Opportunity

struts before us as a dare or withdraws into a sheltered corner waiting.
We must tackle the challenge or disclose the hidden.

Each man must invite encounter with opportunity or lose shades of experience he might have gained, since every opportunity is a master key . . .

to diversity of scene . . .

to realization
and contact . . .

to enjoyment
and concern.

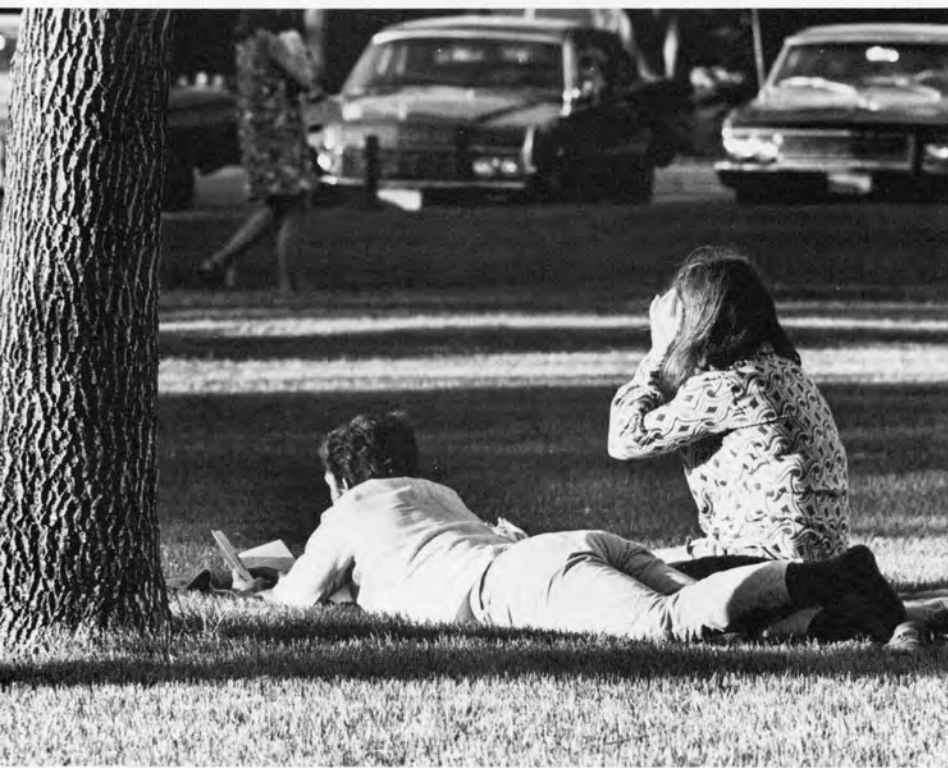

Opportunities

on campus are limitless
yet if unsought are lost.
We are passers-by.

Now is the moment to stop.
We are viewers of the kaleidoscopic world.
Now is the moment to take notice.
Only then will our perception be clear and the vastness of our opportunities will come into focus.

Appreciation to you

This teacher has been at MSC since 1955. His contributions to the students and college have been numerous.

Described as a most interesting lecturer, he covers the course subject matter thoroughly.

Why is it his courses always fill first during registration at the beginning of a quarter?

He has served as an advisor to several campus organizations. He is on many college committees.

He earned his B.A. degree at Jamestown, his M.A. in Laramie, WY. Additional courses have been taken at Leland Stanford in Palo Alto, CA. His main field of teaching is history.

To Gaylen Brown the Beaver editor and staff dedicates the 1971 Beaver. We appreciate you and your work.

Student Life

The door is open and the infant walks in . . .
He walks into the world of patterns . . .
A world of coherence and order . . .
And wears the dreams composed of others,
The dreams that tell us of ourselves,

And in the forest there is hunger . . .
 And there is light . . .
 And always the patterns.

Good times should be made to last,
Haste, that notorious enemy of memories, turns awareness into forgetfulness.
And momentous experiences are over almost before they've begun.
Fun times, unique times become lost times . . .

HC begins tomorrow

The theme for the 1970 Homecoming was "The Beginning of Tomorrow." 1970 was the 57th year for the annual event which took place October 5 through October 10, 1970.

Co-chairmen for 1970 Homecoming were Bill and Bruce Christianson. Activities were officially begun October 5 with the lighting of the traditional torch in Bismarck.

That same evening, a snake dance, pep assembly, a bonfire and movies also took place.

In the evening of October 6, students were entertained by the Omega at a grub dance.

Election of queen candidates took place October 7. That evening free swimming was available to all students followed by a coffee house featuring Herb Parker in the student union snack bar.

Coronation was the evening of October 8. Linda Morey was crowned 1970 Homecoming queen by last year's queen, Bonny Hammond. Miss Morey is a member of Beta Theta Sorority.

Members of the Queen's Court included Nancy Perry, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Jane Wentz, Delta Epsilon Phi; and Candy Parizek, Delta Zeta.

Later that evening the Queen's Ball took place with the music provided by the XL5.

A convocation was held the morning of October 9 with cheerleaders and football members and coaches present to hear the enthusiasm of the student body.

That night students packed into the Municipal Auditorium to hear B. J. Thomas sing his famous songs. He was preceded by the Goliards, a folk singing group from Minneapolis.

The annual parade was the morning of October 10 with many bands and floats featured.

Beta Theta Sorority captured the trophy in the women's division floats, while Sigma Tau Gamma received the trophy in the men's division. The Sig Tau's captured, for the 5th year in a row, the overall float trophy.

Later that afternoon, the Beaver football team trampled over the Mayville Comets by the score of 49 to 7.

During the game the Mu Sigma Tau Fraternity won the spirit trophy.

Homecoming 1970 was topped off by the Victory Ball. Music was provided by the Downtowners.

Life goes on anyhow

"You can't do that!"

The women's dorm is where you will find extreme contrasts between the sometimes muffled roar of frenzied activity, and the quiet complacency of a friendly chat.

Favorite pastimes for the girls in the dormitory range from entertaining men to tormenting the counselors and others.

The growth experienced through life in the dorm will prove invaluable for each in the years to come.

Studying can be very dry.

A rose by any other name

What's in a dorm? An on-campus rooming building by any other name would smell as sweet. Sweet? Whether the smells come from cherry pipe tobacco, alcohol, homegrown weed, or stagnant feet, the dorm beckons home to many a wearied college student. Well, it may not be home, but it sure beckons.

Books could be written about the happenings which occur in the men's dorms, but that is beyond the scope of this endeavor. Probably the best way to envision what goes on in the dorms is to let your imagination fly.

Roommates and dorm buddies offered support when your grades were low, your funds lower and your love life was less than zilch.

The men's dorm, loved by some, despised and resented by others, but still something that will live on in the memories of those who survived.

You know what I mean.

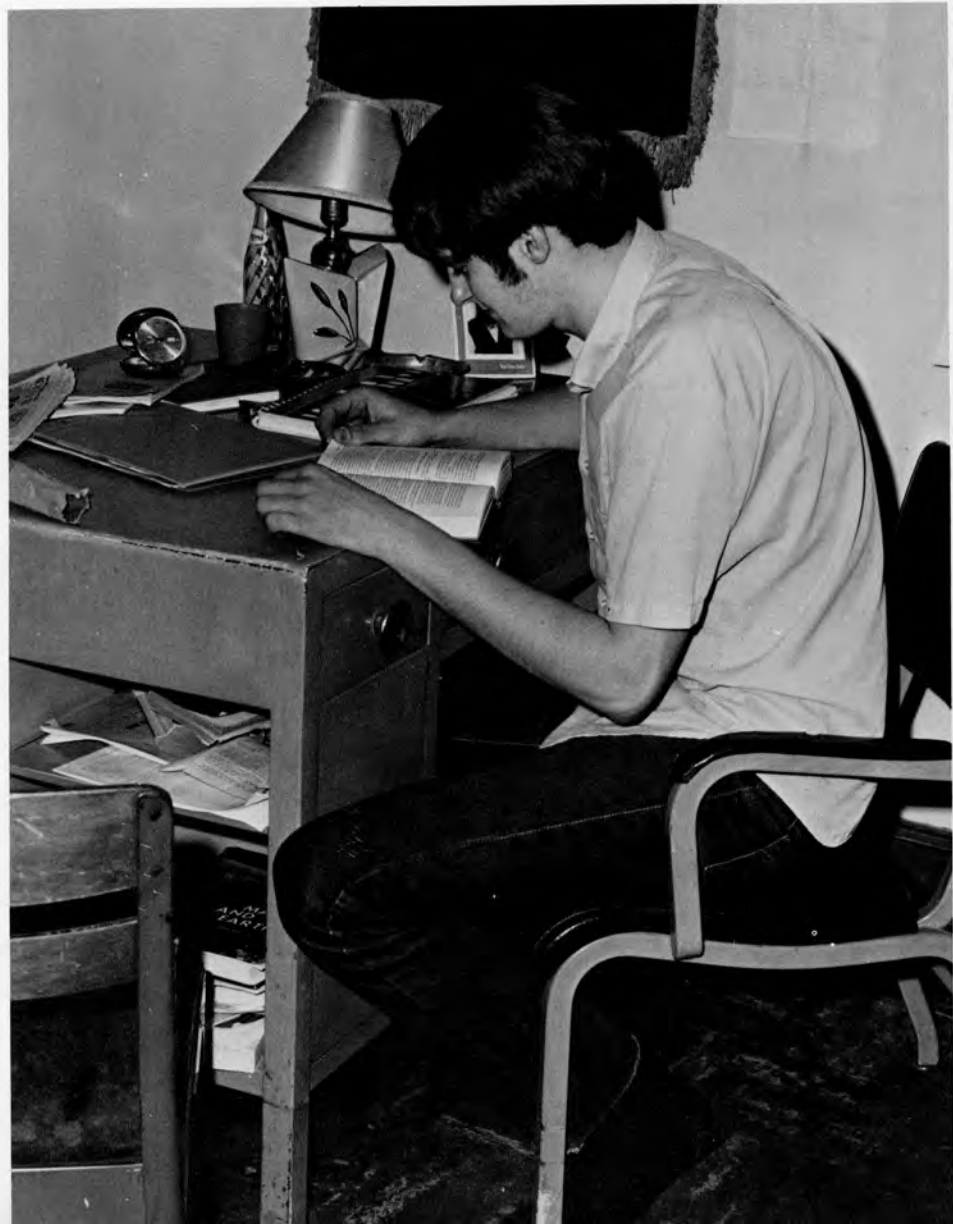

Illumination.

I can't believe it.

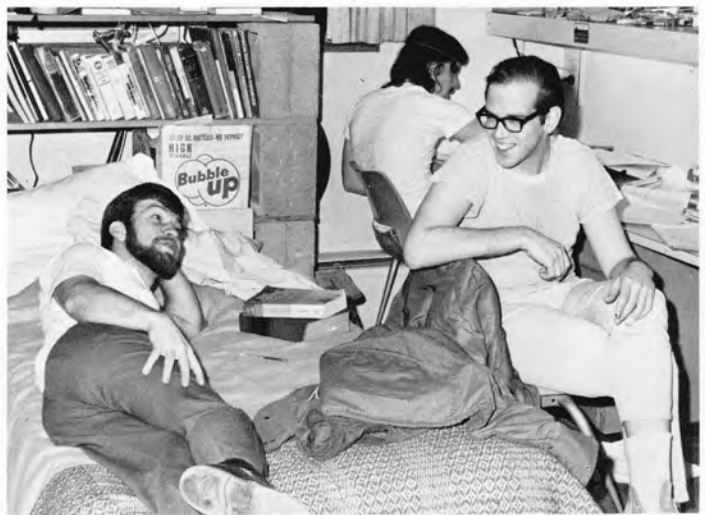

What can we do now?

Happiness is a package from home.

Highlights of the day are the topic for discussion.

It is developing the deep sensitivity through which we may suffer and know tragedy;
but through which we also experience the grandeur of life.

Involvement is the only way to preserve self, to keep from being engulfed in the swift current, drifting from one unlearned experience to another. This involvement contributes to the spirit, and the spirit grows . . .

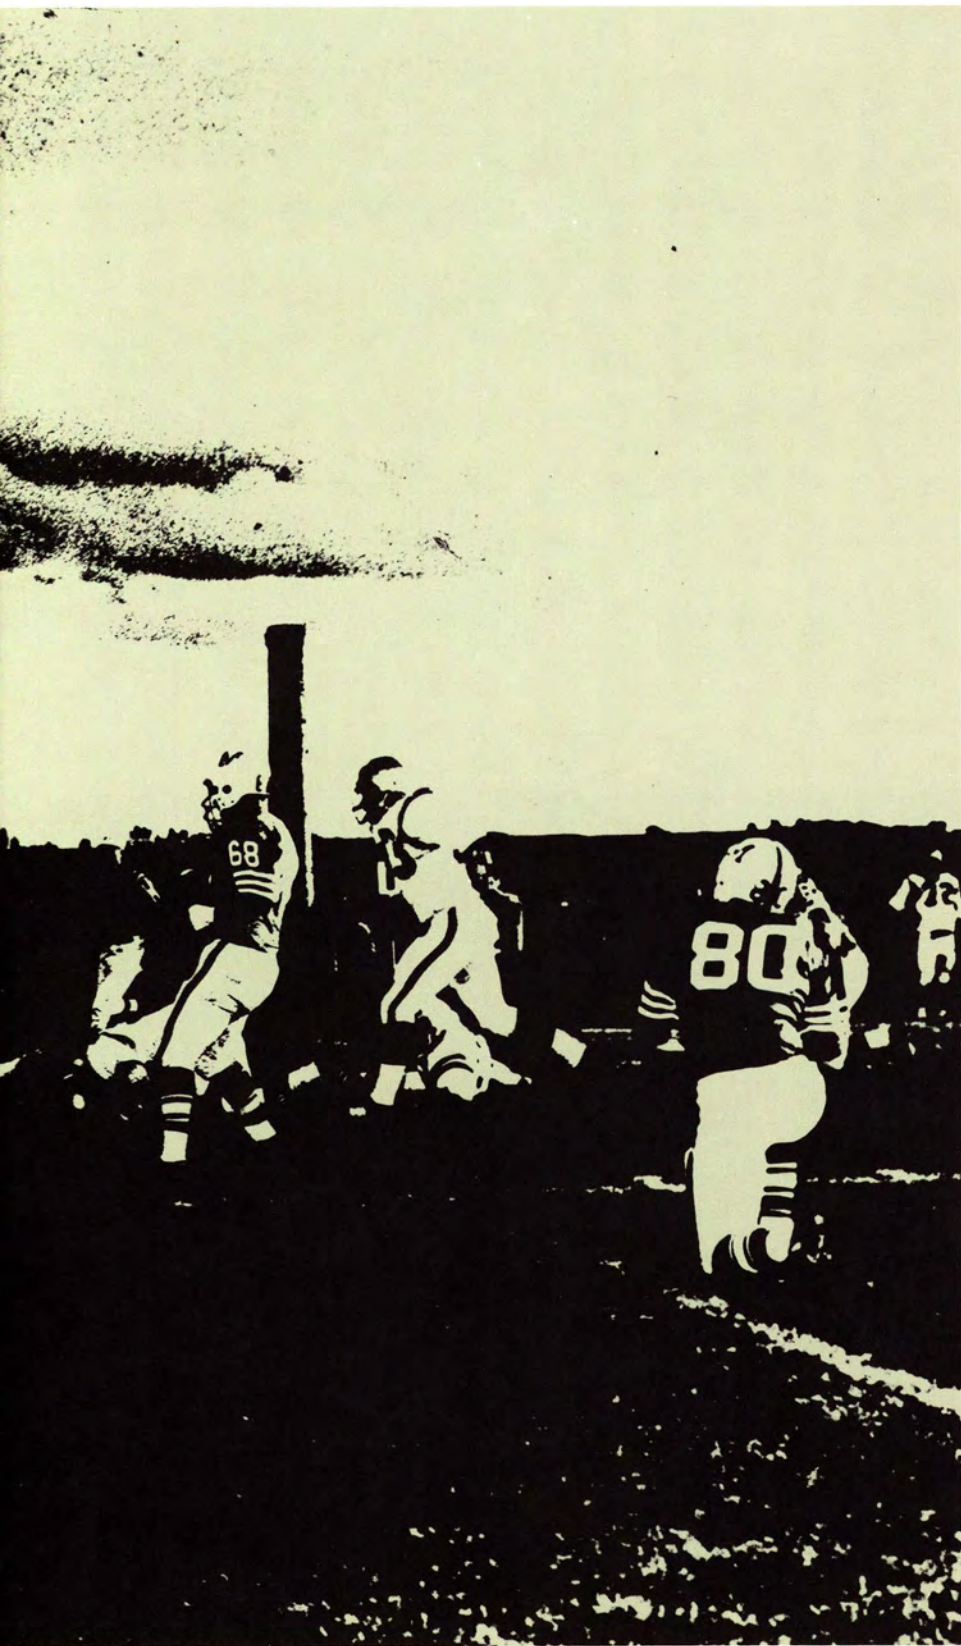

You came . . .

You with your eager eyes and polished faces . . .
you with your hopes and dreams . . .
you with your fears and longings . . .

Golf team wins title in play

The Minot State College golf team under the direction of Coach Larry Treider represented the school in various outstanding duals and tournaments during the 1970 spring season.

The highlight of the season was the winning of the North Dakota College Athletic Conference championship at Wahpeton. Other duals played were with Mayville and Jamestown of which Minot State won both.

Steve Kottsick led the Beavers in the conference tournament with a 36 hole total of 159.

Weather takes its toll

Bad weather in spring 1970 took its toll of the tennis season at Minot State College. The team, coached by Gary Leslie, lost to Mayville State College in the doubles, but Allen Hoberg won in the singles 6-2, 6-4 and lost 4-6.

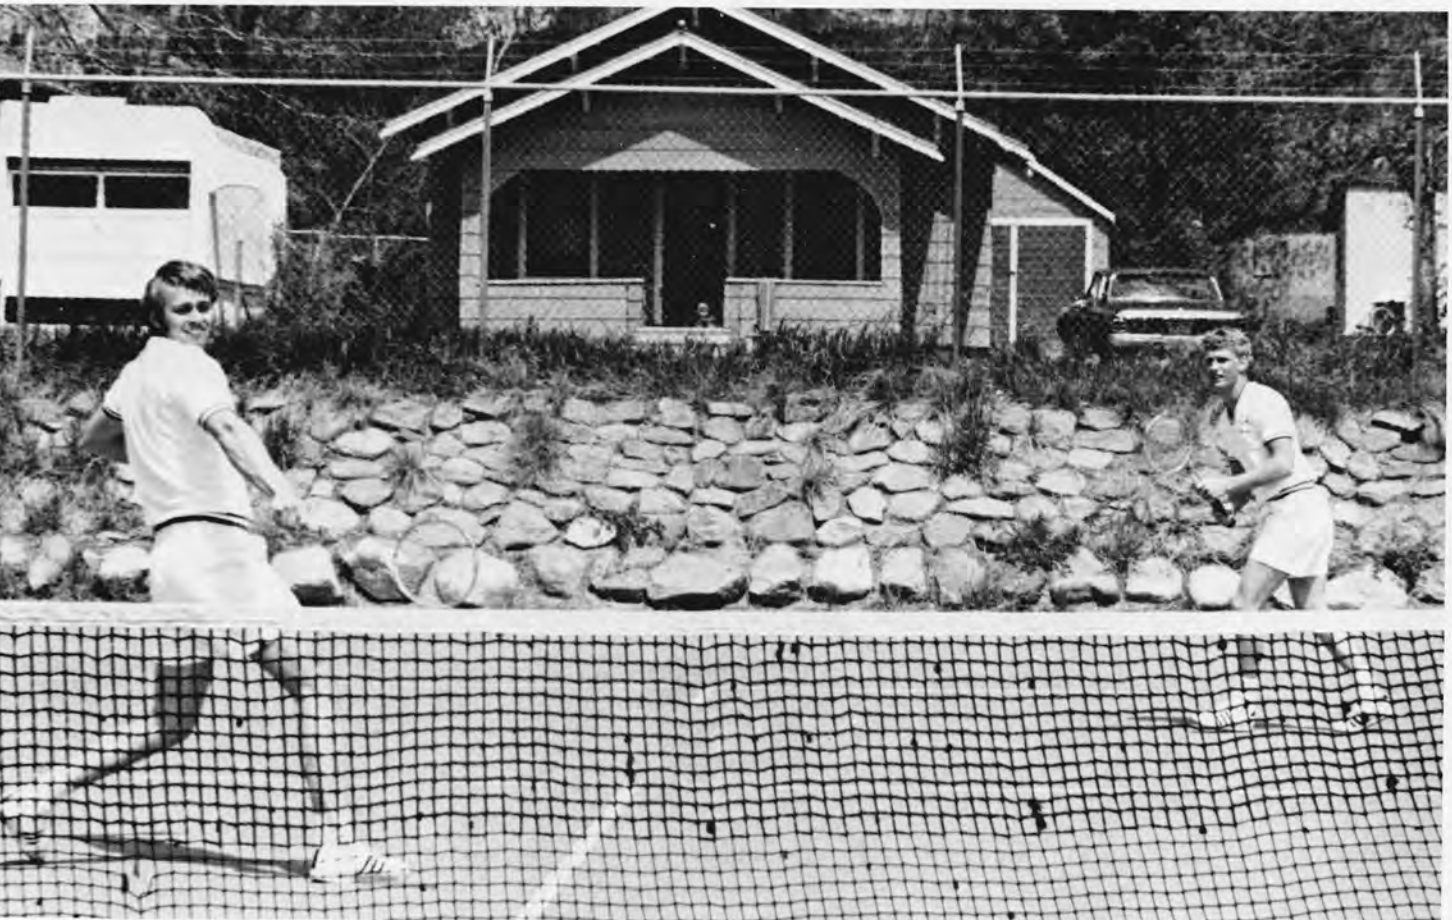

The netmen traveled to Rapid City, S. D., for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics match at Black Hills State. MSC lost the singles, won and lost the others 0-6 and 2-6.

At conference play at Jamestown College, MSC lost the second match, while MSC beat Wahpeton in the doubles on the first match. Jamestown copped the conference title.

Team sees 'finest hour' in 1970

Scramble for the football results in a collision.

1970 will long be remembered as the "finest hour" for the Minot State College football club, that mauled Northern Montana 63-6 in the season lid-lifter September 12 and ran past 7 more opponents before being knocked off in the NAIA Division Two semifinals in Indiana, November 28.

It was a long season and the Beaver's most successful. Among the achievements were a 5-0 conference standing and an 8-0 overall record that will go down in college annals as the winningest ever.

Among the awards merited by the Beavers machine were the North Dakota College Athletic Conference title and a fifth rank in the final National Association of Intercollegiate Association Division Two.

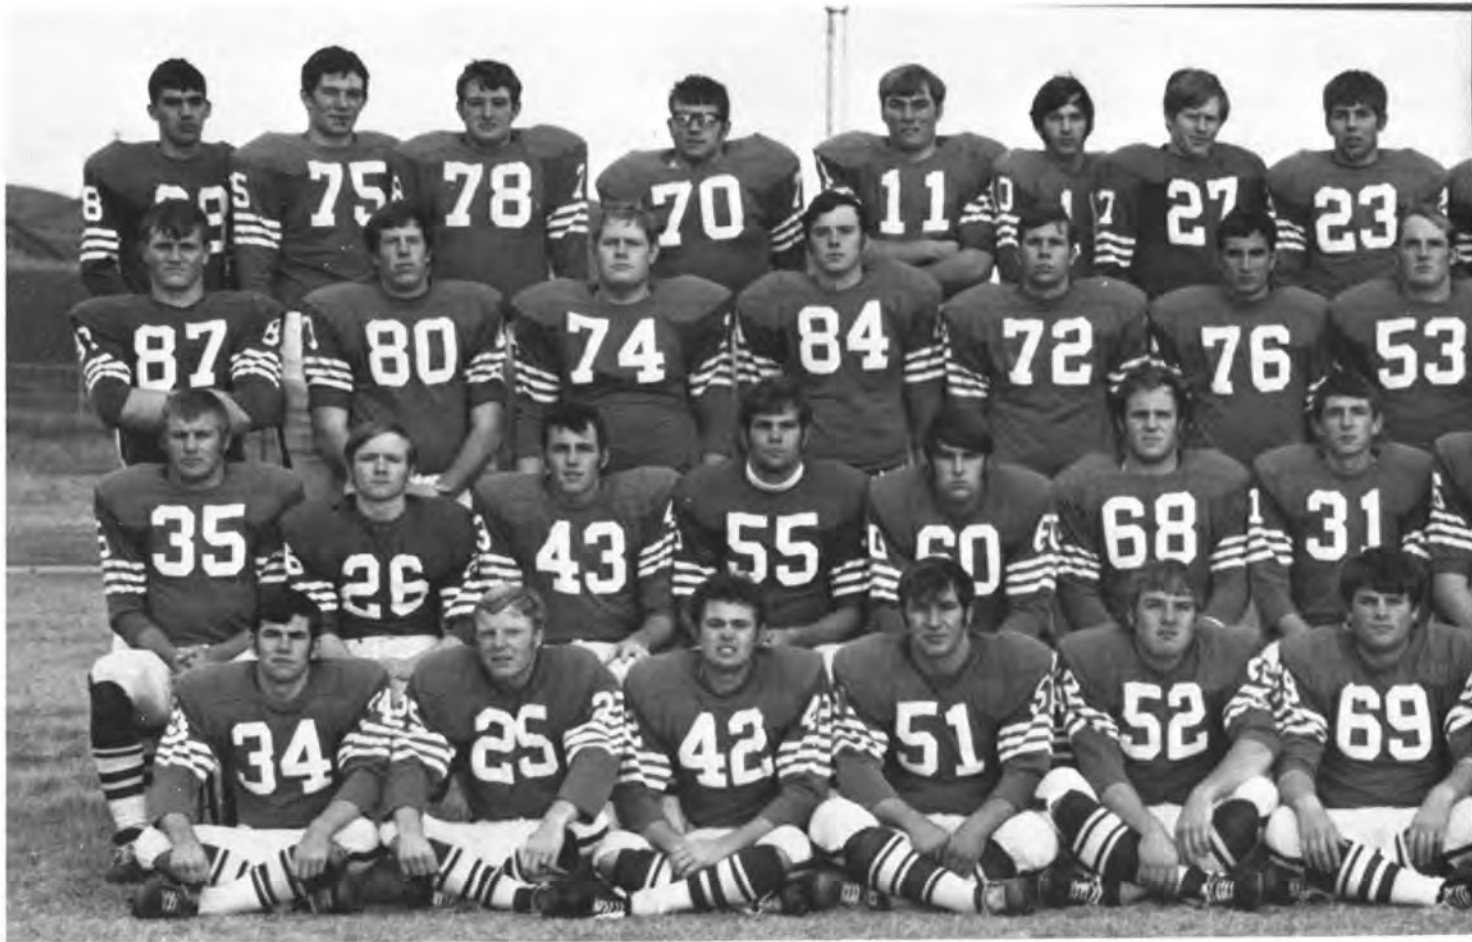

After pounding Northern, the Red and Green continued on in Montana and the following weekend disposed of Carroll college 20-14 in one of their closer matchups of the fall, though the statistics, recording that Minot dominated, don't show.

The Beavers entertained a sturdy Wahpeton ball club in their home opener September 26 and won quite handily 41-13.

On October 3 they traveled to Valley City where they polished off their second conference foe 55-20.

A wild Homecoming crowd psyched the team to a 49-7 romp over Mayville, the third conference victim to fall before the Beavers October 10.

The grid outfit stayed in town the next weekend and completely demoralized Dickinson, blanking them 41-0 to keep their winning momentum going.

The seriousness of the play is expressed on the faces of the players and coaches.

A showdown

The conference showdown and the biggest test of the year for Minot was at Jamestown October 24.

The Jimmies, the conference champs the previous two years, were the only team still in contention. Needing a victory to clinch a tie with the Beavers for the title, they proved to be the toughest foe yet. Minot, however, displayed its defensive prowess in triumphing 7-0 for the NDCAC title.

Though somewhat anti-climactic, the grid contest at Albert Lea, MN, the next weekend established the college record for the most victories in a season, eight, and set the stage for a post season game. The final outcome was 19-3 for the Red and Green.

Laurels too

At a time when basketball should have been the main college concern, all eyes were on the Minot State football team that journeyed to Anderson, IN, for a playoff game for the NAIA Division Two honors.

In what probably will have been the first and last time, both colleges' football and basketball teams were in action the same day. Neither outfit was successful.

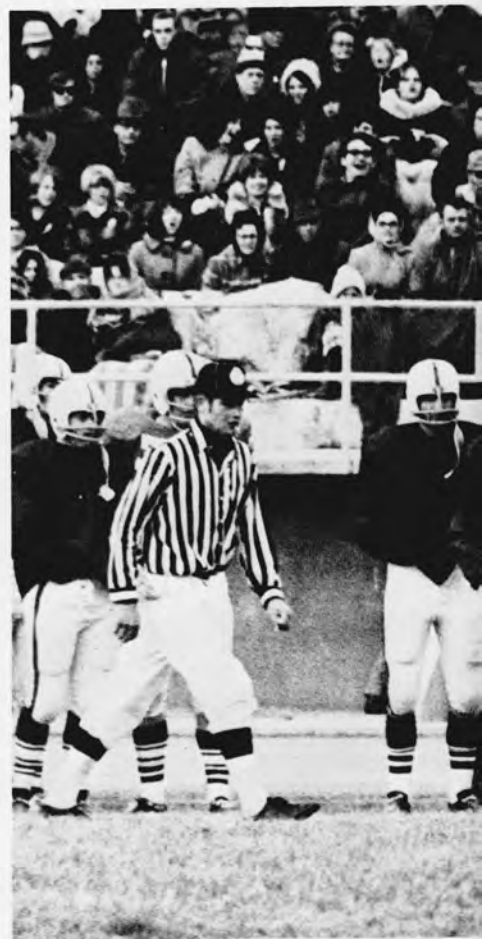

The gridiron crew sustained their first season setback 36-14 at Anderson, but returned home heroes, as they were, with a caravan of cars leading the way.

Individual laurels were in an abundance on the campus as the season came to a close. Jack Lundeen, whose

I-M vies for titles

A group of independents, the SSPPC, is on the verge of dethroning one of the well organized fraternity units as the king of the Minot State College intramural program.

According to coach Wiley Wilson, program director, the SSPPC has chalked up a slim point lead over other organizations as a result of capturing championships in football and volleyball. The annual overall champs receive a large trophy for the team and smaller ones to distribute to the individuals.

Of the 10 events played in the I-M system only three are completed with at the time of this writing.

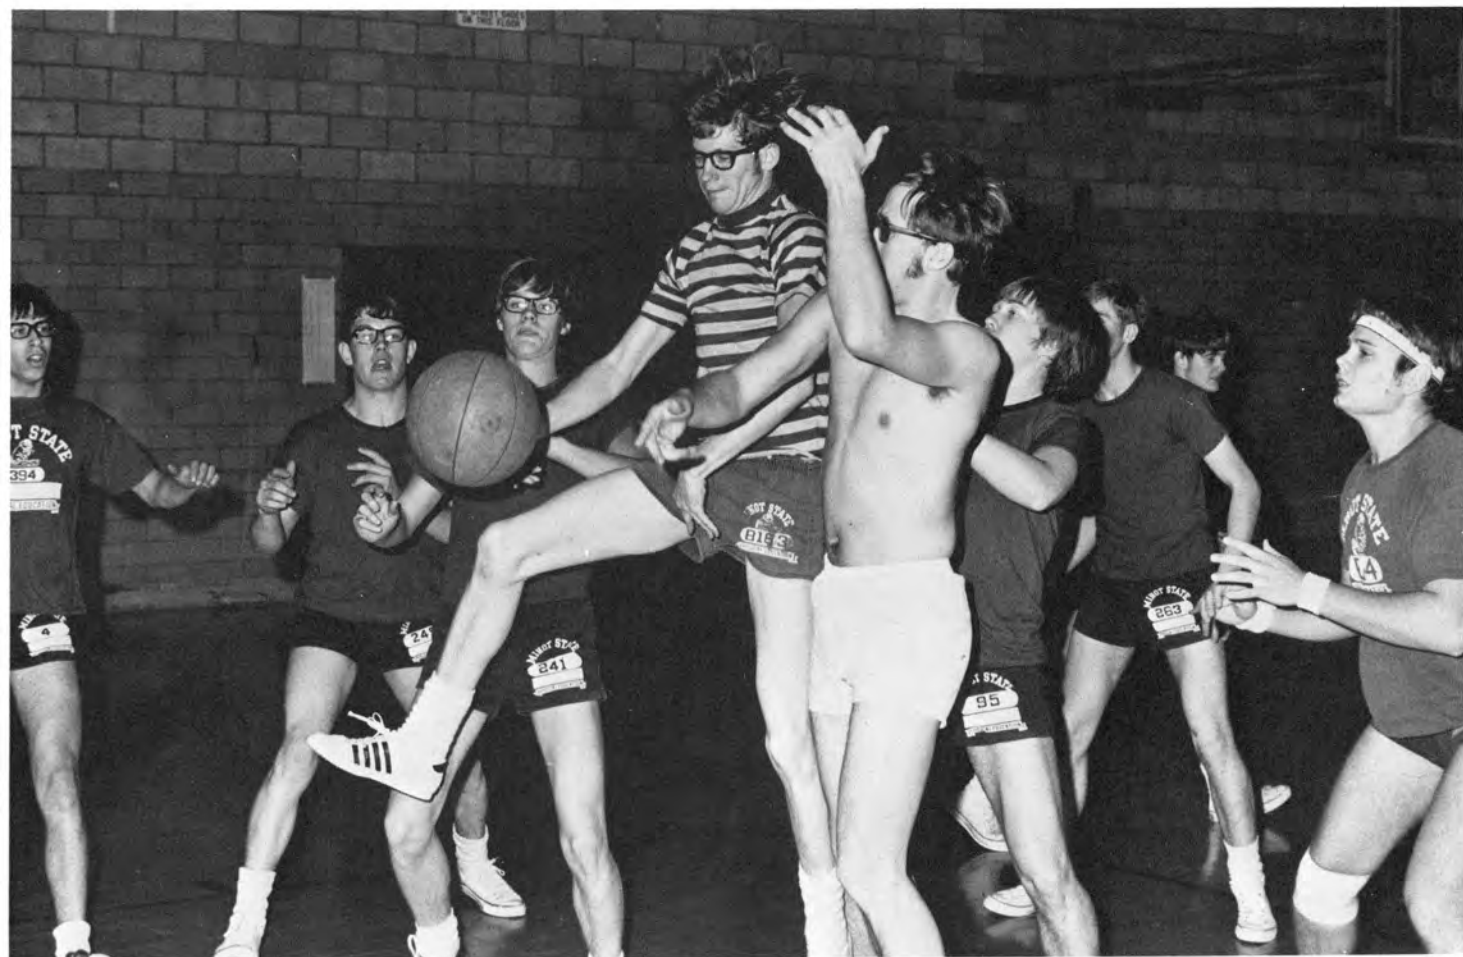

In football, the SSPPC crew, sporting a 5-0 record, tackled the Tekes 13-7 in the title contest of the four team playoff. Eleven teams competed in the program. SSPPC, winners at volleyball also, captured the Roger Riveland, known to most as Mr. Riveland of the math department, displayed his talent with a paddle by whipping Dave Kuschel of the Tekes 3 out of 5 for a long-awaited faculty crown in the ping pong finals.

A pre-season favorite, SSPPC No. 3 with former Beaver cage star Henry Togans, was a team to reckon with though they were clipped one, 78-75 by Sig Tau No. 1.

Coeds play short season

Minot State College's girls' softball team had a semi-successful but short season last year.

The Bismarck tournament was won by Minot State. The coeds defeated Bismarck Junior College in the first round. After Dickinson defeated Devils Lake, Minot State defeated Dickinson in the championship round.

The softball team also participated in the Women's College World Series of Softball in Omaha, Neb. Minot State first lost to the softball team from the University of Nebraska who took third in the tournament. The Beavers also lost to Kearney State, Neb., and were therefore out of the tournament.

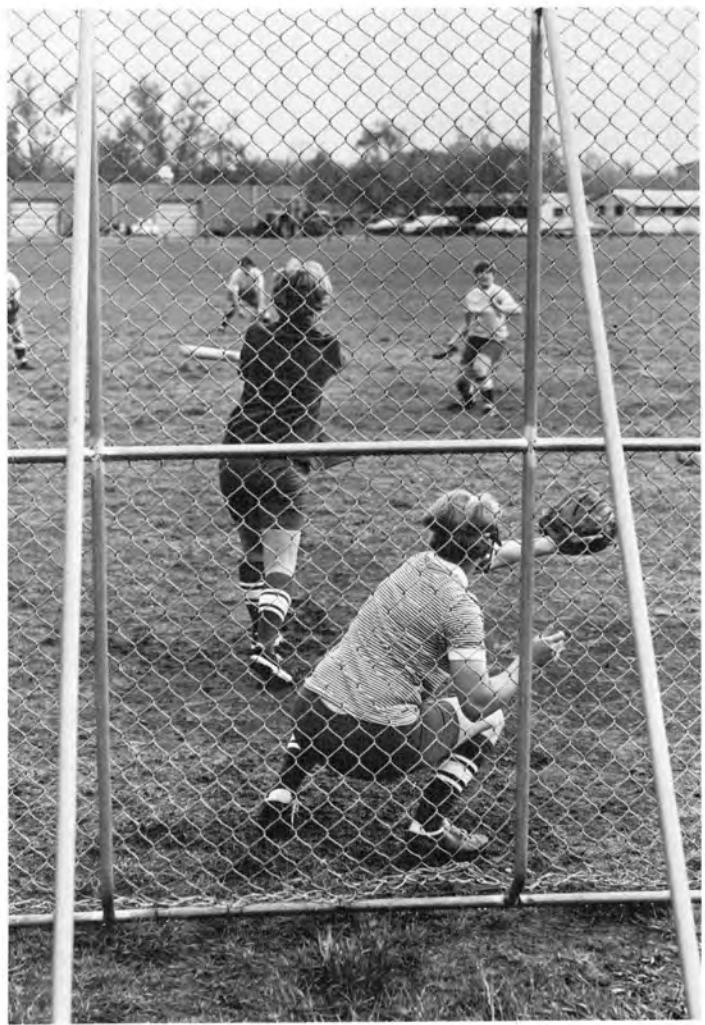

Miss Kathleen McCann is the sole coach of the 11-girl team. There were no seniors last year but the team lost a few of the coeds this year due to their student teaching assignments. The team captain was Pam Larson.

Team sees busy season

Minot State College gymnastics team was small but very impressive this year with only five girls participating in the sport. Members of the gymnastics team are Mary Blanchard, freshman, Minot High; Barb Esterby, junior, Minot High; Cynthia Huelsman, sophomore, Mohall; Barb Mitchell, freshman, Jamestown; and Gayla Tudahl, sophomore, Minot High.

Gary Leslie is the coach of the gymnastics team.

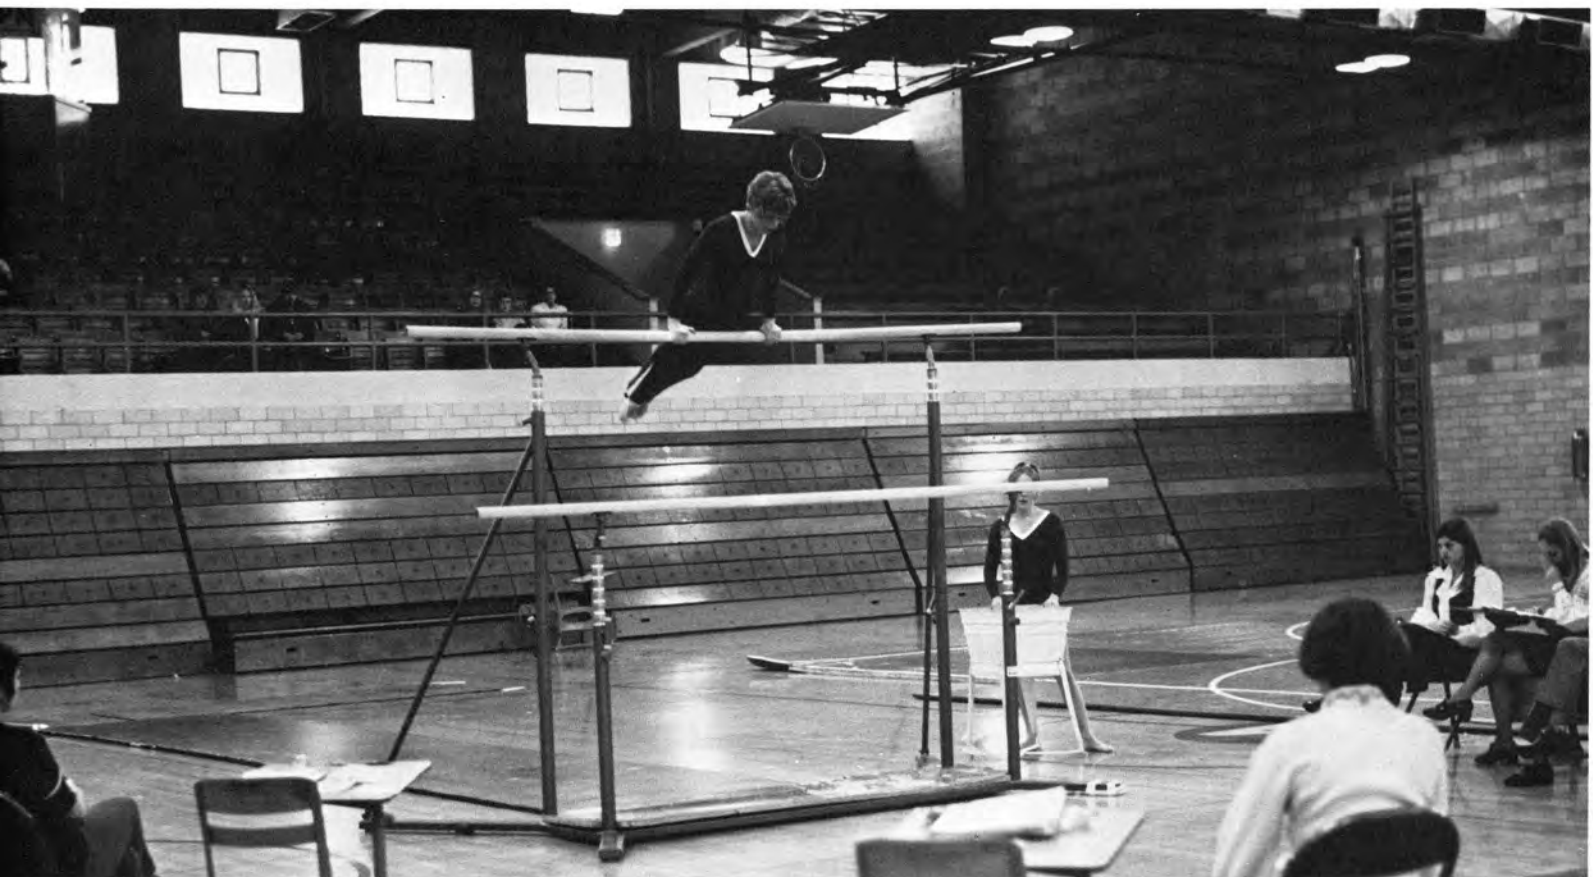

The four areas of competition are floor exercise, vaulting, balance beam and uneven parallel bars.

The team's first meet was here January 30, 1971, as they defeated Dickinson 71.58 to 50.05.

In this first meet, Barb Mitchell took first place in each event. Barb Esterby took a 2nd place in floor exercise and balance beam and a 3rd in vaulting. Mary Blanchard took a 3rd

Barb Mitchell again took 1st place in all events. Gayla Tudahl took a 4th in vaulting and a 2nd in uneven par-

At the triangular meet held at Dickinson, Minot came up 2nd. First place went to Eastern Montana College with 58.20, Minot 2nd with 57.35 and Dickinson with 49.25.

SA works for students

The students on the Minot State College campus are becoming increasingly involved in the Student Association by apportioning additional student seats on governing committees and increasing the student's power over the expenditures of their fees.

Students are also showing increasing interest in improving the political, cultural and student rights areas on campus. The Student Association has reflected this interest by taking stands on legislative actions, and by developing fine arts activities.

A student grievance committee has been formed, and the increasing power of the student welfare and affairs committee have helped in gaining additional rights for students on campus.

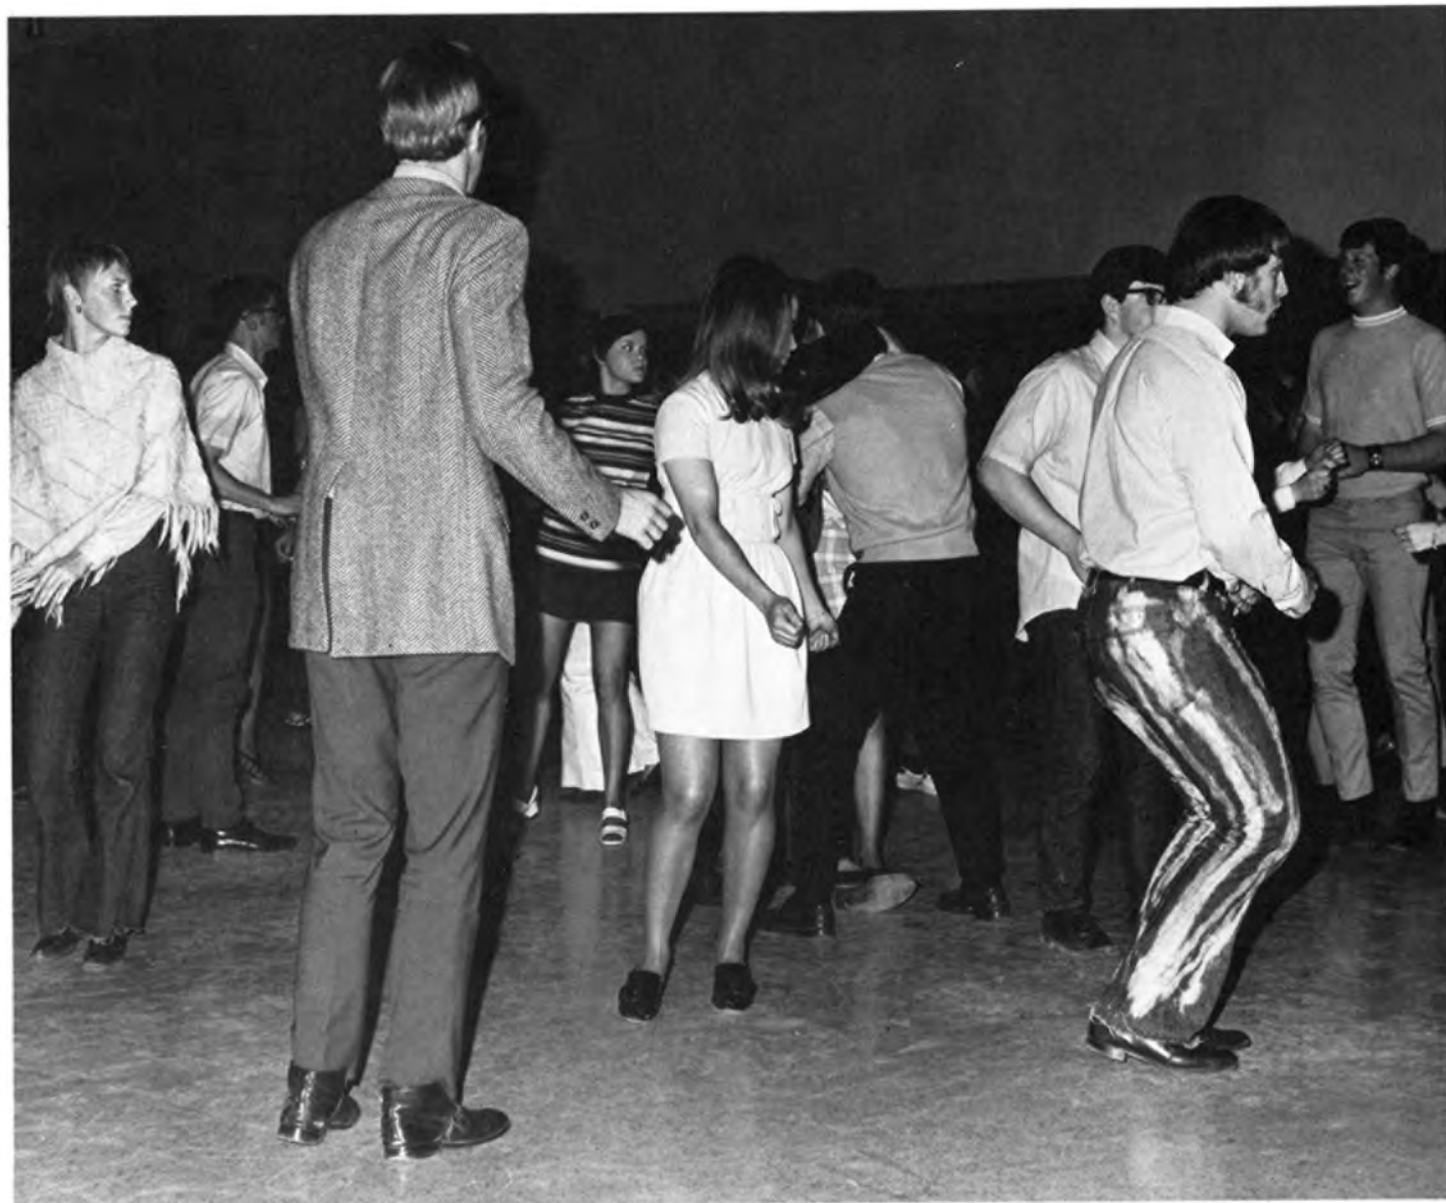

In addition the Student Association has been bringing in well noted speakers in the belief that the ideas gained from these speakers are becoming more pertinent for providing a well rounded education.

Mediator helps Greeks

Serving as a mediator among the seven Greek fraternities and sororities is the Greek Council. The objectives of the Greek Council are to work for better relationships between the Greek organizations and to draw the city and the college closer through the Greeks.

Activities that have been sponsored by the Greek Council include a drawing for two quarters of free tuition, social gatherings and Greek week.

Greek week consists of numerous activities in which all Greeks participate. Such activities are picnics, athletic contests, parties and an assortment of other activities.

I-F serves fraternities

The Interfraternity Council's objectives are to see that rushing and pledging are run properly. It is the disciplinary board for the fraternities. The council continually changes the rushing and pledging procedures in order to better the Greeks on campus.

The Interfraternity Council's main function is to settle any disputes that may arise within the fraternities during the year.

Another responsibility of the Interfraternity Council is the awarding of the scholarship trophy to the three fraternities: Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Tau Gamma and Mu Sigma Tau. If one fraternity earns the trophy three times in a row it gets permanent possession of it.

Panhel, a relatively new organization on campus lists its main objective as furthering cooperation among all sororities, by providing an opportunity for discussion and by establishing common rules and regulations.

The Panhellenic Association is composed of all members of the four sororities on campus and is ruled by the Panhellenic council. The council consists of two representatives from each sorority, the sorority adviser and the dean of women.

Goals this year include: planning and organizing a Junior Panhellenic organization composed of all sorority pledges and continue the hard work of formal rush.

The concert choir, Vagabonds and women's chorus sing at functions like the Christmas convocation, Christmas choral vespers, the Messiah and regularly scheduled concerts. The groups also provide entertainment for service clubs and conventions. All three organizations embark on an annual tour.

John A. Strohm's concert choir strives to give its members an opportunity to experience the aesthetic values of music, and to relate the same experiences to the community it serves.

Dr. Joseph M. Hegstad's Vagabonds male chorus provides all campus men an opportunity to sing contemporary popular music as well as the traditional male chorus literature repertoire.

John J. Spoelstra's women's chorus gives campus women opportunities to express themselves in their favorite mode of music.

Popajons perform

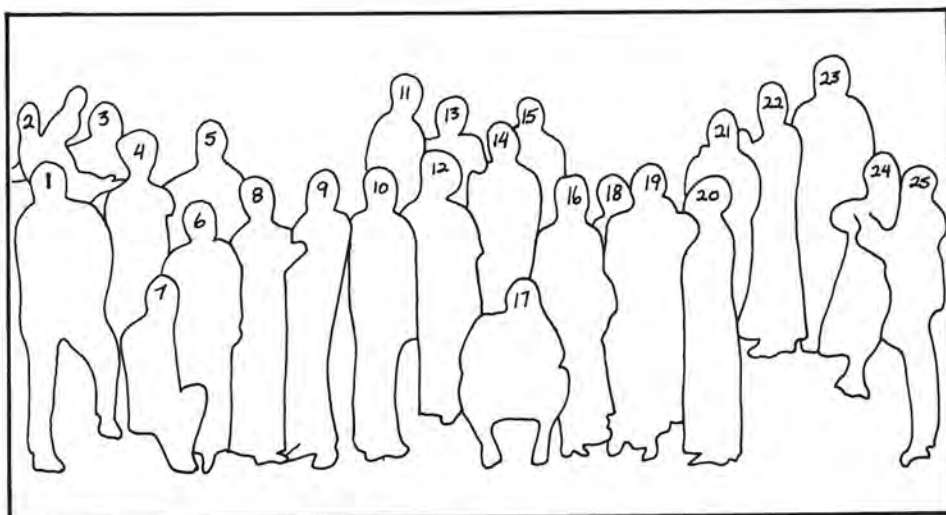

The Popajons, a select group of thirty from the Concert Choir, sing light music such as pop and jazz, accompanied by piano, string bass and percussion.

During the year the Popajons not only serve as a special group with the choir on tour and at home concerts but also provide entertainment for numerous civic and college social functions.

Organized about five years ago the Popajons practice weekly.

This group also gives the students an opportunity to compose and arrange popular music.

The Popajons are under the direction of John A. Strohm, thus the very appropriate name.

The Minot Symphony Orchestra, a college-community organization, is composed of 65 musicians in the college and community, interested in performing symphonic music.

The orchestra is one of three fully instrumented symphony orchestras in the state of North Dakota. The other two are in Grand Forks and Fargo.

The season of 1970-71 realized an expansion in the activities of the orchestra. In addition to the regular season's four concerts, there was a Children's Concert October 24, and November 8 the orchestra played a concert in Williston.

Soloists with the orchestra this year were Julianne Wallin, soprano; Wayne Nelson, tenor; Sandra Hoffmann, flute; Virginia Geesaman and Larry Stubson, violins; William P. Gordon, French horn; and Joyce Prosser, piano.

The orchestra also premiered the performance of Robert Larson's Fantasy for Orchestra commissioned by the Minot Symphony Association. Larson is on the faculty of the division of music at Minot State College.

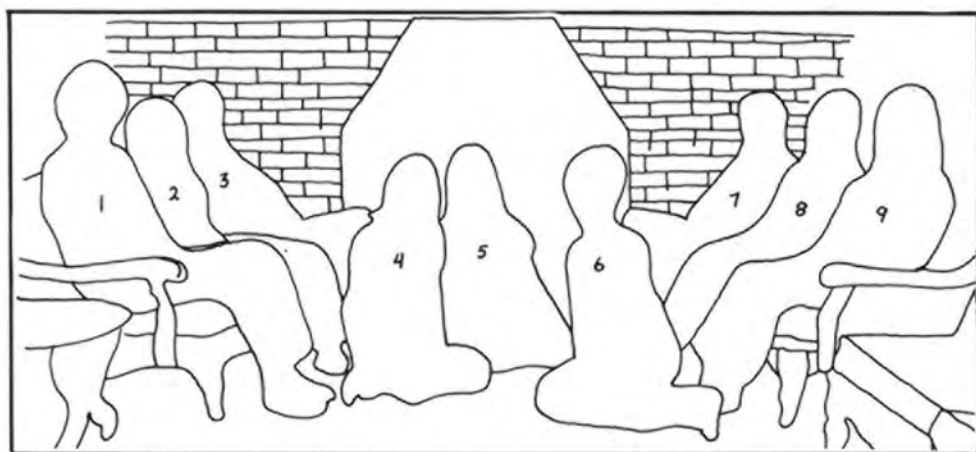

The Minot Symphony Orchestra is assisted by the North Dakota Council on Arts and Humanities and the people of Minot and the surrounding area.

The MSC chapter of Lutheran Student Movement has been holding a communion service for all campus students every Monday evening. This is being done to fulfill the objective of meeting the spiritual and intellectual needs of college students on campus.

The creative talents of the LSM members are being directed into making and conducting worship services to be conducted in area churches whose pastors will be absent.

Also the group is directing their activities into singing groups to perform at old folks homes, the Boys Ranch and other community functions, as well as Bible studies, religion studies, and coffeehouses.

I-V stresses fellowship

This year the MSC chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship had the pleasure of presenting Linda Rich in a coffeehouse concert to the students at Minot State. Also Jim Slagg the president of the chapter last year is presently on Inter-Varsity staff in Missouri.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship has three main purposes on the campus. The first is to be a witness for Jesus Christ as individuals and as a group to others to help them come to have a personal faith and a personal relationship with Him.

The second purpose is to deepen and strengthen the student relationship to Christ. They have small Bible studies and prayer which lay the groundwork for this purpose.

The third is to expose the call for world evangelism by presenting the call to the foreign mission field as well as the need for evangelism at home.

Newman builds faith

The Newman Club is fulfilling its purpose of providing spiritual guidance to the student and providing social contact with others of his faith by conducting daily masses, discussions on subjects affecting morality and life, social gatherings and retreats. In the planning stage is a "Hi-Noon" service for Catholic students at Ryan High School.

Other goals of the group are to promote spiritual growth and intellectual understanding of the church and its doctrines in today's world, to give students opportunities to question his faith directly for a deeper understanding and to meet with and enjoy others of different faiths.

Club starts activities

The Geology Club began in September of 1970 along with the installation of an earth science major at Minot State College.

Open to anyone interested in geology it was set up to provide exposure and activities to the facets of geology. During the year the club actively participated in field trips in local, state-wide and out of state areas.

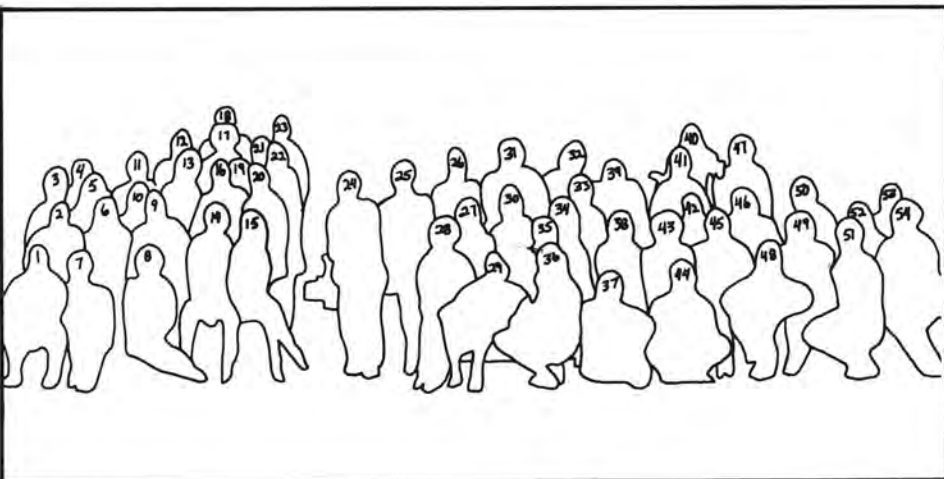

The club sponsored speakers from many areas and also traveled to other colleges to hear speakers. Another area of activity was becoming actively associated with North Dakota Geological Society, an association of professional geologists. The members also became acquainted with the equipment available at the college by working with it.

Club sends 2 delegates

The Minot State College chapter of Music Educators National Conference again sent delegates to the Regional Convention, which was in Cincinnati, Ohio. A lesser undertaking, but more important as far as the chapter and the college is concerned is the election of two of the chapter members to the state board of officers.

The monthly meetings give music students opportunities for learning experience of practical material outside the classroom.

They also acquaint students with what is happening in the field of music education today and help students find materials which would be available and useful to them in their college experience and teaching career.

They make others aware

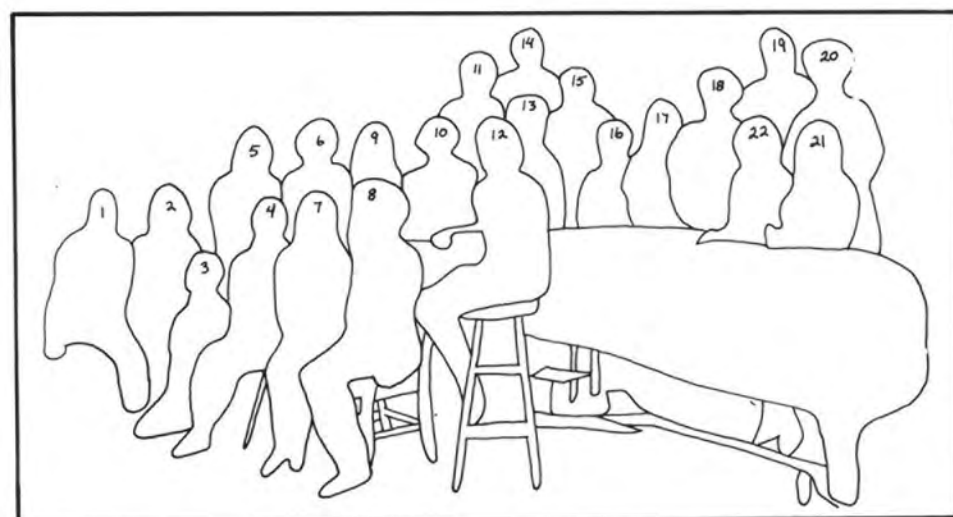

To encourage the highest standards of originality and performance in music is the goal of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. They strive to make people aware of music's important role in the enrichment of the human spirit.

Lambda Chi chapter held monthly lecture-discussions featuring such people as Dr. Sundet on string programs and Mr. Thurmond on Jazz piano.

For the first time Sinfonia sponsored Composum '71, a contest for composition for wind ensemble. The winner of the contest was chosen by the Ford Foundation composer, John Barnes Chance.

SNEA helps teachers of future

Students going into the field of education are gaining an insight into the education profession and discovering what is happening in education today.

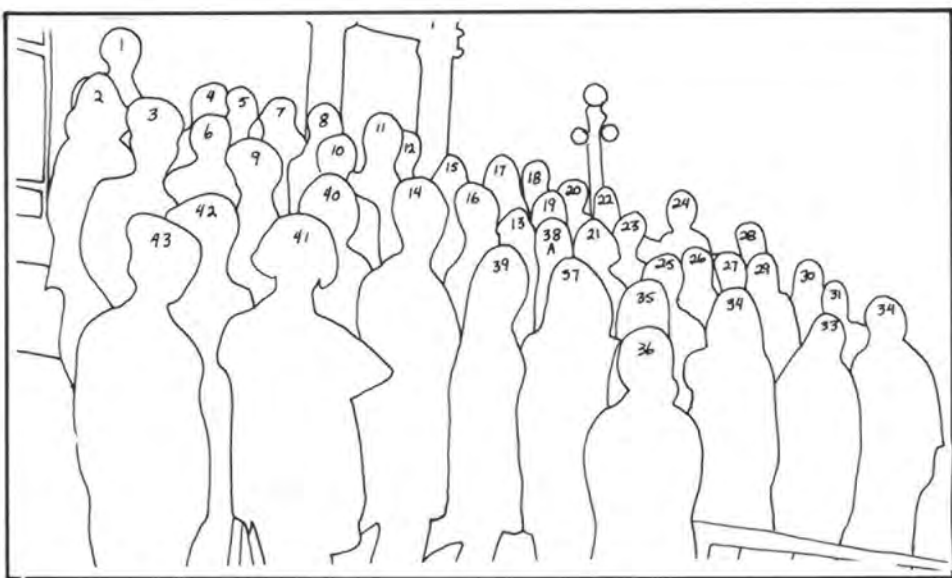

SNEA conventions and monthly meetings feature speakers, films, discussions and other objectives to give them a view of what is expected of them.

SNEA writes a report in the form of a booklet to inform fellow students of the existing professional teaching conditions in schools of North Dakota and to help school administrators create a sense of professionalism in beginning teachers.

SCEC hears new views

The Student Council for Exceptional Children is getting a view of the problems of a handicapped child in their monthly meetings.

Guest lecturers have been drawn from the ranks of people who have had need for special education, and the parents of children undergoing special education treatment.

Goals for the MSC chapter are set. Having all members attend the state convention, sending a delegate to the National convention in Florida, devoting time to the vocational workshop in Minot and raising funds to supply the workshop with some useful equipment were concentrated on this year.

Broader purposes of the organization are to promote an interest in special education and a sense of professionalism and to help students improve education professional standards.

Keynote: promotion

Encouraging interest, understanding, appreciation and vigilance over western life culture and western affairs helps the Rodeo club promote intercollegiate rodeos on a national scale.

As a member of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association the club seeks to encourage students to represent MSC in rodeo competition.

This winter the club was able to use the indoor arena south of Town-er, in order to practice for the rodeos coming up this spring.

Stephanie Huntley, Dianne Hildenbrand, Holly Dahl and Carol Davy participated in the College rodeo at NDSU last November. One of the members, Sue Wolf is the North Dakota Quarter Horse Queen for 1970.

Club enters 2nd year

The Business Administration Club entered its second year of activities with a varied program of speakers. Bankers, lawyers and businessmen have shared their knowledge and experience with the members in their 11 a.m. meetings.

The group is also getting experience on the more practical side through field trips to computer centers and various businesses.

Furthering knowledge and understanding of various business fields and vocations, promoting professional relationship among students, faculty, businessmen and introducing club members to college graduate programs are the long range goals and purposes of the club.

Topics build interests

Human behavior is the topic around which the discussion meetings and the guest speakers of the psychology club concentrate.

Meetings have been built around field trips to various organizations in the state to help psychology majors and minors see how their discipline is put to use.

The psychology club exists to give anyone interested a broader and more comprehensive view of the subject. Speakers, discussion and state community work give members a more complete view than they can obtain only in the classroom.

One of the goals of the local club is to bring experimental equipment to supplement that which the division now owns. Another is a lecture series on psychological problems and human behavior. The club sends representatives to meetings and seminars in the area to enrich their experience in a field which affects every man.

Med Techs plan careers

The Medical Technology Club is bringing medical technologists together to inform them about their chosen career. An informal question and answer session with three interning seniors helped give them a knowledge of what they could look forward to after graduation.

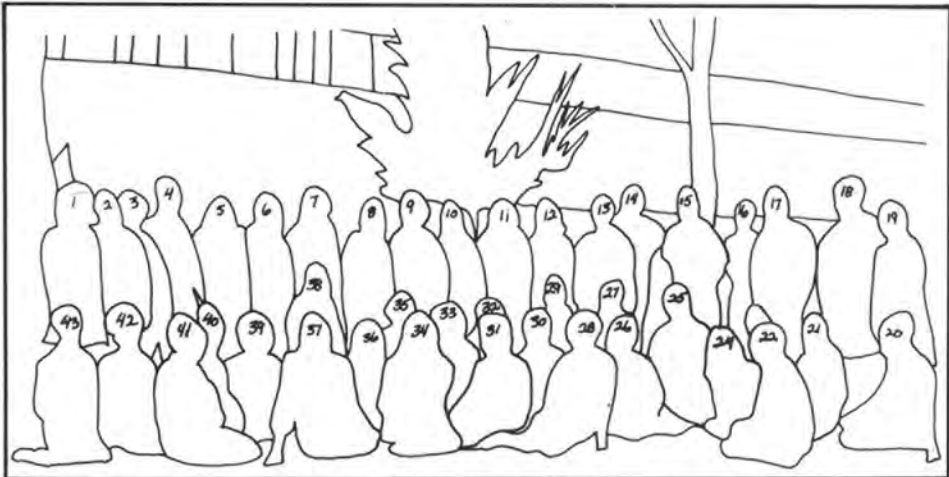

Another important aspect of the club is to provide encouragement to one another through sharing their problems at their meetings and thus relieving some of the scholastic tensions.

The year's highlight was during winter quarter break. Here they incorporate learning with fun as they visited the University of Colorado, Bureau of Standards, U.S. Mint, and other points of interest. The candy, sandwich sales and other money raising projects were planned for this trip's expense.

Nurses pick uniforms

The Nursing Club came into existence along with the beginning of a baccalaureate nursing program on the MSC campus in 1969 for the fellowship of nursing students and the advancement of the nursing program. The program allows nursing students to live on campus during the time it takes them to earn a bachelor of science degree in nursing, prepares students for licensure as an RN and helps them gain practical experience at hospitals and other community health facilities.

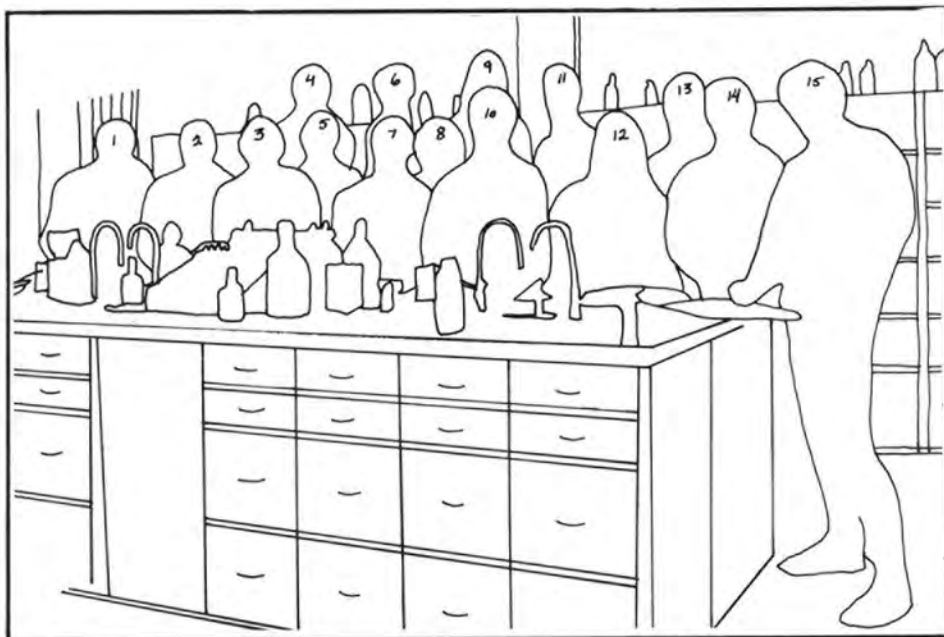

The Nursing Club has been responsible for selecting a uniform, cap and emblem to be worn by the nursing students of MSC in their clinical experiences. The group has also traveled to attend the North Dakota State Nursing Convention.

Club hears speakers

"Revival" was the watchword of the Beta Gamma Phi science Club this year as it surged forward in membership, activity and enthusiasm. It exists to further the cause of science on MSC which includes everything from mathematics and chemistry to the earth sciences and biology.

This has been done by stimulating student interest, as when Dr. Perry demonstrated the art of glassblowing; or by sponsoring faculty lectures as on that October evening when 100 Minotors came to hear Dr. Stone tell of his Arctic experiences.

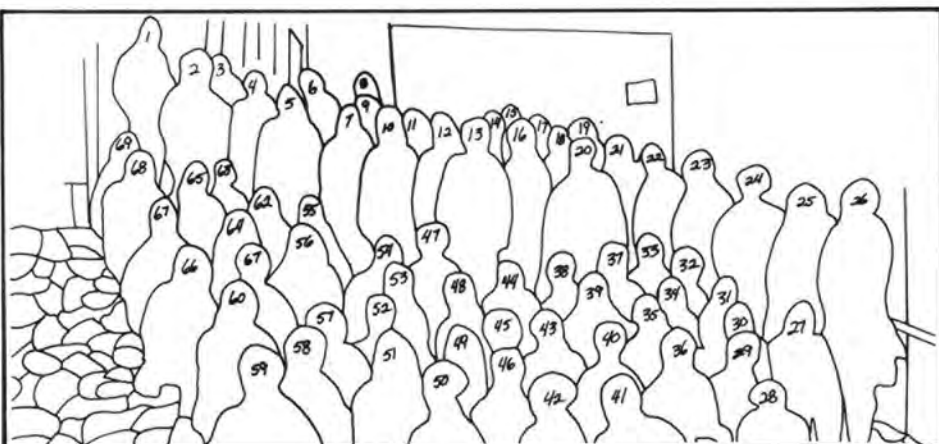

The club accompanied the Med tech club on a tour of Denver. They also have set up a science club tutoring service to assist freshmen who have trouble with their required science courses.

All physical education majors and minors are required to be active members for two years in WRA since this organization helps prepare them as advisers to organizations.

During the year members attended the State Fall Sports Day at Ellendale and a State Conference at Dickinson.

WRA sponsored activities include the high school girls playday, camping trip, powder-puff basketball and football games, sweatshirt dance co-sponsored with the Lettermen's Club and films such as the Beaver's Football Bowl playoff game.

Administration & Faculty

From their desks

Entirely interested in education and the overall viewpoints in North Dakota is Governor William L. Guy. This year marks his 12th year as governor of the state.

He has also been at the helm of a college yearbook. He was editor of the annual at NDSU in 1941. So no doubt he understands the whole setup of the 1971 Beaver as well as its own editor and staff do.

His many activities and facets of his background would take a great deal of space in listing.

At present, as always, leaders who work in the interest of college life are needed. Governor Guy fulfills this qualification.

The State Board of Higher Education is the governing body for all public institutions of higher education in the state.

This group works at all times to further individual and collective goals of an adequate educational climate in North Dakota.

He notes all views

This year President Gordon B. Olson begins his fifth year as president of MSC. He encourages more contact among three groups on campus. These groups are faculty, students and the administration.

He is concerned with getting the best education possible for college students. Minot State College is friendly and one that everyone can be proud of. Dr. Olson has worked to broaden the curriculum opportunities for those attending or transferring to this college.

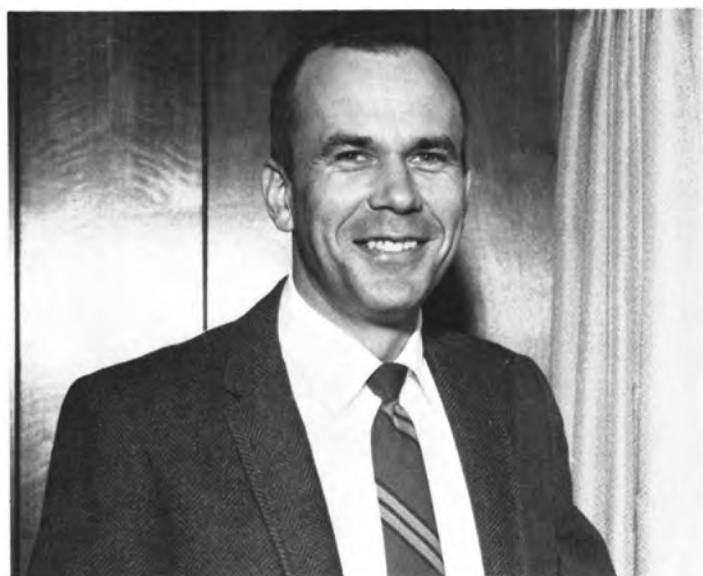

He is well known all over the state for his honesty and great integrity. When he makes requests for budgets and facilities, boards and legislators know these items are really needed.

The college, as well as the president, is interested in the strongest academic achievement possible. All facets of student activity and their subsequent carrying out are stressed.

Science gets NSF grant

The most important event happening to the science division this year was a $300,000 grant from the National Science Foundation for hiring new faculty and purchasing new equipment for all areas of undergraduate study. A fulltime electronic technician is now employed for the maintenance of this equipment.

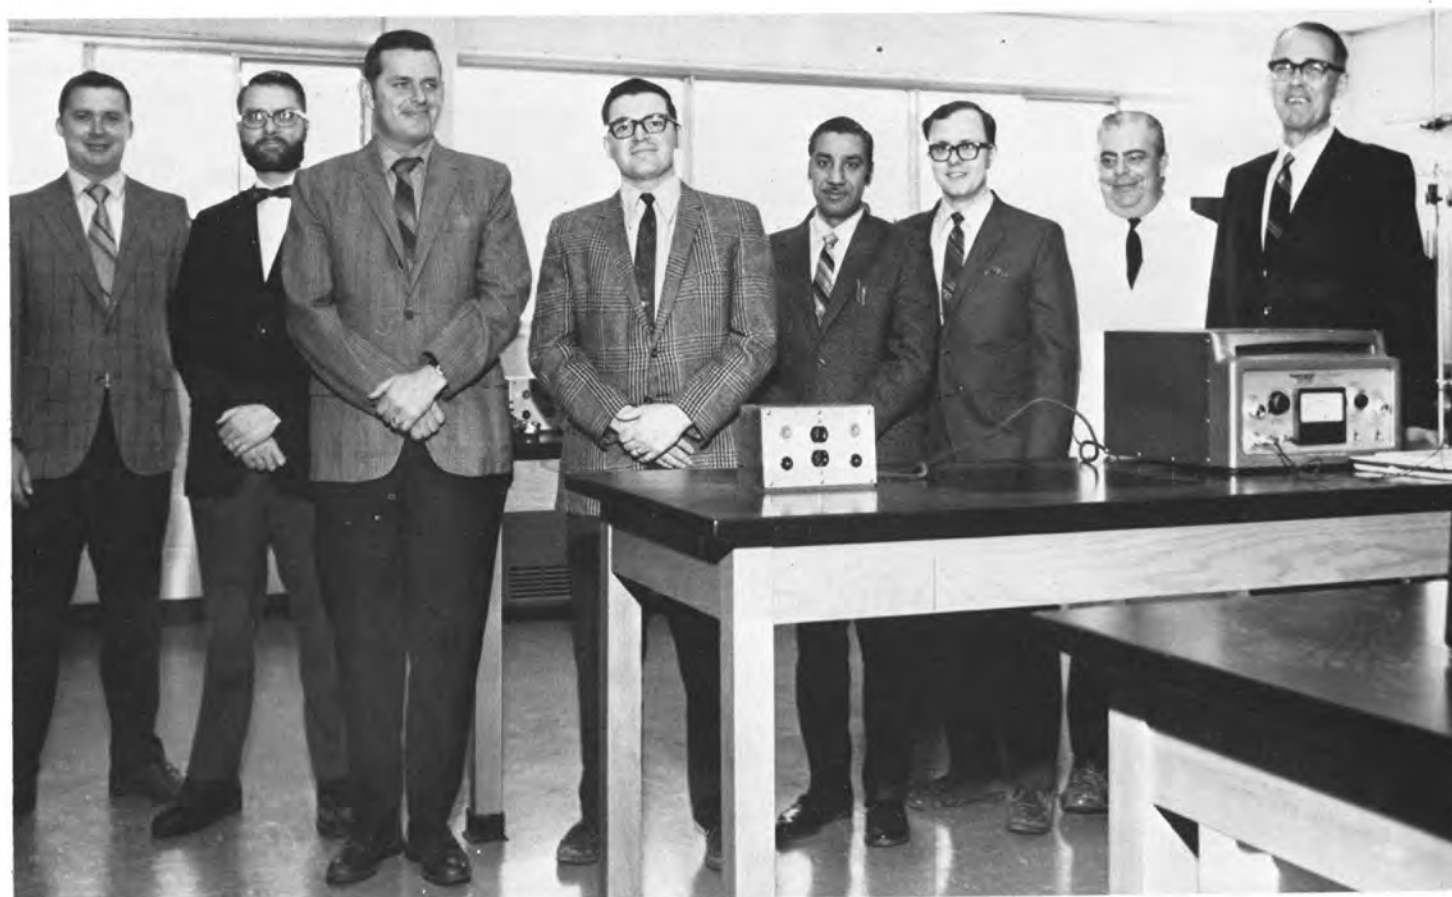

The science and medical technology clubs visited various industries and medical facilities in Denver, Colo., over the winter to spring quarter break.

Also a division committee was formed this year to investigate new programs for the betterment of the science division and North Dakota students. The committee has concerned itself primarily with the physical sciences for which there is a shortage of professional people.

Music makes changes

The major renovation in the music division this year has been the complete change in the curriculum due to go into effect this fall. This change has been developing over a period of a year and a half.

Students' involvement in the division has instituted many of the curriculum change through their opinions and suggestions. The curriculum revision is also an important contribution of the music faculty this year.

More of an emphasis was placed this past year in the areas of the jazz band, opera and orchestra than ever before. The orchestra programming increased and developed a much better audience support and response. Through the program established at Minot State and the visitation of several guest artists the attendance at the concerts this year has increased.

Since the enrollment in music has grown the division has added staff members. As a result a more enriched program can be offered.

With the increase in staff, more specialized training is provided. The division now includes four teachers with doctorates.

In instrumental music, a wind ensemble of about 50 people was started. Another performing organization is the concert band which has a membership of about 100 persons.

The music division each year hosts a fall music clinic, a festival of jazz and guest instrumental specialists at the college. Members of the division of music also take part in a production of The Messiah, faculty recitals, ensemble recitals and numerous concerts.

Minot State College graduates more music majors than any other higher education institution in the state.

Division Chairman John A. Strohm enjoys the concert.

Miss Pauline Rusk, Ralph C. Wallin, Dr. Roy E. Stillwell and Charles D. Thurmond are the music division's piano and organ specialists.

Numbers up

Eighty per cent of Minot State College graduates take courses in the division of education and psychology. Dr. Warren Allen is chairman of this division.

Enrollment in the psychology major has grown to 65. New additions to the staff are Dr. Fred Brooks and Dr. Paul Mehta.

Through its education and psychology courses the division has attempted to expose students to teaching earlier by more practical observation and teaching.

A new minor, driver training, will be offered in 1971.

New techniques in Campus School motivate students.

Area offers new classes

A new fulltime teacher, Walter Piehl, has been added to the fine and applied arts division staff this year. His interests are in teaching painting and art education.

With the addition of new staff, new class offerings have been made in advanced art studio areas. The courses are ceramics, graphics, silk screen print making and an advanced art studio course.

Also held this year was the second fine arts festival in April.

Miss Evelyn Allen has taken over teaching in the home economics department with the assistance of Mrs. Mildred Galvin, who teaches home nursing.

Members of Hestia, the home economics club, attended the North Dakota state home economics meeting in Bismarck during April.

Seated: C. Robert Schweiger. Standing: Frank O. Taylor, Walter Piehl, Tom Willis and Miss Evelyn Allen are assembled in one of the classrooms.

Hours change

Under the chairmanship of Harold G. Aleshire, the literature and language division has completed the first year of new curriculum. Although a few four quarter hour courses are still offered, the three quarter hour class is the base under the new system.

On a one year leave of absence is Miss Gerilyn Tandberg; composition, speech and humanities.

New teachers in the division this year are Mrs. Joan Costello, John Marshall, Dan Mathis and Robert Scheeler.

This school year also saw the completion of the Amphitheater on the north side of the campus. The first performance of the summer theater, Fiddler on the Roof, scheduled for production in late June, will open the Amphitheater.

Social science

A number of new courses and a couple of public surveys highlighted activities in the division of social science during the 1970-1971 term at Minot State College.

• In keeping with student interest, long awaited courses on the history of the blackman and the American Indian in American history were added to the curriculum.

Also incorporated into the expanding division studies were geratology, a sociology course on the family, a public administration course, two courses on Africa and a course in manufacturing and urban geography.

An AOA government grant was supplied the division to assemble data for the White House conference on aging. The project, which was undertaken by majors and minors of the division last summer, investigated the condition of the elderly in the state to assess and recommend legislation for the elderly to Congress. They started computing the data last fall.

A local survey was also carried out for the Minot housing project. The study, which was undertaken to establish aid for the rebuilding of flooded areas and inadequate housing in the city, provided data for the Minot housing authority on federal aid.

Dale Elhardt was a new teacher to the division this year. John Wilson returned after a year of study.

A new policy of utilizing 'off-campus instructors' was also initiated into the growing division.

Education expands

The division of special education of Dr. Ronald Archer continued to expand to an enrollment of 232 and 18 graduate students. A new staff member, Mrs. Elinor Fuchs, was added.

A master's degree, as well as undergraduate work, is offered in education of the deaf, and speech pathology and audiology. In addition there is an undergraduate program in education for the mentally retarded.

The students enrolled in education for the deaf spend two quarters of their senior year at Devils Lake. They trained at the North Dakota School for the Deaf.

A valuable teaching aid is the closed circuit television by which students observed children through the use of video tape. New equipment was added to the speech and hearing clinic.

A variety of offerings

The division of health and physical education had a successful year especially in the field of varsity sports. The football and basketball teams had especially standout seasons.

This year, as in previous years, much of the division's attention was focused on intramural programs for both women and men.

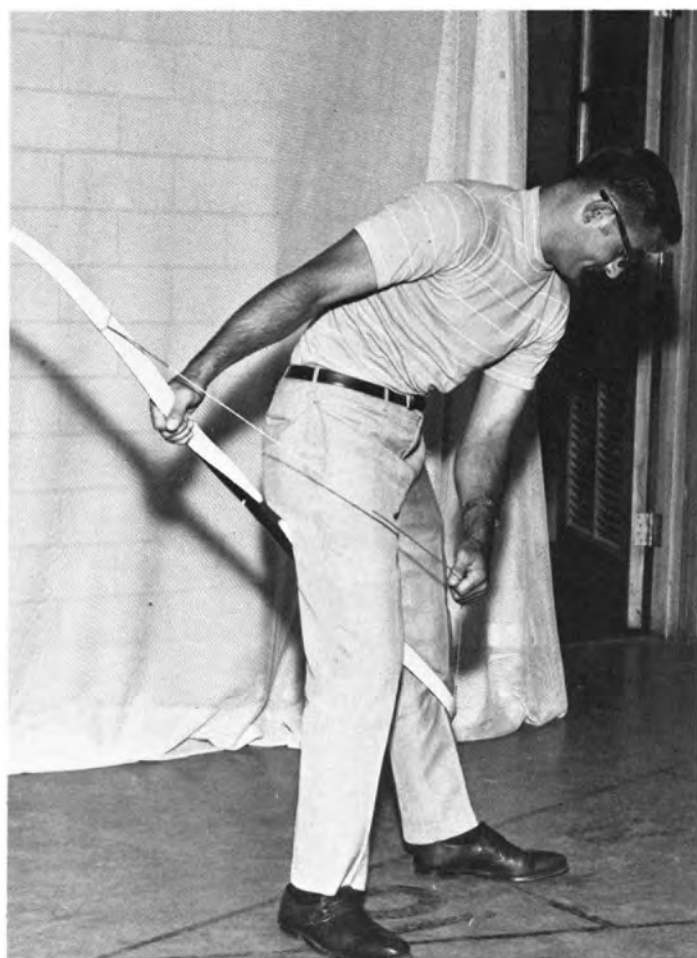

I-M programs operated in the sports of football, basketball, volleyball, track, bowling, swimming, wrestling and softball.

Physical education programs are aimed at strengthening and coordinating academic and extracurricular programs. This is done through class revisions and offerings, also in clubs.

Individual attention to students is stressed to every extent where staff and resources are available.

Divison adds studies

The division of business continued to grow during the past year with an increased number of degree graduates in business education and business administration.

A new two-year legal secretarial program was added to the curriculum to be initiated during the fall of 1971.

One new fulltime staff member was added to the business faculty, making a total of 11 fulltime members.

The division received an exemplary grant through the state office of vocational education to prepare a field manual for vocational office education coordinators in the state.

A new professional organization, Phi Beta Lambda, has been organized to promote the advancement of the business professions. It is open to all students registered in a division curriculum.

Books set future goal

This year the library is in high gear on purchasing and cataloguing new material. Although the collection is growing rapidly it will take a few years to get to the desired size.

A program in the planning stage is Friends of Library. This program will hopefully establish a better relationship among the faculty, students and alumni.

Among the goals of the library this year were to give all students an idea of the problems existing in the library. The main problem was the question concerning the possible loss of accreditation.

Secondly all students were encouraged to understand the various uses of a library. Finally the library wanted a well balanced collection. These goals are being worked on and the library will grow accordingly.

Library staff and assistants include: Raymond Chu; Mrs. Donna Sandeen; Mrs. Linda Holdman; George Clark; L. E. Whiting; Mrs. Kay Bohara; Mrs. Lynn Anderson; Miss Carol Swenson; Richard Thompson.

CS changes

Campus School has changed tremendously in the past year. After an extensive remodeling the school is now testing the concept of open classrooms.

Some of the objectives of the Campus School experiment are to provide wider ranges of individual differences and to provide for more stimulating student peer interaction.

Also this program provides for stimulating flow of ideas and practices between staff members, gives an opportunity to explore the means by which three staff members can work on a peer team and sets an opportunity for pre-professional elementary area.
