reader. The students also reviewed various characteristics of Malamud's work and unique style; his feeling for suffering and the way in which he turned this feeling into a hopeful statement about man's present possibilities.

Other interesting contemporary works which were inspected included Nine Stories by J. D. Salinger, Mickey Spillane's detective story The Jury and today's poetry and its tradition.

club helps speakers

Meeting twice monthly are the 20 members of the Minot State College Gavel Club. The purpose of this group is to cultivate the art of public speaking, creating a confident young man with the ability to express himself and to correlate his thoughts when under pressure. Then too the preparation gained is of invaluable aid when he is interviewed for a job and is of definite service when he is in a teaching environment.

A member of Gavel Club receives his training by serving as the master of ceremonies at formal dinner meetings, by observing guest speakers and by being called upon to give impromptu speeches. Debate governed by parliamentary procedure and Robert's Rules of Order furthers a member's instruction in the art of speaking.

Gavel Club's highlights are discussion parties and dinner meetings attended not only by the men but also by their dates. The club had plans underway for a spring debate tournament involving various high school debate teams.

Coeds study abroad

"... to promote an increased understanding of the German language and culture." As stated in its constitution, this is the purpose of German Club. Membership in this organization consists of two classifications: voting membership may be held by those members enrolled in classes at Minot State, and the open membership belongs to the members who are not students here but who are interested in the goals and benefits of the organization.

An outstanding feature in German Club's program this year was the first-hand information of Germany presented by two of its members. Jeanette Holien and Linda Hildebrand showed slides and lectured on their four month study tour in Germany. Cynthia Gervais, who lived in Germany for a time, also provided several insights in the dress, customs and cuisine of German Society.

Club members also had on their agenda, a sing-in, a comedian from the Minot Air Force Base and a weekend trip to Winnipeg. On the trip, they were accompanied by their advisers, Mrs. Emma Kahvush and Miss Joyce Zimmerman.

Living the language

Not only to speak French but to live with the language is the purpose of the French Club. With this purpose in mind meetings are conducted monthly according to the rules of parliamentary procedure and in French whenever possible.

In the attempt to understand French, the members also study the culture of the land. Programs are conducted to introduce the various phases of French life to the students—the pastimes of the people, customs, history and art—as when Floyd Fairweather lectured on the French art forms, furniture and baroque styles.

Speakers are also invited to portray verbally their experiences in France and with the language. Jayne Coyne spoke last October on the six weeks she studied at the Sorbonne in Paris.

Activities include such projects as Christmas caroling at hospitals, forums on French art, an annual dinner, and the Fête Finale. At this last program skits and talent are presented with the French students of the Minot schools participating.

hearth and home

Hestia Home Economics Club is open to all women interested in home economics. The local club is affiliated with the North Dakota Home Economics Association which is made up of clubs from the University of North Dakota, North Dakota State University and MSC.

Hestia Club was named after the Greek goddess of hearth and home. Its main purpose is to further the art of home ec at MSC and to provide social activities for its members.

The club meets monthly for a business meeting and program, the programs this year being quite varied. These sessions covered such topics as problems in teenage marriages to discussions on table etiquette. Speakers consisted mainly of first year home economics teachers from the Minot area.

In the fall a cinnamon roll and coffee sale was held in the Home Economics department. Everything was made by the girls and the proceeds went towards a field trip in the spring. The girls also took an active part in planning the refurnishing of the home economics banquet room. The wallpapering was done by the girls themselves.

Hestia sponsored their annual spring style show in May. It climaxed a well-filled year for the majors and minors of home ec who participated in it.

they study problems of today's society

The Sociology Club functions to satisfy the needs and interests of those individuals concerned with the organization, development and problems of society. Meetings are arranged to accommodate guest speakers qualified to talk in the various fields of study relevant to the members' interests. During the year such speakers included representatives of Dakota Boys' Ranch, the YWCA, Minot welfare agencies and North Dakota welfare agencies.

The last days of January, the Sociology Club journeyed to St. Paul to participate in the Minnesota Association of Child Caring Institutions Conference the 30 and 31. A portion of the ticket receipts from a benefit showing of West Side Story at the Oak Park Theater was given to the Sociology Club to finance the trip. The club made another trip, this time to Jamestown and the State Mental Health Conference conducted on the 14 and 15 of April.

for those in science

Beta Gamma Phi, better known as the science club, meets bimonthly at MSC. It is composed of science majors and minors and any other students interested in modern techniques and developments in the field of science.

Beta Gamma Phi is concerned with promoting interest in the field of science and giving those interested a chance to get together and discuss ideas and new findings. In an attempt to intrigue people, the group has featured speakers both national and local to lecture at various meetings. Movies also give the students a chance to view scientific discoveries.

Each year the organization takes a trip during the spring. By visiting various museums, laboratories and clinics the members further their knowledge in science. This year's travel took them to Denver. Denver was chosen by both the Beta Gamma Phi and the Med Tech Club and the trip was taken by both groups together.

club hears Dr. Stump

To promote interest in the profession of medical technology while the students are still in college is one of the main purposes of the Med Tech Club. Organized as a unique group, together because of common interests, it gives these students foresight as to the type of work they will perform daily as medical technologists. It also gives them an opportunity to view hospitals thus enabling them to choose one for their internship.

These students of medical technology meet once a month. Guest speakers and movies help to promote interest. Dr. Michael Stump, a pathologist from Trinity Hospital in charge of medical technologists, spoke on the openings in this broad field.

Also discussed were other fields which can be entered from medical technology such as research in hematology and cancer. Dr. Stump stressed the advantage of being in this field because one can choose a post upon graduation since there is a great demand for people in research.

The group's main money making project of the year was selling candy. The money was used on the group's annual trip during spring quarter break to Denver.

The Student National Education Association is a professional organization for students preparing to enter the fields of teaching. SNEA's program is directed to cope with the practices and problems of the present as well as those encountered in future situations.

The Minot SNEA chapter was successful in its campaign supporting Ron Tschaekofske for state president. At the national convention in Dallas, Texas, Ron was elected to the position of district representative.

Several members attended the North Dakota Education Association convention in Grand Forks October 23-25. This spring a contingent from Minot participated in the SNDEA convention on the Valley City State College campus.

Members of the Minot chapter compiled information and statistics for a state survey of teaching conditions in North Dakota this year. They also conducted a panel researching and evaluating the expectations of student teachers.

The local organization sponsored an annual Faculty Student tea at Christmas time. The group also viewed a thought-provoking film, And Gladly Teach.

they stress leadership

Pi Omega Pi unites students of a high scholastic attainment in promoting loyalty, service and progress in the business profession. An important outgrowth of the organization's program is the development of effective leadership characteristics in those preparing to teach business courses or occupy managerial positions after graduation.

Delta Omega chapter of Pi Omega Pi is the local chapter of this national honorary business fraternity affiliated with the American College Honor Society. The ACHS is a conglomerate of all honorary societies in the nation.

This past year the chapter attended the national convention of Pi Omega Pi conducted at the Palmer House Hotel in Chicago. Concurrently, the chapter observed its fifth year in association with the national organization.

Besides the chapter's sojourn in Chicago, its various activities included quarterly initiation banquets in honor of new members. A typing contest for first-year typing students was sponsored by the local Pi Omega Pi chapter.

you need 2.75 average

Founded in 1916 at Central Missouri State College in Warrendsburg, Missouri, Phi Sigma Pi was organized primarily as a professional education oriented honor fraternity, but lately has been opened to virtually all men maintaining a 2.75 overall average.

Minot's Phi chapter conducts its business meetings on the first Monday of each month. These meetings' activities are directed toward dealing with education and its related problems.

While the group's interest lies in education, no specific fields of study are emphasized. Alumni and prominent educators are often called upon to organize and provoke discussions concerning specific problems or facets of education. The organization encourages a wide range of interest in education-related literature.

The national Phi Sigma Pi convention was in Washington, D.C., last October. Phi chapter was represented at the conference by Alton Nygaard.

The first of two initiations last fall admitted 18 new members. A spring Founders Day banquet with installation of new officers and initiation further compounded the size of the local chapter.

A plaque to be awarded this year's "Outstanding Senior" was tentatively scheduled for presentation this spring.

honors in education

Kappa Delta Pi encourages high professional intellectual and personal standards in its members and recognizes outstanding contributions to education. It is a co-educational national honor society for students in the field of education.

To meet its goals, Kappa Delta Pi invites to membership people who exhibit commendable personal qualities, worthy educational ideals and sound scholarship. Members must be juniors or seniors who have a 3.0 average and are enrolled in teacher education.

Guest speakers and panel discussions on topics dealing with education are the main components of the organization's program. Through these activities the group maintains a high degree of professional fellowship among members and quickens professional growth by honoring achievement in educational work.

New members were initiated at the Christmas party sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi. Another addition of members was made at a banquet that spring.

Linda Rodacker represented the chapter at the tri-state Kappa Delta Pi convention in Mankato, Minnesota, last fall.

CEC's varied program

Membership in the Student Council for Exceptional Children is open to anyone active in the field of special education interested in the education of exceptional children. The Council strives to instill professional readiness and excellence in those preparing to enter education of the exceptional.

During the course of the year CEC conducts informative programs for public benefit explaining educational needs on the local, state, regional and national scenes. The Council's concern is also focused on campaigning to recruit more interested students for careers in special education.

The Council for Exceptional Children conducted an active schedule of interesting and variegated programs treating various aspects of special education. Among these programs were reports on the Aphasia seminar in Rochester, Minnesota, personal appearances and open discussions with a blind college student and a laryngectomee, various films and video tapes.

Volunteer drives and information presentations were implemental to a planned Exceptional Children's Week. A plaque naming the Outstanding Student in CEC was awarded this spring.

Kappa Pi officers are Lester Jurgens, treasurer; Joan Youngerman, secretary; Bruce Mayer, president.

Kappa Pi, the national art fraternity on campus, has been an active organization this year. During Minot's "Western Weeks," Kappa Pi painted western scenes on the merchants' windows. The members have also engaged in advertising for both businessmen and private parties. All monies raised by Kappa Pi are directed toward art scholarships. So far they have raised approximately $400.

During Minot State's Homecoming last fall Kappa Pi sponsored Corliss Olson for Homecoming queen. Other activities included the presentation of art exhibits and an exchange with the Dickinson chapter of Kappa Pi.

A group with common ideals with a professional type of organization Kappa Pi members are trying to foster an atmosphere receptive to new trends in modern art. The standards of the group are high. Each member must maintain at least a 3.0 average and none of the money raised can be used for social activities.

upholding their cause

Young Democrats upheld their patriotic tradition by supporting all candidates of their party in the national presidential election year.

Although the members' labors were not rewarded in a spectacular triumph, the Young Democrats supported their principals in an undying fashion. As the election loomed near members campaigned to motivate other members, students and faculty.

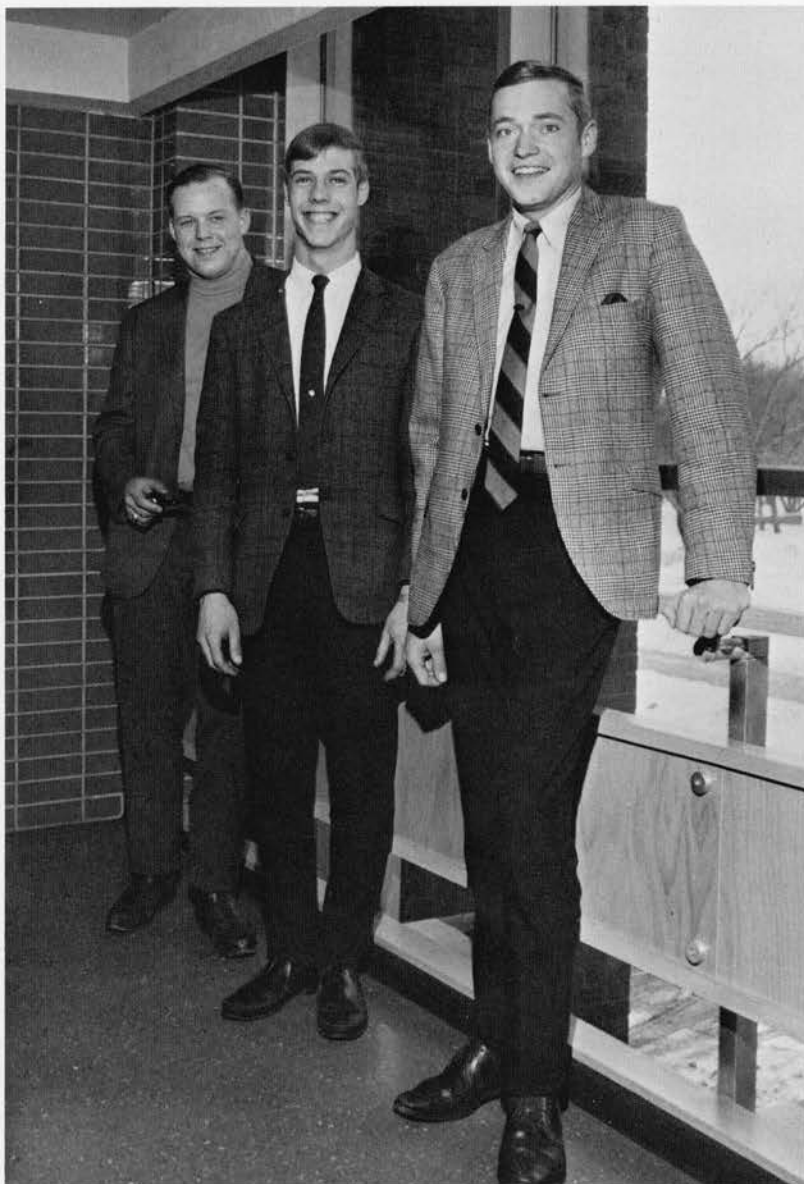

The year's activities were comprised of practical, politically educational programs.

Election campaigning and cooperating with candidates and making contact with the public is an invaluable and infrequent political opportunity. Occasional trips to Bismarck and the state legislative chambers also provided a great deal of political insight.

Young Democrats conduct a varied and active social program during the year. Numerous dances can be numbered among these.

This year, Minot State's Young Democrats hosted the North Dakota State Young Democrats' Convention.

Officers of Young Democrats are Paul Iverslie, president; Norman Livingston, vice president; Don Mohagen, treasurer.

Vets' Club active

As the name suggests, members of the Minot State College Vets' Club are veterans of the United States Armed Forces. Vets' Club strives to represent and advance the ideals of democracy and patriotism in cultivating understanding of the Armed Services in fellow students and all young people.

Consistent with this purpose are the many social activities sponsored and conducted by Vets' Club. Among these were a hay ride with the Delta Phis, a toboggan ride with the Beta Thetas, a Hawaiian Party and a Hard-time Party. A spring formal added a serious touch to the year's party endeavors.

Fund raising projects throughout the year included a car bash in which students, for a nominal sum, were allowed a smash at their favorite instructors in effigy. In addition, the Vets' Club conducted a "dunk-a-Vet" booth at the Winter Carnival to swell its coffers.

Vets' Club constructed a float which was displayed in the annual Beaver Homecoming Parade and the following Homecoming game. Vets' Club was also among sponsors of MSC Weekend and the Miss Beaver Pageant.

Linda Lockwood was the Vets' Sweetheart for 1969.

After the regular meeting, Vets have a little informal discussion.

Interest is rural life

Farmers Union Young Adults is an organization concerned with the farm family and problems in rural America. Its membership is open to all college students and provides the opportunity for these people to meet and discuss issues of the time.

In an effort to keep the youth of America interested in rural life members stress the importance of cooperatives like their complement, the North Dakota Farmers Union. Films viewed by members are geared in this direction, along with other matters, foreign, domestic and local.

Dr. Gordon B. Olson, president of the college, participated in one such program. Dr. Olson discussed with members the merits and the disadvantages of both the quarter system and the semester system. Rural students are concerned with this primarily on the basis that the farming season coincides with studies during the spring.

In addition members maintain an avid interest in legislation on the national and state levels. FU Young Adults support legislation which will aid people in rural areas.

Farmers Union Young Adults offers to members a chance to meet socially with friends on campus and on other campuses. Construction of a float at Homecoming time, a Christmas party and a spring picnic provided for such activities.

Officers of Farmers Union Young Adults are Norman Livingston, president; Sandy Huizenga, secretary; Sheryl Solberg, vice president; Sharon Romfo, representative to state; and James A. Johnson, treasurer.

Young Republicans

Members of Minot State's Young Republicans marked off an extremely busy year. The group worked in cooperation with the Fifth District Republican Party during the highly successful fall campaign. A united effort with other Young Republicans from across the state helped Richard Larsen win the office of Lieutenant Governor.

Highlighting the year was the annual state convention at Bismarck in February. Kathy Richter, a member of MSC's Young Republicans, was elected state treasurer of the North Dakota Federation of College Republican Clubs during the convention.

Other activities included several social functions at which prospective members were invited to join the group. Members also traveled to Bismarck to hear proceedings of the North Dakota Legislature and to see the officials they helped elect in action.

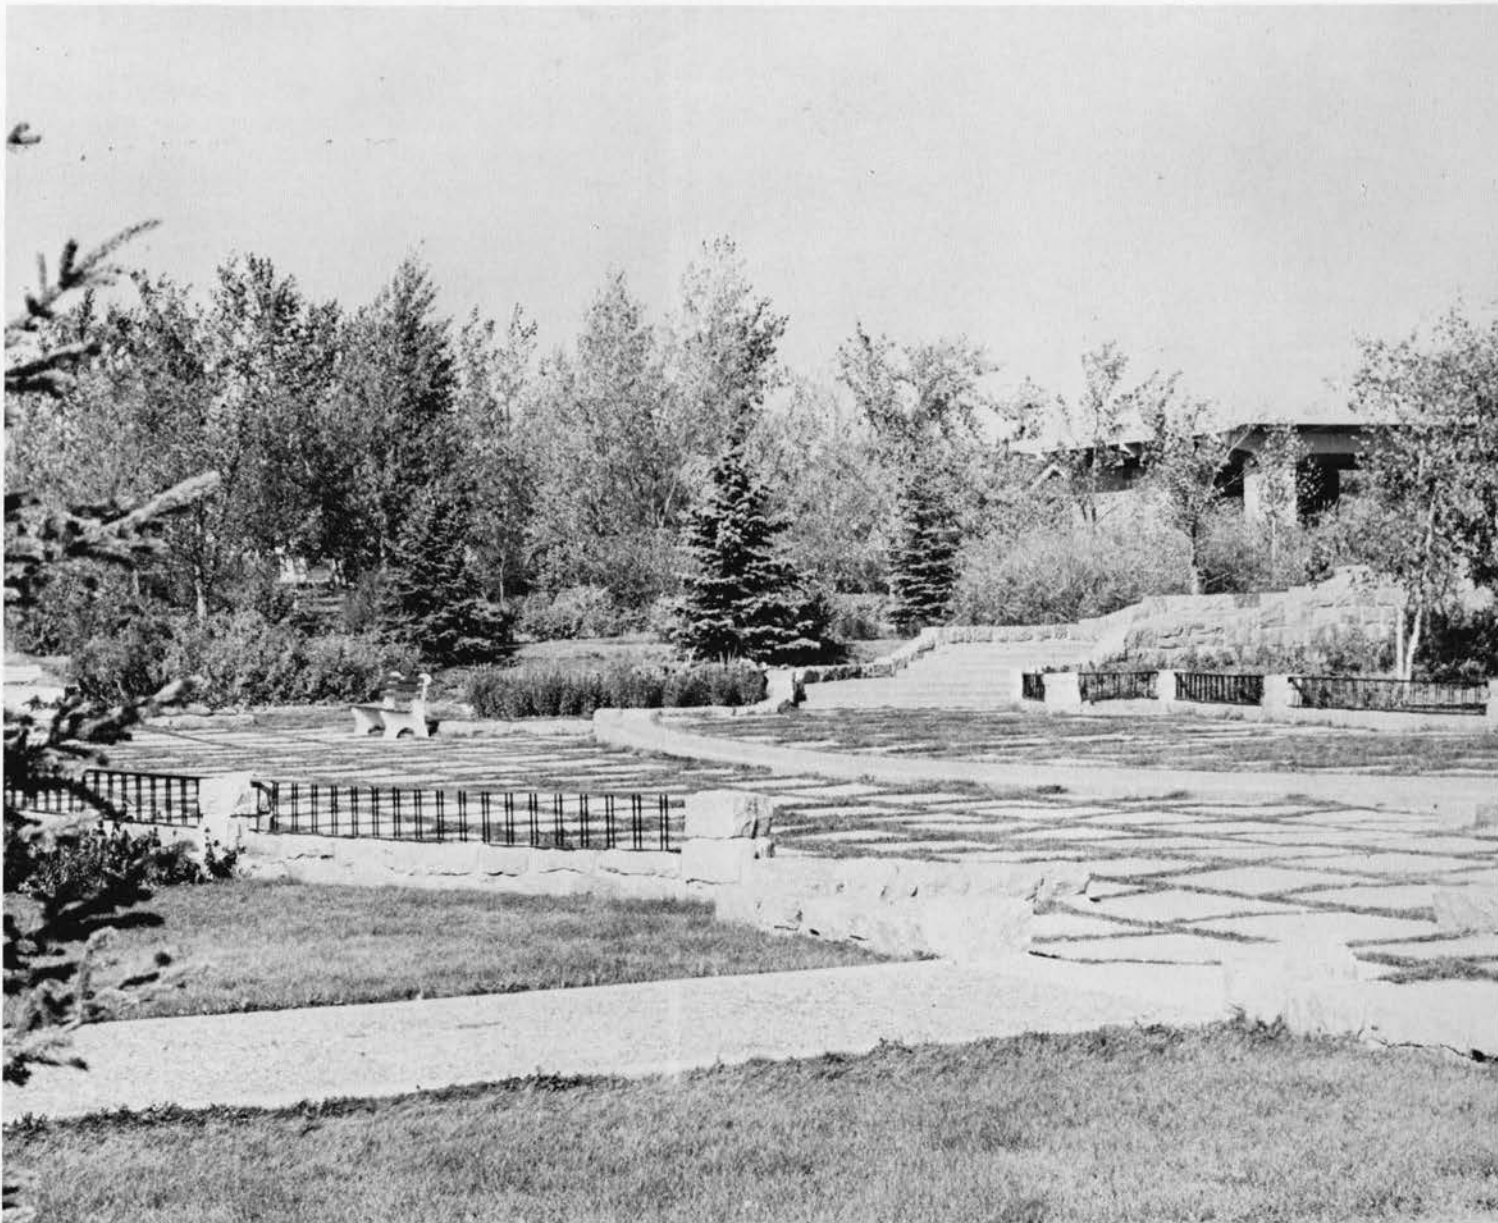

The purposes of Young Republicans are to promote political interest among college students, to help elect Republican officials, to discuss within their group the political and social issues of our time, and to train college students for leadership in the future.

Young Republicans' officers are Jerry Farden, president; Shirley Westerness, secretary; Gail Knutson, treasurer.

Delegates attack student unrest problem

"A Decade of Protest" was the concern of the 17th annual International Relations Peace Garden Conference the weekend of September 27-29. Gaylen Brown, adviser to the International Affairs Society, accompanied the delegation of 25 Minot State College students who attended the conference. Approximately the same number of students from Brandon (Manitoba) University were present. The conference was at the American lodge in the International Peace Gardens.

Student panels were established to discuss the last decade of protest. Topics for these panels were Campus Protest, The Student as a Part of Community Protest, The Student as a Part of National and International Protest, and Revolution in Student Morals. Also presented was a student forum given by the Canadian students.

Chief speaker of the conference was Prof. R. Furcht of the department of anthropology at the University of Alberta. Prof. Furcht, a leader of the Canadian student union movement, emphasized the inadequacies of society as evidenced by general unrest among students. According to Prof. Furcht, the problems of our society can be solved by adopting a system of social position and power.

Paul Unwin elaborates on the effects of campus protests.

Alan Eidsness and Charles Cunningham study material for the upcoming discussion on students involved in community protests.

Participants from Minot State College and Brandon University concurred several months before the conference to decide preliminary groundwork.

IAS plans meetings

International Affairs Society strives to provide students with practicable knowledge in the field of international operations. This goal is accomplished by attending conferences where the student delegates acquire a working knowledge in international affairs.

Two yearly projects of International Affairs Society include the Peace Garden Conference in September at the International Peace Gardens located on the border between North Dakota and Manitoba. Together with students from Brandon University, the students discuss topics of international significance.

A Model United Nations trip in the spring was the high spot of the year for the International Affairs Society. The conference was at the University of Wisconsin in Madison. At this meeting the members conducted a mock United Nations thus gaining practical knowledge of international affairs and governments.

I-V shares common bond

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship combines students of varying religious backgrounds who all share the basic principles of Christianity and feel the need to relate these principles to the complexities of life.

Regular Wednesday meetings were supplemented this year with weekly gatherings of small groups of four to eight individuals. These smaller meetings lent familiarity and openness to conclusion-reaching discussions.

The fall quarter Inter-Varsity program was aimed at better understanding God's plan for individual lives through Bible study and prayer plus the weekly meetings' discussions of vital topics. A weekend retreat at Washburn was held November 8 to 10.

Members of the organization centered their winter meetings around more effective means of relating the Gospel. A special Saturday workshop directed the students toward more practical means of accomplishing this end.

Spring meetings were oriented around a vocational theme with evangelical emphasis on post-graduate occupations.

Many members prepared to attend a Christian Life Institution conducted by the National Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship at Bear Trap Ranch, Colorado.

Group studies liturgy

Gamma Delta is an organization of Missouri Synod Lutheran college students concerned with knowing Christ and using this knowledge to motivate action in His name. This knowledge is offered in a meeting program of discussions treating such topics as the Lutheran liturgy and the Christian in relation to this vocation and the authenticity of the Bible.

A major concern of Gamma Delta during the year centered around an awareness and understanding of other churches in America. Discussions directed along this line attempted to recognize and analyze the assorted Lutheran Synods in America.

Consistent with Gamma Delta's fellowship organization, the group engages in many social activities during the year. A song fest, bowling party and an old-fashioned Halloween party numbered among these activities. Many evenings they made and sold popcorn balls, one of Gamma Delta's trademarks. Other activities such as a Valentine volleyball party, a spring song festival, a spring banquet, a snow party and a picnic rounded out the year's fun.

Gamma Delta's combination of fun and sobriety helps each member to understand better his own role in the Church.

Accent's on youth

To acquaint interested students with various religious backgrounds, to promote fellowship and to worship together are the main goals and purposes of the Lutheran Student Association. Its programs prepare participants to meet the demands of today's society.

The organization, a member of the Lutheran Students of America, meets weekly at Augustana Lutheran Church. Rev. Richard Jurgensen serves as adviser for the group.

Since LSA is primarily interested in the attitudes of young people, it aims its program at youth-oriented topics. Rev. Brueck spoke on his experiences in a Detroit coffeehouse. In the coffeehouse atmosphere set up in the lounge at Augustana, Rev. Brueck told it like it is in an environment seldom encountered by MSC students.

A panel discussion on law and order and the Service for Peace were follow-ups for this discussion. Social activities included Christmas caroling and a get acquainted picnic.

Carolyn Koppelsloen and Jean Erickson represented Minot at the Ashram Conference in Chicago. Ashram, the Hindustani word for corporate spiritual quest, is the national conference for LSA.

The association's Executive Council, consisting of 12 members, governs the organization and plans its schedule.

LSA officers are Jean Erickson, president; Bruce Gjesvold, vice president; and Carolyn Koppelsloen, secretary.

Course covers facets of marital life

To work for the cause of Christianity on campus and to promote the feeling of a true Christian community are the main purposes of Newman Club.

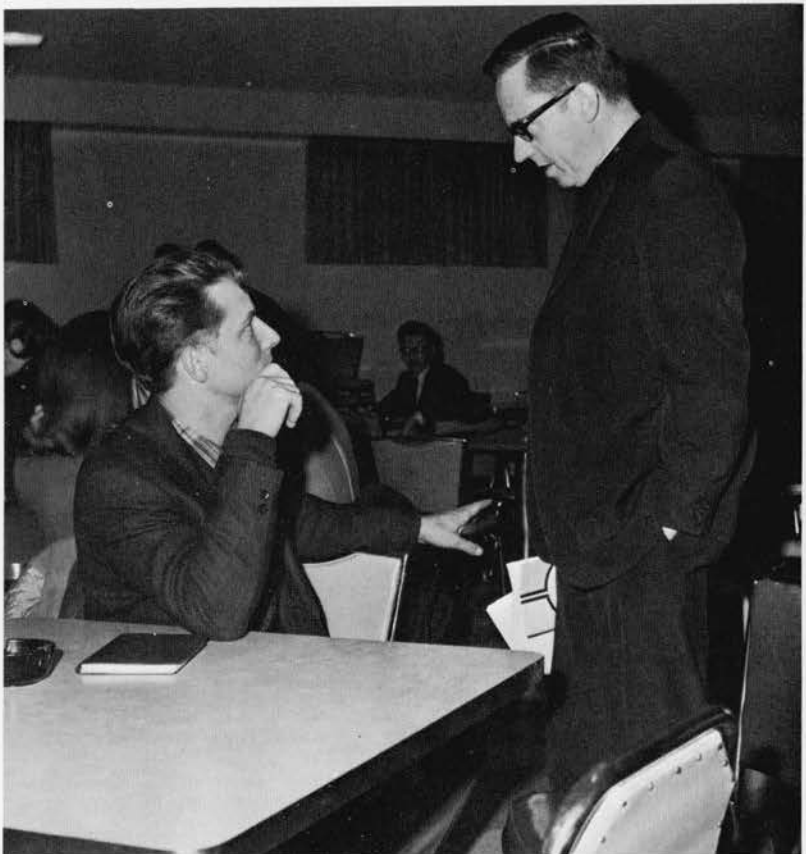

Under the guidance of Father John O'Leary, the Newman members have worked to achieve these goals. Beginning the year with an especially successful barbeque for incoming freshmen, the social spirit continued into the year. There was a Halloween party for members and friends and a joint Christmas party with Inter-Faith Council.

Major religious activities of Newman have included a "Happening" and a series of marriage courses. The "Happening" was a weekend in Christian living which occurred the weekend of October 25-27 in Richardton at the Sacred Heart Priory. During this "Happening" a series of lectures on acceptance were given. A discussion period followed during which students expressed themselves through a poster (an artistic concept of their reactions to the lectures) and verbally. Also participating were Newman members from Valley City and Dickinson.

The marriage course was open to any interested person, engaged or not. These marriage discussions covered such topics as the meaning of love, the physical aspects of marriage, financial problems, birth control, premarital sex, the spiritual side of marriage and acceptance and responsibility in marriage.

RWF's agenda consisted of guest speakers, Bible studies, panel discussions and social nights.

In the community, as part of its mission, RWF traveled to area churches as a gospel team. Members participated in the church services of these churches giving both the congregation and the team a chance to proclaim their testimony to God.

Also this year high school seniors in the Minot area received invitations to attend the spring banquet of RWF. Any student who expressed an interest or who was considered a prospective member was invited to attend. At this banquet these high school seniors were given information about Minot State and the fellowship. Another feature of this banquet was the installation of next year's officers.

UCCF stresses service

The primary goal of United Campus Christian Fellowship is the development of a fellowship that can be of effective and valuable service to the college and its supporting community.

Meeting throughout the academic year, mainly in Dr. Morrison's home, UCCF confronted and analyzed new thoughts and ideas as well as the rebellion within the church. Programs included speakers, among them a representative from Vista and a Peace Corps volunteer. Besides films, speakers and other frequent attractions, the typical meeting was complemented by a generous supply of food.

During the Christmas season, UCCF visited and caroled for invalids and the elderly around Minot and at the two nursing homes in town. Coinciding with this project was a progressive supper with the members stopping at three consecutive homes for a portion of their evening meal.

Numbering among the other activities for the year were a Halloween door-to-door campaign for UNICEF and a late winter quarter toboggan party, aided by a particularly abundant supply of snow.

UCCF at least once a year participates in a retreat for study, discussion and fellowship, often in cooperation with other religious organizations. This year's retreat was during the spring quarter.

Greek planning board

Serving as a common bond among all of the separate and various Greek organizations on the campus is the Greek Council. In this council all of the fraternities and sororities are equally represented by three delegates in an organization which forms a solid link of communication among the Greeks themselves and between the Greeks and the general public.

Greek Council also plans and sponsors social events for all-Greek participation. This winter, the Council arranged a tobogganing day for the Greeks. Tobogganing and skidooing were the afternoon events, while an evening supper and dance topped the day's activities.

Minot State's annual Greek Week is sponsored by Greek Council every spring. During this week all the fraternities and sororities come together to participate in a week filled with picnics, athletic contests, parties and an assortment of other activities. Events are highlighted by the selection of a Greek Goddess and a Greek God. The Greeks also perform a civic duty by aiding with the maintenance of Roosevelt Park on one day of Greek Week.

Panhel initiates new system of open rush

Panhellenic Council, consisting of two representatives and the president of each sorority on campus, the Dean of Women Miss Garnet Cox, and a faculty adviser Miss Doris Slaaten, has as its main objective the coordinating of activities of Minot State's four sororities. Regular business of Panhel, which meets weekly, consists of keeping up-to-date lists of the members and pledges of each sorority, planning and carrying out rush and generally creating a close working bond between the sororities.

Panhel tackled a difficult and much-needed project this year. Working with not only the consent but the urging of the sororities the Council completely revamped the rush system at Minot State College. The former quarterly rush was changed to a deferred formal rush once a year with open bidding the remainder of the school year.

Foreseeing most problems and running headlong into others Panhel and the sororities carried out formal rush the first week following Christmas vacation. Bad weather and the relative strangeness of the system held the number of rushees down from what was expected. But the long and exciting week resulted in many happy pledges and the promise of open bidding in the spring and fall.

Making note of mistakes and good ideas Panhel ended the year with advance plans for next fall. In order to insure continuity as well as informed and familiar leadership each sorority has one representative which is a carryover to the next year; the officers and advisership rotate yearly among the sororities.

Miss Slaaten serves as adviser to Panhellenic Council.

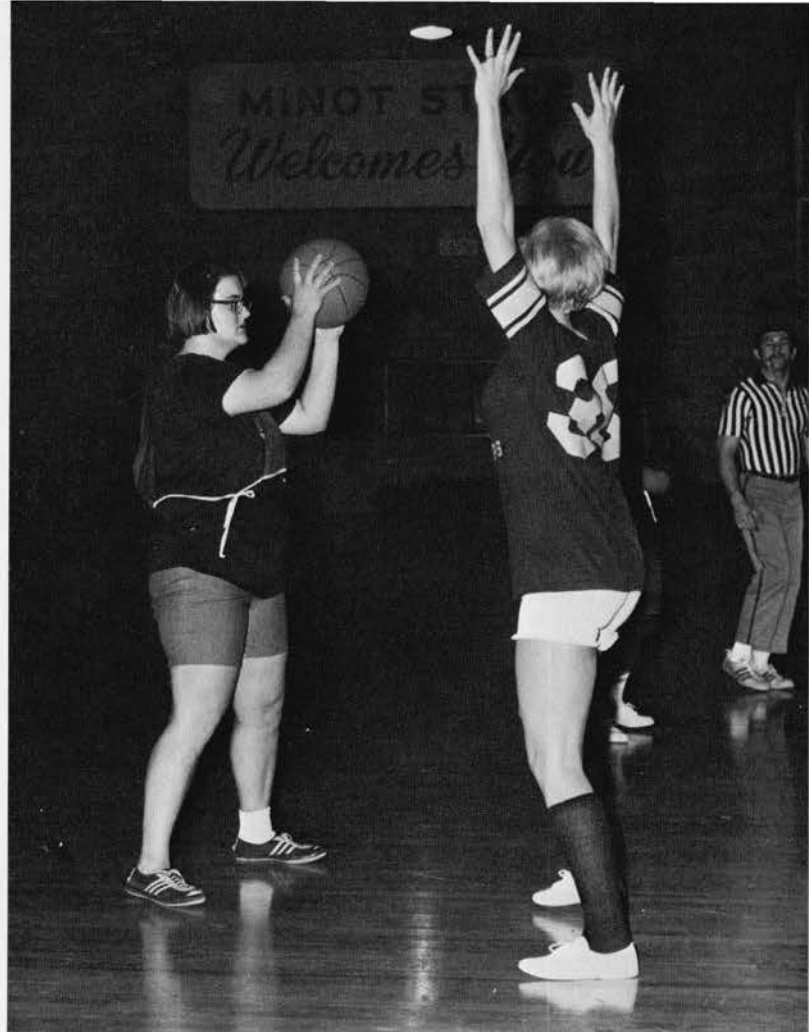

A varied sports program

Women's Recreation Association is a recreational organization for all women not only physical education majors and minors. However majors are required to belong. Meetings are every Monday with activities following.

All areas of sports are explored by WRA. After meetings the girls play volleyball, work out in the gymnastics room, go curling or tobogganing, or participate in some other sport.

Both powderpuff football and basketball games were sponsored by WRA and in the spring they held the annual high school play-day. On this day girls from high schools in the surrounding area come to Minot to participate in sports activities, mostly track.

Members of WRA attended two state conferences, one in Mayville and one in Dickinson, and traveled to St. Paul for the North Central American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation Conference in March. Each year the women of WRA work in conjunction with the lettermen to hold the Sweatshirt dance at which Miss WRA and Mr. Letterman are selected.

Basketball was just one of the sports participated in by WRA girls.

MSC's lettermen . . .

"M" Club is an organization of the lettermen at Minot State College. These men are dedicated to the advancement and betterment of athletics, an end toward which their activities are directed.

While attending an athletic event in Swain Hall you have probably noticed the aroma of freshly popped popcorn. This popcorn, along with coke and candy, is sold at the concession stand by the members of "M" Club. Besides selling concessions at all athletic functions in Swain, the "M" Club co-sponsors the Sweat-shirt dance with WRA and organizes the annual campus talent show, Kampus Kapers, during spring quarter.

With the money the "M" Club raises with their concession sales they are able to purchase letter sweaters, letter jackets and lapel pins for the members. The first, second, third and fourth year lettermen are given lifetime membership gate passes for MSC athletic events.
