DR. EMERSON EADS

Emerson Eads joined the faculty of Minot State University in the Fall of 2018 as the Director of Choral Activities and Assistant Professor of Music.

As a composer and conductor, Dr. Eads has devoted himself to music of social concern. His Mass for the Oppressed, a setting of the Ordinary of the Mass featuring textual interpolations by his brother Evan Eads, and a Credo adapted from the diary of Pope Francis before his ordination, holds particular poignancy for the social issues of our time. The Mass was written for the release of the Fairbanks Four (native Alaskans from the composer's home town), who spent 18 years in prison wrongfully. His newest cantata "...from which your laughter rises." for mezzo-soprano, oboe, and orchestra, was written for the mothers of the Fairbanks Four, and was paired in a concert featuring Haydn's Stabat Mater, conducted to acclaim. His newest opera, The Princess Sophia, about the sinking of the SS Princess Sophia in October of 1918, premiered in Juneau, Alaska in October 2018.

Dr. Eads studied choral conducting with Dr. Carmen-Helena Téllez at the University of Notre Dame, working with eminent choral conductors such as Joseph Flummerfelt, Stephen Cleobury, Anne Howard Jones, and Peter Phillips among others. He studied composition with Alaskan composer John Luther Adams.

Prior to his appointment at Minot State, Dr. Rolandson served as the Director of Bands at Renton High School and Dimmitt Middle School in Renton, Washington (2008–12). While in Renton, his ensembles frequently received Excellent and Superior ratings at regional contests, and his high school students were routinely selected to perform at the annual Washington State Solo and Ensemble Contest. Dr. Rolandson was also an active member of the Washington Music Educators Association, serving as the Soundview Region President from 2010–12.
